SUBJECT TO AMENDMENT, DATED SEPTEMBER 23, 2009

PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUS/DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Cash and Shares of Common Stock
for
2.125% Convertible Senior Subordinated Notes due 2024 (CUSIP No. 628852AG0)

Disclosure Statement for
Prepackaged Plan of Reorganization

THIS EXCHANGE OFFER AND THE SOLICITATION PERIOD FOR THE PREPACKAGED PLAN WILL EXPIRE AT 11:59 P.M., NEW YORK CITY TIME, ON OCTOBER 7, 2009, UNLESS EXTENDED OR EARLIER TERMINATED BY US. AS OF THE DATE OF THIS PROSPECTUS/DISCLOSURE STATEMENT, WE HAVE NO INTENTION OF EXTENDING SUCH DATE.

NCI Building Systems, Inc. is proposing a financial restructuring to address an immediate need for liquidity in light of a potentially imminent default under, and acceleration of, our existing credit facility, which may occur as early as November 6, 2009 (which may, in turn, also lead to a default under, and acceleration of, our other indebtedness, including the $180.0 million in principal amount of 2.125% Convertible Senior Subordinated Notes due 2024, which we refer to as the convertible notes), and the high likelihood that we will be required to repurchase the convertible notes on November 15, 2009, the first scheduled mandatory repurchase date under the convertible notes indenture. We are proposing to effect the financial restructuring through one of the following two approaches:

an out-of-court financial restructuring, which we refer to as the recapitalization plan, consisting of:

this exchange offer to acquire any and all of the convertible notes for cash and shares of our common stock, par value $0.01 per share, in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and in the related letter of transmittal;

a $250.0 million investment, which we refer to as the CD&R investment, by Clayton, Dubilier & Rice Fund VIII, L.P., which we refer to as the CD&R Fund, a fund managed by Clayton, Dubilier & Rice, Inc., which we refer to as CD&R, a leading private equity investment firm, involving a private placement to the CD&R Fund of a newly created series of our preferred stock, par value $1.00 per share, to be designated as the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock, which we refer to as the Series B convertible preferred stock;

the refinancing of our existing credit facility, which we refer to as the term loan refinancing, under which we and the lenders under our existing credit agreement will enter into an amendment to our existing credit agreement, providing for, among other things, the repayment of approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and a modification of the terms and maturity of the $150.0 million balance; and the ABL financing, pursuant to which we will enter into an agreement for a $125.0 million asset-based loan facility;

OR, IN THE ALTERNATIVE
(if conditions to completion of the recapitalization plan are not satisfied or waived)

an in-court financial restructuring, through which we would seek to accomplish the results contemplated by the recapitalization plan through the effectiveness of a prepackaged plan of reorganization, which we refer to as the prepackaged plan, acceptances for which we are soliciting in compliance with chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code, which we refer to as the Bankruptcy Code, pursuant to this prospectus/disclosure statement.

We refer to the financial restructuring, whether accomplished through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, as the restructuring. For a description of this exchange offer and the procedures for tendering convertible notes, see The Exchange Offer. For a description of the prepackaged plan and the procedures for submitting ballots, see The Prepackaged Plan.

We have entered into a lock-up and voting agreement, which we refer to as the lock-up agreement, with the holders of more than 79% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes, pursuant to which such holders have agreed, in accordance with the terms of the lock-up agreement, (1) to tender their convertible notes in this exchange offer; (2) to the extent that they hold obligations under our existing credit agreement, to support the term loan refinancing by accepting their portion of the repayment contemplated thereby and by executing an amendment to our existing credit agreement in the form attached as Annex J; and (3) to vote all of their convertible notes and obligations under our existing credit facility in favor of the prepackaged plan, among other things.

Holders of convertible notes will receive $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock for each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes and related accrued interest that we accept in the exchange offer. In the alternative, under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes will receive the same consideration for each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes and related accrued interest. The closing of this exchange offer is conditioned upon, among other things, at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes being validly tendered and not withdrawn, which we refer to as the minimum tender condition, the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment (which is itself subject to several conditions, including the consummation of the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing and the expiration or termination of any waiting period required to consummate the CD&R investment under the Austrian Cartel Act of 2005, which we refer to as the Austrian Act) and the effectiveness of the registration statement of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part. See The Exchange Offer Conditions to Completion of the Exchange Offer.

We intend to apply for the shares of common stock issued pursuant to this exchange offer or the prepackaged plan to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange, which we refer to as the NYSE. Our common stock is traded on the NYSE under the symbol NCS. We will not receive any proceeds from this exchange offer. See Source and Use of Proceeds.

We urge you to carefully read the Risk Factors section beginning on page 28 before you make any decision regarding this exchange offer or the prepackaged plan.

NONE OF THIS EXCHANGE OFFER, THE PREPACKAGED PLAN NOR THE SHARES OF COMMON STOCK OFFERED HEREBY HAVE BEEN APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED BY THE U.S. SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION, ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION OR ANY BANKRUPTCY COURT, NOR HAS THE SEC, ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION OR ANY BANKRUPTCY COURT PASSED UPON THE ACCURACY, COMPLETENESS OR ADEQUACY OF THIS PROSPECTUS/DISCLOSURE STATEMENT. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE RESTRUCTURING

The following are some questions and answers regarding the restructuring, including the recapitalization plan (which includes this exchange offer) and the prepackaged plan. It does not contain all of the information that may be important to you. You should carefully read this prospectus/disclosure statement, including the information incorporated by reference into this prospectus/disclosure statement, to understand fully the terms of the restructuring, the recapitalization plan (which includes this exchange offer) and the prepackaged plan, as well as the other considerations that are important to you in making your investment decision. You should pay special attention to the Risk Factors beginning on page 28 and Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 52.

General

Q: What is the purpose of the restructuring?

- A: The purpose of the restructuring is to address the Company's immediate need for liquidity in light of a potentially imminent default under, and acceleration of, our existing credit facility, which may occur as early as November 6, 2009 (which may, in turn, also lead to a default under, and acceleration of, our other indebtedness, including the convertible notes indenture), and the high likelihood that we will be required to repurchase the convertible notes on November 15, 2009, the first scheduled mandatory repurchase date under the convertible notes indenture.

The restructuring consists of four related transactions:

the CD&R investment, which involves the sale and issuance to the CD&R Fund of 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock for $250.0 million;

the retirement of the convertible notes;

the term loan refinancing, which involves the refinancing of our existing credit facility under which we will repay approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and enter into an amendment to our existing credit agreement providing for a modification of the terms and maturity of the $150.0 million balance; and the ABL financing, which involves our entry into a $125.0 million asset-based loan facility.

Each of the transactions comprising the restructuring may be accomplished through either the out-of-court recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, the in-court prepackaged plan. If the restructuring is being accomplished through the recapitalization plan, the retirement of the convertible notes tendered in the exchange offer would be accomplished through this exchange offer and the refinancing of our existing credit facility would be accomplished through an amendment to our existing credit agreement. In the alternative, if the restructuring is being accomplished through the prepackaged plan, the retirement of the convertible notes as well as the refinancing of our existing credit facility would be accomplished through the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan. See The Restructuring.

The closing of the exchange offer is conditioned on the satisfaction or, with the consent of the CD&R Fund, waiver of the minimum tender condition, which requires that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes are validly tendered and not withdrawn in this exchange offer. If the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan, we intend, but are not required, to retire any remaining convertible notes outstanding after the consummation of this exchange offer by exercising our redemption right under the convertible notes indenture on or after November 20, 2009; if we do not so exercise our redemption right, such remaining convertible notes will otherwise be retired pursuant to the terms of the convertible notes indenture.

For a more detailed description of this exchange offer, see The Exchange Offer.

Q: What is the recapitalization plan?

A: The recapitalization plan is one method to accomplish the restructuring. Under the recapitalization plan:

the CD&R investment would be effected through a private placement transaction;

the retirement of the convertible notes tendered in this exchange offer would be effected through this exchange offer, pursuant to which the Company is offering to acquire any and all of its outstanding convertible notes in exchange for cash and shares of common stock;

the term loan refinancing would be effected through an amendment to our existing credit agreement by us and the lenders under our existing credit agreement; and the ABL financing would be effected through our entry into the ABL agreement.

If the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan, we intend, but are not required, to retire any remaining convertible notes outstanding after the consummation of this exchange offer by exercising our redemption right under the convertible notes indenture on or after November 20, 2009; if we do not so exercise our redemption right, such remaining convertible notes will otherwise be retired pursuant to the terms of the convertible notes indenture.

See The Restructuring and The Exchange Offer.

Q: What is the prepackaged plan?

A: The prepackaged plan is an alternative to the recapitalization plan for accomplishing the restructuring. In the event that the conditions to the recapitalization plan are not satisfied or, with the prior consent of the CD&R Fund, waived (including, for example, the minimum tender condition) but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired class of claims, as an alternative to the recapitalization plan, we may elect and, under the terms of the investment agreement, we may be required, to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan in a chapter 11 proceeding. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Commencement of a Reorganization Case in Connection with the Prepackaged Plan Covenant.

Under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes and the lenders under our existing credit agreement (as well as the holders of all other claims and interests) would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims (and interests) as they would receive in the recapitalization plan, the CD&R Fund would receive the same 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock contemplated by the CD&R investment and the Company would enter into the ABL agreement. Existing holders of our common stock would continue to hold such common stock.

See The Prepackaged Plan.

Q: In what circumstances will we file the prepackaged plan instead of close the exchange offer?

A: We will file the prepackaged plan instead of close the exchange offer if: (1) we are unable to complete the recapitalization plan because the minimum tender condition is not satisfied or waived (which minimum tender condition requires that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes are validly tendered and not withdrawn), or because less than all of the lenders under our existing credit facility consent to entering into the amended credit agreement, but (2) holders of convertible notes or obligations under our credit agreement holding, in either case, at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of the claims in the applicable class who actually cast ballots vote to accept the prepackaged plan. In such circumstances, we will seek to accomplish the restructuring, on the same economic terms as the recapitalization plan, by way of the prepackaged plan. See Questions and Answers About the Restructuring What is the Prepackaged Plan? and Summary The Prepackaged Plan.

For the prepackaged plan to be confirmed by the bankruptcy court without invoking the cram-down provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, each class of claims or interests that is impaired must vote to accept the prepackaged plan. An impaired class of claims is deemed to accept a plan of reorganization if the holders of at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of the claims in such class who actually cast ballots vote to accept the prepackaged plan.

Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, each holder of convertible notes and obligations under our credit agreement that executed the lock-up agreement has irrevocably agreed, in accordance with the terms of the lock-up agreement, to vote all of its convertible notes and obligations under our existing credit facility in favor of the prepackaged plan. Such holders who are parties to the lock-up agreement represent more than 79% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes. If such holders also represent more than one-half (1/2) of the number of the claims in each class who actually cast ballots (which cannot be determined until all ballots have been cast), then we will have received sufficient votes from the convertible noteholders to approve the prepackaged plan with respect to the impaired class of convertible notes claims.

The confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan are subject to certain conditions that may not be satisfied and are different from those under the recapitalization plan (including the exchange offer). We cannot assure you that all requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan will be satisfied or that the bankruptcy court will conclude that the requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan have been satisfied. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan and The Prepackaged Plan Conditions to Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan.

The effective date of the prepackaged plan will not occur until the conditions set forth below have been satisfied or waived: (1) the confirmation order has been entered and no stay of such order is in effect; (2) the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment; (3) the consummation of the term loan refinancing; and (4) the consummation of the ABL financing. See The Prepackaged Plan Conditions to the Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan.

Q: What are the expected results of the restructuring, either accomplished through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan?

A: The restructuring, if successful, will increase the Company's capital and liquidity levels and reduce the amount of our outstanding debt. Specifically, upon the completion of the restructuring, we expect our indebtedness to be reduced from approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 to approximately $150.4 million at the closing of the restructuring, consisting of $150.0 million in principal amount of term loans under the amended credit agreement and $0.4 million of our industrial revenue bond. See Capitalization and Source and Use of Proceeds.

The ABL financing contemplated by the restructuring will provide us with up to $125.0 million in liquidity, subject to availability under a borrowing base, for working capital purposes and future expansion. Based on its discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, the Company expects that because of borrowing base constraints, initial availability under the ABL agreement will be substantially less than the $125.0 million commitment, and may be as low as $45.0 million. Although we have been in discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, no loan commitment letter from any such prospective lender has been received by the Company.

Assuming we are able to complete the restructuring, we expect that, for the foreseeable future, cash generated from operations, together with the proceeds of the ABL financing, will be sufficient to allow us to fund our operations, to increase working capital as necessary to support our strategy and to fund planned capital expenditures and expansions (including approximately $5 million expected for the remainder of fiscal 2009).

Q: What is the lock-up agreement?

A: We have entered into a lock-up agreement with the holders of more than 79% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes. Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement has irrevocably agreed, in accordance with the terms of the lock-up agreement, (1) to tender its convertible notes in this exchange offer, (2) to the extent that such holder holds obligations under our existing credit agreement, to support the term loan refinancing by accepting its portion of the repayment contemplated thereby and by executing an amendment to our existing credit agreement in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, and (3) to vote all of its convertible notes and obligations under our existing credit facility in favor of the prepackaged plan, among other things. See The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement.

Q: Why is it important that I tender my convertible notes and vote to accept the prepackaged plan?

A: If we do not complete the restructuring either through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, because the conditions to the recapitalization plan and the prepackaged plan have not been satisfied or waived or otherwise, we will face an immediate liquidity crisis. If we do not complete the restructuring, we do not expect, and we cannot assure you, that we will have, or have access to, sufficient liquidity (1) to meet our debt repayment/repurchase obligations, including any potential acceleration of our existing credit facility, which may occur as early as November 6, 2009 (which may, in turn, also lead to a default under, and acceleration of, our other indebtedness, including the convertible notes indentures) and (2) to meet our obligation to repurchase the convertible notes at the option of the holders thereof on November 15, 2009, the next scheduled repurchase date.

Due to our non-compliance as of August 2, 2009 with the required leverage, senior leverage and interest coverage ratios in our existing credit agreement, our outstanding indebtedness of approximately $293.3 million thereunder may be declared immediately due and payable as early as November 6, 2009, the date the current waiver from the lenders under our existing credit agreement expires. In the event that we do not repay such borrowings upon acceleration, the lenders under our existing credit agreement could exercise their remedies as secured creditors with respect to the collateral securing such borrowings. A failure to pay or refinance such borrowings will also result in a default under the convertible notes indenture, which convertible notes could also then be declared immediately due and payable, and under our swap agreement, which could then be terminated by the counterparty thereto. If all such indebtedness, which totaled approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 and such amounts payable pursuant to the termination of the swap agreement were to become due and payable on November 6, 2009, it would result in a material adverse effect on our financial condition, operations and debt service capabilities. As of August 2, 2009, excluding restricted cash, we had a current cash balance of approximately $105.4 million to address our liquidity needs. For a description of our non-compliance with the financial ratio covenants under our existing credit agreement, see our quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended August 2, 2009, our current reports on Form 8-K filed on May 21, 2009, July 15, 2009 and August 27, 2009 and Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference.

In the event that we experience a liquidity crisis as described above, it could likely result in our filing for bankruptcy protection pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan. If we commence such a bankruptcy filing, holders of convertible notes may receive consideration that is substantially less than what is being offered under the restructuring. See Risk Factors Risk Relating to NOT Accepting the Exchange Offer or Rejecting the Prepackaged Plan for more information on the possible consequences if the restructuring is not successfully completed.

Both this exchange offer and the prepackaged plan are subject to certain conditions. In particular, this exchange offer is subject to the satisfaction of the minimum tender condition that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes must have been validly tendered and not withdrawn in this exchange offer, and confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan requires the receipt of acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes.

Accordingly, it is important that you tender your convertible notes for exchange in this exchange offer and vote to accept the prepackaged plan to avoid the adverse consequences described above.

This Exchange Offer

Q: Who is making this exchange offer?

A: NCI Building Systems, Inc. (the issuer of the convertible notes) is making this exchange offer.

Q: What amount of convertible notes are you seeking in this exchange offer?

A: We are seeking to acquire any and all outstanding convertible notes.

Q: What will I receive in this exchange offer if I tender my convertible notes and they are accepted?

A: For each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes that you tender and not withdraw in this exchange offer and that we accept, you will, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and the letter of transmittal, receive $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock. The cash payment and the shares of common stock to be issued pursuant to this exchange offer will be in full satisfaction of the principal amount of, and any accrued but unpaid interest through the consummation of this exchange offer on, the convertible notes so tendered and accepted.

Assuming that all Series B convertible preferred stock were converted to common stock and an equity value based on the midpoint enterprise valuation of the Company of $450 million, the cash and stock consideration offered in this exchange offer represents value of approximately $987.50 per $1,000 in principal amount of convertible notes.

Q: Who may participate in this exchange offer?

A: All holders of convertible notes may participate in this exchange offer.

Q: Does the success of this exchange offer depend on the participation of any minimum number of holders of convertible notes?

A: Yes. This exchange offer is subject to the satisfaction of the minimum tender condition, which means that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes must have been validly tendered and not withdrawn in this exchange offer. The satisfaction of the minimum tender condition is a condition to the closing of the CD&R investment and the term loan refinancing under the recapitalization plan. If this condition is not met, subject to applicable laws and our obligation under the investment agreement, we may amend this exchange offer at any time before the acceptance of the convertible notes for exchange. Under the investment agreement, however, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to this exchange offer or making any changes to the terms and conditions to this exchange offer without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund. In addition, any change to the minimum tender condition could result in a termination of the lock-up agreement.

We may extend this exchange offer beyond the initial expiration date without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund for a period of not more than 10 business days if, at such date, any of the conditions to this exchange offer have not been satisfied or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived, and, subject to the termination of the investment agreement, we are required to extend this exchange offer if it expires before the registration statement of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part is declared effective.

Q: How do I tender my convertible notes in this exchange offer?

A: Please follow the procedures for tendering your convertible notes in this exchange offer described in The Exchange Offer Procedures for Tendering Convertible Notes. For further information contact the information agent or the dealer-manager at the addresses or telephone numbers on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement or consult your broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee for assistance.

Q: How long will this exchange offer remain open?

A: This exchange offer and the withdrawal rights will expire at 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on October 7, 2009, or any subsequent time or date to which this exchange offer is extended.

As more fully described below, we may extend the expiration date or amend any of the terms or conditions of this exchange offer for any reason, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement The Exchange Offer; Solicitation of Acceptances of the Prepackaged Plan). The last date on which tenders will be accepted, whether on October 7, 2009, or any later date to which this exchange offer may be extended, is referred to as the expiration date.

Subject to our obligations under the investment agreement and applicable laws, we have the right to:

extend the expiration date and retain all tendered convertible notes, subject to your right to withdraw your tendered convertible notes; and waive any condition in our sole discretion or otherwise amend any of the terms or conditions of this exchange offer in any respect.

Under the investment agreement, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to this exchange offer or making any changes to the terms and conditions to this exchange offer without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund. We may extend this exchange offer beyond the initial expiration date without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund for a period of not more than 10 business days, if, at such date, any of the conditions to this exchange offer have not been satisfied or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived, and, subject to the termination of the investment agreement, we are required to extend this exchange offer if it expires before the registration statement of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part is declared effective. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement The Exchange Offer; Solicitation of Acceptances of the Prepackaged Plan. Any change to the minimum tender condition could result in the termination of the lock-up agreement.

