Chairman's
LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

i Robert P. Bremner      ii Chairman of the Board

Dear Shareholders,

I write this letter in a time of continued uncertainty about the current state of the U.S. financial system and pessimism about the future of the global economy. Many have observed that the conditions that led to the crisis have built up over time and will complicate and extend the course of recovery. At the same time, government officials in the U.S. and abroad have implemented a wide range of programs to restore stability to the financial system and encourage economic recovery. History teaches us that these efforts will moderate the extent of the downturn and hasten the inevitable recovery, even though it is hard to envision that outcome in the current environment.

As you will read in this report, the continuing financial and economic problems are weighing heavily on the values of equities real estate and fixed-income assets and unfortunately the performance of your Nuveen Fund has been similarly affected. In addition to the financial statements, I hope that you will carefully review the Portfolio Manager's Comments, the Common Share Distribution and Share Price Information and the Performance Overview sections of this report. These comments highlight each manager's pursuit of investment strategies that depend on thoroughly researched securities, diversified portfolio holdings and well established investment disciplines to achieve your Fund's investment goals. The Fund Board believes that a consistent focus on long-term investment goals provides the basis for successful investment over time and we monitor your Fund with that objective in mind.

Nuveen continues to work on resolving the auction rate preferred shares situation, but the unsettled conditions in the credit markets have slowed progress. Nuveen is actively pursuing a number of solutions, all with the goal of providing liquidity for preferred shareholders while preserving the potential benefits of leverage for common shareholders. We appreciate the patience you have shown as we have worked through the many issues involved. Please consult the Nuveen website: www.nuveen.com, for the most recent information.

On behalf of myself and the other members of your Fund's Board, we look forward to continuing to earn your trust in the months and years ahead.

Sincerely,

Robert P. Bremner
Chairman of the Board

Here representatives from Spectrum, Symphony and Tradewinds talk about their management strategies and the performance of both Funds for the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2008.

WHAT WERE THE GENERAL ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AND MARKET TRENDS DURING THE TWELVE-MONTH PERIOD?

The period was dominated by fears of an economic recession, triggered or exacerbated by several significant developments. The cascading effects of sub-prime mortgage defaults, constrained liquidity in the capital markets and limited lending by many financial institutions caused many investors to seek refuge in U.S. Treasury securities. These events forced some financial firms to merge, restructure or go out of business. At the same time, the U.S. government essentially took over Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, and also intervened on behalf of the giant insurer AIG. By the end of 2008, the U.S. Treasury had disbursed approximately $350 billion of capital to financial institutions and others under the Troubled Assets Relief Program, with indications that a like amount would be distributed in 2009.

Another indicator of economic weakness was the U.S. unemployment rate, which soared to 7.2% as of December 31, 2008, compared with 4.9% one year earlier. Practically all segments of the economy showed signs of slowing by the end of the period. During the third quarter of 2008, gross domestic product contracted to an annual rate of 0.5%, the biggest decrease since 2001. Preliminary reports for the fourth quarter showed a contraction of 3.8%, the worst showing in more than 25 years. This was mainly the result of the first decline in consumer spending since 1991 and an 18% drop in residential investment. Fortunately, inflation was not a significant factor as the Consumer Price Index rose just 0.1% in 2008. The Federal Reserve cut the widely followed short-term fed funds rate seven times during 2008, lowering the rate from 4.25% to 0-0.25% as of year end.

During the first three quarters of 2008, equity markets across the globe were highly volatile, while liquidity in the credit markets was severely contracted. In the U.S., the dollar slid to an all time low against most major currencies and housing and retail sales continued to decline. These events led to fiscal and monetary policy actions intended to avert a recession. The administration and Congress promptly passed a tax rebate package and the Federal Reserve took aggressive steps to stabilize the housing and credit markets. In further efforts to increase liquidity, the Fed, in collaboration with other central banks, injected $200 billion into a lending program for cash-strapped financial institutions. While each time the government acted the markets reacted favorably, the exuberance was short-lived.

