TERMS TO KNOW

BASIS POINT The movement of interest rates or yields expressed in hundredths of a percent. For example, an increase in yield from 5 percent to 6 percent is 100 basis points.

DURATION A measure of the interest rate sensitivity of a portfolio, incorporating time to maturity and coupon size. The longer a portfolio's duration, the greater its sensitivity to interest rate changes.

INVERTED YIELD CURVE A market phenomenon in which intermediate-term bonds (securities with one- to 10-year maturities) have higher income potential and current yields than long-term bonds (securities with 10- to 30-year maturities). Historically, it has occurred during a period of rising short-term interest rates and been viewed as an indicator of a future economic slowdown.

YIELD A measure of net investment income per share earned over a specific one-month or 30-day period expressed as an annualized percentage of the maximum offering price of the fund's shares at the end of the period.

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

DEAR SHAREHOLDER:

The plot thickens. Can the Economy in Distress hold out until our hero, Monetary and Fiscal Policy, rides to the rescue?

Actually, we think this story can have a happy ending, although maintaining that optimism requires a leap of faith. There's no economic evidence that a bottom is near. But all of the monetary indicators -- such as a steep yield curve, exploding money supply growth and record bond issuance -- give us hope. And now we have a tax cut. This suggests that the economy will escape recession -- but just barely. We expect economic growth to average just under 2 percent for the next 18 months -- and this slow advance will curtail inflation, which we expect to rise just 2.5 percent in 2002.

Why is aggressive monetary and fiscal policy likely to produce such anemic growth? The answer is that even Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan can't fix everything, especially when a certain global villain is at work. Who is this malefactor? Oil. It's likely that purchasing power in the developed world was drained by the recent jump in oil prices.

But oil's not the only culprit. When the United States ran into trouble, so did other countries. For example, European politicians continue to focus on politics, not economics. And the Japanese government has let structural problems fester during the last 10 years. We now see near-recession conditions almost everywhere.

You might expect the dollar to decline as other countries become more dependent on the United States and increase the number of goods they sell here -- but astonishingly, it hasn't. That's not necessarily good news, however. More than 30 percent of U.S. corporate profits are earned abroad, and when the dollar rises, those earnings are worth less. Non-American companies also take advantage of their weaker currencies to aggressively price exports to the United States. That undercuts American companies' pricing power and ravages revenue growth. The result is a humdinger of a profits recession. We expect S&P 500 operating profits to be down 15 percent this year as a whole.

One result of the profit recession is that executives are trying to restore profitability by cutting costs. This hurts the economy. They first go after travel and entertainment, affecting hotels, airlines and restaurants. Next in line are capital spending and payroll, so we expect the unemployment rate to rise from 4.5 percent to 5.5 percent by the end of next year.

When unemployment rises, consumers feel the heat. Consumer spending won't decrease drastically, because Uncle Sam is putting almost $40 billion in the mail this summer. Still, they won't spend too much. We expect consumption growth through the end of next year to hover around 2 percent.

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Because consumption is two-thirds of the economy, it sets the pace for gross domestic product (GDP). And 2 percent GDP growth will not foster inflation. While many myths about the new economy were exaggerated, its disinflationary tendencies were not. We know that inflation is a complex phenomenon, but we don't believe it can survive under conditions of slow growth.

Moderate growth with low inflation is not a bad end to our story. We doubt that it will feel very satisfying, however. Monetary and Fiscal Policy may well rescue the Economy in Distress, but he can't undo the shock. The convalescence is likely to be prolonged.

Edgar Filing: SCUDDER STRATEGIC MUNICIPAL INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

AMID A VOLATILE STOCK MARKET AND SLOWING U.S. ECONOMY, THE BOND MARKET CONTINUED TO CLIMB STEADILY OVER THE LAST SIX MONTHS. ISSUANCE OF MUNICIPAL BONDS INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY AS THE COST OF BORROWING MONEY DECLINED FOLLOWING A STRING OF SHORT-TERM INTEREST RATES CUTS BY THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD. BELOW, THE MANAGEMENT TEAM DISCUSSES THE MARKET'S PERFORMANCE AS WELL AS HOW THE TRUST FARED DURING THE PERIOD.

Q HOW HAS THE U.S. BOND MARKET PERFORMED OVER THE SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED MAY 31, 2001?

A The bond market staged a significant rally in early 2001, as the U.S. economy cooled, interest rates declined, and investor interest in bonds grew. In the last six months, the Federal Reserve Board has cut interest rates on five separate occasions for a total reduction of 250 basis points, placing the federal funds lending rate at 4 percent. Those falling rates coupled with a slowing U.S. economy and a volatile stock market helped to rekindle investor interest in bonds.

