CEDAR FAIR FILES PRELIMINARY PROXY STATEMENT FOR REQUESTED SPECIAL MEETING OF UNITHOLDERS

Company includes its own proposals that, if approved, would give unitholders the right to nominate potential directors for election to the Board

Recommends vote AGAINST Q Investments proposal

SANDUSKY, OHIO, March 29, 2011 Cedar Fair Entertainment Company (NYSE: FUN), a leader in regional amusement parks, water parks and active entertainment, today announced that it has filed a preliminary proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission regarding a Special Meeting of Unitholders requested by Q Funding III, L.P. and Q4 Funding, L.P. (Q Investments), which together beneficially own 5,687,276 units, or approximately 10.28% of the outstanding units of Cedar Fair.

Q Investments has requested a Special Meeting of unitholders to vote on an amendment of the limited partnership agreement to give unitholders the right to nominate directors for election to the Board of Directors. However, Q Investments proposal is inconsistent with the applicable governance documents of Cedar Fair and Cedar Fair Management, Inc., its General Partner, which requires that the regulations of the General Partner be amended in order to give unitholders the right to nominate directors for election to the Board of Directors. In particular, Q Investments proposal is solely an amendment of the Company's partnership agreement and does not include the required amendment to the regulations of the General Partner. Therefore, Q Investments proposal would be ineffective to accomplish the goal of giving unitholders the right to nominate directors for election to the Board of Directors.

In addition, Q Investments proposal does not require that any unitholder intending to nominate potential directors for election to the Board of Directors provide any advance notice of, or any information with respect to, such nominee. The fact that Q Investments' proposal lacks any basic procedural or informational requirements means that nominations could be made in a disorganized manner that is not in the best interests of unitholders. As a result, the Board of Directors recommends a vote AGAINST Q Investments' proposal.

However, the Board of Directors understands unitholders may desire to have the right to nominate potential directors for election to the Board of Directors. Therefore, and as an alternative to Q Investments' proposal, the Company is putting two proposals on the agenda for this upcoming Special Meeting that, if approved, would give the unitholders the right to nominate directors for election to the Board of Directors in a manner that is consistent with the applicable governance structure of Cedar Fair and its General Partner. Specifically, the two proposals by the Company are (i) an amendment to the regulations of the General Partner to permit the limited partnership agreement to include a provision giving unitholders the right to nominate potential directors for election to the Board of Directors and (ii) an amendment to the limited partnership agreement to establish certain procedures and information requirements pursuant to which unitholders can nominate potential directors for election to the Board of Directors.

The Company has offered these proposals in order to provide unitholders with an opportunity to vote on proposals that are compliant with the governance structure of Cedar Fair and its General Partner and that, if approved, would effectively establish the right of unitholders to nominate directors for election to the Board of Directors in an orderly, organized and uniform manner.