Equity markets ended 2008 with the worst annual performance in several decades. Markets across the globe, from the most developed nations like the U.S. and U.K. to developing nations like India and China, witnessed unprecedented sell-offs resulting in equity returns last seen during The Great Depression. As the ability of corporations to access attractive financing evaporated, global economic activity, and in particular the economies of the U.S., Japan and Europe, entered their first simultaneous recessions since World War II. As economies weakened, commodities came under immense pressure. In particular, crude oil, after hitting an all time high of $147 in the middle of the year fell roughly 70 percent and ended the year at levels last seen in 2004. The only exceptions were gold and a few agricultural products such as sugar and cocoa. Volatility, as measured in the U.S. by the Chicago Board Options Exchange Volatility Index, broke several records during the year and hit an all time high of 80.86 in November. In the closing weeks of the year, global equity markets rallied from very low bases.

JPC and JQC invest across asset classes, but at all times has long exposure to corporate loans, many of which are rated below investment grade. Throughout late 2007 these assets were under a significant amount of price pressure. Initially, this was catalyzed by the sub-prime mortgage contagion which virtually shut down much of the credit market. This left the market fragile coming into 2008, with the average price leveraged loans at roughly 94% of par. Credit spreads drifted wider throughout the next several months, with most of the price pressure prior to the Lehman Brothers collapse in mid-September attributable to the oversupply of debt relative to a growing risk aversion, rather than to defaults or fundamental deterioration. Following the bankruptcy filing of Lehman and the subsequent near-collapse of the financial system, the market saw fundamental deterioration and volatility begin to accelerate. The S&P 500 Index declined 16.8% in October, the largest post-war decline ever except for the October 1987 crash, with eight days in which the Dow Jones Industrial Average saw price moves greater than 400 points; high-yield bonds fell by 17%, double the largest move ever seen to the downside; and leveraged loans fell by 16.5%, doubling that market's worst-ever return, which was the month before. Meanwhile, convertible bonds (which are sensitive to both equity valuations and credit spreads) got hit from both sides as the Merrill Lynch Convertible Bond Index fell 19% in fourth quarter.

The systematic deleveraging which followed the Lehman Brothers bankruptcy was primarily responsible for most of the weak pricing in the senior loan market during the fourth quarter of 2008. Although the fundamental backdrop was clearly weakening, forced selling of assets as a result of margin calls and mutual fund redemptions combined with deteriorating fundamentals to put continued stress on the market.

The financial services sector volatility caused by the sub-prime mortgage crisis and the subsequent liquidity crisis and credit concerns also severely impacted the preferred securities market over this period. Over 70% of preferred securities come from issuers in the financial services sector, and many of these issues experienced rapid and unprecedented price declines, especially in the second half of the year.

WHAT KEY STRATEGIES WERE USED TO MANAGE THE FUNDS DURING THIS REPORTING PERIOD?

The Funds seek to maintain a strategic exposure target of approximately 70% income-oriented debt securities (preferred securities and fixed- and floating-rate debt including high yield debt and senior loans), and 30% equities and equity-like securities (convertibles and domestic and international equities). The exact portfolio composition of each Fund will vary over time as a result of market changes as well as Nuveen's view of the portfolio composition that might best enable the Funds to achieve their investment objectives consistent with a strategic 70%/30% income/equity mix.

In response to general illiquidity in the credit markets, we employed several risk management techniques in an effort to protect Fund shareholders from extreme market moves and the impact of leveraging within each Fund. For example, we invested in highly liquid securities such as U.S. Treasuries when the capital risk of being invested 100% in preferred securities became temporarily unwise.

For the Funds' convertible bond, high yield and senior loan investments, we continued to focus on fundamental asset selection in positioning our credit portfolios for the longer-term. On this fundamental basis, we saw relative value in senior secured bank loans as one of the more attractive areas of the corporate credit market. In many cases, the market saw senior bank loans trading at a higher implied yield than subordinated debt of a single issuer. We believe these types of relative value situations can create attractive investment opportunities longer-term.

