Seamless acquired the Microsoft Windows Mobil operating system in January 2007 and in August 2008 Seamless partnered with Garmin GPS guidance operating system for the S-Gen.

SEAMLESS SNBK-1 is a 10" mini-notebook with a 120 Hard-drive a 1.6 GZ with 1 G of Ram for a 1024X600 resolution with 802.11a/b/g. The SNBK-1 comes with Windows XP home addition. The unit weighs approximately 2.2 pounds and has a 4 hour battery life.

SEAMLESS SPMP 3 -4, Seamless also produces 3 different models of Seamless Personal Media Players.

CHRONOLOGY OF TEK WARE

TEK Ware was originally created to support Seamless Wi-Fi service which was expanded to provide in-house server solutions for parent company Seamless Corporation. Seamless TEK Ware first expanded after the acquisition of the Peer 2 Peer Software and the creation of the Peer 2 Peer subsidiary because of the potential clients that were going to acquiring the Phenom(R) software program did not have the capability of properly securing their new sever, to either insure the integrity of the software or be able to provide the technical support required to support the software program. Offering secure hosting services allows us to meet this potential client demand while also giving us the ability to support our products in the most efficient manner.

In March 2006, Seamless TEK Ware acquired the patent, development and marketing rights for the ED.1 (Entertainment Device) minicomputer and communication device from Vercel Corporation. The ED.1 was an ergonomically-designed portable entertainment device and full-fledged computer boasting a form factor of 5" x 4" x 2" and weighing less than 12 ounces. When closed, it offers an MP3 player, a gaming device when opened, and a full-fledged internet communications device and computer when the integrated keyboard is unfolded. The keyboard offers almost full-size keyboard functionality and ergonomics.

Seamless named its mobile minicomputer the S-Gen (for Seamless Generation) Mobile Computing and Communications Device. In addition, began aggressive redesign and are preparing for volume manufacturing of the device.

The S-Gen, while maintaining its small size, has been specifically designed with a fully deployable folding keyboard for data manipulation and navigation allowing the user easy access. It has a 4 inch high definition screen that provides a clear and crisp screen display. The unit was extremely versatile and the first version had, among it many capabilities, the ability to be used as a completely loaded Wireless working computer. It is "Blue Tooth" enabled and can be used as an entertainment and gaming unit.

The unit's size places it in between the "Palm and the Lap Top" size category - in the Ultra Mobile Personal Computer (UMPC) class of minicomputers and as such, it can be transported easily because it readily fits into a pocket or a purse, or be easily carried by hand. It does not require a carrying case, and despite its small size, it is designed so that its batteries can last up to eight hours.

We have also expanded the features and functionality of the S-Gen, including increasing standard internal memory from 128 Kb to 256 Kb, integrating an onboard camera and also more gaming buttons to facilitate gaming interactivity.

After the initial marketing campaign Seamless began upgrading the S-Gen in August 2008 (please read the above section "CURRENT TEK WARE PRODUCTS").

While working on the redesign of the S-Gen, Seamless TEK Ware also began production of the SNBK-1 and the SPMP 3-4

In April 2009 Seamless TEK Ware became a subsidiary of Seamless Sales with the advent of it new online presence Seamless Sales of www.seamlessale.com

The second largest online retailer in the United States, the company has net sales of $2.1 billion with the majority of net sales consisting of I.T. products. Newegg recently expanded its product offering to consumer electronics sales and expanded its reach to China. GOVERNMENT APPROVAL

Regulation of the following areas could impact our operations:

Regulation of the Internet

To date, there has been some regulation of content providers on the Internet and this regulation may increase due to the increasing popularity and use of the Internet by broad segments of the population. It is possible that new laws and regulations may be passed and/or adopted with respect to the Internet pertaining to access, content of Web sites, privacy, pricing, encryption standards, consumer protection, electronic commerce, taxation, and copyright infringement and other intellectual property issues. No one is able to predict the effect, if any, what future regulatory changes or developments may have on the demand for Internet services, access and/or other Internet-related activities. Changes in the regulatory environment relating to the Internet access industry may include the enactment of laws and/or regulations that directly or indirectly affect the costs of telecommunications and Internet access. These changes could increase competition from national and/or regional telephone companies and other Internet access providers. These changes could adversely affect our business, operating results and financial condition.