If we extend the expiration date, we will issue a press release or other public announcement no later than 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on the next business day after the scheduled expiration date. If we extend the expiration date, you must tender your convertible notes on or prior to the date identified in such press release or public announcement if you wish to participate in this exchange offer. If we amend any of the terms or conditions of this exchange offer, we will issue a press release or other public announcement. See The Exchange Offer Extensions; Amendments.

We expressly reserve the right, in our sole discretion, to terminate this exchange offer and not accept for exchange any convertible notes (1) if any of the conditions to this exchange offer have not been satisfied or validly waived by us, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement or (2) in order to comply in whole or in part with any applicable law. See The Exchange Offer Extensions; Amendments.

Q: When will I receive cash and shares of common stock if I tender my convertible notes in the exchange offer?

A: Upon satisfaction or waiver of all of the conditions to this exchange offer, all convertible notes validly tendered to the exchange agent by 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the expiration date will be accepted for exchange. The cash and shares of common stock will be delivered promptly after the expiration date. See The Exchange Offer Acceptance of Convertible Notes for Exchange; Delivery of Cash and Shares of Common Stock.

Q: Can I withdraw my tender of convertible notes?

A: Unless you are a party to the lock-up agreement and are otherwise restricted by the lock-up agreement, you may withdraw tendered convertible notes at any time prior to 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the expiration date. You must send a written withdrawal notice to the exchange agent, or comply with the appropriate procedures of DTC's Automated Tender Offer Program, which we refer to as ATOP. If you change your mind, you may re-tender your convertible notes by again following the tender procedures at any time prior to 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the expiration date. See The Exchange Offer Withdrawal Rights.

Q: What risks should I consider in deciding whether or not to tender my convertible notes?

A: In deciding whether to participate in this exchange offer, you should carefully consider the discussion of risks and uncertainties affecting the Company, this exchange offer, the prepackaged plan and the common stock described in the section titled Risk Factors and the documents incorporated by reference into this prospectus/disclosure statement.

Q: If this exchange offer is consummated, but I do not tender my convertible notes, how will my rights be affected?

A: If this exchange offer is consummated and you do not exchange your convertible notes in this exchange offer, or if your convertible notes are not accepted for exchange, unless the restructuring is being accomplished through the prepackaged plan, you will continue to hold your convertible notes and will be entitled to all the rights and subject to all the limitations applicable to the convertible notes. If you continue to hold your convertible notes, you have the right to require that we repurchase the convertible notes (1) upon the closing of the exchange offer because such closing would result in a designated event under the convertible notes indenture, at a repurchase price equal to 100% of their principal amount, plus accrued and unpaid interest, including additional amounts, if any, plus under certain circumstances, if the restructuring occurs on or prior to November 15, 2009, a make-whole premium payable solely in shares of our common stock (other than cash paid in lieu of fractional shares) and (2) after five, 10 and 15 years from the date of the issuance of the convertible notes, at 100% of their principal amount, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, beginning November 15, 2009, and we will be required to repurchase any outstanding convertible notes for which you deliver a written repurchase notice to the paying agent, subject to certain conditions in the indenture under which the convertible notes are issued.

Unless we consummate the restructuring, however, we do not expect, and we cannot assure you, that we will have, or have access to, sufficient liquidity to meet our debt obligations, including any potential acceleration of our indebtedness and our obligation to repurchase the convertible notes at the option of the holders thereof on November 15, 2009, the next scheduled repurchase date. Furthermore, due to our non-compliance as of August 2, 2009 with the required leverage, senior leverage and interest coverage ratios in our existing credit agreement, our outstanding indebtedness of approximately $293.3 million thereunder, which is senior to the convertible notes, may be declared immediately due and payable as early as November 6, 2009, the date of expiration of the current waiver from the lenders under our existing credit agreement. In the event that we do not repay such borrowings upon acceleration, lenders under our existing credit agreement could exercise their remedies as secured creditors with respect to the collateral securing such borrowings. A failure to pay or refinance such borrowings will also result in a default under the convertible notes indenture, which could also then be declared immediately due and payable, and under our swap agreement, which could then be terminated by the counterparty thereto. If all such indebtedness, which totaled approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009, and such amounts payable pursuant to the termination of the swap agreement, were to become due and payable on November 6, 2009, it would result in a material adverse effect on our financial condition, operations and debt service capabilities. As of August 2, 2009, excluding restricted cash, we had a current cash balance of approximately $105.4 million to address our liquidity needs. For a description of our non-compliance with the financial ratio covenants under our existing credit agreement, see our quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended August 2, 2009, our current reports on Form 8-K filed on May 21, 2009, July 15, 2009 and August 27, 2009 and Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference.

See Risk Factors Risks Relating to NOT Accepting the Exchange Offer or Rejecting the Prepackaged Plan.

Q: What happens if my convertible notes are not accepted in this exchange offer?

A: If we do not accept your convertible notes for exchange for any reason, the unaccepted convertible notes will be returned to you without expense and the convertible notes tendered by book-entry transfer into the account of the exchange agent at DTC will be credited to your account at DTC. See The Exchange Offer Return of Convertible Notes Not Accepted for Exchange.

Q: What is the source for the financial resources to make payment?

A: Assuming 100% of the convertible notes are tendered and accepted in this exchange offer, approximately $90.0 million is required to pay the cash consideration for all of the convertible notes.

We expect to use a portion of the proceeds from the CD&R investment to fund the aggregate cash payment in this exchange offer. If we are unable to consummate the CD&R investment, we will not be able to accomplish the restructuring.

Q: If I decide to tender my convertible notes, will I have to pay any fees or commissions in connection with this exchange offer?

A: If you are the record owner of your convertible notes and you tender your convertible notes directly to the exchange agent, you will not have to pay any fees or commissions. If you hold your convertible notes through a custodian or nominee, and your custodian or nominee tenders the convertible notes on your behalf, your custodian or nominee may charge you a fee for doing so. You should consult with your custodian or nominee to determine whether any charges will apply. Additionally, we will pay all other expenses related to this exchange offer and the solicitation of acceptances to the prepackaged plan, except any commissions or concessions of any broker or dealer other than the dealer-manager. The Company will also pay any transfer taxes applicable to the exchange of the convertible notes pursuant to the exchange offer, except in circumstances described in the letter of transmittal.

Q: Are there dissenters' rights in connection with this exchange offer?

A: Holders of convertible notes do not have dissenters' rights of appraisal in connection with this exchange offer.

Q: Whom do I call if I have any questions about how to tender my convertible notes or any other questions relating to this exchange offer?

A: Questions and requests for assistance with respect to the procedures for tendering convertible notes pursuant to this exchange offer may be directed to Morrow & Co., LLC, as the information agent, at its address and telephone number set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement.

You may also contact Greenhill & Co., LLC, as the dealer-manager, at its address and telephone number set forth on the back over of this prospectus/disclosure statement with any questions you may have regarding this exchange offer.

The Prepackaged Plan

Q: Who is soliciting votes on the prepackaged plan?

A: NCI Building Systems, Inc. is soliciting votes on the prepackaged plan.

Q: Why is NCI soliciting votes on the prepackaged plan if the restructuring can be accomplished through the recapitalization plan?

A: We have prepared the prepackaged plan as an alternative to the recapitalization plan for accomplishing the restructuring, if the conditions to completion of the recapitalization plan, including, for example, the minimum tender condition, are not met or waived, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes. The prepackaged plan consists of a plan of reorganization under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code that would effect the same transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan, including the issuance of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock in connection with the CD&R investment, the payment of cash and the issuance of shares of common stock in exchange for convertible notes, the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing. Under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes and the lenders under our existing credit agreement (as well as the holders of all other claims and interests) would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims (and interests) as they would receive in the recapitalization plan, the CD&R Fund would receive the same 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock contemplated by the CD&R investment and the Company would enter into the ABL agreement. Existing holders of our common stock would continue to hold such common stock. See The Prepackaged Plan.

For the prepackaged plan to be confirmed by the bankruptcy court without invoking the cram-down provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, each class of claims or interests that is impaired must vote to accept the prepackaged plan. An impaired class of claims (such as holders of convertible notes) is deemed to accept a plan of reorganization if the holders of at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of the claims in such class who actually cast ballots vote to accept the prepackaged plan. If the prepackaged plan is confirmed by the bankruptcy court, it will bind all holders of claims and equity interests in the Company regardless of whether they voted for, against, or did not vote at all on, the prepackaged plan.

Therefore, assuming the prepackaged plan satisfies the other requirements of the Bankruptcy Code, a significantly smaller number of claim holders can bind other claim holders to the terms of the prepackaged plan to accomplish the restructuring than are required to effect this exchange offer and the other transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan.

The confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan are subject to certain conditions that may not be satisfied and are different from those under the recapitalization plan. We cannot assure you that all requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan will be satisfied or that the bankruptcy court will conclude that the requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan have been satisfied. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan and The Prepackaged Plan Conditions to Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan.

Q: Who is eligible to vote for the prepackaged plan?

- A: Generally, holders of claims or interests in classes that are impaired (other than classes that receive nothing under the prepackaged plan and are, therefore, deemed to reject it) are eligible to vote on the prepackaged plan. As more fully explained in this prospectus/disclosure statement, a claim or equity interest is impaired, generally speaking, if its treatment under a plan of reorganization alters the terms of, or rights associated with, that claim or interest. The rights in respect of the convertible notes would be altered by the prepackaged plan and consequently holders of convertible notes may vote on the prepackaged plan.

For the purposes of the prepackaged plan, we have organized the various claims and interests against the Company into different classes. Holders of claims impaired by the prepackaged plan that are entitled to vote on the prepackaged plan will vote on the prepackaged plan by class. Under the prepackaged plan, members of the same class are treated the same. The claims of the lenders under our existing credit agreement are classified under the prepackaged plan as Class 3 claims, and the claims of holders of convertible notes are separately classified under the prepackaged plan as Class 5 claims. The holders of Class 3 claims and Class 5 claims are impaired and are eligible to vote on the prepackaged plan. The holders of all other claims (other than holders of certain claims relating to section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code who are deemed to reject the prepackaged plan and are not entitled to vote) are unimpaired and are not eligible to vote on the prepackaged plan. See The Prepackaged Plan of Reorganization Summary of Classification and Treatment of Claims and Equity Interests under the Prepackaged Plan and The Prepackaged Plan Summary of Distributions under the Prepackaged Plan, for a description of the various classes of claims and equity interests under the prepackaged plan and their treatment.

Q: What will I receive under the prepackaged plan if it is confirmed and consummated?

- A: For each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes, you will, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and the prepackaged plan, receive $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock. The cash payment and shares of common stock to be issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan will be in full satisfaction of the claims with respect to the convertible notes, including principal and accrued interest.

Q: What vote is needed to confirm the prepackaged plan?

- A: The Bankruptcy Code provides that only holders of claims entitled to vote and who actually cast a ballot will be counted for purposes of determining whether acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims have been received to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes. Failure by a holder to deliver an original, duly completed and signed ballot will not be counted as a vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan. See The Prepackaged Plan Vote Required for Class Acceptance of the Prepackaged Plan.

For the prepackaged plan to be confirmed by the bankruptcy court without invoking the cram-down provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, each class of claims or interests that is impaired must vote to accept the prepackaged plan. An impaired class of claims (such as holders of convertible notes) is deemed to accept a plan of reorganization if the holders of at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of the claims in such class who actually cast ballots vote to accept the prepackaged plan. Under the prepackaged plan, the claims held by the lenders under our existing credit agreement and the claims held by holders of convertible notes constitute separate impaired classes of claims. Under the prepackaged plan, other classes of claims against and interests in the Company (other than holders of certain claims relating to section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code who are deemed to reject the prepackaged plan and are not entitled to vote) are unimpaired and, therefore, conclusively presumed to accept the prepackaged plan. These other classes deemed to be unimpaired include existing holders of our common stock, which, as permitted by our restated certificate of incorporation, is subject to dilution on account of the issuance of common stock, including issuances to holders of the convertible notes and the Series B convertible preferred stock to the CD&R Fund. Thus, the prepackaged plan leaves unaltered the legal, equitable and contractual rights to which such common stock entitles the holders of such common stock. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan Without Acceptance by All Classes of Impaired Claims.

If the prepackaged plan is confirmed by the bankruptcy court, it would bind all holders of claims and equity interests in the Company regardless of whether they voted for, against, or did not vote at all on, the prepackaged plan. Therefore, assuming the prepackaged plan satisfies the other requirements of the Bankruptcy Code, a significantly smaller number of claim holders can bind other claim holders to the terms of the prepackaged plan than are required to effect this exchange offer and the other transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan. Additionally, since claims and equity interests are grouped in classes for the purpose of voting on the prepackaged plan, holders of claims and interests may be bound by the decisions of other claim or interest holders in a way that they otherwise would not outside of bankruptcy.

If we do not receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, the prepackaged plan will not be confirmed or become effective.

Q: What are the effects of the prepackaged plan?

Under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes and the lenders under our existing credit agreement (as well as the holders of all other claims and interests) would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims (and interests) as they would receive in the recapitalization plan, the CD&R Fund would receive the same 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock contemplated by the CD&R investment and the Company would enter into the ABL agreement. Existing holders of our common stock would continue to hold such common stock. See Summary Liquidity and The Prepackaged Plan.

Q: When is the deadline for submitting ballots?

A: The ballots must be received by the voting agent by 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the voting deadline, or October 7, 2009. If the voting deadline is extended, then the ballots must be received by the voting agent by any such extended voting deadline. In the case of an extension, we will notify the voting agent and issue a press release or other public announcement no later than 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on the next business day after the scheduled voting deadline. Ballots must be sent by mail, hand delivery or overnight courier to the voting agent, Financial Balloting Group LLC, by the voting deadline. Electronic and facsimile ballots will not be accepted.

See The Prepackaged Plan Holders of Claims Entitled to Vote; Voting Record Date and The Prepackaged Plan Solicitation and Voting Procedures Voting Deadline.

Q: How do I vote on the prepackaged plan?

A: Please follow the procedures for voting on the prepackaged plan described in the section titled The Prepackaged Plan Solicitation and Voting Procedures Voting Instructions.

For further information, contact the voting agent at its address and telephone number on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement or consult your broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee for assistance.

Only the beneficial owners of convertible notes and/or term loans and other obligations under our existing credit agreement (or their authorized signatories) as of the voting record date are eligible to vote on the prepackaged plan.

Q: Can I revoke my vote?

A: Unless you are a party to the lock-up agreement or are otherwise restricted by the lock-up agreement, any party who has previously submitted to the voting agent prior to the voting deadline a properly completed ballot may revoke such ballot and change its vote by submitting to the voting agent, prior to the voting deadline, a subsequent properly completed ballot for acceptance or rejection of the prepackaged plan.

Q: Whom do I call if I have any questions about how to submit ballots or any other questions relating to the prepackaged plan?

A: Questions and requests for assistance with respect to the procedures for voting on the prepackaged plan, as well as requests for additional copies of this prospectus/disclosure statement and the ballot, may be directed to Financial Balloting Group, LLC, as the voting agent, at its address and telephone number set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement.

Q: What risks should I consider in deciding whether to accept or reject the prepackaged plan?

A: In deciding whether to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan, you should carefully consider the discussion of risks and uncertainties affecting the Company, this exchange offer, the prepackaged plan and the common stock described in the section titled Risk Factors and the risk factors described in the documents incorporated by reference into this prospectus/disclosure statement.

Our Business

We are a leading North American integrated manufacturer and supplier of metal coil coating services, metal building components and engineered metal buildings systems. Of the $236 billion nonresidential construction industry in 2008, we primarily serve the low-rise nonresidential construction market (five stories or less), which, according to FW Dodge/McGraw-Hill, represents approximately 88% of the total nonresidential construction industry. Our broad range of products is used in repair, retrofit and new construction activities, primarily in North America.

We provide metal coil coating services for commercial and construction applications, servicing both internal and external customers. We design, engineer, manufacture and market what we believe is one of the most comprehensive lines of metal components and engineered building systems in the industry, with a reputation for high quality and superior engineering and design. We go to market with well-recognized brands, which allows us to compete effectively within a broad range of end-user markets, including industrial, commercial, institutional and agricultural. Our service versatility allows us to support the varying needs of our diverse customer base, which includes general contractors and subcontractors, developers, manufacturers, distributors and a network of over 4,400 authorized builders across North America.

We are comprised of a family of companies operating manufacturing facilities across the United States and Mexico, with additional sales and distribution offices throughout the United States and Canada. Our broad geographic footprint, along with our hub-and-spoke distribution system, allows us to efficiently supply a broad range of customers with high quality customer service and reliable deliveries.

The Company was founded in 1984 and reincorporated in Delaware in 1991. In 1998, we acquired Metal Building Components, Inc. and doubled our revenue base. With the merger, we became the largest domestic manufacturer of nonresidential metal components. In 2006, we acquired Robertson-Ceco II Corporation, which operates the Ceco Building Systems, Star Building Systems and Robertson Building Systems divisions of our business and is a leader in the metal buildings industry. This transaction has created an organization with greater product and geographic diversification, a stronger customer base and a more extensive distribution network than either company had separately.

Liquidity

We believe that the completion of the restructuring through the recapitalization plan, or, in the alternative, through the prepackaged plan, is critical to our continuing viability. The restructuring, if successful, will increase the Company's capital and liquidity levels and reduce the amount of its outstanding debt. Specifically, upon the completion of the restructuring, we expect our indebtedness to be reduced from approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 to approximately $150.4 million at the closing of the restructuring, consisting of $150.0 million in principal amount of term loans under the amended credit agreement and $0.4 million of our industrial revenue bond. See Capitalization and Source and Use of Proceeds.

The ABL financing contemplated by the restructuring would provide us with up to $125.0 million in liquidity, subject to availability under a borrowing base, for working capital purposes and future expansion. Based on discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, however, we expect that, because of borrowing base constraints, initial availability under the ABL agreement would be substantially less than the $125.0 million commitment, and may be as low as $45.0 million. Although we have been in discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, no loan commitment letter from any such prospective lender has been received by the Company.

Assuming we are able to complete the restructuring, we expect that, for the foreseeable future, cash generated from operations, together with the proceeds of the ABL financing, will be sufficient to allow us to fund our operations, to increase working capital as necessary to support our strategy and to fund planned capital expenditures and expansions, including approximately $5.0 million expected, for the remainder of fiscal 2009.

The Restructuring

The Restructuring

This exchange offer and solicitation of acceptances to the prepackaged plan are part of, and are being conducted pursuant to, the restructuring, which may be accomplished through an out-of-court recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, if the conditions to the recapitalization plan are not satisfied or waived, through an in-court prepackaged plan. The restructuring consists of four related transactions:

the CD&R investment, which involves the sale and issuance to the CD&R Fund of 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock for $250.0 million;

the retirement of all convertible notes;

the term loan refinancing, which involves the refinancing of our existing credit facility under which we will repay approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and enter into an amendment to our existing credit agreement providing for a modification of the terms and maturity of the $150.0 million balance; and

the ABL financing, which involves our entry into a $125.0 million asset-based loan facility.

Each of the transactions comprising the restructuring may be accomplished through either the out-of-court recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, the in-court prepackaged plan. If the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan, the retirement of the convertible notes tendered in the exchange offer would be accomplished through this exchange offer and the refinancing of our existing credit facility would be accomplished through an amendment to our existing credit agreement. In the alternative, if the restructuring is accomplished through the prepackaged plan, the retirement of the convertible notes as well as the refinancing of our existing credit facility would be accomplished through the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan. See The Restructuring.

