In its Form 8-K Report of February 6, 2009, the Company disclosed that it is in the process of completing its study of goodwill impairment and assessing the appropriate level of the allowance for loan losses in light of challenging market conditions. The Company has not concluded the goodwill impairment study and the assessment of the appropriate level of the allowance for loan losses has not been completed. Therefore, the Company is still in the process of completing its financial statements for 2008 and is still unable to report on its final results for the year.