Regulation of Internet Access

We provide Internet service by using Internet access provided by telecommunications carriers. Terms, conditions and prices for telecommunications services are subject to economic regulation by state and federal agencies. Internet access providers are not currently subject to direct economic regulation by the FCC or any state regulatory body, other than the type and scope of regulation that is applicable to businesses generally. In April 1998, the FCC reaffirmed that Internet access providers should be classified as unregulated "information service providers" rather than regulated "telecommunications providers" under the terms of the Federal Telecommunications

Edgar Filing: SEAMLESS Corp - Form 10-K

Act of 1996. Currently, we are not subject to federal regulations applicable to telephone companies and similar carriers because the Internet access services offered are provided by third-party telecommunications providers. To date, no state has attempted to exercise economic regulation over Internet service providers.

Regulation of Wireless Access

Wi-Fi Internet access products primarily operate in unregulated frequencies. Due to the growth of Wi-Fi and the corresponding increased use within this bandwidth, there may be regulation in the near future. The regulation could impact broadcast range and use within given locations; however, at present the broadcast frequency remains unregulated.

Regulation of Peer 2 Peer communication

The courts and the legislature have recently become active in the peer 2 peer communications space, which can negatively impact us due to our acquisition of peer 2 peer software technologies. If the legislatures and court determine that this type of communications violates existing laws and/or new laws may be proposed that could limit and/or prohibit this type of communication then this could have a negative impact on our ability to generate revenue from this type of communications.

Regulation of Communication Devices

Communications industry regulation changes rapidly, and such changes could adversely impact us. The following discussion describes some of the major communications-related regulations that affect us, but numerous other substantive areas of regulation not discussed here also may influence our business.

8

Communications services are regulated to varying degrees at the federal level by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") and at the state level by public utilities commissions ("PUCs"). Seamless's suite of wireless broadband products and services is subject to federal regulation in a number of areas, including the licensing and use of spectrum, and the technical parameters, certification, marketing, operation and disposition of wireless devices. Applicable consumer protection regulations also are enforced at the federal and state levels. This does not describe all present and proposed federal, state and local legislation and regulations affecting the communications industry. Some legislation and regulations are the subject of ongoing judicial proceedings, legislative hearings and administrative proceedings that could change the manner in which our industry is regulated and the manner in which we operate. We cannot predict the outcome of any of these matters or their potential impact on our business and as such cannot predict potential risks in our development efforts in these areas.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT COSTS

There were no expenditures for research and development by Seamless during fiscal year ended June 20, 2009. Seamless spent $876,213 on research and development during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2008

EMPLOYEES

The Company is actively pursuing additional equity financing through discussions with investment bankers and private investors. There can be no assurance the Company will be successful in its effort to secure additional equity financing. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is contingent upon its ability to secure financing and attain profitable operations. The financial statements do not include any adjustment to reflect the possible future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amounts and classification of liabilities that may result from the possible inability of the Company to continue as a going concern.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Securities and Exchange Commission issued Financial Reporting Release No. 60, "Cautionary Advice Regarding Disclosure About Critical Accounting Policies," or FRR 60, suggesting that companies provide additional disclosure and commentary on their most critical accounting policies. The most critical accounting policies are the ones that are most important to the portrayal of a company's financial condition and operating results, and require management to make its most difficult and subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates of matters that are inherently uncertain. Our management believes that of the significant accounting policies used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements (see Note 2 to the Financial Statements), the following are critical accounting policies, which may involve a higher degree of judgment, complexity and estimates. The methods, estimates and judgments we use in applying these most critical accounting policies have a significant impact on the results reported in our financial statements.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements are in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles require us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

Sales are recognized upon shipment of goods to customers. Amounts billed related to shipping and handling are included in net sales.

Stock Based Compensation

The Company had adopted SFAS 123R which requires all share based payments to officers, directors, and employees, including stock options to be recognized as a cost in the financial statements based on their fair values. The Company accounts for stock based grants issued to non-employees at fair value in accordance with SFAS 123 and ETIF 96-18 "Accounting for Equity Instruments That are Issued to Other Than Employees for Acquiring, or In Conjunction with Selling, Goods, or Services". There were no employee stock options granted during the year ended June 30, 2009 and June 30, 2008. A non-employee stock option was issued during the third quarter of year 2008. It is disclosed in Note 7.

FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

On July 1, 2008, the Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements" as required for financial assets and liabilities. The adoption of SFAS No. 157 had no material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows during the year ended June 30, 2009. SFAS No. 157 was effective July 1, 2008 for financial assets and liabilities and will be effective July 1, 2009 for non-financial assets and liabilities. The standard provides guidance for establishing a frame work for measuring fair values of assets and liabilities. Under the standard, fair value refers to the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e. an exit price). The standard clarifies the principle that fair value should be based on the assumptions or inputs market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability.