The closing of the exchange offer is conditioned on the satisfaction or, with the consent of the CD&R Fund, waiver of the minimum tender condition, which requires that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes are validly tendered and not withdrawn in this exchange offer. If the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan, we intend, but are not required, to retire any remaining convertible notes outstanding after the consummation of this exchange offer by exercising our redemption right under the convertible notes indenture on or after November 20, 2009; if we do not so exercise our redemption right, such remaining convertible notes will otherwise be retired pursuant to the terms of the convertible notes indenture.

For a more detailed description of this exchange offer, see The Exchange Offer.

See Liquidity above and The Restructuring for a discussion of the anticipated effects of the restructuring.

Pro Forma Capitalization

Assuming that we complete the restructuring and all outstanding convertible notes are retired through the exchange offer or the prepackaged plan, based on the number of shares of common stock authorized, issued and outstanding as of September 4, 2009, at the closing of, and after giving effect to, the restructuring:

holders of convertible notes would receive 70,200,000 shares of our common stock in the aggregate (or approximately 24.5% of our voting power);

the CD&R Fund would receive 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock convertible into 196,109,194 shares of common stock based on the initial conversion price (assuming that we have sufficient authorized but unissued shares to permit such conversion, which, after giving effect to the restructuring, we do not expect to have (see Summary The Restructuring CD&R Investment)) (or approximately 68.5% of our voting power); and our current stockholders would continue to hold approximately 19,981,585 shares of our common stock in the aggregate (or approximately 7.0% of our voting power).

See Capitalization.

Lock-Up Agreement

We have entered into a lock-up and voting agreement with the holders of more than 79% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes. Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement has irrevocably agreed, in accordance with the terms of the lock-up agreement, (1) to tender its convertible notes in this exchange offer, (2) to the extent that such holder holds obligations under our existing credit agreement, to support the term loan refinancing by accepting its portion of the repayment contemplated thereby and by executing an amendment to our existing credit agreement in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, and (3) to vote all of its convertible notes and obligations under our existing credit facility in favor of the prepackaged plan, among other things. See The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement.

CD&R Investment

Pursuant to the investment agreement, the CD&R Fund has agreed to purchase from the Company an aggregate of 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, which represents approximately 68.5% of our voting power after giving effect to the restructuring (based on the number of shares of common stock authorized, issued and outstanding as of September 4, 2009), for a total purchase price of $250.0 million in cash. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment.

The obligation of the CD&R Fund to purchase the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock is subject to certain conditions, including the satisfaction or, with the consent of the CD&R Fund, waiver, of the conditions to this exchange offer or the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan, the consummation of the term loan refinancing (see Term Loan Refinancing below) and the ABL financing (see ABL Financing below) and the expiration or termination of any waiting period required to consummate the CD&R investment under the Austrian Act. The investment agreement may be terminated by the CD&R Fund or the Company under specified circumstances. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Conditions to the CD&R Investment and The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Termination of the Investment Agreement.

Holders of Series B convertible preferred stock will participate equally and ratably with the holders of common stock in all cash dividends paid on the shares of the common stock on an as-converted basis. In addition to such dividends, the Series B convertible preferred stock will accrue dividends at a rate per annum of 12.00% if paid in kind or at a rate per annum of 8.00% if paid in cash, which would be reduced to a rate per annum of 0.00% if, at any time after the 30-month anniversary of the closing of the restructuring, the trading price per share of common stock equals or exceeds two times a specified target price (which is equal to $1.2748 at the closing of the restructuring, but is subject to adjustments thereafter) for each trading day during any period of 20 consecutive trading days. Upon the occurrence of a default under the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock, the applicable dividend rate will increase by:

6.00% per annum, if the default is the result of a failure by us after June 30, 2011 to reserve and keep available for issuance a number of shares of common stock equal to 110% of the number of shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock; or

3.00% per annum for any other default.

See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends and The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Defaults.

The Series B convertible preferred stock is convertible into common stock at an initial conversion price of $1.2748, which conversion price is subject to anti-dilution adjustments, including adjustments if the Company issues common stock or other securities below the then-current market price or, during the first three years after the closing of the restructuring, below the then-current conversion price. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain

Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Convertibility and Anti-Dilution Adjustments.

On and after the 10th anniversary of the closing of the restructuring:

each holder of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock will have the right to require that the Company redeem all of such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock; and the Company will have the right to redeem all, but not less than all, of the then issued and outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock.

In either case, the redemption price for each share of Series B convertible preferred stock redeemed will be an amount equal to the sum of (1) the liquidation preference of such share of Series B convertible preferred stock to be redeemed and (2) the accrued dividends of such share as of the date on which the redemption of such share occurs. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Milestone Redemption.

After giving effect to the restructuring, we do not expect to have sufficient authorized but unissued shares of common stock to enable the conversion of all 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued to the CD&R Fund pursuant to the CD&R investment. Pursuant to the stockholders agreement to be entered into between the Company and the CD&R Fund in connection with the CD&R investment (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement), from and after the closing of the restructuring, we will use our best efforts and take all corporate actions necessary to obtain approval from holders of our common stock of an amendment to Article FOURTH, section 1 of our restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock. In the event that we do not obtain such approval prior to June 30, 2010, the dividend rate with respect to the Series B convertible preferred stock will increase by 3.00% per annum (and by an additional 3.00% per annum if such approval is not obtained prior to June 30, 2011, for an aggregate increase of 6.00% per annum) as further described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends Default Dividend Rate. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendments to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation.

Retirement of Convertible Notes

As part of the restructuring, we are seeking to retire all of the convertible notes. See This Exchange Offer below with respect to the retirement of convertible notes under the recapitalization plan and The Prepackaged Plan below with respect to the retirement of convertible notes under the prepackaged plan.

Term Loan Refinancing

As part of the restructuring, we expect to enter into an amendment to our existing credit agreement, providing for, among other things, the repayment of approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding as of August 2, 2009 under our existing credit facility and a modification of the terms and maturity of the $150.0 million balance. See The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing The Term Loan Refinancing.

The closing of the term loan refinancing through the recapitalization plan requires 100% of the lenders under our existing credit agreement to enter into the amended credit agreement. Confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan requires lenders under our existing credit facility holding at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of the claims in respect of the obligations under our existing credit agreement who actually cast ballots to vote to accept the prepackaged plan. See Summary of Terms of the Restructuring The Prepackaged Plan.

ABL Financing

As part of the restructuring, we expect to enter into an ABL agreement providing for a $125.0 million asset-based loan facility. See The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing The ABL Financing.

Whether the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, the closing of the ABL financing requires the approval and execution of the ABL agreement by all lenders providing revolving credit commitments thereunder.

Importance of Tendering in this Exchange Offer and Voting to Accept the Prepackaged Plan

Both the recapitalization plan and the prepackaged plan are subject to certain conditions. In particular, the consummation of the recapitalization plan requires that the conditions to this exchange offer are met, including the minimum tender condition. The confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan requires the receipt of acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes.

Fees and Expenses

We will pay all fees and expenses associated with this exchange offer and the solicitation of acceptances to the prepackaged plan, other than any commissions or concessions of any broker or dealer. Excluding fees and expenses related to the CD&R Investment and the other transactions contemplated by the investment agreement separate from the exchange offer and this consent solicitation, we expect that we will incur fees and expenses of approximately $7.3 million, based on estimated legal, accounting, exchange agent, voting agent, dealer-manager, trustee, printing and other expenses associated with this exchange offer and the solicitation of acceptances to the prepackaged plan. See The Exchange Offer Fees and Expenses.

Listing

We intend to apply for the shares of common stock to be issued pursuant to this exchange offer, or in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan, to be listed on the NYSE.

Transferability; Registration Rights

Other than for any shares issued in respect of convertible notes subject to the lock-up agreement, the shares of common stock to be issued pursuant to this exchange offer will be freely transferable and not subject to any transfer restrictions unless held by our affiliates as that term is defined under Rule 144 under the Securities Act. If the restructuring is accomplished through the prepackaged plan, we expect that the confirmation order of the bankruptcy court will provide that the issuance of the shares of common stock distributed under the prepackaged plan shall be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code and therefore will be freely transferable by most recipients thereof, and all resales and subsequent transactions in the new securities will be exempt from registration under federal and state securities laws, unless the holder is an underwriter with respect to such securities.

In the lock-up agreement, we agreed to enter into a registration rights agreement containing customary indemnification provisions for selling shareholders that will provide registration rights to the noteholders who are parties to the lock-up agreement in the event that this exchange offer is consummated. Under such registration rights agreement, and subject to customary blackout periods in connection with earnings releases and material corporate developments, we will:

no later than five business days following the closing of the CD&R investment, file with the SEC a shelf registration statement covering resales of the common stock received by such noteholders on a delayed or continuous basis; and

use our best efforts to maintain the effectiveness of such registration until the earlier of (a) six months after the closing of the CD&R investment (subject to an extension to 12 months after the closing in certain limited circumstances) and (b) the date on which all such common stock held by such noteholders can be resold pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act without limitation as to volume or compliance with any manner of sale requirements.

For more information with respect to the terms of the lock-up agreement, see The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement.

Prepackaged Plan

We have prepared the prepackaged plan as an alternative to the recapitalization plan for accomplishing the restructuring if the conditions to completion of the recapitalization plan, including, for example, the minimum tender condition, are not satisfied or waived, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes.

The prepackaged plan consists of a plan of reorganization under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code that would effect the same transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan, including the issuance of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock in connection with the CD&R investment, the issuance of shares of common stock in exchange for convertible notes, the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing. If confirmed, the prepackaged plan would be binding on all of our creditors regardless of whether such creditors voted to accept or reject the prepackaged plan. See The Prepackaged Plan.

Under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes and the lenders under our existing credit agreement (as well as the holders of all other claims and interests) would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims (and interests) as they would receive in the recapitalization plan, the CD&R Fund would receive the same 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock contemplated by the CD&R investment and the Company would enter into the ABL agreement. Existing holders of our common stock would continue to hold such common stock. See The Prepackaged Plan.

If we do not receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, the prepackaged plan will not be confirmed or become effective.

Voting Record Date

The voting record date for determining the holders of claims entitled to vote on the prepackaged plan is August 28, 2009. See The Prepackaged Plan Holders of Claims Entitled to Vote; Voting Record Date.

Conditions to the Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan

The effective date of the prepackaged plan will not occur until the conditions set forth below have been satisfied or waived:

the confirmation order has been entered and no stay of such order is in effect;

the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment;

the consummation of the term loan refinancing; and

Table of ContentsCapitalization

The following table sets forth our capitalization (1) as of August 2, 2009 on a preliminary, unaudited basis and (2) on an as adjusted basis, giving effect to the pro forma impact of the transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan, which include (1) the retirement of the convertible notes (assuming 100% of the convertible notes are retired), (2) the CD&R Investment, (3) the term loan refinancing and (4) the ABL financing. The pro forma capitalization presented in this section does not give effect to the pro forma impact of the transactions contemplated by the prepackaged plan. The filing of a prepackaged plan would result in the application of restart accounting which could significantly change to recorded value of asset, liabilities and stockholders' equity.

We use the assumptions above for illustrative purposes only. - (2) For purposes of calculating the ratio of earnings to fixed charges: (a) earnings are defined as earnings (loss) from continuing operations before provision for income taxes and fixed charges; and (b) fixed charges consist of net interest expense on all indebtedness, deferred financing charges and an estimate of the interest within rental expense.
- (3) The pre-tax loss from continuing operations for the fiscal nine months ended August 2, 2009 were not sufficient to cover fixed charges by a total of $676,787. As a result, the ratio of earnings to fixed charges has not been computed for this period.

Selected Unaudited Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Data

The following selected unaudited pro forma consolidated financial data for the year ended November 2, 2008, and as of and for the nine months ended August 2, 2009 has been derived by the application of pro forma adjustments to our historical consolidated financial statements. The selected unaudited pro forma consolidated financial data is presented for illustrative purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the financial position or results of operations that would have actually been reported had the recapitalization plan occurred at the beginning of the periods presented, nor is it indicative of our future financial position or results of operations.

The unaudited pro forma financial information presented in this prospectus/disclosure statement does not give effect to the pro forma impact of the transactions contemplated by the prepackaged plan. The filing of a prepackaged plan would result in the application of restart accounting which could significantly change to recorded value of asset, liabilities and stockholders' equity.

The unaudited pro forma adjustments were prepared based on the assumptions we believe are reasonable. The unaudited pro forma summary selected consolidated balance sheet as of August 2, 2009, gives effect to the recapitalization plan as if it had occurred on August 2, 2009. The unaudited pro forma summary selected condensed consolidated statements of operations for the year ended November 2, 2008, and the nine months ended August 2, 2009, give effect to the recapitalization plan as if it had occurred on October 29, 2007.

Due to the fact that the transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan have not yet been completed, except as indicated, the unaudited pro forma summary selected financial information assumes that:

100% of the convertible notes are exchanged for a combination of $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock for each $1,000 principal amount of the convertible notes and accrued and unpaid interest thereon;

the conversion price of the Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued in the CD&R investment is $1.2748 per share of common stock;

the restructuring is effected through the consummation of the recapitalization plan as opposed to the prepackaged plan;

the market price for common stock for all computations is $2.61 per share, which was the closing market price on September 4, 2009; and the fair market value of the derivative liability related to default dividend rates is expected to be $7.5 million ($4.6 million net of tax) in all periods.

If (1) the consideration offered in this exchange offer changes, (2) the conversion price of the Series B convertible preferred stock changes (see "The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Convertibility and Anti Dilution Adjustments") and/or (3) we are required to file the prepackaged plan (see "The Prepackaged Plan"), the unaudited pro forma adjustments could be materially different. These adjustments could result in significant differences in the estimates for the embedded derivative liability of the Series B convertible preferred stock, the estimated beneficial conversion feature of the Series B convertible preferred stock, and the estimated debt extinguishment cost of the convertible notes.

The selected unaudited pro forma consolidated financial information has been derived from our consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended in 2008, which are attached as Exhibit 99.1 to our current report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on September 10, 2009 and our consolidated financial statements for the quarterly period ended August 2, 2009, which are included in our quarterly report on Form 10-Q, each of which is incorporated herein by reference and should be read in conjunction with Selected Consolidated Financial and Other Data and Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Information and the consolidated financial statements and related notes included in this prospectus/disclosure statement. Our financial statements and schedules included in this prospectus/disclosure statement have been prepared on the assumption that we have the ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of asset carrying amounts or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result should we be unable to continue as a going concern.

RISK FACTORS

Before you participate in this exchange offer or vote on the prepackaged plan, you should carefully consider the risks described below. You should also consider the other information included or incorporated by reference in this prospectus/disclosure statement before deciding whether to participate in this exchange offer or how to vote on the prepackaged plan.

Risks Relating to NOT Accepting the Exchange Offer or Rejecting the Prepackaged Plan

*The following risks specifically apply to the extent a holder of convertible notes elects not to participate in this exchange offer or to vote against the prepackaged plan. There are additional risks attendant to being an investor in our securities that you should review, whether or not you elect to tender your convertible notes. These risks are described in Risk Factors in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended November 2, 2008 and Part II, Item 1A of our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarterly periods ended February 1, 2009, May 3, 2009 and August 2, 2009, each of which is incorporated by reference herein.*

If the minimum tender condition is not met for this exchange offer and we cannot implement the recapitalization plan, there nonetheless may be sufficient votes to accept the prepackaged plan to accomplish the restructuring.

The consummation of this exchange offer is conditioned upon, among other things, satisfaction of the minimum tender condition. If we are not able to complete the recapitalization plan because the minimum tender condition is not met or waived or for any other reason, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, as an alternative to the recapitalization plan, we may elect and, under the terms of the investment agreement, we may be required, to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan in a chapter 11 proceeding.

To obtain confirmation of the prepackaged plan without invoking the cram-down provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, each class of claims or interests that is impaired must vote to accept the prepackaged plan. An impaired class of claims (such as holders of convertible notes) is deemed to accept a plan of reorganization if the holders of at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of the claims in such class who actually cast ballots vote to accept the prepackaged plan. If the prepackaged plan is confirmed by the bankruptcy court, it will bind all holders of claims against, and equity interests in, the Company regardless of whether they voted for, against or did not vote at all on the prepackaged plan.

Therefore, assuming the prepackaged plan satisfies the other requirements of the Bankruptcy Code, a significantly smaller number of claim holders can bind other claim holders to the terms of the prepackaged plan than are required to effect this exchange offer and the other transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan. Additionally, since claims and equity interests are grouped in classes for the purpose of voting on the prepackaged plan, holders of claims and interests may be bound by the decisions of other claim or interest holders in a way that they otherwise would not outside of bankruptcy.

The confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan are subject to certain conditions that may not be satisfied and are different from those under the recapitalization plan. We cannot assure you that all requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan will be satisfied or that the bankruptcy court will conclude that the requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan have been satisfied. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan and The Prepackaged Plan Conditions to the Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan.

If we are not able to consummate the exchange offer, the prepackaged plan or the CD&R investment, we do not expect that we will be able to meet our obligations to repurchase the convertible notes pursuant to the rights of the holders thereof to such repurchase on November 15, 2009, and we will likely be in default under our existing credit agreement, the convertible notes indenture, and our swap agreement on November 6, 2009 and our obligations under such agreements may become immediately due and payable.

The consummation of the exchange offer or, in the alternative, confirmation of the prepackaged plan, is a condition to the CD&R investment and the term loan refinancing to accomplish the restructuring. If we are unable to consummate the restructuring, we do not expect that we will have, or have access to, sufficient liquidity to meet our debt obligations. As a result, we will have an immediate need to pursue other alternatives to manage our liquidity needs, including potentially filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan. See Risk Factors If we do not consummate the restructuring by November 6, 2009, adverse capital and credit market conditions may significantly and adversely affect our ability to otherwise refinance our existing debt.

Unless we consummate the restructuring, we do not expect that we will have, or have access to, sufficient liquidity to meet our debt repayment/repurchase obligations, including any potential acceleration of our existing term loan indebtedness and our obligation to repurchase the convertible notes at the option of the holders thereof on November 15, 2009, the next scheduled repurchase date. Due to our non-compliance as of August 2, 2009 with the required leverage, senior leverage and interest coverage ratios in our existing credit agreement, our outstanding indebtedness of approximately $293.3 million thereunder may be declared immediately due and payable as early as November 6, 2009, the date the current waiver from the lenders under our existing credit agreement expires. In the event that we do not repay such borrowings upon acceleration, the lenders under our existing credit agreement could exercise their remedies as secured creditors with respect to the collateral securing such borrowings. A failure to pay or refinance such borrowings will also result in a default under the convertible notes indenture, which could also then be declared immediately due and payable, and under our swap agreement, which could then be terminated by the counterparty thereto. If all such indebtedness, which totaled approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 and such amounts payable pursuant to the termination of the swap agreement, were to become due and payable on November 6, 2009, it would result in a material adverse effect on our financial condition, operations and debt service capabilities. As of August 2, 2009, excluding restricted cash, we had a current cash balance of approximately $105.4 million to address our liquidity needs. For a description of our non-compliance with the financial ratio covenants under our existing credit agreement, see our quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended August 2, 2009, our current reports on Form 8-K filed on May 21, 2009, July 15, 2009 and August 27, 2009 and Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference.

In such event, we will have an immediate need to pursue other alternatives to manage our liquidity needs, including potentially filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan. We do not expect, and there can be no assurance, that any alternative to such bankruptcy filing would be found. There can be no assurance as to the value, if any, that would be available to holders of convertible notes in the case of any such bankruptcy filing. The convertible notes are unsecured obligations of the Company and rank junior to the secured obligations under our existing credit facility. Accordingly, upon any distribution to our creditors in any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding relating to us or our property, the holders of our term loans under our existing credit facility will be entitled to be paid in full before any payment may be made with respect to the convertible notes.

