On March 18, 2009, the Management Development and Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors approved changes to the compensation planning process to consolidate and streamline compensation planning for the Company's employees. As a result of the changes, beginning for fiscal year 2010, equity compensation awards to management employees under the Company's Long-Term Incentive Plan (except for off-cycle recruiting and retention awards) will be granted as of the first New York Stock Exchange business day in the month of December and will no longer be granted on the first business day of the Company's fiscal year. Accordingly, in the future, stock option grants to management employees (except for recruiting and retention awards) will be made as of the first New York Stock Exchange business day in December and will have an exercise price based on the closing market price of a share of the Company's common stock on such date.