In support of this principle, SFAS No. 157 establishes a three level hierarchy for fair value measurements based on the quality or transparency of inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or liability at the measurement date.

The three levels are defined as follows:

- o Level 1 (the highest priority) - inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted market prices (unadjusted) for identical financial assets or liabilities in active markets.

- o Level 2 - inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted market prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for an asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of a financial instrument.
- o Level 3 (the lowest priority) - inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. These inputs reflect management's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in pricing a financial instrument.

A financial instrument's categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level or priority of input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the financial asset or liability.

The Company's only financial assets or liabilities subject to SFAS No. 157 are its conversion feature liability on its convertible debt. Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used to determine the fair value of the Company's financial assets including the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

Fair Value Measurements at Reporting Date Using

Description	June 30, 2009	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets
		(Level 1)
Conversion feature liability-convertible debt	$ 1,426,044	$ 1,426,044

DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS AND BENEFICIAL CONVERSION FEATURES

We do not use derivative instruments to hedge exposures to cash flow, market, or foreign currency risks.

We review the terms of convertible debt and equity instruments we issue to determine whether there are embedded derivative instruments, including the embedded conversion option, that are required to be bifurcated and accounted for separately as a derivative financial instrument. When the ability to physical or net-share settle the conversion option is deemed to be not within our control, the embedded conversion option may be required to be accounted for as a derivative instrument, including the conversion option, that is required to be bifurcated, the bifurcated derivative instruments are accounted for as a single, compound derivative instrument. We may also issue options or warrants to non-employees in connection with consulting or other services they provide. Depending on their terms, these options and warrants may be accounted for as derivative instrument liabilities, rather than as equity.

When the embedded conversion option in a convertible debt or equity instrument is not required to be bifurcated and accounted for separately as a derivative instrument, we review the terms of the instrument to determine whether it is necessary to record a beneficial conversion feature in accordance with EITF Issues 98-05 and 00-27. When the effective conversion rate of the instrument at the time is issued and eligible for conversion is less than the fair value of the common stock into which it is convertible, we may recognize a beneficial conversion feature, which is credited to equity and reduces the initial carrying value of the instrument.

When convertible debt is initially recorded at less than its face value as a result of allocating some or all of the proceeds received to derivative instrument liabilities, to a beneficial conversion feature or to other instruments, the discount from the face amount, together with the stated interest on the convertible debt, is amortized over the life of the instrument through periodic charges to income using the effective interest method

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

We have not entered into any off balance sheet arrangements that have, or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, result of operations, liquidity, capital expenditure, or capital resources, which would be considered material to investors.

INFLATION

The moderate rate of inflation over the past few years has had an insignificant impact on our sales and results of operations during the period.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

There were no capital expenditures during the 2009 fiscal year.

NET OPERATING LOSS CARRY FORWARDS

No provision for income taxes has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements as a result of the Company's net operating losses. The Company has unused tax loss carry forwards of approximately $28,000,000 and $20,000,000 at June 30, 2009 and June 30, 2008 respectively to offset future taxable income. Such carry forwards expire in the years beginning 2021. The deferred tax asset recorded by the Company as a result of these tax loss carry forwards is approximately $9,500,000 and $7,000,000 at June 30, 2009 and 2008 respectively. The Company has reduced the deferred tax asset resulting from its tax loss carry forwards by a valuation allowance of an equal amount as the realization of the deferred tax asset is uncertain.

ITEM 9A CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Edgar Filing: SEAMLESS Corp - Form 10-K

(a) EVALUATION OF DISCLOSURES CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our Security Exchange Act of 1934 reports are recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operating Officer and Chief Financial Officer evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(C) and under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), as of June 30, 2009.

Based on this evaluation, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms.

(b) Management's Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of June 30, 2009, management preformed, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer (who is the same person), and evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosures controls and procedures as defined in Rules 13a-15 (e) and 15c-15 (e) of the Exchange Act. Our Disclosure controls and procedures controls and procedures are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the report we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management including our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. Based on the evaluation and the identification of the material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting described below, our Chief Executive Officer/Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of June 30, 2009, our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective.

Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under Exchange Act). The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial policies and procedures that:

*pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of our assets;

*provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with GAAP, and that receipts and expenditures of our company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of our management and directors; and *provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of our assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Edgar Filing: SEAMLESS Corp - Form 10-K

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, the Company assessed the effectiveness of the internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2009. In making this assessment, we used the criteria set forth in Internal Control-Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. Based on the results of this assessment and on those criteria the Company concluded that a material weakness exists in the internal controls as of June 30, 2009.

A material weakness in the Company's internal controls exists in that, there is (1) limited segregation of duties amongst the Company's employees with respect to the Company's preparation and review of the Company's financial statements, and (2) a limited financial background and lack of appropriate experience and knowledge of U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting requirements amongst all of the executive officers and the board of directors. This material weakness may affect management's ability to effectively review and analyze elements of the financial statement closing process and prepare financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP. In making this assessment, our management used the criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). As a result of the material weaknesses described above, our management concluded that as of October 13, 2009, we did not maintain effective internal control over financial reporting based on the criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the COSO.

This annual report does not include any attestation report of the company's registered public accounting firm regarding internal controls over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by the company's registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission that permit the company to provide only management's report in this annual report. We will be subject to this requirement for our next fiscal year ending June 30, 2010.

(c) Changes in Internal Controls over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the year ended June 30, 2009, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting, however the company plans to take steps to rectify these material weaknesses in the future which includes in part weekly reviews of accounts payable and accounts receivable by the chief financial officer with the new accounting personnel. While all of material weaknesses have not been remediated to date, we believe that all weaknesses identified will be remediated by the next reporting period.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Seamless Corporation f/k/a Seamless Wi-Fi, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Seamless Corporation f/k/a Seamless Wi-Fi, Inc. as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity (deficit), and cash flows for each of the two years in the period ended June 30, 2009. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. The company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Seamless Corporation f/k/a Seamless Wi-Fi, Inc. as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, and the results of its operations and their cash flows for each of the two years in the period ended June 30, 2009 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that Seamless Corporation f/k/a Seamless Wi-Fi, Inc. will continue as a going concern. As more fully described in Note 3, the Company has incurred operating losses since inception and requires additional capital to continue operations. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plan in regards to these matters is also described in Note 3. These consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include allowances for doubtful accounts and notes and mortgage loans receivable. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

The Company considers all short-term, highly liquid investments with an original maturity date of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE

Accounts receivable are judged as to collectibility by management and an allowance for bad debts has not been established.

F-9

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment is stated at cost and depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the assets, which is generally three to five years for computers and computer related equipment and five to seven years for furniture and other non-computer equipment. Leasehold improvements are amortized using the straight-line method over the shorter of their estimated useful lives or the term of the lease, ranging from one to five years.

INVENTORY

Inventory is valued at lower of cost (first-in, first out method) or market.

PROPRIETARY SOFTWARE IN DEVELOPMENT

In accordance with SFAS No. 86, accounting for the Cost of Computer Software to be Sold, Leased, or Otherwise Marketed Software ("FAS 86"), the Company has capitalized certain computer software development costs upon the establishment of technological feasibility. Technological feasibility is considered to have occurred upon completion of a detailed program design which has been confirmed by documenting and tracing the detailed program design to product specifications. Amortization is provided based on the greater of the ratios that current gross revenues for a product bear to the total of current and anticipated future gross revenues for that product. The estimated useful life for the straight-line method is determined to be 2 to 5 years. For the years ended June 30, 2009 and June 30, 2008, there was no amortization for the capitalized costs.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Sales are recognized upon shipment of goods to customers. Amounts billed related to shipping and handling are included in net sales.

ADVERTISING EXPENSE

All advertising costs are expensed when incurred. Advertising costs were $273,206 and $155,135 for the years ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

Edgar Filing: SEAMLESS Corp - Form 10-K

CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

The Company is subject to credit risk through trade receivables. Sales through its website are generally billed to the customer's credit card, thus reducing the credit risk. The Company routinely assesses the financial strength of significant customers and this assessment, combined with the large number and geographic diversity of its customers, limits the Company's concentration of risk with respect to trade accounts receivable.

INCOME TAXES

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability approach of reporting for income taxes. Deferred taxes are recorded based upon the tax impact of items affecting financial reporting and tax filings in different periods. A valuation allowance is provided against net deferred tax assets where the Company determines realization is not currently judged to be more likely than not. The Company and its 80% or more owned U.S. subsidiaries file a consolidated federal income tax return.

