BRYAN C. HANSON

Group President, Covidien

Bryan Hanson is Group President of Covidien. In this position, Bryan directs all strategic and day-to-day operations to drive business development and innovation for Medical Devices, Medical Supplies, as well as Emerging Markets and Developed Markets. He is responsible for the business success and organic growth; while expanding the Company's global reach. Upon close of the transaction he will become Executive Vice President and Group President, Covidien.

With more than 20 years in the medical device industry, Bryan's philosophy centers on the shared needs of patients and customers supporting healthcare partners as they help patients live longer and suffer less, while delivering quality care to more people around the globe at an affordable cost.

In 2014, Bryan was named to the newly created position of Group President, Covidien which added Medical Supplies, Emerging Markets and Developed Markets to his areas of responsibility. In 2013, Bryan became Group President of the three largest businesses in Covidien called Medical Devices and led the U.S. region. In 2011, as Surgical Solutions Group President, Bryan transformed two of Covidien's largest divisions Energy-based Devices and Surgical Devices into one, global business unit, Surgical Solutions, to better meet the needs of patients and customers while delivering greater, more efficient performance for the Company. As a part of this change, Bryan established a new organizational structure that aligned the business according to a market life cycle.

Prior to leading Covidien's Surgical Solutions Group, Bryan's experiences include serving as President of Covidien's Energy-based Devices business, which he doubled in size and led to become the fastest growing business unit in the Company's Medical Devices segment. Bryan also served as President of Covidien's Patient Care Division, which included traditional wound care, advanced wound care, urology and incontinent care; Vice President of International Marketing across all Covidien businesses; and Vice President/General Manager of the Vascular Therapies Division.

Outside of business, Bryan is devoted to his family and dedicated to the needs of underprivileged children. Involved in the Fresh Air Fund, Bryan and his family participate in their Volunteer Host Family Program, hosting children from low-income communities for the summer over the past eight years. He is also a member of the University of Colorado Leeds School of Business Advisory Board. A CrossFit enthusiast, Bryan is a passionate advocate of programs and initiatives that improve quality of life through fitness.

Bryan holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Finance from Florida State University. He also completed the Kellogg School of Management Finance for Executives program in 2010 and the Harvard Executive Education in Leadership program in 2013.
