Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On March 6, 2015, OncoSec Medical Incorporated (the Company) and Rev.1 Engineering Inc. (Rev.1) entered into a Research and Development Services Agreement (the Rev.1 R&D Agreement). Pursuant to the Rev.1 R&D Agreement, the Company has engaged Rev.1 to perform research, development, testing, and regulatory filing services for the Company related to two engineering projects pertaining to the next-generation of our electroporation delivery devices. The Company will own the rights to any intellectual property that is developed in performing the services under the Rev.1 R&D Agreement. The term of the Rev.1 R&D Agreement began on March 6, 2015 and is expected to continue until the completion of the engineering projects, subject to either party's right to terminate the Rev.1 R&D Agreement upon 30 days written notice to the other party. The Company expects to pay Rev.1 approximately $3,383,000 for its performance of services under the Rev.1 R&D Agreement, plus potential additional costs, including preapproved expenses that may be incurred by Rev.1. The Company paid an initial deposit to Rev.1 of $350,000, and Rev.1 will use this deposit to offset 10% of each monthly invoice under the Rev.1 R&D Agreement, reducing the outstanding deposit accordingly until the deposit has been fully applied. If the Company exercises its right to terminate the Rev.1 R&D Agreement before the completion of the services, the Company will forfeit the outstanding amount of the deposit made to Rev.1, if any.

Also on March 6, 2015, the Company and Merlin CSI, LLC (Merlin) entered into a Research and Development Services Agreement (the Merlin R&D Agreement). Pursuant to the Merlin R&D Agreement, the Company has engaged Merlin to perform research, development, testing, and regulatory filing services for the Company related to two engineering projects pertaining to the next-generation of our electroporation delivery devices. The Company will own the rights to any intellectual property that developed in performing the services under the Merlin R&D Agreement. The term of the Merlin R&D Agreement began on March 6, 2015 and is expected to continue until the completion of the engineering projects, subject to either party's right to terminate the Merlin R&D Agreement upon 30 days written notice to the other party. The Company expects to pay Merlin approximately $1,525,000 for its performance of services under the Merlin R&D Agreement, plus potential additional costs, including preapproved expenses that may be incurred by Merlin.

The foregoing descriptions of the Rev.1 R&D Agreement and Merlin R&D Agreement do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full text of the agreements. Copies of the Rev.1 R&D Agreement and Merlin R&D Agreement are attached as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2 to this Current Report on Form 8-K, respectively, and are incorporated herein by reference.