If we are unable to consummate this exchange offer, the prepackaged plan or the CD&R investment, the Company will face an immediate liquidity crisis that could likely result in the Company filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan, which could materially adversely affect the relationships between us and our existing and potential customers, employees, partners and other stakeholders.

We believe that seeking relief under the Bankruptcy Code by filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan could materially adversely affect the relationships between us and our existing and potential customers, employees, partners and other stakeholders. For example:

such a bankruptcy filing could erode our customers' confidence in our ability to provide our products and services and, as a result, there could be a significant and precipitous decline in our revenues, profitability and cash flow;

employees could be distracted from performance of their duties, or more easily attracted to other career opportunities;

it may be more difficult to attract or replace key employees;

lenders and other partners could seek to terminate their relationship with us, require financial assurances or enhanced performance, or refuse to provide credit on the same terms as prior to the reorganization case;

we could be forced to operate in bankruptcy for an extended period of time while we tried to develop a reorganization plan that could be confirmed, which we believe may impair our business and prospects;

our suppliers, vendors, and service providers could terminate their relationship with us or require financial assurances or enhanced performance;

we may not be able to obtain debtor-in-possession financing to sustain us during the bankruptcy case under the Bankruptcy Code; or if we are not able to confirm and implement a plan of reorganization or if sufficient debtor-in-possession financing is not available, we may be forced to liquidate under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

In addition, any distributions that you may receive in respect of your convertible notes under a liquidation or under a protracted reorganization case or cases under the Bankruptcy Code other than in connection with the prepackaged plan would likely be substantially delayed and the value of any potential recovery likely would be adversely impacted by such delay.

Furthermore, in the event of any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding other than in connection with the prepackaged plan, there can be no assurance as to the value, if any, that would be available to holders of convertible notes. The convertible notes are unsecured obligations of the Company and rank junior to the secured obligations under our existing credit facility. Accordingly, upon any distribution to our creditors in any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding relating to us or our property other than in connection with the prepackaged plan, the holders of our indebtedness under our existing credit facility will be entitled to be paid in full before any payment may be made with respect to the convertible notes. If you do not tender your convertible notes or vote to accept the prepackaged plan, you may receive less value for the convertible notes in the event of any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding other than the prepackaged plan than you would under the restructuring.

Risks Relating to Accepting the Exchange Offer or to the Effectiveness of the Prepackaged Plan and Becoming Holders of Common Stock

The following risks specifically apply only to holders of common stock issued pursuant to this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the prepackaged plan, and should be considered, along with the other risk factors, by holders of convertible notes. There are additional risks attendant to being an investor in our securities that you should review, whether or not you elect to tender your convertible notes. These risks are described in Risk Factors in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended November 2, 2008, and Part II, Item 1A of our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarterly periods ended February 1, 2009, May 3, 2009 and August 2, 2009, each of which is incorporated by reference herein.

The exchange ratio for this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the prepackaged plan does not reflect any independent valuation of the convertible notes or shares of common stock.

We have not obtained or requested, and do not intend to obtain or request, a fairness opinion from any banking or other firm as to the fairness of the exchange ratios or the relative values of convertible notes and shares of common stock. If you tender your convertible notes or vote to accept the prepackaged plan and the exchange offer is consummated or the prepackaged plan is confirmed and becomes effective, you may or may not receive more than or as much value as you would if you choose to keep your convertible notes (whether this exchange offer was or was not consummated) or if the prepackaged plan did not become effective and in the event of any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding other than in connection with the prepackaged plan, you may have a smaller claim than if you had retained your convertible notes and you may recover less than you would have had you retained your convertible notes.

The consummation of each of this exchange offer and the prepackaged plan is subject to satisfaction of certain conditions, including the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment.

The consummation of this exchange offer is subject to the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment (which is itself subject to several conditions, including the consummation of the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing and the expiration or termination of any waiting period required to consummate the CD&R investment under the Austrian Act (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Conditions to the CD&R Investment)), the minimum tender condition and effectiveness of the registration statement of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part. See The Exchange Offer Conditions to Completion of the Exchange Offer.

The effective date of the prepackaged plan is subject to the entry of the confirmation order and the absence of a stay of such order, the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment, the consummation of the term loan refinancing, the consummation of the ABL financing and such other conditions as to which the Company and the CD&R Fund may reasonably agree. See The Prepackaged Plan Conditions to the Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan.

There can be no assurance that any of such conditions will be met.

Holders of the convertible notes who participate in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, receive common stock pursuant to the prepackaged plan will lose their rights under the convertible notes indenture.

Holders whose convertible notes are accepted for exchange and receive shares of common stock, or holders who receive shares of common stock pursuant to the prepackaged plan, will lose all rights associated with the convertible notes. Please see The Exchange Offer Material Differences in the Rights of Holders of Convertible Notes and Common Stock for a more detailed description of the material differences in your rights as a result of the restructuring.

There are risks associated with the common stock.

The value of the common stock may be adversely affected by a number of factors, including many of the risks described in this prospectus/disclosure statement. If, for example, our stockholders decide to sell a substantial number of their shares of common stock, the value of the common stock could decline. Similarly, if we fail to comply with the covenants in our existing credit agreement (which are also incorporated into our existing swap agreement), the amended credit agreement, the ABL agreement or the convertible notes indenture, as applicable, resulting in an event of default thereunder, certain of our outstanding indebtedness could be accelerated, which could have a material adverse effect on the value of the common stock.

If our common stock is deemed a penny stock, its liquidity will be adversely affected.

As of September 22, 2009, the closing stock price for our common stock was $3.86 per share. If the market price for our common stock falls below $1.00 per share, our common stock may be deemed to be a penny stock. If our common stock is considered a penny stock, it would be subject to rules that impose additional sales practices on broker-dealers who sell our securities. For example, broker-dealers must make a special suitability determination for the purchaser and have received the purchaser's written consent to the transaction prior to sale. Also, a disclosure schedule must be delivered to each purchaser of a penny stock, disclosing sales commissions and current quotations for the securities. Monthly statements are also required to be sent disclosing recent price information for the penny stock held in the account and information on the limited market in penny stocks. Because of these additional conditions, some brokers may choose not to effect transactions in penny stocks. This could have an adverse effect on the liquidity of our common stock.

The common stock is junior to all of our other securities, including our existing and future indebtedness and the Series B convertible preferred stock.

The common stock is the most junior of all of our securities. As a result, our existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims, as well as our preferred stock, including the Series B convertible preferred stock, will rank senior to the common stock as to rights upon any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding relating to the Company. In the event of any distribution or payment of our assets in any foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation or reorganization, or other bankruptcy proceeding, our creditors and holders of our preferred stock will have a superior claim and interest, as applicable, to the interests of holders of our common stock. If any of the foregoing events occur, we cannot assure you that there will be sufficient assets for distribution in respect of the common stock. In addition, in the event of a change of control, holders of the Series B convertible preferred stock may be entitled to superior rights relative to the holders of common stock, including a right to require redemption by the Company of such Series B convertible preferred stock. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Change of Control Redemption Right.

The issuance of shares of common stock in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan and the issuance of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock upon consummation of the CD&R investment will dilute the ownership interest of our existing stockholders and may not be fully reflected in the current market price of our common stock and we cannot predict the price at which our common stock will trade following the restructuring.

As of September 4, 2009, we had approximately 19,981,585 shares of common stock issued and outstanding, excluding shares held by us as treasury stock. Assuming that we complete the restructuring and all outstanding convertible notes are tendered and accepted in this exchange offer or retired pursuant to the prepackaged plan, based on the number of shares of common stock authorized, issued and outstanding as of September 4, 2009, at the closing of, and after giving effect to, the restructuring:

holders of convertible notes would receive 70,200,000 shares of common stock, or approximately 24.5% of our voting power;

the CD&R Fund would receive 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock convertible into 196,109,194 shares of common stock based on the initial conversion price (assuming that we have sufficient authorized but unissued shares to permit such conversion, which, after giving effect to the restructuring, we do not expect to have (see Summary The Restructuring CD&R Investment)), or approximately 68.5% of our voting power;

our current stockholders would continue to hold approximately 19,981,585 shares of common stock, or approximately 7.0% of our voting power.

The average daily trading volume of our common stock on the NYSE during the three months ending August 2, 2009, was approximately 1.21 million shares. Given these low trading volumes relative to the number of shares of common stock outstanding, any sales in the public market of the shares of common stock issuable in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan, are likely to adversely affect the prevailing market price of our common stock.

This issuance of the common stock in this exchange offer and the Series B convertible preferred stock in the CD&R investment could materially depress the price of our common stock if holders of a large number of shares of common stock attempt to sell all or a substantial portion of their holdings following the restructuring. Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, we agreed to enter into a registration rights agreement that will provide registration rights to the noteholders who are parties to the lock-up agreement in the event that this exchange offer is consummated. See The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement. In accordance with the terms of the lock-up agreement, such registration rights agreement would, among other things and subject to certain conditions, obligate us to file with the SEC a shelf registration statement covering resales of the common stock received by such noteholders on a delayed or continuous basis. Upon effectiveness of such shelf registration statement, holders of notes that executed the lock-up agreement, which hold more than 79% of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding convertible notes, would be able to freely transfer their shares of common stock received pursuant to the exchange offer. We cannot predict what the demand for our common stock will be following the restructuring, how many shares of our common stock will be offered for sale or be sold following the restructuring, or the price at which our common stock will trade following the restructuring.

The Series B convertible preferred stock may be dilutive to our stockholders from and after the closing of the restructuring. The Series B convertible preferred stock will accrue dividends, which may be paid in cash or in kind. If dividends on the Series B convertible preferred stock are paid in kind, they will dilute the ownership interest of our stockholders. In addition, the dividend rate of the Series B convertible preferred stock will increase upon the occurrence of certain events which constitute defaults under the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock, which may cause further dilution. Furthermore, the Series B convertible preferred stock also provides for anti-dilution rights, which may dilute the ownership interest of stockholders in the future.

Upon issuance, the Series B convertible preferred stock will accrue dividends at a rate per annum of 12.00% if paid in kind or at a rate per annum of 8.00% if paid in cash, unless and until such dividends are reduced to 0.00%, which will occur if the trading price per share of common stock equals or exceeds two times a specified target price (which is equal to $1.2748 at the closing of the restructuring, but is subject to adjustments thereafter) for each trading day during any period of 20 consecutive trading days occurring after the 30-month anniversary of the closing of the restructuring.

If dividends on the Series B convertible preferred stock are paid in kind, it will dilute the ownership interest of stockholders, including holders of convertible notes who become holders of common stock pursuant to this exchange offer or pursuant to the prepackaged plan.

Furthermore, upon the occurrence of a default, the applicable dividend rate is subject to increase by:

6.00% per annum, if the default is the result of a failure by us after June 30, 2011 to reserve and keep available for issuance a number of shares of common stock equal to 110% of the number of shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock; or

3.00% per annum for any other default.

See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends.

After giving effect to the restructuring, we do not expect to have sufficient authorized but unissued shares of common stock to enable the conversion of all 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued to the CD&R Fund pursuant to the CD&R investment. Pursuant to the stockholders agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement), from and after the closing of the restructuring, we will use our best efforts and take all corporate actions necessary to obtain approval from holders of our common stock of an amendment to Article FOURTH, section 1 of our restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock. However, there is no assurance that we will be able to obtain such approval. In the event that we do not obtain such approval prior to June 30, 2010, the dividend rate with respect to the Series B convertible preferred stock will increase by 3.00% per annum, and if we do not obtain such approval prior to June 30, 2011, the dividend rate will increase by an additional 3.00% per annum (resulting in an aggregate increase of 6.00% per annum) as described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends Default Dividend Rate. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendments to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation. In such event, stockholders' ownership interest in the Company will be further diluted to the extent that dividends paid in respect of such additional default dividend rate are dividends paid in kind.

As further described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Convertibility and Anti Dilution Adjustments, the conversion price of the Series B convertible preferred stock is subject to adjustment, including if the Company issues common stock or other securities below the then-current market price or, during the first three years after the closing of the restructuring, below the then-current conversion price. Adjustments to the conversion price will dilute the ownership interest of stockholders.

At the closing of the CD&R investment, we will enter into a stockholders agreement with the CD&R Fund pursuant to which the CD&R Fund will have substantial governance and other rights.

At the closing of the CD&R investment, we will enter into a stockholders agreement with the CD&R Fund setting forth certain terms and conditions regarding the CD&R investment and the ownership of the CD&R Fund's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock. Pursuant to the stockholders agreement with the CD&R Fund, subject to certain ownership and other requirements and conditions, the CD&R Fund will have the right to appoint a majority of directors to our board of directors, including the Lead Director or Chairman of the Executive Committee of our board of directors, and will have consent rights over a variety of significant corporate and financing matters, including, subject to certain customary exceptions and specified baskets, sales and acquisitions of assets, issuances and redemptions of equity, incurrence of debt, the declaration or payment of extraordinary distributions or dividends and changes to the Company's line of business. In addition, the CD&R Fund will be granted subscription rights under the terms and conditions of the stockholders agreement. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement.

Further, effective as of the closing, the Company will be required to have taken all corporate action and filed all election notices or other documentation with the NYSE necessary to elect to take advantage of the exemptions to the requirements of sections 303A.01, 303A.04 and 303A.05 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual and, for so long as we qualify as a controlled company within the meaning set forth in the NYSE Listed Company Manual or any similar provision in the rules of a stock exchange on which the securities of the Company are quoted or listed for trading, we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts to take advantage of the exemptions therein. Such exemptions would exempt us from compliance with the NYSE's requirements for companies listed on the NYSE to have (1) a majority of independent directors, (2) a nominating/corporate governance committee and a compensation committee, in each case, composed entirely of independent directors, and (3) charters for the nominating/corporate governance committee and the compensation committee, in each case, addressing certain specified matters. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement with Respect to Controlled Company Status.

The Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued in connection with the CD&R investment has substantial rights and will rank senior to the common stock.

Assuming consummation of the CD&R investment, if your convertible notes are accepted for exchange for cash and shares of common stock in this exchange offer or if you receive cash and common stock under the prepackaged plan, your shares of common stock will rank junior as to dividend rights, redemption payments and rights (including as to distribution of assets) in any liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up of the affairs of the Company and otherwise to the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued to the CD&R Fund in connection with the CD&R investment. The terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock will entitle the holders thereof to vote on an as-converted basis (without taking into account any limitations on convertibility that may then be applicable) with the holders of common stock. At the closing of the restructuring, we expect that the CD&R Fund will have a majority voting position and holders of common stock will be in the minority. See The Restructuring

Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Voting Rights. In addition, certain actions by the Company, including, upon the occurrence of certain specified defaults, the adoption of an annual budget, the hiring and firing, or the changing of the compensation, of executive officers and the commitment, resolution or agreement to effect any business combination, among others, require the prior affirmative vote or written consent of the holders representing at least a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, voting together as a separate class. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Voting Rights Class Voting Rights and The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Voting Rights Special Contingent Voting Rights. This level of control, together with the CD&R Fund's rights under the stockholders agreement, could discourage others from initiating any potential merger, takeover or other change of control transaction that may otherwise be beneficial to our business or our stockholders. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement.

Furthermore, the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock also provide for anti-dilution rights, which may dilute the ownership interest of stockholders in the future, and change of control redemption rights, which may entitle the holders of Series B convertible preferred stock to receive higher value for their shares of Series B convertible preferred stock than the shares of common stock would receive in the event of a change of control (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B convertible preferred Stock Convertibility and Anti-Dilution Adjustments and see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Change of Control Redemption Right). In addition, the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock also provide that the CD&R Fund will participate in common stock dividends, receive preferred dividends and have preferential rights in liquidation, including make whole rights (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends).

The trading price of our common stock has been and may continue to be volatile.

The trading price of our common stock has fluctuated in the past and is subject to significant fluctuations in response to the following factors, some of which are beyond our control:

- variations in quarterly operating results;
- deviations in our earnings from publicly disclosed forward-looking guidance;
- changes in earnings estimates by analysts;
- our announcements of significant contracts, acquisitions, strategic partnerships or joint ventures;
- general conditions in the metal components and engineered building systems industries;
- uncertainty about current global economic conditions;
- fluctuations in stock market price and volume; and
- other general economic conditions.

During fiscal 2008, the sale prices of our common stock on the NYSE ranged from a high of approximately $40.95 per share to a low of approximately $14.25 per share. Since the beginning of fiscal 2009, the sale prices of our common stock on the NYSE ranged from a high of approximately $19.35 per share to a low of approximately $1.76 per share. In recent years, the stock market in general has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have affected the market price for many companies in industries similar to ours. Some of these fluctuations have been unrelated to the operating performance of the affected companies. These market fluctuations may decrease the market price of the common stock in the future.

If we cannot meet the NYSE's continued listing requirements, the NYSE may delist our common stock, and such a delisting could have an adverse impact on the liquidity and market price of the common stock.

Our common stock is currently listed on the NYSE. In the future, we may not be able to meet the NYSE's continued listing requirements, which include, among other things: (1) that the average closing price of our common stock be above $1.00 over 30 consecutive trading days; (2) that our average global market capitalization over a consecutive 30 trading-day period is at or above $50.0 million or, if our average global market capitalization over a consecutive 30 trading-day period is less than $50.0 million, that our total stockholders' equity is at or above $50.0 million; and (3) that the average market capitalization be at least $15.0 million over 30 consecutive trading days. The closing price of our common stock on September 22, 2009 was $3.86 per share, and our market capitalization was approximately $77.1 million as of such date.

A delisting of our common stock could negatively affect holders of common stock and negatively affect us by, among other things, reducing the liquidity and market price of our common stock; reducing the number of investors willing to hold or acquire our common stock, which could negatively affect our ability to raise equity financing; decreasing the amount of news and analyst coverage for our company; and limiting our ability to issue additional securities or obtain additional financing in the future.

We are not currently paying dividends on our common stock and have no current plans to do so in the future.

Historically, we have not paid dividends on our common stock and have no current plans to do so in the future. Furthermore, the terms of our existing credit agreement restrict our ability to do so, and we expect that, if the term loan refinancing or the ABL financing is consummated, the amended credit agreement or the ABL agreement, respectively, will have similar restrictions. In addition, under the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock, the holders of such shares would participate in any declared common stock dividends and also receive preferred dividends, reducing the cash available to holders of common stock. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock. Our other future indebtedness, if any, may also restrict payment of dividends on our common stock. Also, assuming the consummation of the CD&R investment, we may not declare or pay any extraordinary dividend or distribution without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund pursuant to the stockholders agreement. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Consent Rights.

In addition, the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock will limit the circumstances under which the Company will be able to pay dividends or make distributions on junior securities, including common stock. Specifically, at all times during which shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are issued and outstanding, we may not (1) declare, pay or set aside for payment any dividends or distributions upon any junior securities, except for certain limited exceptions or (2) repurchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any junior securities for any consideration or pay any moneys or make available for a sinking fund for the redemption of any shares of such junior securities, except for certain limited exceptions, unless, in each case, the Company has access to sufficient lawful funds to redeem in full all shares of the Series B convertible preferred stock then issued and outstanding. In addition, subject to certain limited exceptions, at any time during which a default under the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock is occurring, we may not declare or pay or set apart for payment any dividend or other distribution with respect to any junior securities, or redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire for any consideration any junior securities. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends Restrictions with Respect to Junior Securities Dividends.

