The Company pays its outside directors an annual fee of $20,000, payable quarterly, and an additional $15,000 annually to its non-executive Chairman of the Board. Beginning July 2001, and continuing through September 2002, due to economic conditions and their effect on the Company, the outside directors voluntarily reduced their fees. Specifically, the directors accepted fees at the rate of $2,500 per quarter with an additional $3,750 per quarter being paid to the Chairman of the Board. In addition, the fee for attending meetings in person was eliminated from July 2001 through July 2002. The Company also pays certain health insurance costs for Messrs. A copy of the code of ethics has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission as Exhibit 14 to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Compliance Reporting

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's directors and executive officers, and persons who own more than 10% of a registered class of the Company's equity securities, to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the New York Stock Exchange reports of ownership and changes in ownership of Common Stock and other equity securities. Directors, executive officers and greater than 10% shareholders are required by SEC regulations to furnish the Company with copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file.

Based solely upon a review of the copies of such reports furnished to the Company or written representations that no other reports were required, the Company believes that all of the filings required to be made during fiscal year 2002 by executive officers and directors, other than a Form 3 filing by John R. Kramer, were timely made. In November 2002, Mr. Kramer was appointed as an executive officer of the Company, but a timely Form 3 was not filed. At the time of his appointment as an executive officer of the Company, Mr. Kramer did not own any Common Stock of the Company.

Non-Shareholder Approved Equity Arrangements

In 2002, the Company entered into individual Restricted Stock Agreements with its Chief Executive Officer and President, Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, and Division Presidents. Under these agreements, the Company granted the Chief Executive Officer 20,000 shares and to each remaining named executive 10,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock that are restricted and subject to forfeiture if the individual ceases to be employed by the Company prior to the third anniversary of the date of grant. The forfeiture provisions lapse on the third anniversary of the date of the grant if the trading price of the Common Stock has exceeded the trading price on the date of the grant for 20 consecutive days. In addition, the forfeiture provisions will lapse upon a change in control (as defined in the restricted stock agreements).

A former executive holds an option to purchase 100,000 shares of Common Stock that was issued in December 1999 but is not subject to the provisions of the stock incentive plan.

CERTAIN TRANSACTIONSRelated Party Matters

The Company has entered into certain real property leases as lessee with respect to which stockholders of the Company, or their affiliates, are the lessors. The Company believes that the monthly rent and other terms of each of these leases are not less favorable to the Company than could be obtained from unaffiliated parties for comparable properties in the respective geographic areas. The Company leases two properties with respect to which Andrew B. Shearer is the lessor. The properties are located in York and Whitehall, Pennsylvania and annual rents under the terms of leases were $319,215 and $94,800, respectively. The Company believes that the annual rent and other terms of these leases are not less favorable to the Company than could be obtained from unaffiliated parties for comparable properties in the York and Whitehall, Pennsylvania areas.

The company also leases property in Reading, Pennsylvania from a trust of which Andrew B. Shearer and his father, mother, sisters, and deceased brother's estate are the beneficiaries and properties in St. Louis and Springfield, Missouri from a company in which George L. Sachs, Jr. has a 15% ownership interest. Although the Company is not required to disclose these transactions, they are disclosed because they involve an executive officer and a director of the Company. Specifically, these transactions individually involve payments that benefit the involved officers and directors in amounts less than $60,000 in any fiscal year. Messrs. Shearer and Sachs are directors of the Company, and Mr. Shearer is also the President and Chief Executive Officer and a principal stockholder of the Company.

Policy Respecting Related Party Transactions

On July 10, 1997, the Board of Directors adopted a policy that any transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, or principal stockholders or affiliates must be on terms no less favorable than those that could be obtained from unaffiliated parties in comparable situations and must be approved by a majority of the disinterested members of the Board of Directors. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors is responsible for reviewing all related party transactions on a continuing basis and potential conflict of interest situations where appropriate.

