Business Opportunity

Chinese TV industry is decentralized and highly fragmented

296 broadcasters operating over 2,983 channels, reaching 96% of the population through terrestrial and cable¹

National and Provincial SARFT² who own all assets currently are keen to see performance and monetization

Huge growth in advertising spending

Advertising growth set to continue at 17.33% per annum³

China will become the 4th largest advertising economy in the world in 2010 worth $24bn⁴

TV advertising is largest (~40%) and fastest growing medium in the market⁴

Deregulation just beginning

Industry has been highly regulated which has limited private investment and virtually precluded foreign investment to date

Deregulation (in advertising initially) creates significant opportunities for companies that can improve the profitability and efficiency of broadcasters

China Network's model builds and innovates on tested JV models