We may issue securities senior to the common stock without your approval.

We may authorize, create or increase the authorized amount of any class or series of stock that ranks senior to the common stock with respect to the payment of dividends or amounts payable upon liquidation, dissolution or winding-up without the consent of the holders of the outstanding common stock, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the stockholders agreement.

Change-of-control, consent or notice provisions in agreements may be triggered upon the completion of this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan.

We may be a party to agreements that contain change-of-control, consent or notice provisions that may be triggered following the issuance of the shares of common stock in this exchange offer, or in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan and/or the consummation of the CD&R investment. These change-of-control, consent or notice provisions, if triggered and not waived by any beneficiaries of those provisions, could result in termination of an agreement or in unanticipated expenses following the restructuring and could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

If we file for bankruptcy protection after the consummation of this exchange offer, there is a risk that any cash consideration received in this exchange offer may be determined to be a preferential transfer and the court may require that such consideration be returned to the Company.

If a holder of convertible notes chooses to exchange its convertible notes in this exchange offer and receives cash consideration and if a bankruptcy involving the Company is commenced within 90 days after the consummation of this exchange offer (or one year after the consummation of this exchange offer if the holder of convertible notes is an insider of the Company), the bankruptcy court may determine that the holder of convertible notes received preferential treatment to the detriment of other unsecured creditors. In that event, any value received by such holder may be required to be returned. The holder of convertible notes would then have a claim against the bankruptcy estate equal to the value of the avoided transfer.

We may incur tax liability or lose tax attributes, and our ability to use certain of our tax attributes may be limited, as a result of the consummation of the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan.

We may incur cancellation-of-indebtedness income, which we refer to as COD income, for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the consummation of the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan.

To the extent that we were considered insolvent from a tax perspective immediately prior to the consummation of the recapitalization plan, any such COD income generally would be excluded from our taxable income. Alternatively, if the discharge of our liability were to occur in a chapter 11 bankruptcy case pursuant to the prepackaged plan, any COD income from such discharge generally would be excluded from our taxable income.

If and to the extent any COD income is excluded from taxable income pursuant to the insolvency exception or the bankruptcy exception described above, we generally will be required to reduce certain of our tax attributes, including, but not limited to, our net operating losses, loss carryforwards, credit carryforwards and tax basis in certain assets. This may result in a significant reduction in, and possible elimination of, certain of our tax attributes.

If any COD income is not excluded from our taxable income and we do not have sufficient losses to offset fully such COD income, we may incur tax liability from such COD income. We may make an election under recently enacted section 108(i) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, which we refer to as the Internal Revenue Code, to defer the inclusion of all or a portion of any COD income resulting from the consummation of the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, with the amount of deferred COD income becoming includible in taxable income ratably over a five-taxable-year period beginning in, if such consummation occurs in 2009, the fifth taxable year after such consummation.

Notwithstanding our ability to utilize our available losses to offset any such COD income for regular U.S. federal income tax purposes, we may nonetheless be subject to tax under the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. Furthermore, if we make the election under section 108(i) of the Internal Revenue Code to defer our COD income, we may incur current state income tax liability with respect to such deferred COD income in states that do not recognize the election.

Because we are expected to undergo an ownership change under section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code as a result of the restructuring, our ability to use our loss carryforwards, if any, and certain other tax attributes may be subject to limitation under section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Risks Relating to the Prepackaged Plan

The prepackaged plan may have a material adverse effect on our operations.

The prepackaged plan solicitation or any subsequent commencement of a prepackaged chapter 11 case could adversely affect the relationships between us and our customers, employees, partners and others. There is a risk, due to uncertainty about our future, that:

customers could seek alternative suppliers;

such a bankruptcy filing could erode our customers' confidence in our ability to provide our products and services and, as a result, there could be a significant and precipitous decline in our revenues, profitability and cash flow;

it may be more difficult to attract or replace key employees;

employees could be distracted from performance of their duties or more easily attracted to other career opportunities; and

our suppliers, vendors, and service providers could terminate their relationship with us or require financial assurances or enhanced performance.

These factors could adversely affect our ability to obtain confirmation of the prepackaged plan.

Our business may be negatively affected if we are unable to assume our executory contracts.

The prepackaged plan provides for the assumption of all executory contracts and unexpired leases other than those leases and contracts that we specifically reject. Our intention is to preserve as much of the benefit of our existing contracts and leases as possible. However, some limited classes of executory contracts may not be assumed in this way. In these cases, we would need to obtain the consent of the counterparty to maintain the benefit of the contract. There is no guaranty that such consent would either be forthcoming or that conditions would not be attached to any such consent that make assuming the contracts unattractive. We would then be required to either forego the benefits offered by such contracts or to find alternative arrangements to replace them. We intend to attempt to pass through to the reorganized company all licenses in respect of patents, trademarks, copyright or other intellectual property that cannot otherwise be assumed pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code. The counterparty to any contract that we seek to pass through may object to our attempt to pass through the contract and require us to seek to assume or reject the contract or seek approval of the bankruptcy court to terminate the contract. In such an event, we could lose the benefit of the contract, which could harm our business.

We may not be successful in obtaining first day orders to permit us to pay our key suppliers in the ordinary course of business.

We have tried to address potential concerns of our key customers, vendors, employees, licensors/licensees and other key parties in interest that might arise from the filing of the prepackaged plan through a variety of provisions incorporated into or contemplated by the prepackaged plan, including our intention to seek appropriate court orders to permit us to pay our accounts payable to key parties in interest in the ordinary course, assume contracts with such parties in interest and in the case of those key vendors who have agreed to continue to extend business terms to us during and after our bankruptcy proceeding, to provide for the payments of prepetition accounts payable. However, there can be no guaranty that we will be successful in obtaining the necessary approvals of the bankruptcy court for such arrangements or for every party in interest we may seek to treat in this manner, and as a result, our business might suffer.

The bankruptcy court may not confirm the prepackaged plan.

In the event that the conditions to the recapitalization plan are not satisfied or, with the consent of the CD&R Fund, waived, including, for example, the minimum tender condition, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, as an alternative to the recapitalization plan, we may elect and, under the terms of the investment agreement, we may be required, to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan in a chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Commencement of a Reorganization Case in Connection with the Prepackaged Plan Covenant.

We cannot assure you that the prepackaged plan, if filed, will be confirmed by the bankruptcy court. Section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code, which sets forth the requirements for confirmation of a plan of reorganization, requires, among other things, a finding by the bankruptcy court that the plan is feasible, that all claims and interests have been classified in compliance with the provisions of section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, and that, under the plan, each holder of a claim or interest within each impaired class either accepts the plan or receives or retains cash or property of a value, as of the date the plan becomes effective, that is not less than the value such holder would receive or retain if the debtor were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan.

There can be no assurance that a bankruptcy court will conclude that the feasibility test and other requirements of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code have been met with respect to the prepackaged plan.

If the prepackaged plan is filed, there can be no assurance that modifications to such plan would not be required for confirmation, or that such modifications would not require a resolicitation of votes on the prepackaged plan. We believe that, if the prepackaged plan is confirmed, it would not be followed by a liquidation or an immediate need for further financial reorganization and that holders of claims and interests would receive or retain value that is not less than the value such holders would receive or retain if we were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Moreover, the bankruptcy court could determine that our disclosures made in this document are inadequate and that the votes in favor of the prepackaged plan do not count. We would then have to commence the solicitation process again, which would include re-filing a plan of reorganization and disclosure statement. Typically, this process involves a 90-day or longer period and includes a court hearing for the required approval of a disclosure statement, followed (after bankruptcy court approval) by another solicitation of claim and interest holder votes for the plan of reorganization, followed by a confirmation hearing for the bankruptcy court to determine whether the requirements for confirmation have been satisfied, including the requisite claim and (if applicable) interest holder acceptances.

If the prepackaged plan is not confirmed, our reorganization case may be converted to a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code, pursuant to which a trustee would be appointed or elected to liquidate our assets for distribution in accordance with the priorities established by the Bankruptcy Code. A discussion of the effects that a chapter 7 liquidation would have on the recoveries of holders of claims and interests and our liquidation analysis are set forth under The Prepackaged Plan Liquidation Analysis. We believe that liquidation under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code would result in (1) smaller distributions being made to creditors than those provided for in the prepackaged plan because of (a) the likelihood that our assets would have to be sold or otherwise disposed of in a less orderly fashion over a short period of time, (b) additional administrative expenses involved in the appointment of a trustee, and (c) additional expenses and claims, some of which would be entitled to priority, which would be generated during the liquidation and from the rejection of leases and other executory contracts in connection with a cessation of our operations, and (2) no distributions being made to holders of our common stock.

If (1) our reorganization case is dismissed or converted into a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code, or we filed a motion or other pleading with the bankruptcy court seeking the dismissal or conversion of the prepackaged plan proceeding or (2) if the bankruptcy court (a) grants relief that is materially inconsistent with the investment agreement or the prepackaged plan in any respect or (b) enters an order confirming any plan of reorganization other than the prepackaged plan, the CD&R Fund would have the right to terminate the investment agreement. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Termination of the Investment Agreement.

If we commence a chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding, other parties in interest might be permitted to propose alternative plans of reorganization that may be less favorable to certain of our constituencies than the prepackaged plan.

If our reorganization case is commenced, other parties in interest could seek authority from the bankruptcy court to propose an alternative plan of reorganization. Under the Bankruptcy Code, a debtor-in-possession initially has the exclusive right to propose and solicit acceptances of a plan of reorganization. However, such exclusivity period can be reduced or terminated upon order of the bankruptcy court. If such an order were to be entered, other parties in interest would then have the opportunity to propose alternative plans of reorganization.

If other parties in interest were to propose an alternative plan following expiration or termination of our exclusivity period, such a plan may be less favorable to existing equity interest holders and may seek to exclude these holders from retaining any shares of common stock under their plan. Alternative plans of reorganization also may treat less favorably the claims of a number of other constituencies, including our employees, our trading partners and customers. We consider maintaining relationships with our employees, customers and trading partners as critical to maintaining the value of our business as we restructure, and have sought to treat those constituencies accordingly. However, proponents of alternative plans of reorganization may not share our assessment and seek to impair the claims of such constituencies to a greater degree. If there were competing plans of reorganization, our reorganization case is likely to become longer and more complicated. If this were to occur, or if our employees or other constituencies important to our business reacted adversely to an alternative plan of reorganization, the adverse consequences discussed in the first risk factor in this section discussing risks related to the prepackaged plan could also occur.

If a bankruptcy proceeding is commenced by a third party against us or our subsidiaries (other than a bankruptcy contemplated by the prepackaged plan), the CD&R Fund may terminate the investment agreement if such proceeding has not been dismissed within 30 days of its commencement. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Termination of the Investment Agreement.

The bankruptcy court may disagree with our classification of claims and interests.

Section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan may place a claim or an interest in a particular class only if such claim or interest is substantially similar to the other claims or interests of such class. We believe that the classification of claims and interests under the prepackaged plan complies with the requirements set forth in the Bankruptcy Code; however, once a chapter 11 case has been commenced, a claim or interest holder could challenge the classification. In such event, the cost of the prepackaged plan and the time needed to confirm the prepackaged plan may increase and we cannot assure you that the bankruptcy court will agree with our classification of claims and interests. If the bankruptcy court concludes that the classification of claims and interests under the prepackaged plan does not comply with the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code, we may need to modify the prepackaged plan. Such modification could require a resolicitation of votes on the prepackaged plan. If the bankruptcy court determined that our classification of claims and interests was not appropriate, the prepackaged plan may not be confirmed.

The bankruptcy court may find the solicitation of acceptances inadequate.

Usually, a plan of reorganization is filed and votes to accept or reject the plan are solicited after the filing of a petition commencing a chapter 11 case. Nevertheless, a debtor may solicit votes prior to the commencement of a chapter 11 case in accordance with section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy rule 3018(b). Section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy rule 3018(b) require that:

the plan of reorganization be transmitted to substantially all creditors and other interest holders entitled to vote;

the time prescribed for voting is not unreasonably short; and the solicitation of votes is in compliance with any applicable nonbankruptcy law, rule or regulation governing the adequacy of disclosure in such solicitation, including the Exchange Act and Rules 13e-4(d), 13e-4(e)(3), 14e-1 and 14e-4 promulgated under the Exchange Act. If no such law, rule or regulation exists, votes be solicited only after the disclosure of adequate information.

Section 1125(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code describes adequate information as information of a kind and in sufficient detail as would enable a hypothetical reasonable investor typical of holders of claims and interests to make an informed judgment about the plan. With regard to solicitation of votes prior to the commencement of a bankruptcy case, if the bankruptcy court concludes that the requirements of Bankruptcy Rule 3018(b) have not been met, then the bankruptcy court could deem such votes invalid, whereupon the prepackaged plan could not be confirmed without a resolicitation of votes to accept or reject the prepackaged plan. While we believe that the requirements of section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3018 will be met, there can be no assurance that the bankruptcy court will reach the same conclusion.

Even if all classes of claims that are entitled to vote accept the prepackaged plan, we may fail to meet all conditions precedent to effectiveness of the prepackaged plan or the prepackaged plan may not become effective.

Although we believe that the effective date of the prepackaged plan will occur very shortly after confirmation of the prepackaged plan, there can be no assurance as to such timing.

The confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan are subject to certain conditions that may not be satisfied. We cannot assure you that all requirements for confirmation and effectiveness required under the prepackaged plan will be satisfied or that the bankruptcy court will conclude that the requirements for confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan have been satisfied. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan and The Prepackaged Plan Conditions to Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan.

If the conditions precedent to the effective date, including entry of the confirmation order, the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment, the consummation of the term loan refinancing, the consummation of the ABL financing and such other condition as to which the Company and the CD&R Fund may reasonably agree, have not occurred, the prepackaged plan may be vacated by the bankruptcy court.

Furthermore, in the event that the CD&R Fund does not fund the CD&R investment, and without a suitable alternative new investment, we do not believe the prepackaged plan would meet the confirmation requirement of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code that the plan be feasible. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan. In that event, we will not seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan and your vote in favor of the prepackaged plan will be disregarded.

The lock-up agreement may be terminated by a number of holders that executed the lock-up agreement holding not less than two-thirds in aggregate principal amount of all convertible notes held by all holders that executed the lock-up agreement if an event occurs that would provide either the Company or the CD&R Fund with the right to terminate the investment agreement under the terms of the investment agreement, which includes certain triggers relating to the timing of events in the prepackaged plan proceeding (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Termination of the Investment Agreement).

We cannot predict the amount of time that we would spend in bankruptcy for the purpose of implementing the prepackaged plan, and a lengthy bankruptcy proceeding would disrupt our business, as well as impair the prospect for reorganization on the terms contained in the prepackaged plan.

While we expect that a chapter 11 bankruptcy filing solely for the purpose of implementing the prepackaged plan would be of short duration (e.g., 60 days) and would not be unduly disruptive to our business, we cannot be certain that this would be the case. Although the prepackaged plan is designed to minimize the length of the bankruptcy proceeding, it is impossible to predict with certainty the amount of time that we may spend in bankruptcy, and we cannot be certain that the prepackaged plan would be confirmed. Even if confirmed on a timely basis, a bankruptcy proceeding to confirm the prepackaged plan could itself have an adverse effect on our business. There is a risk, due to uncertainty about our future, that:

customers could seek alternative sources of products from our competitors, including competitors that have comparatively greater financial resources and that are in little or no relative financial distress;

employees could be distracted from performance of their duties or more easily attracted to other career opportunities; and business partners could terminate their relationship with us or require financial assurances or enhanced performance.

A lengthy bankruptcy proceeding would also involve additional expenses and divert the attention of management from operation of our business, as well as creating concerns for employees, suppliers and customers.

The disruption that a bankruptcy proceeding would inflict upon our business could increase with the length of time it takes to complete the proceeding, and the severity of that disruption would depend upon the attractiveness and feasibility of the prepackaged plan of reorganization from the perspective of the constituent parties on whom we depend, including vendors, employees and customers. If we are unable to obtain confirmation of the prepackaged plan on a timely basis, because of a challenge to the prepackaged plan or a failure to satisfy the conditions to the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan, we may be forced to operate in bankruptcy for an extended period while we try to develop a different reorganization plan that can be confirmed. A protracted bankruptcy case could increase both the probability and the magnitude of the adverse effects described above.

We may be unable to obtain adequate financing or authority to use cash collateral during the pendency of the bankruptcy proceeding.

On or shortly after commencing the prepackaged chapter 11 bankruptcy case, we intend to ask the bankruptcy court to authorize us to obtain debtor-in-possession financing and/or to use cash collateral to fund the prepackaged chapter 11 bankruptcy case. Such financing arrangements and access to cash collateral will provide liquidity during the pendency of the prepackaged chapter 11 bankruptcy case. There can be no assurance that the bankruptcy court will approve such financing arrangements or the use of cash collateral on the terms requested. Moreover, if the prepackaged chapter 11 bankruptcy case takes longer than expected to conclude, we may exhaust our financing and available cash collateral. There is no assurance that we will be able to obtain additional financing or an extension of the right to use cash collateral. In such case, the liquidity necessary for the orderly functioning of our businesses may be materially impaired.

We may seek to amend, waive, modify or withdraw the prepackaged plan any time prior to the confirmation of the prepackaged plan.

We reserve the right, prior to the confirmation or substantial consummation thereof, subject to the provisions of section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019, to amend the terms of the prepackaged plan or waive any conditions thereto, if and to the extent such amendments or waivers are necessary or desirable to consummate the prepackaged plan. The potential impact of any such amendment or waiver on the holders of claims and interests cannot presently be foreseen, but may include a change in the economic impact of the prepackaged plan on some or all of the classes or a change in the relative rights of such classes. All holders of claims and interests will receive notice of such amendments or waivers required by applicable law and the bankruptcy court. If, after receiving sufficient acceptances, but prior to confirmation of the prepackaged plan, we seek to modify the prepackaged plan, the previously solicited acceptances will be valid only if (i) all classes of adversely affected creditors and interest holders accept the modification in writing or (ii) the bankruptcy court determines, after notice to designated parties, that such modification was de minimis or purely technical or otherwise did not adversely change the treatment of holders accepting claims and interests.

If we are unable to obtain confirmation of the prepackaged plan on a timely basis, then, in accordance with the terms of the investment agreement, the investment agreement may be terminated and we will not receive the proceeds of the CD&R investment.

If the reorganization case in connection with the prepackaged plan has been commenced and the effective date of the prepackaged plan has not occurred by a date that is no later than four weeks and ten days after the entry of the order confirming the prepackaged plan (provided, that the party seeking to so terminate has not breached in any material respect its obligations under the investment agreement in any manner that has been a proximate cause of the failure to consummate the CD&R investment on or before such date), either we or the CD&R Fund may terminate the investment agreement. The CD&R Fund also has the right to terminate the investment agreement if:

at any time after eight weeks after the filing of the prepackaged plan, the bankruptcy court has not entered the confirmation order with respect to the prepackaged plan on or prior to such date; or the bankruptcy court enters an order denying confirmation of the prepackaged plan or the confirmation order is vacated or reversed and does not become a final order within four weeks and ten days after the entry of the confirmation order. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Termination of the Investment Agreement.

The distribution of proceeds in the prepackaged plan will be delayed until after the effective date.

If we file a chapter 11 case and the prepackaged plan is confirmed, the date of the distributions to be made pursuant to the prepackaged plan will be delayed until after the effective date of the prepackaged plan. We estimate that the process of obtaining court approval of the prepackaged plan will last approximately 30 days from the date of the commencement of our chapter 11 case but it could last considerably longer. The distribution would be delayed for a minimum of 11 days thereafter and may be delayed for a substantially longer period.