Throughout the last year, we preferred to own the debt of larger businesses that are less-cyclical in nature, particularly those that are able to generate cash flow through market troughs. These include hospital operators and utility and cable companies, as well as others that are not directly dependent on consumer discretionary spending. Given the destruction of wealth both through the housing and stock market collapse, we believe that the U.S. consumer will continue to feel the impact of the weak economy and spend accordingly. To manage the core domestic equity portion of both Funds, we used both quantitative and qualitative methods to evaluate securities. The quantitative screening process served as the starting point for the decision-making process. The qualitative process then provided a systematic way of researching companies from a broad perspective, ensuring the stocks selected for the portfolio were attractive in all important respects.

The global equity portion of the Funds continued to focus on buying good or improving business franchises around the globe whose securities were selling below their intrinsic value. In 2008, we found that the best value opportunities were in the securities of those businesses that were the most associated with the growth of the global economy. We continue to like the materials, food, agriculture and energy sectors, which all benefit from increased global demand. Conversely, we were rewarded for not holding financial and retail stocks in the developed markets, especially during the second half of the year, as these sectors experienced sizable corrections.

HOW DID THE FUNDS PERFORM OVER THIS TWELVE-MONTH PERIOD?

The performance of JPC and JQC, as well as a comparative benchmark, is presented in the accompanying table.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. Current performance may be higher or lower than the data shown.

Returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that shareholders may have to pay on Fund distributions or upon the sale of Fund shares. For additional information, see the individual Performance Overview for your Fund in this report.

Average Annual Total Returns on Common Share Net Asset Value
For the twelve-month period ended 12/31/08

	1-Year	5-Year
JPC	-49.27%	-10.34%
JQC	-45.84%	-9.02%
Comparative Benchmark <sup>1</sup>	-28.15%	-1.89%

<sup>1</sup> Comparative benchmark performance is a blended return consisting of: 1) 33% of the Merrill Lynch Preferred Stock Hybrid Securities Index, an unmanaged index of investment-grade, exchange traded preferred issues with outstanding market values of at least $30 million and at least one year to maturity; 2) 27% of the Lehman Tier 1 Capital Securities Index, an unmanaged index that includes securities that can generally be viewed as hybrid fixed-income securities that either receive regulatory capital treatment or a degree of equity credit from a rating agency; 3) 30% of the Merrill Lynch All U.S. Convertibles Index consisting of

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2008, JPC and JQC underperformed their comparative benchmark. As noted earlier, most of the types of securities in which the Funds invest performed poorly in 2008. This unfavorable environment is reflected in the returns of the Funds and the comparative benchmark shown above. Additionally, the major factor in the significant relative underperformance of these Funds, compared to that of the unleveraged benchmark, was the Funds' use of financial leverage (see below).

Also negatively impacting performance was the high concentration of preferred securities managed by Spectrum in the financial service sector, which generally performed poorly. We also owned small positions in Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac when these entities went into federal conservatorship. We were able to reduce our Washington Mutual position, but did continue to own securities of that institution when it went into receivership. We also owned a small position of Lehman Brothers securities when that firm went into bankruptcy.

approximately 575 securities with par value greater than $50 million that were issued by U.S. companies or non-U.S. based issuers that have a significant business presence in the U.S.; and 4) 10% of the CSFB High Yield Index, which includes approximately $375 billion of $U.S.-denominated high yield debt with a minimum of $75 million in par value and at least one rating below investment-grade. Index returns do not include the effects of any management fees or fund expenses. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

On the positive side, Spectrum avoided Bear Stearns completely and were able to reduce positions in Capital One, Pulte Homes, National City Bank, Lehman Brothers, Royal Bank of Scotland, Merrill Lynch, and Morgan Stanley, thereby avoiding some of the losses experienced by the securities issued by each of these firms.

The Funds' exposure to core domestic equities managed by Symphony detracted from total returns due to the broad-based decline in the equity markets. However, the relative impact of these holdings was mitigated to a degree by the comparatively strong returns of our holdings in the financial, consumer services and commercial services sectors. One of the strongest individual contributors was Apollo Group, a diversified consumer services provider. Underperforming sectors included basic materials, energy and industrials, with computer maker Apple, Inc. proving to be one of the weakest relative performers.