While rates for Treasury bonds with maturities of two years or less fell sharply, those with maturities of five years or more saw only minor declines. Longer-maturity Treasury bonds typically were not as severely affected by interest rate cuts. In this case, longer maturity bonds might have been even less affected, since the bond market was worried that inflation could rear its ugly head. By May 31, 2001, the 10-year Treasury bond's yield had slipped to 5.38 percent, just nine basis points less than six months earlier. However, a two-year Treasury bond saw its yield decline by 142 basis points. As a result, the Treasury yield curve regained a positive slope in early 2001, with long-term Treasuries yielding more than short-term Treasuries. It had been inverted in 2000. The municipal yield curve did not invert in 2000 and remained positively sloped through the first five months of 2001.

Q HOW DID THE FED'S RATE CUTS AFFECT THE MUNICIPAL BOND MARKET?

A In the last six months, municipal bond prices have climbed steadily upward, while interest rates have declined. The Fed's interest rate cuts also led to a significant rise in municipal bond sales in the first half of 2001. Issuers have raced to market to take advantage of low borrowing costs and to get deals done before an expected large California issuance later this summer. Specifically, the California Department of Water Resources is expected to issue about $13 billion in bonds in August or September. The sale is designed to help pay back the state coffers drained by the energy crisis that has plagued most of the state. The sale will likely be the largest ever in the tax-exempt market.

The municipal bond yield curve has also steepened during the period with 30-year bonds yielding about 203 basis points more than a bond with a maturity of two years as of May 31, 2001. Previously, the municipal curve had been fairly flat with 30-year bonds yielding about 109 basis points more than two-year bonds as of November 30, 2000.

PERFORMANCE UPDATE

Q HOW DID YOU REPOSITION SCUDDER STRATEGIC MUNICIPAL TRUST AS A RESULT OF THESE MOVES IN INTEREST RATES?

Edgar Filing: SCUDDER STRATEGIC MUNICIPAL INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

A We continue to manage the trust with a focus on structure and maturity, while carefully monitoring the credit quality of individual issues. Although we do keep in mind the interest rate environment, we typically try to keep duration neutral to our peers. That said, as the municipal bond yield curve has generally steepened over the period, partially because of these rate cuts, we have found 15-year municipal bonds to be particularly attractive and have added selectively in that area.

Q HOW DID SCUDDER STRATEGIC MUNICIPAL INCOME TRUST PERFORM DURING THE PERIOD?

A The trust posted strong results on a net asset value as well as on a market value basis during the period. Thanks to the high-yield bond market's strength, the trust posted a 14.58 percent return on a market value basis for the six-month period ended May 31. The trust also posted a strong 6.73 percent return on a net asset value basis. Those results dramatically outpaced the fund's typical peer in the Lipper High-Yield Municipal Debt Funds category, which gained 4.54 percent. The trust also handily beat its benchmark, the unmanaged Lehman Brothers Municipal Bond Index*, which posted a 4.73 percent return during the same period.

* THE LEHMAN BROTHERS MUNICIPAL BOND INDEX CONTAINS APPROXIMATELY 15,000 BONDS. TO BE IN THE INDEX, A MUNICIPAL BOND MUST MEET THE FOLLOWING CRITERIA: A MINIMUM CREDIT RATING OF BBB, ISSUED AS PART OF AN ISSUE OF AT LEAST $50 MILLION, ISSUED WITHIN THE LAST FIVE YEARS AND A MATURITY OF AT LEAST TWO YEARS. BONDS SUBJECT TO ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX, VARIABLE-RATE BONDS AND ZERO-COUPON BONDS ARE EXCLUDED FROM THE INDEX. INVESTORS CANNOT INVEST IN THE INDEX.

Q WHAT IS YOUR OUTLOOK FOR THE MUNICIPAL BOND MARKET AND FOR THE TRUST GOING FORWARD?

A We see growing interest in municipal bonds as more investors embrace the need for portfolio diversification and look to increase their exposure to bonds, particularly after the stock market volatility we've seen over the last year. And while the U.S. economic slowdown has caused stocks to struggle, most municipalities are still in solid shape. We believe municipal bond yields are now even more attractive than usual relative to Treasury bonds.

coupon-equivalent of the U.S. Treasury bill rate. Variable rate demand notes are securities whose yields are periodically reset at levels that are generally comparable to tax-exempt commercial paper. These securities are payable on demand within seven calendar days and normally incorporate an irrevocable letter of credit from a major bank. These notes are carried, for purposes of calculating average weighted maturity, at the longer of the period remaining until the next rate change or to the extent of the demand period.