In the event that the restructuring is accomplished through the confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan, the Company would need to adopt fresh start accounting, which may have a material effect on the Company's financial statements, and certain of the fair values established under fresh start reporting may differ materially from the values recorded on the Company's historical financial statements and reflected or projected in this prospectus/disclosure statement.

In the event the restructuring is accomplished through the confirmation and effectiveness of the prepackaged plan pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code, the Company would need to adopt fresh start reporting as of its emergence from chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code, in accordance with applicable accounting rules. These rules require the Company to revalue its assets and liabilities to current estimated fair value, re-establish shareholders' equity at the reorganization value determined in connection with the plan of reorganization, and record any portion of the reorganization value which cannot be attributed to specific tangible or identified intangible assets as goodwill. The adoption of fresh start accounting may have a material effect on the Company's financial statements, and certain of the fair values established under fresh start reporting may differ materially from the values recorded on the Company's historical financial statements and reflected or projected in this prospectus/disclosure statement. As a result, the Company's financial statements published for periods following its emergence from chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code will not be comparable with those prepared before that date or contained herein.

Other Risks Relating to the Company

Our industry is currently experiencing a downturn which, if sustained, could materially and adversely affect our business, liquidity and results of operations.

The United States economy is currently undergoing a period of slowdown and unprecedented volatility, which is having an adverse effect on our business. During fiscal 2008, McGraw-Hill's estimate of low-rise new construction starts for buildings less than five stories declined by 15.1% in square feet compared to 2007. This industry decline contributed to a 34% decline in our total tons shipped. During the first nine months of fiscal 2009, our external tons shipped declined 41% as compared to the same period of 2008, and McGraw-Hill is currently predicting a 35% decline in square footage for nonresidential construction activity in calendar 2009.

Continued uncertainty about current economic conditions has had a negative effect on our business and will continue to pose a risk to our business as our customers may postpone spending in response to tighter credit, negative financial news and/or declines in income or asset values, which could have a material negative effect on the demand for our products. Other factors that could influence demand include fuel and other energy costs, conditions in the nonresidential real estate markets, labor and healthcare costs, access to credit and other macroeconomic factors. From time to time, our industry has also been adversely affected in various parts of the country by declines in nonresidential construction starts, including, but not limited to, high vacancy rates, changes in tax laws affecting the real estate industry, high interest rates and the unavailability of financing. Sales of our products may be adversely affected by weakness in demand for our products within particular customer groups, or a recession in the general construction industry or particular geographic regions. These and other economic factors could have a material adverse effect on demand for our products and on our financial condition and operating results.

We cannot predict the ultimate severity or length of the current economic crisis, or the timing or severity of future economic or industry downturns. Any economic downturn, particularly in states where many of our sales are made, could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition, including potential asset impairments.

Current challenges in the credit markets may adversely affect our business and financial condition.

The financial turmoil that affected the banking system and financial markets beginning in the second half of 2007 has resulted in a tightening in the credit markets, a low level of liquidity in many financial markets, and extreme volatility in fixed income, credit, currency and equity markets. The current challenges in the credit markets have had, and may continue to have, a negative impact on our business and our financial condition. We may face significant challenges if conditions in the financial markets do not improve, including raw material shortages resulting from the insolvency of key suppliers and the inability of customers to obtain credit to finance purchases of our products. In addition, declining customer spending may result in higher levels of order cancellations than we have historically experienced, and may drive us to sell our products at lower prices, which would have an adverse effect on our margins and profitability.

If we do not consummate the restructuring by November 6, 2009, we expect to violate the financial covenants in our existing credit agreement, which would be an event of default under our existing credit agreement and could cause all of our existing indebtedness to be declared immediately due and payable.

Our existing credit agreement requires compliance with various covenants and provisions customary for agreements of this nature, including a restricted payments test, and a minimum ratio of Consolidated EBITDA (as defined in our existing credit agreement) to interest expense of 5.0 to 1 and maximum ratios of total debt and senior debt to Consolidated EBITDA of 4.0 to 1 and 2.75 to 1, respectively. Such covenants and provisions are also incorporated by reference into our swap agreement. As of August 2, 2009, we continued not to be in compliance with the required leverage, senior leverage and interest coverage ratios in our existing credit agreement, although we were in compliance with the remaining covenants.

We have obtained a waiver from the lenders under our existing credit agreement, including waivers of our financial maintenance covenants, which is effective through November 6, 2009.

If we are unable to consummate the restructuring either through the recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, the prepackaged plan, or otherwise to refinance our outstanding debt by November 6, 2009, we expect that we will fail to be in compliance with the financial covenants under our existing credit agreement as of such date. Absent an extension of the waiver, such violations will constitute an event of default under our existing credit agreement, and the lenders under our existing credit agreement could elect to declare all $293.3 million of our outstanding borrowings thereunder immediately due and payable. In the event that we do not repay such borrowings upon acceleration, the lenders under our existing credit agreement could exercise their remedies as secured creditors with respect to the collateral securing such borrowings. A failure to pay or refinance such borrowings will also result in a default under the convertible notes indenture, which could also then be declared immediately due and payable, and under our swap agreement, which could then be terminated by the counterparty thereto. If all such indebtedness, which totaled approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 and such amounts payable pursuant to the termination of the swap agreement, were to become due and payable on November 6, 2009, it would result in a material adverse effect on our financial condition, operations and debt service capabilities. As of August 2, 2009, excluding restricted cash, we had a current cash balance of approximately $105.4 million to address our liquidity needs. For a description of our non-compliance with the financial ratio covenants under our existing credit agreement, see our quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended August 2, 2009, our current reports on Form 8-K filed on May 21, 2009, July 15, 2009 and August 27, 2009, and Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference.

In such event, we will immediately need to pursue other alternatives to manage our liquidity needs, including potentially commencing a bankruptcy on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan.

If we do not consummate the restructuring by November 6, 2009, adverse capital and credit market conditions may significantly and adversely affect our ability to otherwise refinance our existing debt.

If we do not consummate the restructuring either through the recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, through the prepackaged plan, adverse capital and credit market conditions may significantly and adversely affect our ability to otherwise refinance our existing debt. Beginning in the third quarter of 2008 and continuing into 2009, the credit markets have been very volatile and have presented very unattractive terms and conditions for the few companies entering into credit transactions during that period. The credit markets have favored investment grade securities and securities issued to companies within non-cyclical industries during that period. In the event that we need to complete an alternative refinancing, lenders, if willing to provide credit, may seek more restrictive lending provisions and higher interest rates that may reduce our borrowing capacity and increase our costs. Also, given the increased stress in the financial sector, current or future lenders may become unwilling or unable to continue to advance funds under any agreements in place. We can make no assurances that we will be able to refinance our indebtedness, or that any such refinancing will be under terms that are as favorable to us as past credit agreements or the agreements as contemplated by the restructuring. If we are unable to refinance our indebtedness in a timely fashion, our cash from operations may be insufficient to meet our debt obligations. In addition, the failure to obtain sufficient financing may constrain our ability to operate or grow our business and affect our strategy.

If we do not consummate the restructuring by November 6, 2009, we will need to pursue all other alternatives to refinance our existing debt. Any refinancing of our existing debt using equity will likely be highly dilutive to our existing stockholders and could adversely affect the price of our common stock.

If we do not consummate the restructuring either through the recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, through the prepackaged plan, by November 6, 2009, we will need to pursue all other alternatives to refinance our existing debt, including an equity refinancing. At our current market valuation, any equity refinancing of our debt would be highly dilutive to our existing stockholders, which may be more or less dilutive than the restructuring. In addition, the issuance and sale of substantial amounts of common stock, or the announcement that such issuances and sales may occur, could adversely affect the market price of our common stock.

Our future operational and financial performance may vary materially from the financial projections contained in this prospectus/disclosure statement.

In order to comply with the feasibility test of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code, we have provided financial projections in this prospectus/disclosure statement. See The Prepackaged Plan Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan, The Prepackaged Plan Feasibility of the Prepackaged Plan and Unaudited Projected Consolidated Financial Information for Restructuring under the Prepackaged Plan. These projections are based upon a number of assumptions and estimates, including that the financial restructuring will be implemented in accordance with its current terms.

Financial projections are necessarily speculative in nature and one or more of the assumptions and estimates underlying these projections may prove not to be valid. We believe the assumptions and estimates underlying these projections to be reasonable, but they are by their very nature inherently uncertain and subject to significant business, economic and competitive risks and uncertainties, many of which are beyond our control to predict or mitigate. See Risk Factors Other Risks Relating to the Company. Accordingly, our financial condition and results of operations following the implementation of the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan are likely to vary significantly from those set forth in the financial projections. Consequently, the financial projections should not be regarded as a representation by us, our advisors or any other person that the results suggested by the projections will be achieved. Holders of convertible notes are cautioned to read the financial projections in conjunction with the Selected Consolidated Financial and Other Data elsewhere in this prospectus/disclosure statement, the financial statement and schedules and related convertible notes for the fiscal year ended 2008 that are attached as Exhibit 99.1 to our current report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on September 10, 2009 and the consolidated financial statements and related convertible notes for the quarters ended February 1, 2009, May 3, 2009 and August 2, 2009 contained in our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, which are incorporated by reference into this prospectus/disclosure statement, and not to place undue reliance on the financial projections in determining whether to tender your convertible notes or vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan.

We may not be able to service our debt or obtain future financing and we may be limited operationally.

We may incur additional debt from time to time to finance acquisitions, capital expenditures or for other purposes if we comply with the restrictions in our existing credit agreement, and if the restructuring is consummated, the amended credit agreement and the ABL agreement.

The debt that we carry may have important consequences to us, including the following:

our ability to obtain additional financing, if necessary, for working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions or other purposes may be impaired or additional financing may not be available on favorable terms;

we must use a portion of our cash flow to pay the principal and interest on our debt. These payments reduce the funds that would otherwise be available for our operations and future business opportunities;

a substantial decrease in our net operating cash flows could make it difficult for us to meet our debt service requirements and force us to modify our operations; and we may be more vulnerable to a downturn in our business or the economy generally.

If we cannot service our debt, we will be forced to take actions such as reducing or delaying acquisitions and/or capital expenditures, selling assets, restructuring or refinancing our debt, or seeking additional equity capital. We can give no assurance that we can do any of these things on satisfactory terms or at all.

Restrictive covenants in our existing and future credit agreements may adversely affect us.

We must comply with operating and financing restrictions in our existing credit agreement and swap agreement. These restrictions affect, and in many respects limit or prohibit, our ability to:

incur additional indebtedness;

make restricted payments, including dividends or other distributions;

incur liens;

make investments, including joint venture investments;

sell assets;

repurchase our debt, including our convertible notes, and our capital stock; and merge or consolidate with or into other companies or sell substantially all our assets.

If the term loan refinancing is consummated on the terms contemplated in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, we will need to comply with the operating and financing restrictions in such amended credit agreement in lieu of the restrictions under our existing credit agreement. We expect that these restrictions will affect and, in many respects, limit or prohibit our ability to:

incur additional indebtedness;

incur guarantee obligations;

make dividends and other restricted payments;

create liens;

make investments;

dispose of assets;

prepay other indebtedness;

make acquisitions;

engage in mergers;

Table of Contents

change the nature of our business; and engage in certain transactions with affiliates.

We may also have similar restrictions with any future debt.

We are required to make mandatory payments under our existing credit agreement upon the occurrence of certain events, including the sale of assets and the issuance of debt or equity securities, in each case subject to certain limitations and conditions set forth in our existing credit agreement. Our existing credit agreement also requires us to achieve specified financial and operating results and satisfy set financial tests relating to our leverage, interest coverage and senior debt ratios. These restrictions could limit our ability to plan for or react to market conditions or to meet extraordinary capital needs or otherwise could restrict our activities. In addition, under certain circumstances and subject to the limitations set forth in our existing credit agreement, we are required to pay down our existing term loan to the extent we generate positive cash flow each fiscal year. These restrictions could also adversely affect our ability to finance our future operations or capital needs or to engage in other business activities that would be in our interest.

If the term loan refinancing is consummated on the terms contemplated in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, such amended credit agreement will have provisions requiring us, subject to certain limitations and conditions set forth therein, to prepay the term loans thereunder upon the occurrence of certain events, including specified sales of assets, certain debt offerings and certain insurance recovery and condemnation events. In addition, if the term loan refinancing is consummated on the terms contemplated in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, under certain circumstances and subject to the limitations set forth therein, we will be required to pay down the outstanding term loans thereunder in an amount equal to 50% of annual excess cash flow (as defined in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J) for any fiscal year ending on or after October 31, 2010. These restrictions could adversely affect our ability to finance our future operations or capital needs or to engage in other business activities that would be in our interest.

In addition, if the ABL financing is consummated, we will need to comply with the operating and financing restrictions in, and make the mandatory repayments required by, the ABL agreement in addition to those described above. The terms of the ABL financing remain subject to final negotiation and completion of definitive documentation. Under the investment agreement, these terms must either (1) reflect the terms and conditions summarized in the ABL term sheet attached as Annex K or (2) be, in the CD&R Fund's sole discretion (exercised in good faith), no less favorable (as to each item and in the aggregate) to the Company and the CD&R Fund (as a prospective stockholder of the Company) than the terms and conditions summarized in the ABL term sheet and, in each case described in clauses (1) and (2), otherwise will be either (a) in the CD&R Fund's reasonable discretion (exercised in good faith), consistent with and no less favorable to the Company and the CD&R Fund (as a prospective stockholder of the Company) than the terms and conditions of asset-based revolving credit financing transactions for companies sponsored by CD&R, or (b) in the CD&R Fund's sole discretion (exercised in good faith), acceptable to the CD&R Fund.

Our businesses are seasonal, and our results of operations during our first two fiscal quarters may be adversely affected by seasonality.

The metal coil coating, metal components and engineered building systems businesses, and the construction industry in general, are seasonal in nature. Sales normally are lower in the first calendar quarter of each year compared to the other three quarters because of unfavorable weather conditions for construction and typical business planning cycles affecting construction. This seasonality adversely affects our results of operations for the first two fiscal quarters. Prolonged severe weather conditions can delay construction projects and otherwise adversely affect our business.

Price volatility and supply constraints in the steel market could prevent us from meeting delivery schedules to our customers or reduce our profit margins.

Our business is heavily dependent on the price and supply of steel. The steel industry is highly cyclical in nature, and steel prices have been volatile in recent years and may remain volatile in the future. Steel prices are influenced by numerous factors beyond our control, including general economic conditions domestically and internationally, the availability of raw materials, competition, labor costs, freight and transportation costs, production costs, import duties and other trade restrictions. Steel prices increased through most of fiscal 2008 due to cost increases in iron, ore, coke, steel scrap, ocean freight and transportation costs. However, rapidly declining demand due to the effects of the credit crisis and global economic slowdown on the construction, automotive and industrial markets has resulted in many steel manufacturers around the world announcing plans to cut production by closing plants and furloughing union and non-union workers. Steel suppliers such as U.S. Steel and Arcelor Mittal are among these manufacturers who have cut production.

We do not have any long-term contracts for the purchase of steel and normally do not maintain an inventory of steel in excess of our current production requirements. However, from time to time, we may purchase steel in advance of announced steel price increases. We can give you no assurance that steel will remain available or that prices will not continue to be volatile. While most of our contracts have escalation clauses that allow us, under certain circumstances, to pass along all or a portion of increases in the price of steel after the date of the contract but prior to delivery, we may, for competitive or other reasons, not be able to pass such price increases along. If the available supply of steel declines, we could experience price increases that we are not able to pass on to our customers, a deterioration of service from our suppliers or interruptions or delays that may cause us not to meet delivery schedules to our customers. Any of these problems could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We rely on a few major suppliers for our supply of steel, which makes us more vulnerable to supply constraints and pricing pressure, as well as the financial condition of those suppliers.

We rely on a few major suppliers for our supply of steel and may be adversely affected by bankruptcy, change in control, financial condition or other factors affecting those suppliers. During the first nine months of fiscal 2009, we purchased approximately 28% of our steel requirements from one vendor. No other vendor accounted for over 10% of our steel requirements during the first nine months of fiscal 2009. Due to unfavorable market conditions and our inventory supply requirements, during the first nine months of fiscal 2009 we purchased insignificant amounts of steel from foreign suppliers. Limiting purchases to domestic suppliers further reduces our available steel supply base. Therefore, recently announced cutbacks, a prolonged labor strike against one or more of our principal domestic suppliers, or financial or other difficulties of a principal supplier that affects its ability to produce steel, could have a material adverse effect on our operations. Furthermore, if one or more of our current suppliers is unable for financial or any other reason to continue in business or to produce steel sufficient to meet our requirements, essential supply of our primary raw materials could be temporarily interrupted and our business could be adversely affected. However, alternative sources, including foreign steel, are currently believed to be sufficient to maintain required deliveries.

We may recognize additional goodwill or other intangible asset impairment charges.

As of February 1, 2009, we estimated the market implied fair value of our goodwill was less than its carrying value by approximately $508.9 million, which was recorded as a goodwill impairment charge in the first quarter of fiscal 2009. This charge was an estimate based on the result of the preliminary allocation of fair value in the second step of the goodwill impairment test. However, due to the timing and complexity of the valuation calculations required under the second step of the test, we finalized our allocation of the fair value during the second quarter of fiscal 2009 with regard to property, plant and equipment and intangible assets in which their respective values are dependent on property, plant and equipment.

Based on our Phase III restructuring plan to close certain of our manufacturing facilities, management determined that there was an indicator to require us to perform another interim goodwill impairment test for each of our reporting units that had goodwill remaining as of May 3, 2009. As a result of this impairment indicator, we updated the first step of our goodwill impairment test in the second quarter of fiscal 2009 and determined that our carrying value exceeded our fair value at most of our reporting units with goodwill remaining in each of our operating segments, indicating that goodwill was potentially impaired. As a result, we initiated the second step of the goodwill impairment test. As of May 3, 2009, we determined the market implied fair value of our goodwill was less than its carrying value by approximately $102.5 million, which has been recorded as a goodwill impairment charge in the second quarter of fiscal 2009. The goodwill impairment charge from this triggering event was finalized in the second quarter of fiscal 2009.

In addition, a future triggering event, such as a decline in our cash flow projections, may cause additional impairments based on factors such as our stock price, projected cash flows, assumptions used, control premiums or other variables. Any future triggering event, such as declines in our cash flow projections, may also cause additional intangible asset impairments.

Failure to retain or replace key personnel could hurt our operations.

Our success depends to a significant degree upon the efforts, contributions and abilities of our senior management, plant managers and other highly skilled personnel, including our sales executives. These executives and managers have many accumulated years of experience in our industry and have developed personal relationships with our customers that are important to our business. If we do not retain the services of our key personnel or if we fail to adequately plan for the succession of such individuals, our customer relationships, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

If we are unable to enforce our intellectual property rights, or if our intellectual property rights become obsolete, our competitive position could be adversely affected.

We utilize a variety of intellectual property rights in our services. We have a number of U.S. patents, pending patent applications and other proprietary rights, including those relating to metal roofing systems, metal overhead doors, our pier and header system, our Long Bay® System and our building estimating and design system. We also have several registered trademarks and pending registrations in the United States. We view our portfolio of process and design technologies as one of our competitive strengths. We may not be able to successfully preserve these intellectual property rights in the future and these rights could be invalidated, circumvented or challenged. If we are unable to protect and maintain our intellectual property rights, or if there are any successful intellectual property challenges or infringement proceedings against us, our business and revenue could be materially and adversely affected.