Compensation Committee Interlocks And Insider Participation

Messrs. Barth, Fenoglio, Parr, and Seigel served as members of the Company's Compensation Committee throughout the 2002 fiscal year. Mr. Seigel is the Chairman of the Board of the Company. None of the other members of the Committee is an officer or former officer of the Company.

None of the executive officers of the Company served as either (1) a member of the Compensation Committee or (2) a director of any entity of which any member of the Compensation Committee is an executive officer. In addition, none of the executive officers of the Company served as a member of the compensation committee of any entity of which any member of the Board of Directors is an executive officer.

REPORT OF COMPENSATION COMMITTEE

This report sets forth the factors currently being used in the Company's compensation programs for its executive officers and describes the basis on which fiscal 2002 compensation determinations were made with respect to the executive officers of the Company, including the Chief Executive Officer and the other Named Executive Officers of the Company.

General Compensation Philosophy

The Compensation Committee (the "Committee") seeks to develop programs and policies for the compensation of the Company's executive officers that will link the compensation of executive officers to the performance of the Company and its business units. The Committee intends that such a link will align the financial interests of the Company's executive officers with those of its stockholders.

The Committee has identified several objectives for the Company's compensation programs and policies, and it has determined that, to achieve these objectives, the Company will use a combination of base salary, short-term and long-term incentive plans, and performance bonus criteria in order to tie executive compensation to increases in the Company's earnings and return on stockholders' equity. While specific amounts and parameters are established after further review and analysis, the Company's compensation programs will consist of the following basic components:

Reasonably competitive base salaries, in light of the Company's stage of development and position within its industry;

The issuance of stock options and restricted shares of stock;

Significant annual incentive bonus opportunities under the Company's Management Incentive Program; and Customary benefits.

The Committee's formulation of the Company's compensation programs and policies for Executive Officers is monitored and reviewed on an ongoing basis in order for the Committee to determine the appropriateness of the compensation paid to each of the Executive Officers of the Company from time to time in light of its compensation philosophy and developments in the Company's industry and in general. While promoting initiative and providing incentives for superior performance by executives on behalf of the Company for the benefit of its stockholders, the Committee also seeks to assure that the Company is able to compete for and retain talented personnel who will lead the Company in achieving levels of financial performance that will enhance stockholder value over the long-term as well as the short-term.

Base Salaries

The Company has established the current base salaries of its executive officers without reference to specific Company performance criteria. The base salaries for the executive officers, including the Chief Executive Officer, during 2002 were established in negotiations with the approval of the Committee. Such base salaries were intended to be competitive when compared to amounts paid to executive officers of similar businesses in structure, size, and market orientation. The Committee reviews salaries of the Company's executive officers on an annual basis. Beginning on June 1, 2001 and continuing through March and September 2002, depending on the executive officer, all of the Company's executive officers voluntarily reduced their base salaries due to economic conditions and their effect on the Company.

Stock Incentive Plan

Under the Stock Incentive Plan, the Company is permitted to issue stock options that are qualified as incentive stock options under the Internal Revenue Code (the "IRC"), options that are not so qualified, direct awards of shares of stock, stock appreciation rights, and other forms of awards that use (or are based on) shares of Common Stock. To date, the Company has issued both incentive stock options and non-qualified stock options under the Stock Incentive Plan.

During fiscal 2002, the Company granted options to purchase an aggregate of 315,000 shares of Company Common Stock to 50 employees, six of which were executive officers at the time of the respective grants, pursuant to its Stock Incentive Plan.

Stock options are awarded to executive officers and other persons both to recognize outstanding contributions that they have made to the Company's financial performance and to encourage and provide incentives to continue to make such contributions. While the Company has the flexibility to grant below-market options, its policy has been to grant options at fair market value, with vesting over a period of several years, in order to better align the personal interests of optionees with those of the stockholders of the Company.

