LEADING PROXY ADVISORY FIRM ISS RECOMMENDS COMMONWEALTH REIT

SHAREHOLDERS VOTE TO REMOVE ENTIRE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Highlights Dismal Shareholder Returns, Conflicts of Interest and Recent Use of Corporate

Governance Provisions to Entrench the Board

NEW YORK, June 14, 2013 Corvex Management LP (Corvex) and Related Fund Management, LLC (Related), today issued the following statement regarding the report by Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS), a leading independent proxy advisory and corporate governance advisory firm, recommending that the shareholders of Commonwealth REIT (NYSE:CWH) vote to remove the entire board of trustees at Commonwealth.

Keith Meister of Corvex and Jeff T. Blau of Related issued the following statement:

This is a monumental recommendation from a leading proxy advisory firm in that it recognizes the need for immediate, wholesale change to Commonwealth's board. We are pleased that ISS strongly supports our effort to stop the value destruction at Commonwealth and free the Company from its abysmal corporate governance practices and continued mismanagement by the Portnoys. This consent solicitation is a referendum on Commonwealth's board and management and a successful remove vote will create a clear path for shareholders to nominate truly independent and accountable trustees who are committed to the future success of Commonwealth for the long-term benefit of all shareholders. Make no mistake, our only agenda is to effect change and remove Commonwealth's trustees and we appreciate the strong and broad support of those who have already voted in favor of change at Commonwealth. The arbitration process is already well underway and we anticipate a prompt resolution on matters related to our efforts to effect change at Commonwealth. As Commonwealth itself noted, the arbitration process provides for an expedited process for resolving disputes.

In its report, ISS noted that:

Votes FOR removal of all existing directors are warranted given that the dismal returns to shareholders over an extended period prior to the dissidents' arrival, the links between underperformance on key drivers of shareholder value and the inherent conflicts of interest in the external management structure the company maintains, and the current board's use of corporate governance provisions to entrench itself, in aggregate form a compelling case that change at the board level is necessary.

Between 2007-2012 while Commonwealth's management team increased assets by 198% of the period-ending market cap - driving a significant increase in fees payable to management -Commonwealth's share price the measure of value appreciation for shareholders - fell by 68%.

The Board's bylaw amendment that requires any shareholder requesting a record date for action by written consent have held 3% of shares for at least 3 years effectively disenfranchises all other shareholders, including those who have held smaller amounts for longer periods, or invested much larger amounts more recently - from ever being able to voice their views through this mechanism, regardless of whether they wanted to lead such a consent themselves.

Perhaps most importantly, however, the history of this company under the current board and external management team strongly suggests the risk of doing nothing is significantly greater than any risk from removing the entire board at once.

The current board, far from showing any interest in remedying [the] inherent conflict [of interest], has demonstrated much greater creativity in entrenching itself, and hardening the bunker in anticipation of even a legitimate shareholder challenge.

Messrs. Meister and Blau continued: Commonwealth's reappointment of trustee Joe Morea following an overwhelming nearly 4 to 1 shareholder vote in favor of his removal at the 2013 annual meeting is the latest in a series of offensive, self-interested actions taken by the Commonwealth trustees to stifle the will of shareholders. To put an end to this egregious conduct, we urge all of our fellow shareholders to follow ISS recommendation and sign, date and return their WHITE proxy card today. Shareholders may also be able to vote online by following the instructions on their voting materials.