We incur costs to comply with environmental laws and have liabilities for environmental cleanups.

Because we have air emissions, discharge wastewater, own and operate real property, and handle hazardous substances and solid waste, we incur costs and liabilities to comply with environmental laws and regulations and may incur significant additional costs as those laws and regulations or their enforcement change in the future or if there is an accidental release of hazardous substances into the environment. The operations of our manufacturing facilities are subject to stringent and complex federal, state and local environmental laws and regulations. These include, for example, (1) the federal Clean Air Act and comparable state laws and regulations that impose obligations related to air emissions, (2) the federal RCRA and comparable state laws that impose requirements for the storage, treatment, handling and disposal of waste from our facilities and (3) the CERCLA and comparable state laws that regulate the cleanup of hazardous substances that may have been released at properties currently or previously owned or operated by us or at locations to which we have sent waste for disposal. Failure to comply with these laws and regulations may trigger a variety of administrative, civil and criminal enforcement measures, including the assessment of monetary penalties, the imposition of remedial requirements, personal injury, property or natural resource damages claims and the issuance of orders enjoining future operations. For more information about costs we have incurred for environmental matters in recent years, see Item 3. Legal Proceedings and Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in our annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended November 2, 2008.

The industries in which we operate are highly competitive.

We compete with all other alternative methods of building construction, which may be viewed as more traditional, more aesthetically pleasing or having other advantages over our products. In addition, competition in the metal components and metal buildings markets of the building industry and in the metal coil coating segment is intense. It is based primarily on:

- quality;
- service;
- on-time delivery;
- ability to provide added value in the design and engineering of buildings;
- price;
- speed of construction in buildings and components; and
- personal relationships with customers.

We compete with a number of other manufacturers of metal components and engineered building systems and providers of coil coating services ranging from small local firms to large national firms. In addition, we and other manufacturers of metal components and engineered building systems compete with alternative methods of building construction. If these alternative building methods compete successfully against us, such competition could adversely affect us.

In addition, several of our competitors have recently been acquired by steel producers. Competitors owned by steel producers may have a competitive advantage on raw materials that we do not enjoy. Steel producers may prioritize deliveries of raw materials to such competitors or provide them with more favorable pricing, both of which could enable them to offer products to customers at lower prices or accelerated delivery schedules.

Our acquisition strategy may be unsuccessful if we incorrectly predict operating results or are unable to identify and complete future acquisitions and integrate acquired assets or businesses.

We have a history of expansion through acquisitions, and we believe that as our industry continues to consolidate, our future success will depend, in part, on our ability to complete acquisitions. Growing through acquisitions and managing that growth will require us to continue to invest in operational, financial and management information systems and to attract, retain, motivate and effectively manage our employees. Pursuing and integrating acquisitions, including our acquisition of Robertson-Ceco II Corporation, involves a number of risks, including:

- the risk of incorrect assumptions or estimates regarding the future results of the acquired business or expected cost reductions or other synergies expected to be realized as a result of acquiring the business;
- diversion of management's attention from existing operations;
- unexpected losses of key employees, customers and suppliers of the acquired business;

conforming the financial, technological and management standards, processes, procedures and controls of the acquired business with those of our existing operations; and increasing the scope, geographic diversity and complexity of our operations.

Although we expect acquisitions to be an integral part of our future growth, we can provide no assurance that we will be successful in identifying or completing any acquisitions or that any businesses or assets that we are able to acquire will be successfully integrated into our existing business. We cannot predict the effect, if any, that any announcement or consummation of an acquisition would have on the trading prices of our securities.

Our acquisition strategy subjects us to numerous risks that could adversely affect our results of operations.

Acquisitions are an essential part of our growth strategy, and our ability to acquire additional businesses or operations on favorable terms is important to our long-term growth. Depending on conditions in the acquisition market, it may be difficult or impossible for us to identify businesses or operations for acquisition, or we may not be able to make acquisitions on terms that we consider economically acceptable. Even if we are able to identify suitable acquisition opportunities, our acquisition strategy depends upon, among other things, our ability to obtain financing and, in some cases, regulatory approvals, including under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, which we refer to as the HSR Act.

Our incurrence of additional debt, contingent liabilities and expenses in connection with our acquisition of Robertson-Ceco II Corporation, or in connection with any future acquisitions, could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, our financial position and results of operations may fluctuate significantly from period to period based on whether significant acquisitions are completed in particular periods. Competition for acquisitions is intense and may increase the cost of, or cause us to refrain from, completing acquisitions.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

As widely reported, worldwide financial markets began experiencing extreme disruptions in the second half of 2007, including, among other things, extreme volatility in security prices, severely diminished liquidity and credit availability, rating downgrades of certain investments and declining valuations of others. In addition, during the same period, the U.S. economy has been contracting, as evidenced by reduced demand for a range of goods and services and a declining gross domestic product. These economic developments affect our business in a number of ways. The overall decline in economic conditions has reduced demand for our products. In addition, the tightening of credit in financial markets adversely affects the ability of our customers to obtain financing for construction projects. These factors have resulted in a decrease in, or cancellation of, orders for our products and have also affected the ability of our customers to make payments. The uncertainty surrounding future economic activity levels and diminished credit availability along with steel price volatility have resulted in significantly decreased activity levels for our business.

During the first nine months of fiscal 2009, our sales volumes were significantly below expectations, primarily in the engineered buildings and components segments. When we began fiscal 2009, McGraw-Hill predicted a 12% decline in nonresidential construction in 2009. Subsequently, McGraw-Hill revised its forecast further downward and, as of July 2009, was predicting a 35% decline in nonresidential construction activity in 2009. McGraw-Hill reported a 48% decline in the period from January 2009 through July 2009 of nonresidential square footage compared to the same prior year period and approximately a 62% decline from January 2009 through July 2009 of nonresidential construction square footage in our commercial and industrial sectors compared to the same prior year period. McGraw-Hill also reported a 41.8% reduction in low-rise nonresidential (five stories or less) square-footage starts during the first nine months of fiscal 2009 compared with the same period in fiscal 2008.

THE RESTRUCTURING

Overview

We are proposing the restructuring to address the Company's immediate need for liquidity in light of a potentially imminent default under, and acceleration of, our existing credit facility, which may occur as early as November 6, 2009 (which may, in turn, also lead to the acceleration of our other indebtedness, including under the convertible notes indenture), and the high likelihood that we will be required to repurchase the convertible notes on November 15, 2009, the first scheduled mandatory repurchase date under the convertible notes indenture.

The restructuring consists of four related transactions:

the CD&R investment, which involves a $250.0 million investment by the CD&R Fund in the form of a private placement to the CD&R Fund of 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock (see "The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment");

a retirement of all of the convertible notes (see "The Restructuring Retirement of the Convertible Notes");

the term loan refinancing, which involves the refinancing of our existing credit facility under which we will repay approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and enter into an amendment to our existing credit agreement providing for a modification of the terms and maturity of the $150.0 million balance (see "The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing The Term Loan Refinancing"); and the ABL financing, which involves our entry into an ABL agreement for a $125.0 million asset-based loan facility (see "The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing The ABL Financing").

Each of the transactions comprising the restructuring may be accomplished through either the out-of-court recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, the in-court prepackaged plan. If the restructuring is being accomplished through the recapitalization plan, the retirement of the convertible notes tendered in the exchange offer would be accomplished through this exchange offer and the refinancing of our existing credit facility would be accomplished through an amendment to our existing credit agreement. In the alternative, if the restructuring is being accomplished through the prepackaged plan, the retirement of the convertible notes as well as the refinancing of our existing credit facility would be accomplished through the prepackaged plan.

The closing of the exchange offer is conditioned on the satisfaction or, with the consent of the CD&R Fund, waiver of the minimum tender condition, which requires that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes are validly tendered and not withdrawn in this exchange offer. If the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan, we intend, but are not required, to retire any remaining convertible notes outstanding after the consummation of this exchange offer by exercising our redemption right under the convertible notes indenture on or after November 20, 2009; if we do not so exercise our redemption right, such remaining convertible notes will otherwise be retired pursuant to the terms of the convertible notes indenture.

The restructuring, if successful, will increase the Company's capital and liquidity levels and reduce the amount of its outstanding debt. Specifically, upon the completion of the restructuring, we will reduce our outstanding indebtedness by (1) using the proceeds from the CD&R investment to retire the convertible notes by either funding the aggregate cash consideration in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, by paying holders of convertible notes pursuant to the prepackaged plan and (2) using the proceeds from the CD&R investment and a portion of the Company's existing cash on hand to repay approximately $143.3 million in principal amount of term loans under our existing credit facility.

We expect our indebtedness to be reduced from approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 to approximately $150.4 million at the closing of the restructuring, consisting of $150.0 million in principal amount of term loans under the amended credit agreement and $0.4 million of our industrial revenue bond. See Capitalization.

The ABL financing contemplated by the restructuring would provide us with up to $125.0 million in liquidity subject to availability under a borrowing base for working capital purposes and future expansion. Based on discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, we expect that because of borrowing base constraints, initial availability under the ABL agreement would be substantially less than the $125.0 million commitment, and may be as low as $45.0 million. Although we have been in discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, no loan commitment letter from any such prospective lender has been received by the Company.

Assuming we are able to complete the restructuring, we expect that, for the foreseeable future, cash generated from operations, together with the proceeds of the ABL financing, will be sufficient to allow us to fund our operations, to increase working capital as necessary to support our strategy and to fund planned capital expenditures and expansions (including approximately $5.0 million expected, for the remainder of fiscal 2009).

In the event that we cannot effect the restructuring either through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan because the conditions to the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan have not been satisfied or waived, we will face an immediate liquidity crisis. Absent the consummation of the restructuring, we do not expect, and we cannot assure you, that we will have, or have access to, sufficient liquidity to meet our debt repayment/repurchase obligations, including any potential acceleration of our existing term loan indebtedness and our obligation to repurchase the convertible notes at the option of the holders thereof on November 15, 2009, the next scheduled repurchase date. Due to our non-compliance with the required leverage, senior leverage and interest coverage ratios in our existing credit agreement, our outstanding indebtedness of approximately $293.3 million thereunder may be declared immediately due and payable as early as November 6, 2009, the date of expiration of the current waiver from the lenders under our existing credit agreement. In the event that we do not repay such borrowings upon acceleration, the lenders under our existing credit agreement could exercise their remedies as secured creditors with respect to the collateral securing such borrowings. A failure to pay or refinance such borrowings will also result in a default under the convertible notes indenture, which could also then be declared immediately due and payable, and under our swap agreement, which could then be terminated by the counterparty thereto. If all such indebtedness, which totaled approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009, and such amounts payable pursuant to the termination of the swap agreement were to become due and payable on November 6, 2009, it would result in a material adverse effect on our financial condition, operations and debt service capabilities. As of August 2, 2009, excluding restricted cash, we had a current cash balance of approximately $105.4 million to address our liquidity needs. For a description of our non-compliance with the financial ratio covenants under our existing credit agreement, see our quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended August 2, 2009, our current reports on Form 8-K filed on May 21, 2009, July 15, 2009 and August 27, 2009 and Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference.

In the event that we experience a liquidity crisis as described above, it could likely result in us filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan. If we commence such a bankruptcy filing, holders of convertible notes may receive consideration that is substantially less than what is being offered under the restructuring.

Background to the Restructuring

In 2004, the Company entered into its existing senior secured credit facility and issued the convertible notes. The existing senior secured credit facility was initially comprised of a $125 million revolving credit facility and a $400 million term loan due on June 18, 2010. The revolving credit facility expired in June of 2009 and approximately $293.3 million of the term loans remain outstanding. The convertible notes mature in November 2024, but, on certain specified dates, the first of which is November 15, 2009, holders of convertible notes may, at their option, require the Company to purchase all or a portion of their convertible notes at a repurchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of such convertible notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon. The convertible notes are convertible into 24.9121 shares of common stock per $1,000 principal amount of the convertible notes (which equates to a conversion price of approximately $40.14 per share), but, in lieu of issuing all of such shares upon conversion, the Company is required to pay, in respect of a portion of such shares, cash up to the principal amount of the convertible notes and to issue shares of common stock in respect of the remaining value of the convertible notes that are so converted.

Until the middle of 2008, in light of the trading range of the common stock (which was generally at or above the conversion price for the convertible notes), the Company's results of operations and cash flow, and the general robustness of the credit markets, the Company believed that:

it was not likely that holders of convertible notes would exercise their rights to require the Company to repurchase their convertible notes in November 2009 instead of converting their convertible notes into common stock;

the Company could refinance the convertible notes on commercially acceptable terms in the event that such holders were to exercise their rights; and it was not likely that the Company would have difficulty obtaining a new credit facility or an extension of the existing credit facility on commercially acceptable terms at the expiration of the existing credit facility.

In March 2008, in light of the nearing maturities of the existing credit facility, the Company began to explore alternatives for refinancing its existing credit facility.

In the second half of 2008, the Company's business began to be severely negatively affected by the domestic and global recession and, in particular, by the dramatic reduction in new non-residential construction in the United States. In addition, financial turmoil affecting the banking system and financial markets resulted in severe tightening in the credit markets, and the Company's stock price declined dramatically, from approximately $40 per share in early August 2008, to as low as approximately $15 per share in mid-October 2008. In late August to early September 2008, in light of these events and the increasing likelihood that holders of convertible notes would elect to exercise their rights to require the Company to repurchase their convertible notes at the earliest scheduled repurchase date (November 15, 2009), management began to explore the Company's alternatives for refinancing the convertible notes and continued to explore alternatives for refinancing its existing credit facility.

In late 2008, the Company retained J.P. Morgan Securities Inc. to assist the Company in discussions with our key relationship banks and to explore a comprehensive range of potential alternatives to strengthen the Company's balance sheet and enhance our long-term financial and competitive position, including but not limited to capital raises and strategic investments. Around this time, we also began to engage in discussions with a number of private equity investors about a potential investment in the Company.

In late November 2008, a representative of CD&R contacted the Company about a potential transaction involving the Company and a private investment fund managed by CD&R, and in December 2008, CD&R and the Company entered into a customary confidentiality agreement with respect to such potential transaction. In January 2009, representatives of CD&R met with representatives of the Company's senior management team. At this meeting, Company representatives conducted a management presentation in which they described the Company's operations and business.

From early February 2009 through early March 2009, the Company and CD&R negotiated the terms of a potential significant, minority investment in the Company of $200 million, and CD&R and its representatives and advisors engaged in a due diligence investigation of the Company's business. During this period, the global financial crisis continued and the economic outlook for the non-residential construction industry in general, and for the Company specifically, continued to deteriorate, and the Company's share price fell precipitously, to below $4 per share. On March 10, 2009, the Company issued its earnings release for its fiscal quarter ended January 31, 2009, in which it reported, among other things, that the effects of worsening economic conditions on our end markets and the rapid decline in steel prices caused tonnage volume shipped in the first quarter to decline 45% sequentially and 40% year-over-year, and that as a result of substantially lower utilization rates and high inventory costs, the Company reported an operating loss for the period that was significantly increased by non-cash impairment charges. By March 2009, as a result of the worsening conditions in the capital markets, the downturn in the Company's end markets and the effect of these developments on the operating performance of and business forecast plan for the Company, the terms of the potential investment then under discussion between CD&R and the Company were no longer sufficient to address the Company's capital structure needs. In March 2009, CD&R indicated to the Company that it maintained its interest in a potential transaction involving the Company and that it would work with the Company and its representatives to revise such terms for a potential transaction that would provide a more comprehensive solution to the Company's capital needs.

In early March 2009, the Company engaged Greenhill & Co., LLC as an additional financial advisor.

In early April 2009, CD&R outlined to management the revised terms of a potential investment in the Company that would provide a more comprehensive solution to the Company's capital needs. The revised terms increased the amount of CD&R's potential investment in the Company from $200 million to $250.0 million and provided for a transaction in which a private investment fund managed by CD&R would purchase from the Company $250.0 million of preferred stock that would be convertible into 80% of the outstanding common stock of the Company on a fully diluted basis. In addition, in connection with the transaction, the private investment fund managed by CD&R would have the ability to appoint a majority of the directors of the Company and obtain other rights customarily afforded to controlling stockholders. The revised terms also indicated that the potential investment in the Company would be contingent upon the satisfaction of certain conditions aimed at addressing the Company's leverage and liquidity, including that (1) the Company would pay down a significant portion of the outstanding term loans and seek agreement of the lenders under its existing credit agreement to extend the maturity of the remaining term loans on amended terms, (2) the Company would restructure, retire or otherwise satisfy its expected redemption obligations under the convertible notes without using cash in excess of needed operating liquidity and (3) the Company would have sufficient liquidity, after taking into account the satisfaction of the Company's obligations with respect to the convertible notes, in the form of cash on the balance sheet and a committed revolver with a term commensurate with the extended remaining term loans to support the Company's business operations. CD&R indicated that a potential investment on these terms was subject to satisfactory completion of CD&R's on-going due diligence investigation and other customary conditions.

From mid-March through May 2009, JP Morgan contacted approximately six industry participants and approximately 15 financial investors and private equity firms to gauge their interest in a potential investment in, or acquisition or recapitalization of, the Company. Only a few of these contacted firms were willing to execute a confidentiality agreement and begin discussions, and ultimately none expressed any interest in pursuing a transaction other than restructuring transactions at valuation levels that implied no recovery for holders of common stock and substantial impairment for holders of convertible notes. In particular, the Company received no indications of interest competitive with the value and commitment to completion offered by CD&R.

By late April 2009, CD&R and the Company, although not yet agreeing to the final terms of the transaction, had agreed on a basis for continuing discussions regarding a CD&R investment transaction, including that:

the Company would offer to pay down approximately $143.0 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and seek agreement of the term loan lenders to extend the maturity of the remaining $150.0 million for a period of five years on amended terms;

the Company would seek the agreement of a group of lenders to commit to a new asset-backed revolving credit facility, in the amount of at least $125.0 million;

the Company would launch an exchange offer to acquire substantially all of the convertible notes in exchange for a combination of cash and equity consideration; and if the foregoing steps and transactions could be accomplished, at the concurrent closings of such transactions, CD&R would purchase from the Company $250.0 million of preferred stock, which would be convertible into 75% of the outstanding common stock on a fully diluted basis, but before giving effect to dilution in respect of any common stock required to be issued in such exchange offer to holders of convertible notes.

Accordingly, in May and June 2009, the Company and its representatives together with CD&R and its representatives engaged in discussions with the agent banks and one other lead financial institution under the Company's existing credit agreement and revolving credit facility (which were bound by confidentiality obligations to the Company and were able to receive material non-public information about the Company).

During May 2009, in light of the dramatic decline during the first two fiscal quarters ended April 30, 2009 of the Company's results of operations, including its Adjusted EBITDA (a financial measure used and defined in the existing credit agreement), due to the continuing recession and economic crisis, the Company's management became concerned that the Company would fall out of compliance with several financial covenants under the existing credit agreement, which failure would result in a default that would allow the lenders to accelerate and demand immediate repayment of the entire outstanding term loans. If the Company were unable to make the required repayment, it would also be in default under the convertible notes indenture, which could then be declared immediately due and payable. In order to obtain additional time to complete a transaction with CD&R or an alternative refinancing or restructuring, on May 20, 2009, the Company obtained a waiver from its lenders, including waiver of its financial maintenance covenants and restrictions on the Company's ability to enter into an agreement for a substantial investment in the Company. The waiver was effective through July 15, 2009, with an automatic extension to September 15, 2009, upon the signing of a definitive agreement for an investment. In the press release announcing that the Company obtained the waiver from its lenders, the Company also announced that it had made significant progress with a leading private equity firm with regard to a substantial investment in the Company, and that it was in advanced stages of negotiations with that private equity firm. At the time of the press release, although CD&R continued to indicate a high level of commitment to completing a transaction with the Company, CD&R indicated that it was unwilling to allow its name to be associated with a transaction until definitive documentation was executed, and, given the conditions to a transaction set forth in CD&R's revised proposal with respect to the Company's leverage and liquidity, CD&R indicated that it was not prepared to execute definitive documentation until more progress was made with respect to the proposed refinancing.

