4.1.6 Amount of Debentures Issued: Eight hundred (800) Debentures will be issued.

4.2 Interest

4.2.1 Monetary Adjustment. The Unit Nominal Value of the Debentures will not be subject to monetary adjustment.

4.2.1 Interest. The Debentures will bear interest, after the First Subscription Date, on the unamortized Unit Nominal Value of the Debenture, to be paid at the end of each accrual period (“Accrual Period”), according to the formula below. The interest rate applicable to the Debentures will correspond to the accumulated variation of one hundred and eight point twenty-five percent (108.25%) of the average DI – Interbank Deposit rates for one (1) day, “over extra group” (“DI Rate”), expressed as a percentage per year on the basis of two hundred and fifty-two (252) business days, calculated and published by CETIP in Informativo Diário (Daily Bulletin), as available through its website (<http://www.cetip.com.br>) (“Interest”). Interest will be calculated on an exponential, cumulative, pro rata temporis basis, according to the number of business days elapsed, on the unamortized Unit Nominal Value of the Debentures from the First Subscription Date, or the maturity date of the last Accrual Period, as applicable, to the date of actual payment, according to the following formula:

$$I = NV_i \times (DI \text{ Factor} - 1), \text{ where:}$$

“I” corresponds to the amount of interest due at the end of each Accrual Period, calculated with six (6) decimal places with no rounding;

“NV_i” corresponds to the Unit Nominal Value at the issuance or the balance of the Unit Nominal Value of the Debenture, informed/calculated with six (6) decimal places with no rounding;

“DI Factor” corresponds to the multiplication of the DI Rate using a percentage applied from and including the accrual start date to and excluding the Interest payment date, calculated with eight (8) decimal places with rounding, as defined below:

where:

“n” corresponds to the total number of DI-Over Rates considered in the Accrual Period, where “n” is an integer;

“p” corresponds to the percentage applied to the DI-Over Rate, informed with two (2) decimal places, equal to one hundred and eight point twenty-five (108.25);

“DIRk” corresponds to the daily DI-Over Rate, calculated with eight (8) decimal places, with rounding, calculated as follows:

where:

“DIk” corresponds to the DI-Over Rate published by CETIP, valid for one (1) business day (overnight), used with two (2) decimal places.

4.2.2.1 For the purpose of calculating the Interest:

- i) the factor resulting from the expression $(1 + \text{DIRk} \times p/100)$ will be considered with sixteen (16) decimal places with no rounding;
- ii) the daily factors are multiplied $(1 + \text{DIRk} \times p/100)$, where, for each daily factor accumulated, the result is truncated to sixteen (16) decimal places, then the next daily factor is applied, and so on up to the last one considered;
- iii) once the factors are accumulated, the factor resulting from the “DI Factor” multiplication is considered, with eight (8) decimal places with no rounding; and
- iv) the DI Rate will be used considering an identical number of decimal places as published by the body responsible for the calculation thereof.

“Accrual Period” is defined as the time interval beginning on the First Subscription Date, in the case of the first period, or on the immediately preceding scheduled interest payment date, for the other periods, and ending on the scheduled interest payment date corresponding to the period. Each Accrual Period succeeds the previous one without interruption.

4.2.2.2 In case of temporary unavailability of the DI Rate upon the payment of any monetary obligation under this clause, it will be replaced with the same daily rate produced by the last known DI Rate, if any, on the calculation date, and no financial compensation will be due by the Issuer or the Debenture Holders upon the subsequent publication of the respective DI Rate.

4.2.2.3 Failing the setting and/or publication of the DI Rate for a period exceeding twenty (20) days after said date, or, further, in case of discontinuation of such rate or by operation of law, the Trustee shall call a General Meeting of Debenture Holders to define, by mutual agreement with the Issuer, the parameter to be applied. Until the date of the resolution by the General Meeting of Debenture Holders, the same daily rate produced by the last known DI Rate will be used for the calculation of the amount of any obligations under this clause.

4.3 Amortization. The Unit Nominal Value of the Debentures under this Offering will be amortized in one single installment on the Maturity Date.

4.4 Interest Payment. The amounts relating to the Debenture Interest shall be paid on an annual basis, the first payment being due on March 16, 2013 and the subsequent ones on the respective annual anniversaries up to and including the maturity date.

4.5 Place of Payment. Payments on the Debentures will be made on the due date thereof, with the application of the procedures adopted by CETIP for Debentures electronically held in custody at SND, or, in the event that the Debentures are not electronically held in custody at SND, (i) at the headquarters of the Issuer, or (ii), as applicable, by the Bookkeeping Agent engaged for such purpose.

4.6 Deadline Extension. Payment dates relating to any obligations falling on a non-banking business day in the City of São Paulo, State of São Paulo will be automatically extended to the next following business day, with no additions to the amounts to be paid, except that, if the payments are to be made through CETIP, the extension shall only apply when the payment date of the respective obligation falls on a Saturday, Sunday or national holiday.

4.7 Default Charges. In the event of delay attributable to the Issuer in the payment of any amount due to the owners of the Debentures, the overdue amounts will be subject to a default fine equal to two percent (2%) and default interest of one percent (1%) per month, both on the overdue amounts, from the default date to the date of actual payment, regardless of judicial or extrajudicial notice or communication.

4.8 Lapse of the Right to Additions. Without prejudice to the provisions of item 4.7 above, the failure by the Debenture Holder to appear and receive the amount corresponding to any of Issuer's monetary obligations on the dates set forth in this Indenture or in a notice published by the Issuer shall not entitle him to receive interest and/or default charges during the period of the delay in the receipt; however, the Debenture Holder's rights vested up to the respective due date shall be secured.

4.9 Term, Form of Payment and Subscription. The Debentures shall be subscribed for Unit Nominal Value plus Interest, as defined below, calculated on a pro rata temporis basis from the First Subscription Date. The Debentures shall be paid at sight, in the Brazilian currency, upon subscription, in compliance with the proceedings adopted by CETIP.

4.10 Renegotiation. There shall be no renegotiation of Debentures.

4.11 Publicity. All acts and decisions addressed to the Debenture Holders must be communicated, in the form of notices, through the Valor Econômico newspaper, the official bulletin of the organized over-the-counter market entity through which the Debentures are traded, and Issuer's website (www.ultra.com.br); further, the Issuer shall inform the Trustee in advance of any publication.

4.12 Debenture Certificates and Proof of Ownership. No Debenture certificates will be issued by the Issuer.
