Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On July 1, 2013, Larry C. Cobb resigned from his position as the Chief Financial Officer of Speedemissions, Inc. (the “Company”). The resignation from his position as Chief Financial Officer of the Company was effective on July 1, 2013. As part of his resignation, Mr. Cobb indicated that his decision is not a result of any disagreements with the Company over matters relating to the Company’s operations, policies, or practices. Mr. Cobb has been a valued member of the executive management team and has served the Company faithfully and professionally during his term of employment with the Company. Mr. Cobb will continue to perform services for the Company, on a consulting basis, concentrating in the areas of business planning and SEC compliance.

In connection with the resignation of Mr. Cobb as the Chief Financial Officer of the Company, the Board of Directors of the Company appointed Dannie Daugherty, Jr. as the Company’s Chief Financial Officer effective July 1, 2013. Mr. Daugherty (age 43) has been employed by the Company since July 2012, when he was hired as the Company’s Controller. Prior to his employment with the Company, Mr. Daugherty was employed by BB&T, a financial services holding company, as Controller of Lendmark Financial Services (a wholly owned subsidiary) from April, 2007 to July, 2012. As Controller, Mr. Daugherty was responsible for the oversight and management of accounting services as well as managing the month-end close process which included preparation of consolidated financial statements for Lendmark as well as three Lendmark-held subsidiaries.

Mr. Daugherty will not have a written employment agreement with the Company, but his base salary will be adjusted accordingly as a result of this promotion and he will be entitled to participate in health benefit plans and employee stock programs of the Company generally available to full-time employees.