 ETM: Bonds bearing the description ETM (escrowed to maturity) are collateralized by U.S. Treasury securities which are held in escrow by a trustee and used to pay principal and interest on bonds so designated.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1	SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES	Scudder Strategic Municipal Income Trust (the "Fund"), formerly Kemper Strategic Municipal Income Trust, is registered under the Investment Company
---	---------------------------------	---

Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), as a closed-end, diversified management investment company organized as a Massachusetts business trust.

The Fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States which require the use of management estimates. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The policies described below are followed consistently by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

SECURITY VALUATION. Investments are stated at value. Portfolio debt securities purchased with an original maturity greater than sixty days are valued by pricing agents approved by the officers of the Trust, whose quotations reflect broker/dealer-supplied valuations and electronic data processing techniques. If the pricing agents are unable to provide such quotations, the calculated mean between the most recent bid and asked quotation supplied by a bona fide market maker shall be used.

Money market instruments purchased with an original maturity of sixty days or less are valued at amortized cost. All other securities are valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the Valuation Committee of the Board of Trustees.

FEDERAL INCOME TAXES. The Fund's policy is to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable and tax-exempt income to its shareholders. Accordingly, the Fund paid no federal income taxes and no federal income tax provision was required.

At November 30, 2000, the Fund had a net tax basis capital loss carryforward of approximately $380,000 which may be applied against any realized net taxable capital gains of each succeeding year until fully utilized or until November 30, 2008, the expiration date.

DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME AND GAINS. Distributions of net investment income to common shareholders, if any, are made monthly. Net realized gains from investment transactions, in excess of available capital loss carryforwards, would be taxable to the Fund if not distributed, and, therefore, will be distributed to shareholders at least annually.

The timing and characterization of certain income and capital gains distributions are determined annually in accordance with federal tax regulations which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. As a result, net investment income (loss) and net realized gain (loss) on investment transactions for a reporting period may differ significantly from distributions during such period. Accordingly, the Fund may periodically make reclassifications among certain of its capital accounts without impacting the net asset value of the Fund.

REMARKETED PREFERRED SHARES. Effective September 29, 1999, the Fund issued 2,800 shares of Series T Remarketed Preferred Shares at a purchase price of $25,000 per share plus dividends, if any, that had accumulated from the date the Fund first issued the shares. The Remarketed Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive cash dividends at an annual rate that may vary for the successive dividend periods for such shares. The auction agent will determine the dividend rate for a particular period by an auction conducted on the business day immediately prior to the start of that dividend period. Investors and potential investors in the Remarketed Preferred Shares may participate in auctions for the Municipal Preferred Shares through their broker-dealer.

OTHER. Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are recorded on an identified cost basis. All discounts and premiums are accreted/amortized for both tax and financial reporting purposes.

2 PURCHASES AND SALES OF SECURITIES

For the six months ended May 31, 2001, investment transactions (excluding short-term investments) are as follows:

Purchases	$9,368,088
Proceeds from sales	6,886,228

3 TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT. The Fund has a management agreement with Zurich Scudder Investments, Inc., formerly Scudder Kemper Investments Inc., ("ZSI" or the "Advisor") and pays a monthly investment management fee of 1/12 of the annual rate of .60% of average weekly net assets. The Fund incurred a management fee of $586,006 for the six months ended May 31, 2001.

SHAREHOLDER SERVICES AGREEMENT. Pursuant to a services agreement with the Fund's transfer agent,

Edgar Filing: SCUDDER STRATEGIC MUNICIPAL INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

Scudder Investments Service Company, ("SISC"), formerly Kemper Service Company, is the shareholder service agent of the Fund. Under the agreement, SISC received shareholder services fees of $12,000 for the six months ended May 31, 2001, of which $5,601 is unpaid at May 31, 2001.

OFFICERS AND TRUSTEES. Certain officers or trustees of the Fund are also officers of the Advisor. For the six months ended May 31, 2001, the Fund made no direct payments to its officers and incurred trustees' fees of $6,876 to independent trustees.

4 EXPENSE OFF-SET
ARRANGEMENTS

The Fund has entered into arrangements with its custodian and transfer agent whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances were used to reduce a portion of the Fund's expenses. During the six months ended May 31, 2001, the Fund's custodian and transfer agent fees were reduced by $2,647 and $1,036 respectively, under these arrangements.

5 LINE OF CREDIT

The Fund and several affiliated funds (the "Participants") share in a $750 million revolving credit facility with J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. for temporary or emergency purposes. The Participants are charged an annual commitment fee which is allocated, pro rata based upon net assets, among each of the Participants. Interest is calculated at the Federal Funds Rate plus .5%. The Fund may borrow up to a maximum of 33 percent of its net assets under the agreement.