EARNINGS (LOSS) PER SHARE ("EPS")

Basic EPS is computed by dividing income (loss) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS is computed giving effect to all dilutive potential common shares that were outstanding during the period. Dilutive potential common shares consist of incremental shares issuable upon conversion of preferred stock outstanding. At June 30, 2009, Series A Preferred shares are convertible to 6,184,030,000 common shares and Series C Preferred shares are convertible to 18,520,000,000 common shares. Because the convertible preferred shares have an anti-dilutive effect, there is no difference between basic and diluted earnings per share. There were also 975,000 stock options outstanding that were not included in the basic EPS calculation as their effect would have been anti-dilutive to basic EPS.

STOCK BASED COMPENSATION

The Company had adopted SFAS 123R which requires all share based payments to officers, directors, and employees, including stock options to be recognized as a cost in the financial statements based on their fair values. The Company accounts for stock based grants issued to non-employees at fair value in accordance with SFAS 123 and ETIF 96-18 "Accounting for Equity Instruments That are Issued to Other Than Employees for Acquiring, or In Conjunction with Selling, Goods, or Services". There were no employee stock options granted during the year ended June 30, 2009 and June 30, 2008. A non-employee stock option was issued during the third quarter of year 2008. It is disclosed in Note 7.

FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

On July 1, 2008, the Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements" as required for financial assets and liabilities. The adoption of SFAS No. 157 had no material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows during the year ended June 30, 2009. SFAS No. 157 was effective July 1, 2008 for financial assets and liabilities and will be effective July 1, 2009 for non-financial assets and liabilities. The standard provides guidance for establishing a frame work for measuring fair values of assets and liabilities. Under the standard, fair value refers to the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e. an exit price). The standard clarifies the principle that fair value should be based on the assumptions or inputs market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability.

In support of this principle, SFAS No. 157 establishes a three level hierarchy for fair value measurements based on the quality or transparency of inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or liability at the measurement date.

The three levels are defined as follows:

- o Level 1 (the highest priority) - inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted market prices (unadjusted) for identical financial assets or liabilities in active markets.
- o Level 2 - inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted market prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for an asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of a financial instrument.
- o Level 3 (the lowest priority) - inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. These inputs reflect management's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in pricing a financial instrument.

A financial instrument's categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level or priority of input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the financial asset or liability.

The Company's only financial assets or liabilities subject to SFAS No. 157 are its conversion feature liability on its convertible debt. Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used to determine the fair value of the Company's financial assets including the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

Fair Value Measurements at Reporting Date Using

Description	June 30, 2009	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets

DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS AND BENEFICIAL CONVERSION FEATURES

We do not use derivative instruments to hedge exposures to cash flow, market, or foreign currency risks.

We review the terms of convertible debt and equity instruments we issue to determine whether there are embedded derivative instruments, including the embedded conversion option, that are required to be bifurcated and accounted for separately as a derivative financial instrument. When the ability to physical or net-share settle the conversion option is deemed to be not within our control, the embedded conversion option may be required to be accounted for as a derivative instrument, including the conversion option, that is required to be bifurcated, the bifurcated derivative instruments are accounted for as a single, compound derivative instrument. We may also issue options or warrants to non-employees in connection with consulting or other services they provide. Depending on their terms, these options and warrants may be accounted for as derivative instrument liabilities, rather than as equity.

When the embedded conversion option in a convertible debt or equity instrument is not required to be bifurcated and accounted for separately as a derivative instrument, we review the terms of the instrument to determine whether it is necessary to record a beneficial conversion feature in accordance with EITF Issues 98-05 and 00-27. When the effective conversion rate of the instrument at the time is issued and eligible for conversion is less than the fair value of the common stock into which it is convertible, we may recognize a beneficial conversion feature, which is credited to equity and reduces the initial carrying value of the instrument.

When convertible debt is initially recorded at less than its face value as a result of allocating some or all of the proceeds received to derivative instrument liabilities, to a beneficial conversion feature or to other instruments, the discount from the face amount, together with the stated interest on the convertible debt, is amortized over the life of the instrument through periodic charges to income using the effective interest method

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In December 2007, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. ("SFAS") 141 (revised 2007), Business Combinations, which replaces SFAS 141. SFAS 141R establishes principles and requirements for how an acquirer recognizes and measures in its financial statements the identifiable assets acquired, the liabilities assumed and the goodwill acquired. SFAS 141R also establishes disclosure requirements that will enable users to evaluate the nature and financial effects of the business combination. SFAS 141R is effective as of the beginning of an entity's fiscal year that begins after December 15, 2008 and will be adopted by the Company in the first quarter of fiscal 2010. While the Company expects that SFAS 141R may have an impact on accounting for business combinations once adopted, the effect is dependent upon acquisitions occurring.