The Funds' international equity exposure managed by Symphony also detracted from the overall Fund returns as the international market declined in concert with the turmoil in the U.S. markets. Relative to the MSCI EAFE benchmark, the Funds' international equities managed by Symphony underperformed due in part to exposure to non-EAFE countries such as Canada and Mexico, and exposure to more volatile equities. Our positions in defensive equities such as NTT DOCOMO, Nippon Telegraph & Telephone and Shinogi & Co Ltd contributed the most relative positive performance. Our worst contributions were from DNB NOR ASA, AMEC Plc, and Deutsche Boerse AG.

The global equities held by the Funds and managed by Tradewinds also were negatively impacted by the turmoil in the U.S. and worldwide markets. Nevertheless, our holdings in the materials sector were the largest contributors to positive relative performance. In particular, our overweight exposure to the materials sector, and more specifically, the gold industry, relative to the MSCI All Country World Index, enhanced the Funds' returns. Generally, gold companies were aided by strengthening gold prices and a slowly returning level of normalcy to equity markets by the end of the year.

Amgen, Inc. also contributed positively to relative returns in the period. The biotechnology company performed well after it announced earnings that beat Wall Street's expectations and disclosed positive results from an osteoporosis clinical trial in July.

Despite the relatively good performance of the Funds' materials sector, Apex Silver Mines Limited was one of the worst detractors from the Funds' performance. Apex is a base metal mining company engaged in the exploration and development of silver and other mineral properties in Latin America. The company's underperformance in 2008 was due to several factors: a decline in zinc prices as a result of increased global supply, the company's production ramp-up was slower than expected due to water salinity problems, and the threat of nationalization after the Bolivian Government's move to nationalize the nation's oil and gas reserves exacerbated the company's woes. In November, Sumitomo Corporation announced a letter of intent to fully acquire the company's interest in its San Cristobal mine, the world's largest development in silver and zinc. On January 13th, 2009, after the close of this reporting period, Apex Silver filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

The consumer staples sector was Tradewinds' worst performing sector during the period, primarily due to protein providers Smithfield Foods, Inc. and Tyson Foods. Share prices dropped in the latter half of the year because of strained credit markets and investor concerns regarding potential breaches of the companies' debt covenants. As product pricing, credit concerns, and supply-demand dynamics appeared to be on an improving trend line, share price declines started to stabilize or reverse their course by the end of 2008. We continue to believe these commodity food companies are strong long-term business franchises and the Funds continued to hold their positions in the companies at year end.

After the price of oil retreated from its mid-year high point, the energy sector incurred one of its worst periods on record in the fourth quarter of the year. Leading worldwide pressure pumping and oilfield services provider BJ Services and multinational energy company Royal Dutch Shell were holdings that significantly detracted from absolute performance. In our opinion, long-term supply side fundamentals for oil are as compelling as ever even as the market has shifted its near-term focus to slowing global demand.

For the senior loan sleeve managed by Symphony, we were able to select some positions which had short-term catalysts that had the potential to generate price appreciation in spite of the market's general direction. These not only included positive earnings announcements, but also debt repayments and acquisitions.

More generally, we were able to focus on companies with defensive business positions in less-cyclical industries. On a relative basis, these names tended to outperform the broader markets as fundamental deterioration in the economy began to run its course.

Deleveraging in the financial markets created forced selling across asset classes and was painful for investors forced to sell assets or mark them to the market. In many cases this deleveraging was funded through the sale of assets which had relative liquidity, putting significant price pressure on many of the Funds' larger, more liquid credit positions. Although the current economic environment is clearly challenging, in many cases the relative oversupply and simultaneous sale of this debt have created what we believe are attractive levels to own these assets for the longer-term. In the short-run, however, senior loans, which are mostly non-investment grade and which have floating-rate coupons that are based off short-term interest rates, have struggled. As the market deteriorated, many investors sold senior loans in order to raise cash to fund redemptions or to reduce leverage. The resulting price pressure constrained the overall performance of the Funds. Although we continue to have conviction within this area of the market, this exposure did not benefit returns in the short-run.

The Funds also continue to have exposure to high-yield bonds, which outperformed both senior loans and convertible bonds on a relative basis. We believe that much of this outperformance was technical in nature, and we continue to be more constructive overall on senior loans with their traditional high-yield capital structures relative to high-yield bonds.

