TEXTAINER ENTERS INTO VOTING LIMITATION DEED WITH HALCO HOLDINGS INC

Textainer Group Holdings Limited (Textainer or the Company) is announcing that at the request of Halco Holdings Limited, it has entered into a Voting Limitation Deed with Halco Holdings Inc, the holder of approximately 48% of the Company's shares. Tencor Limited, a publicly traded company listed on the Johannesburg Stock Exchange and a nominated discretionary beneficiary of the Halco Trust, the sole shareholder of Halco Holdings Inc, issued the following announcement about the Voting Limitation Deed:

TRENCOR LIMITED

Incorporated in the Republic of South Africa

Registration No 1955/002869/06

Share Code: TRE

ISIN: ZAE000007506

(Tencor)

VOTING LIMITATION DEED BETWEEN HALCO AND TEXTAINER

Shareholders are advised that, as announced on 11 August 2017, the Tencor board continues to actively pursue the commercial objectives of:

reducing costs, time delays and reputational risks associated with having to convert the US GAAP financial results of Textainer Group Holdings Limited (Textainer) to IFRS for purposes of reporting by Tencor; and a possible simplification of Tencor's interests.

Tencor has a 48% beneficiary interest in Textainer (NYSE: TGH) through Halco Holdings Inc (Halco) under the Halco Trust. At Halco's request, Textainer and Halco have entered into a Voting Limitation Deed (VLD), effective 1 January 2018, whereby Halco has agreed to limit its shareholder voting rights in Textainer, solely in respect of the appointment and/or removal of directors and then only to the extent necessary to ensure that Tencor will be regarded for purposes of IFRS as being neither in control of nor having significant influence over Textainer. All Halco's voting rights, save for the said limitation, will be unaffected by the VLD. The VLD should have no material impact on the economic value of Tencor's beneficiary interest in Textainer.

Accordingly, as from 1 January 2018, the financial results of Textainer, reporting under US GAAP, will no longer be required to be consolidated and converted into IFRS for inclusion in the results of Tencor, thus eliminating significant commercial issues (e.g. the time-consuming and expensive conversion process, delays in Tencor's financial reporting, reputational risks and the like) for Tencor and Textainer and their respective shareholders. As Tencor will be regarded in terms of IFRS as being neither in control of nor having significant influence over Textainer, Textainer will be accounted for by Tencor at fair value through profit or loss, which fair value information is more meaningful.

The JSE Limited (JSE) has advised that the effect of the VLD, entered into between Textainer and Halco, has rendered Tencor non-compliant with its Listing Requirements. Prior to the VLD being entered into, Tencor had proposed to the JSE that Tencor be reclassified as an investment entity under section 15 of the Listing Requirements with a view to remaining compliant with the requirements of the JSE. This proposal is currently being considered by the JSE and, if and when approved, will be subject to Tencor complying with the relevant requirements of section 15, as well as obtaining various Tencor shareholder and JSE approvals.

In relation to a possible simplification of Trenchor's interests, each of Halco, Halco Trust and Trenchor has independently sought professional advice in exploring its own position, applicable local regulatory and legal considerations, as well as the best interests of its stakeholders in the various jurisdictions concerned, and will continue to do so. The processes involved are however complicated and require time to formulate and implement. Shareholders will be advised of further developments as appropriate.