In April 2009, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position No. 141(R)-1 ("FSP FAS 141(R)-1"), ACCOUNTING FOR ASSETS ACQUIRED AND LIABILITIES ASSUMED IN A BUSINESS COMBINATION THAT ARISE FROM CONTINGENCIES, which provides additional clarification on the initial recognition and measurement of assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a business combination that arise from contingencies. FSP FAS 141(R)-1 is effective for all fiscal years beginning on or after December 15, 2008. FSP FAS 141(R)-1 may have a material impact on the accounting for any business acquired.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 160, Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements - An Amendment of ARB No. 51 (SFAS 160). SFAS 160 establishes accounting and reporting standards for the noncontrolling interest in a subsidiary. SFAS 160 also requires that a retained noncontrolling interest upon the deconsolidation of a subsidiary be initially measured at its fair value. SFAS 160 is effective for the Company's 2010 fiscal year. Upon adoption of SFAS 160, the Company will be required to report its noncontrolling interests, if any, as a separate component of shareholders' equity. The Company does not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 160 to significantly impact its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS No. 161, "Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities—an amendment of FASB Statement No. 133" ("SFAS No. 161"). SFAS No. 161 requires enhanced disclosure related to derivatives and hedging activities and thereby seeks to improve the transparency of financial reporting. Under SFAS No. 161, entities are required to provide enhanced disclosures relating to: (a) how and why an entity uses derivative instruments; (b) how derivative instruments and related hedge items are accounted for under SFAS No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities" ("SFAS No. 133"), and its related interpretations; and (c) how derivative instruments and related hedged items affect an entity's financial position, financial performance, and cash flows. SFAS No. 161 must be applied prospectively to all derivative instruments and non-derivative instruments that are designated and qualify as hedging instruments and related hedged items accounted for under SFAS No. 133 for all financial statements issued for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008, with early application permitted. The Company does not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 161 to significantly impact its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In April 2008, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position ("FSP") FAS 142-3, "Determination of the Useful Life of Intangible Assets." This FSP amends the factors that should be considered in developing renewal or extension assumptions used to determine the useful life of a recognized intangible asset under FASB Statement No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" ("SFS 142"). The intent of this FSP is to improve the consistency between the useful life of a recognized intangible asset under SFAS 142 and the period of expected cash flows used to measure the fair value of the asset under SFAS 141R, and other GAAP. This FSP is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008, and interim periods within those fiscal years. Early adoption is prohibited. The Company is currently evaluating the potential impact the new pronouncement will have on its consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 3: OPERATIONS AND LIQUIDITY

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, which contemplate continuation of the company as a going concern. The Company has experienced significant losses in recent years. At June 30, 2009 the Company had an accumulated deficit of $28,482,568.

The Company is actively pursuing additional equity financing through discussions with investment bankers and private investors. There can be no assurance the Company will be successful in its effort to secure additional equity financing. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is contingent upon its ability to secure financing and attain profitable operations. The financial statements do not include any adjustment to reflect the possible future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amounts and classification of liabilities that may result from the possible inability of the Company to continue as a going concern.

The fair value of the conversion option ("options") was $1,426,044 at June 30, 2009. The options were originally valued at $1,599,227 at issuance. However, since the value of the options at issuance exceeded the face amount of the debt, the Company recognized a loss of $609,467 as a result of the issuance of these Notes. The gain on the change in value related to these options was $173,183 for the year ended June 30, 2009.

NOTE 11: PREFERRED STOCK LIABILITY

The company issued Preferred A stock ("A") and Preferred C stock ("C"). Both issues of stock are convertible into common stock.

The A stock is convertible into 10,000 shares of common stock for each share of A stock. Pursuant to EITF 00-27, since the total of all convertible instruments outstanding would exceed the authorized common stock, the value of A stock that is convertible into common stock is reflected as a liability at June 30, 2009 of $1,236,806.

The C stock is convertible into common stock based on the number of outstanding C shares outstanding. At June 30, 2009, there were 1,852,000 shares of C stock outstanding. The C stock is convertible into $1,852,000 worth of common stock at June 30, 2009. Therefore, 9,260,000,000 shares of common stock would have to be issued (based on the common stock price of $.0002 at June 30, 2009). Since the C stock could result in an unlimited number of common shares issued, the C stock has been shown as a liability of $1,852,000 in the balance sheet at June 30, 2009.