IMPACT OF THE FUNDS' CAPITAL STRUCTURES AND LEVERAGE STRATEGIES ON PERFORMANCE

In this generally unfavorable investment environment, the most significant factor impacting the returns of these Funds relative to those of their comparative benchmark was the Funds' use of financial leverage. The Funds use leverage because their managers believe that, over time, leveraging provides opportunities for additional income and total returns for common shareholders. However, the use of leverage also can expose common shareholders to additional risk especially when market conditions are as unfavorable as they were during this period. As the prices of most securities held by the Funds declined during the year, the negative impact of these valuation changes on common share net asset value and common shareholder total return was magnified by the use of leverage.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE AUCTION RATE PREFERRED SECURITIES MARKETS

As noted in the last shareholder report, beginning in February 2008, more shares were submitted for sale in the regularly scheduled auctions for the auction rate preferred shares issued by these Funds than there were offers to buy. This meant that these auctions failed to clear, and that many or all of the Funds' auction rate preferred shareholders who wanted to sell their shares in these auctions were unable to do so. This decline in liquidity in auction rate preferred shares did not lower the credit quality of these shares, and auction rate preferred shareholders unable to sell their shares received distributions at the maximum rate applicable to failed auctions, as calculated in accordance with the pre-established terms of the auction rate preferred shares.

These developments generally have not affected the portfolio management or investment policies of these Funds. However, one continuing implication for common shareholders of these auction failures is that the Funds' cost of leverage will likely be higher, at least temporarily, than it otherwise would have been had the auctions continued to be successful. As a result, the Funds' future common share earnings may be lower than they otherwise might have been.

As noted in the last shareholder report, the Funds' Board of Trustees has authorized a program to redeem portions of the Funds' auction rate preferred and replace the FundPreferred shares in each Fund's capital structure with bank borrowings.

As of December 31, 2008, JPC and JQC had redeemed and/or noticed for redemption $589,350,000 and $799,200,000 FundPreferred shares, respectively, (83.2% and 82.8%, respectively, of their original outstanding FundPreferred shares of $708,000,000 and $965,000,000, respectively), and had $118,650,000 and $165,800,000, respectively, of FundPreferred shares still outstanding. While the Funds' Board and management continue to work to resolve this situation, the Fund cannot provide any assurance on when the remaining outstanding auction rate preferred shares might be redeemed.

Common Share
Distribution and Share Price

INFORMATION

The information below regarding your Fund's distributions is current as of December 31, 2008, and likely will vary over time based on the Fund's investment activities and portfolio investment value changes.

Each Fund reduced its quarterly distribution to common shareholders twice over the course of 2008. Some of the important factors affecting the amount and composition of these distributions are summarized below.

The Funds employ financial leverage through the issuance of Fund Preferred shares, as well as through bank borrowings. Financial leverage provides the potential for higher earnings (net investment income), total returns and distributions over time, but as noted earlier also increases the variability of common shareholders' net asset value per share in response to changing market conditions. Over the reporting period, the impact of financial leverage on the Fund's net asset value per share contributed positively to the income return and detracted from the price return. The overall impact of financial leverage detracted from the Fund's total return.

Each Fund has a managed distribution program. The goal of this program is to provide common shareholders with relatively consistent and predictable cash flow by systematically converting the Fund's expected long-term return potential into regular distributions. As a result, regular common share distributions throughout the year are likely to include a portion of expected long-term gains (both realized and unrealized), along with net investment income.

Important points to understand about the managed distribution program are:

Each Fund seeks to establish a relatively stable common share distribution rate that roughly corresponds to the projected total return from its investment strategy over an extended period of time. However, you should not draw any conclusions about a Fund's past or future investment performance from its current distribution rate.

Actual common share returns will differ from projected long-term returns (and therefore a Fund's distribution rate), at least over shorter time periods. Over a specific timeframe, the difference between actual returns and total distributions will be reflected in an increasing (returns exceed distributions) or a decreasing (distributions exceed returns) Fund net asset value.

