Names Paliwal as CEO, President and Vice Chairman

WASHINGTON, DC, May 9, 2007 Harman International Industries (NYSE: HAR), a leader in the development, manufacture and marketing of audio products and automotive electronics systems, announced today that Dinesh Paliwal has been named president, chief executive officer (CEO) and vice chairman, effective July 1, 2007. He will join the Harman board at that time.

Paliwal, 49, is currently president, global markets and technology, and a member of the executive committee of ABB Group (ABB: NYSE, SWX), a global technology and engineering company with $24 billion in annual revenues and operations in more than 100 countries. ABB is headquartered in Zurich, Switzerland.

Dinesh Paliwal is a highly talented and motivated senior executive who has earned a global reputation for management skill, said Dr. Sidney Harman, founder and executive chairman of Harman International. He is superbly qualified to lead Harman International as the company enters the next stage of its development.

Dr. Harman has served as CEO of Harman International on an interim basis since January 1, 2007. A worldwide search to fill the position was conducted by Harman International's board with the assistance of Spencer Stuart, the global executive recruiting firm.

Harman announced on April 26, 2007, that it had entered into a merger agreement with affiliates of Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. L.P. (KKR) and the GS Capital Partners unit of Goldman Sachs Group Inc. in a transaction valued at approximately $8 billion. The transaction is subject

Harman International's dedication to research and development, as well as its strict adherence to quality manufacturing, are well known throughout the corporate world, Paliwal said. "The opportunity to lead a company with such high standards, worldwide reputation and outstanding growth potential is extremely appealing. I look forward to working with Dr. Sidney Harman, whose passion and pioneering spirit have made this company a market leader. Paliwal advanced steadily since joining ABB in 1985 as a systems engineer and was soon promoted to director of marketing and sales for the company's Asia Pacific region. He was promoted to vice president, industries in 1994, when he relocated to Beijing, China, and then successfully headed the company's worldwide process industries division from Zurich, Switzerland; the worldwide industries division; and the worldwide automation technologies, both from Norwalk, Conn. In 2004, he was named chairman and CEO of ABB North America and also the Chairman of ABB's publicly listed Indian subsidiary. In 2006, he was elected to his current ABB position."