Annual Incentive Compensation

The Company provides annual incentive compensation to executive officers of the Company through its Management Incentive Program. The Management Incentive Program is designed to offer compensation opportunities that are tied directly to Company performance. The Management Incentive Program, at least as it relates to designated executive officers of the Company, is administered by a subcommittee of the Committee that will include only those members who qualify as "outside" directors under Section 162(m) of the IRC. Pursuant to the Management Incentive Program, the subcommittee establishes the specific criteria and performance measures each year that are applicable to the Company's designated executive officers for the purpose of earning incentive compensation or bonuses for such year under the Management Incentive Program. Incentive compensation for executive officers is currently based upon attaining certain earnings per share targets approved by the Board of Directors.

Benefits

Executives are also eligible to participate in the Company's regular employee benefit programs, including a 401(k) retirement savings plan, group medical and dental coverage, group life insurance, group long-term disability insurance, and other group benefit plans. Substantially all decisions with respect to such benefits are made on a group basis, and no individual decisions were made with respect to the executive officers during fiscal 2002.

Compensation of CEO

Mr. Shearer became the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer on August 15, 2001. Mr. Shearer's annual base salary is $250,000. From August 15, 2001 to August 31, 2002, Mr. Shearer reduced his salary to $225,000 due to economic conditions and their effect on the company. Mr. Shearer is eligible for an annual bonus determined by the Board of Directors. In connection with his appointment as President and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Shearer also received options to purchase 100,000 shares of Common Stock that vest in equal increments of 33 1/3% on each of the first three anniversaries of the date of grant. In 2002, Mr. Shearer received 20,000 shares of restricted stock, subject to forfeiture if his employment ceases prior to May 2005. The Committee believes that the compensation terms of Mr. Shearer's employment are consistent with the fundamental elements that comprise the Company's executive compensation philosophy. The Committee believes that the base salary to Mr. Shearer is competitive with the Company's industry, and the opportunities for value from the stock options are tied to increases in the price levels of the Company's Common Stock and thus to enhanced value to the Company's stockholders. Mr. Shearer is also eligible to participate in employee benefit plans as generally made available to senior management of the Company, including the Stock Incentive Plan and the Management Incentive Program.

This report is respectfully submitted by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors.

REPORT OF AUDIT COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee is comprised of three independent members according to current listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE). Under current NYSE standards, Richard M. Seigel was classified as independent as of November 2002. Mr. Seigel was not considered independent under the NYSE's current standards until November 2002, because he served as Acting President and Chief Executive Officer from March 8, 1999 until November 30, 1999, during which time, the Company conducted a search for a permanent President and Chief Executive Officer. Even though Mr. Seigel was not considered independent by the current standards of the NYSE until November 2002, the Board of Directors determined to use the limited exemption in accordance with Section 303.02(D) of the current NYSE listing standards to appoint him to the Audit Committee. The Board made this determination based upon Mr. Seigel's knowledge of distribution processes and issues specific to the integration of highly acquisitive companies. The Audit Committee acts under a written charter adopted and approved by the Board of Directors in August 2000 and amended in February 2003.

The responsibilities of the Audit Committee include recommending to the Board of Directors an accounting firm to be engaged as independent auditors. In addition, the Audit Committee is responsible for recommending to the Board of Directors that the financial statements be included in the Annual Report to stockholders.

In keeping with its responsibilities, the Audit Committee met and reviewed each quarterly report that the Company filed and discussed each report with Ernst & Young LLP, the Company's independent auditors. The Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002 with management, and has discussed with Ernst & Young LLP, the independent auditors, the matters required to be discussed by the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committees). The Audit Committee has received and reviewed the written disclosures and the letter from Ernst & Young LLP required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussion with Audit Committees) and has discussed with Ernst & Young LLP its independence from the Company.

Based on the reports and discussions described in this report, and subject to the limitations on the role and responsibilities of the Committee referred to above and in the Audit Committee Charter, the Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the audited consolidated financial statements of the Company be included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