Each distribution is expected to be paid from some or all of the following sources:

- net investment income (regular interest and dividends),
- realized capital gains, and
- unrealized gains, or, in certain cases, a return of principal (non-taxable distributions).

A non-taxable distribution is a payment of a portion of a Fund's capital. When a Fund's returns exceed distributions, it may represent portfolio gains generated, but not realized as a taxable capital gain. In periods when a Fund's return falls short of distributions, the shortfall will represent a portion of your original principal, unless the shortfall is offset during other time periods over the life of your investment (previous or subsequent) when a Fund's total return exceeds distributions.

Because distribution source estimates are updated during the year based on a Fund's performance and forecast for its current fiscal year (which is the calendar year for each Fund), estimates on the nature of your distributions provided at the time distributions are paid may differ from both the tax information reported to you in your Fund's IRS Form 1099 statement provided at year end, as well as the ultimate economic sources of distributions over the life of your investment.

The following table provides information regarding each Fund's common share distributions and total return performance for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008. This information is intended to help you better understand whether the Fund's returns for the specified time period were sufficient to meet each Fund's distributions.

COMMON SHARE REPURCHASES AND SHARE PRICE INFORMATION

On November 21, 2007, the Funds' Board of Trustees approved an open market share repurchase program, under which each Fund may repurchase up to 10% of its outstanding common shares. As of December 31, 2008, JPC and JQC had repurchased 311,100 and 764,500 common shares, respectively, representing approximately 0.3% and 0.5%, respectively, of each Fund's total common shares outstanding. During the twelve-month reporting period, JQC repurchased 38,900 common shares at a weighted average price and a weighted average discount per common share of $10.95 and 12.44%, respectively.

- (1) All percentages shown in the Portfolio of Investments are based on net assets applicable to Common shares unless otherwise noted.
- (2) Non-income producing.
- (3) Investment, or portion of investment, has been pledged to collateralize the net payment obligations under call options written.
- (4) Ratings (not covered by the report of independent registered public accounting firm): Using the higher of Standard & Poor's Group (Standard & Poor's) or Moody's Investor Service, Inc. ( Moody's ) rating. Ratings below BBB by Standard & Poor's or Baa by Moody's are considered to be below investment grade.

- (5) Senior Loans generally are subject to mandatory and/or optional prepayment. Because of these mandatory prepayment conditions and because there may be significant economic incentives for a Borrower to prepay, prepayments of Senior Loans may occur. As a result, the actual remaining maturity of Senior Loans held may be substantially less than the stated maturities shown.
- (6) Senior Loans generally pay interest at rates which are periodically adjusted by reference to a base short-term, floating lending rate plus an assigned fixed rate. These floating lending rates are generally (i) the lending rate referenced by the London Inter-Bank Offered Rate ( LIBOR ), or (ii) the prime rate offered by one or more major United States banks.
Senior Loans may be considered restricted in that the Fund ordinarily is contractually obligated to receive approval from the Agent Bank and/or Borrower prior to the disposition of a Senior Loan.
- (7) At or subsequent to December 31, 2008, this issue was under the protection of the Federal Bankruptcy Court.
- (8) Non-income producing. Non-income producing, in the case of a Senior Loan, generally denotes that the issuer has defaulted on the payment of principal or interest or has filed for bankruptcy.
- (9) At or subsequent to December 31, 2008, this issue was under protection of the Federal Bankruptcy Court. As a result, the Adviser has concluded this issue is not likely to meet its interest payment obligations and has directed the custodian to cease accruing additional income and write-off any remaining recorded balances on the Fund's records.
- (10) Principal Amount (000) rounds to less than $1,000.
- (11) For disclosure purposes, Notional Amount is calculated by multiplying the Number of Contracts by the Strike Price by 100.
- (12) Borrowings and Fund Preferred Shares, at Liquidation Value as a percentage of Total Investments are 18.0% and 14.6%, respectively.
- (13) The Fund may pledge up to 100% of its eligible investments in the Portfolio of Investments as collateral for Borrowings. As of December 31, 2008, investments with a value of $578,069,455 have been pledged as collateral for Borrowings.
- (14) Investment valued at fair value using methods determined in good faith by, or at the discretion of, the Board of Trustees.