On June 15, 2009, without yet reaching an agreement with the lenders under the Company's existing credit agreement, the Company's revolving credit facility matured, leaving the Company with cash on hand as its only source to address its liquidity needs.

In June 2009, senior management and an industry participant, which we refer to as the Industry Participant, spoke regarding the Industry Participant's potential interest in acquiring the Company. The Industry Participant had not shown interest when originally contacted by JP Morgan in the spring of 2009, but the Industry Participant explained that, due to improvements in its own business in the intervening two months, it had determined to reconsider a possible acquisition of the Company. In early and mid-July 2009, the Company's senior management, together with Greenhill, met twice in person with senior management of the Industry Participant and its financial advisor, and throughout July 2009, the Industry Participant engaged in due diligence of the Company while it continued to evaluate whether to proceed to make an acquisition proposal for the Company.

During June 2009, negotiations continued with CD&R with respect to the final terms of the CD&R investment in the Company, and negotiations continued between the Company and its representatives, on the one hand, and a group of the Company's lenders, on the other hand, with respect to the terms of the amendment and extension to the Company's existing credit agreement that would be a condition to a CD&R investment. In addition, during this period, the Company and its representatives, together with CD&R and its representatives, began negotiations with certain of the Company's lenders with respect to a new asset-backed revolving credit facility that would be a condition to a CD&R investment. In mid-July 2009, in order to obtain additional time to complete these negotiations and discussions, the Company obtained an extension of the credit agreement waiver, which had originally been set to expire on July 15, 2009, so that it would expire on August 14, 2009, which date would automatically extend to September 15, 2009 upon the signing of a definitive agreement for an investment.

Throughout July and the first half of August 2009, negotiations continued between the Company and CD&R with respect to the investment, and between the Company and the Industry Participant with respect to a potential acquisition of the Company. In addition, during this period, (a) the Company and its representatives, together with CD&R and its representatives, continued negotiations with certain of the Company's lenders with respect to the terms of a potential new asset-backed revolving credit facility and (b) CD&R and its representatives joined the Company and its representatives to continue discussions with certain of the Company's lenders with respect to the terms of a potential amendment of the Company's existing credit agreement to amend and extend a portion of the term loans outstanding thereunder. During this time, CD&R and the Company discussed that, if the consent of 100% of the lenders under the Company's existing credit agreement could not be obtained or if the holders of substantially all of the convertible notes opted not to tender their convertible notes in an exchange offer for a combination of cash and Company common stock, then both the Company and CD&R would be willing to effect the CD&R investment and the restructuring of the Company's balance sheet through a prepackaged plan of reorganization. A prepackaged plan of reorganization would require acceptance by a smaller percentage of the lenders under our existing credit facility and holders of convertible notes, thereby increasing the likelihood that the CD&R investment and the restructuring of the Company's balance sheet could be achieved (see Summary The Prepackaged Plan).

On August 12, 2009, the Industry Participant informed the Company that it and its board of directors had determined not to make a proposal to acquire the Company. From August 12 through August 14, 2009, the Company and CD&R completed negotiation and documentation of the CD&R investment.

During the evening of August 13, 2009, the Company's board of directors met to consider the proposed investment and related transactions. The Company's board of directors had met in person and by telephone on numerous occasions over the previous weeks and months, including an in-person meeting on August 10, 2009, and had received numerous presentations from management regarding the Company's business, operations and prospects, and from management JP Morgan and Greenhill regarding the Company's search for a strategic, financial or restructuring solution to the Company's impending debt repayment obligations under the existing credit facility and the convertible notes, regarding the negotiations with and terms of the proposed transaction with CD&R and regarding possible outcomes and recovery scenarios to creditors and stockholders in the event the Company were to file for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan. Among other things, the directors considered (1) the absence of interest from any third parties other than the Industry Participant, which had withdrawn its interest, (2) the potentially imminent default under, and acceleration of, the Company's existing credit facility (which default, in turn, could lead to the potential acceleration of the Company's other indebtedness, including under the convertible notes indenture), and that such default could have occurred as early as August 15, 2009 (the expiration date of the waiver then in effect, which waiver was subsequently extended to November 6, 2009), and (3) the high likelihood that the Company would be required to repurchase the convertible notes on November 15, 2009. At the August 13, 2009 board meeting, Greenhill delivered its opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of such date, and based on and subject to, among other things, the limitations and assumptions set forth in the opinion, the consideration to be received by the Company pursuant to the proposed CD&R investment is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Company (which opinion was subsequently superseded by an updated opinion delivered to the Company's board of directors on August 31, 2009 and described below). See The Restructuring Opinion of Greenhill Relating to the CD&R Investment.

Based on the presentations and discussions at the August 13, 2009 meeting and at prior meetings, the Company's board of directors believed that, in the absence of a CD&R transaction, the Company would likely be forced to file for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan, that such a bankruptcy filing would materially adversely affect the Company's business and destroy value (see Risk Factors Risks Relating to NOT Accepting the Exchange Offer or Rejecting the Prepackaged Plan), that the CD&R transaction would result in the Company's receipt of $250.0 million of additional capital and would create significant value for the Company, its creditors and shareholders, and that the CD&R transaction would create significantly greater value than would be created in a bankruptcy case with respect to a filing on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan or would likely be created in a restructuring in which either no new outside capital would be provided, or in which existing creditors would be required to contribute new capital. Following further discussion, the Company's board of directors unanimously approved the original investment agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. During the evening of August 13, 2009, the Company, CD&R and their respective outside legal counsels finalized the original investment agreement, and in the early morning of August 14, 2009, the parties executed the original investment agreement and announced the transaction (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment), including the Company's intention to commence an exchange offer to acquire the convertible notes in exchange for $500 in cash and 125 shares of Common Stock for each $1,000 in principal amount of convertible notes tendered and not withdrawn. On a pro forma basis, after taking into account the common stock that would be issued to holders of convertible notes under the terms of the proposed exchange offer, the CD&R Fund's ownership of the Company would be approximately 71.5% while holders of convertible notes would receive, in the aggregate, shares of common stock representing approximately 15.0% of the Company.

On August 21, 2009, the Company obtained another extension, dated as of August 20, 2009, of the credit agreement waiver to November 6, 2009, pursuant to which, in addition to waiving certain of the Company's financial covenants, the term loan lenders waived any default or event of default resulting from the company's execution of the original investment agreement and/or arising from the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock.

After the announcement of the execution of the original investment agreement, the Company began negotiations with representatives of a group of existing holders of convertible notes to increase the proposed consideration in the exchange offer.

As a result of these negotiations, on August 26, 2009, the Company and the group of holders of convertible notes reached consensus on possible amended exchange offer terms provided that holders of convertible notes representing more than two-thirds of the outstanding convertible notes would execute a lock-up and voting agreement committing such noteholders to tender their convertible notes in the amended exchange offer. Such possible amended terms contemplated that the CD&R Fund would continue to invest $250.0 million in the Company but its pro forma ownership of the Company would be approximately 68.5%, and holders of convertible notes would receive $500 cash and 390 shares of common stock for each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes tendered in such proposed exchange offer, representing, in the aggregate, approximately 24.5% of the ownership of the Company on a pro forma basis. During the period of negotiations with the noteholder group, the Company also engaged in negotiations with the CD&R Fund regarding the amendments to the investment agreement that would be necessitated by the terms under negotiation with the noteholder group. CD&R indicated a willingness to proceed on the basis of the terms negotiated by the Company with the noteholder group. On August 27, 2009, the Company issued a press release announcing its entry into negotiations with the CD&R Fund and the group of noteholders on the basis of such possible amended terms. On August 28, 2009, the Company and the CD&R Fund executed an amendment to the investment agreement to extend the date by which the Company would be obligated to commence the exchange offer. Negotiations continued from August 25, 2009 to August 30, 2009.

On the evening of August 31, 2009, the Company's board of directors met to consider the proposed amended terms. Among other things, the directors weighed the costs and benefits of the increased certainty of success of the restructuring that a lock-up and voting agreement would provide against the reduced ownership of the Company by the current stockholders on a pro forma basis. At the August 31, 2009 board meeting, Greenhill delivered a revised opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of such date, and based on and subject to, among other things, the limitations and assumptions set forth in the opinion, the consideration to be received by the Company pursuant to the revised proposed CD&R investment is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Company. This opinion superseded the opinion of Greenhill previously delivered to the Company's board of directors on August 13, 2009.

Following discussions, the Company's board of directors unanimously approved the amended terms contemplated by amendment no. 2 to the investment agreement (see Annex E). In addition, the Audit Committee met and redetermined that the delay necessary in securing stockholder approval prior to the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock and of the common stock pursuant to the exchange offer would seriously jeopardize the financial viability of the Company and approved the reliance by the Company on the exception to the NYSE's Shareholder Approval Policy contained in Paragraph 312.05 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual. The Audit Committee had previously determined the same in connection with the execution of the original investment agreement.

On August 31, 2009, (1) the Company and the CD&R Fund executed amendment no. 2 to the investment agreement which, among other things, amended the terms of the exchange offer contemplated by the original investment agreement to provide that holders of convertible notes would receive $500 cash and 390 shares of common stock for each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes tendered in the exchange offer, and (2) concurrently with such execution, the Company and a group of noteholders representing more than 75% of the outstanding convertible notes executed the lock-up and voting agreement. Certain of the members of the group of noteholders also hold term loans and other obligations under our existing credit agreement and agreed to support the term loan refinancing as part of the lock-up and voting agreement. Subsequent to the execution of the lock-up agreement, additional holders of notes became party to the lock-up agreement, increasing the aggregate amount of convertible notes subject thereto to 79% of the outstanding convertible notes.

Reasons for the Restructuring

The Company is pursuing the restructuring in order to address its imminent debt repayment and repurchase obligations. We are currently facing a potentially imminent default under, and acceleration of, our existing credit facility, which may occur as early as November 6, 2009 (which may, in turn, also lead to a default under, and acceleration of, our other indebtedness, including under the convertible notes indenture). In addition, there is a high likelihood that we will be required to repurchase the convertible notes on November 15, 2009, the first scheduled mandatory repurchase date under the convertible notes indenture. In short, we may be required to repay or repurchase $473.7 million of our outstanding indebtedness by the middle of November. As of August 2, 2009, the Company had only approximately $105.4 million of unrestricted cash with which to satisfy these obligations, and no realistic ability to obtain the necessary additional funds in the capital markets.

We expect that the restructuring, if successful, will increase the Company's capital and liquidity levels and reduce the amount of our outstanding debt. Specifically, upon the completion of the restructuring, we expect that our indebtedness would be reduced from approximately $473.7 million as of August 2, 2009 to approximately $150.4 million at the closing of the restructuring (consisting of $150.0 million in principal amount of term loans under the amended credit agreement and $0.4 million of our industrial revenue bond).

In addition, the ABL financing contemplated by the restructuring will provide us with liquidity in the range of $45.0 million to $125.0 million (based upon our borrowing base from time to time), for working capital purposes and future expansion.

Assuming we are able to complete the restructuring, we expect that, for the foreseeable future, cash generated from operations, together with the proceeds of the ABL financing, will be sufficient to allow us to service our debt, fund our operations, increase working capital as necessary to support our strategy and to fund planned capital expenditures and expansions (including approximately $5 million expected for the remainder of fiscal 2009).

If we do not complete the restructuring either through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, we will face an immediate liquidity crisis. If we do not complete the restructuring, we do not expect, and we cannot assure you, that we will have, or have access to, sufficient liquidity (1) to meet our debt repayment/repurchase obligations, including any potential acceleration of our existing credit facility, which may occur as early as November 6, 2009 (which may, in turn, also lead to a default under, and acceleration of, our other indebtedness, including under the convertible notes indentures) and (2) to meet our obligation to repurchase the convertible notes at the option of the holders thereof on November 15, 2009, the next scheduled repurchase date.

In such event, we will have an immediate need to pursue other alternatives to manage our liquidity needs, including potentially filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan. Based upon our efforts to identify alternatives to the restructuring described above under "The Restructuring Background to the Restructuring," we do not expect, and there can be no assurance, that any alternative to such bankruptcy filing would be found.

We believe that a bankruptcy (other than the prepackaged plan) could result in recoveries to the companies creditors and equity holders substantially below those expected to result from the restructuring or prepackaged plan, and could materially adversely affect our business and prospects.

We therefore determined to pursue this restructuring because we believed that it was superior to any existing alternative.

Opinion of Greenhill Relating to the CD&R Investment

On August 31, 2009, Greenhill rendered its oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing, to our board of directors and which addressed, subject to the limitations and assumptions set forth in the opinion, only the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the Company of the consideration to be paid by the CD&R Fund for the Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the investment agreement. GREENHILL'S OPINION AND ANALYSIS DO NOT ADDRESS ANY OTHER ASPECT OF THE RESTRUCTURING, INCLUDING THE FAIRNESS OF THIS EXCHANGE OFFER AND THE CONSIDERATION TO BE PAID TO THE HOLDERS OF CONVERTIBLE NOTES PURSUANT TO THIS EXCHANGE OFFER, AND DO NOT

CONSTITUTE RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO WHETHER OR NOT A HOLDER OF CONVERTIBLE NOTES OR ANY OTHER PERSON SHOULD TENDER ITS CONVERTIBLE NOTES IN THIS EXCHANGE OFFER OR ACCEPT OR REJECT THE PREPACKAGED PLAN. GREENHILL'S OPINION AND ANALYSIS WERE NOT PREPARED WITH A VIEW TOWARDS PUBLIC DISCLOSURE, AND GREENHILL BELIEVES ITS OPINION AND ANALYSIS ARE OF LITTLE OR NO RELEVANCE TO A DECISION BY A HOLDER OF CONVERTIBLE NOTES OR ANY OTHER PERSON WHETHER OR NOT TO TENDER ITS CONVERTIBLE NOTES IN THIS EXCHANGE OFFER OR TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THE PREPACKAGED PLAN.

Based upon the express limitations contained in its opinion, Greenhill believes that holders of convertible notes and other persons (other than our board of directors) are not entitled to rely upon or otherwise use its opinion or analysis for any purpose, and Greenhill would intend to assert the substance of the noted limitations on use against any holder of convertible notes or other such person seeking to or otherwise claiming a right to rely upon or otherwise use such opinion or analysis.

Greenhill is not aware of any controlling court decision addressing the validity of such a claim. It is possible that holders of convertible notes or other persons could seek to assert a claim that they may rely upon or otherwise use the opinion or analysis, which Greenhill would intend to oppose. The validity of any such claim, if asserted, could only be finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. The availability of such a state-law defense would have no effect on the rights and responsibilities of Greenhill under the federal securities laws. Subject to the foregoing, Greenhill has not objected to the inclusion of its opinion or the summary of its analysis as part of this prospectus/disclosure statement.

The foregoing factors should be taken into account in deciding whether Greenhill's opinion and analysis should be considered by readers of this document.

The full text of the written opinion of Greenhill, dated August 31, 2009, which sets forth, among other things, the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limits on the opinion and the review undertaken in connection with rendering the opinion, is attached as Annex L to this prospectus/disclosure statement and is incorporated herein by reference. Greenhill's opinion is for the information of our board of directors and was rendered to our board of directors in connection with their consideration of the CD&R investment. The opinion may not be used for any other purpose without Greenhill's prior written consent. Greenhill was not requested to opine as to, and Greenhill's opinion does not in any manner address, (1) the underlying business decision to proceed with or effect the CD&R investment or the restructuring, (2) any of the financial or other terms of the restructuring or (3) any plan of reorganization under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. Greenhill expressed no opinion as to the fairness of any portion or aspect of the CD&R investment or the restructuring to the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of the Company, the fairness of any portion or aspect of the CD&R investment or the restructuring to any one class or group of the Company's security holders relative to any other class or group of the Company's security holders, or the solvency, creditworthiness or fair value of the Company under any applicable laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance or similar matters. In particular, Greenhill expressed no opinion as to the prices at which any publicly-traded shares of common stock of the Company will trade at any future time. Greenhill's opinion was approved by a fairness committee. The opinion is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to the members of our board of directors as to whether they should approve the CD&R investment or the investment agreement.

In giving its opinion, Greenhill assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of all information that was either publicly available or supplied or otherwise made available to it by management of the Company for the purposes of its opinion. Greenhill further relied upon the assurances of the management of the Company that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information inaccurate or misleading. With respect to financial forecasts, projections and other data furnished or otherwise provided to it, Greenhill assumed that they were reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best then currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of the Company as to those matters, and Greenhill relied on such forecasts and data in arriving at its opinion. Greenhill expressed no opinion with respect to such financial projections and data or the assumptions upon which they were based. In addition, Greenhill did not make any independent appraisal of the assets or liabilities of the Company, nor was it furnished with any such valuations or appraisals. At the direction of our board of directors, Greenhill based its review of the potential recoveries by the Company's stockholders and creditors in a bankruptcy of the Company on those implied by management's projections under various scenarios. Greenhill has assumed that the CD&R investment will be consummated in accordance with the terms set forth in the final, executed investment agreement, the terms of which it has assumed are identical in all material respects to the draft investment agreement reviewed by Greenhill, without any waiver of any material terms or conditions set forth in the investment agreement, and that the CD&R investment and restructuring will be effectuated as contemplated therein. Greenhill has assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy of the representations and warranties contained in the investment agreement and that no indemnification payments will be made by the Company under the investment agreement. Greenhill has further assumed that all material governmental, regulatory and other consents and approvals necessary for the consummation of the CD&R investment will be obtained without any effect on the Company, the CD&R investment or the contemplated benefits of the CD&R investment in any way meaningful to its analysis. Greenhill's opinion was necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to it as of, the date of the opinion. It should be understood that subsequent developments may affect its opinion, but Greenhill does not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm its opinion.

The following is a summary of the material financial and comparative analyses delivered by Greenhill to the Company's board of directors in connection with rendering its opinion described above. The summary set forth below does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Greenhill, nor does the order of analyses described represent relative importance or weight given to those analyses by Greenhill. Some of the summaries of the financial analyses include information presented in tabular format. The tables must be read together with the full text of each summary and are not alone a complete description of Greenhill's financial analyses.

Comparable Company Analysis

Greenhill reviewed revenue, adjusted equity value and enterprise value as multiples of estimated earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, which we refer to as EBITDA, commonly referred to as trading multiples, of the Company and selected companies in the building products sector and selected steel producers with businesses deemed comparable to the Company for the purposes of this analysis. The companies reviewed by Greenhill are listed below:

Building Products

Kingspan Group
Acuity Brands

Steel Producers with Businesses Comparable to the Company

Bluescope Steel

Armstrong World Industries
Worthington Industries
Simpson Manufacturing
Interface
Gibraltar Industries
Apogee
Quanex Building Products

Table of Contents

Although no company is directly comparable to the Company, Greenhill selected these companies because it believed that they had characteristics that were instructive for purposes of its analysis. Greenhill reviewed the trading multiples for the selected companies based upon publicly available I/B/E/S estimates.

Based upon these multiples, and applying its professional judgment, Greenhill selected a range of EBITDA trading multiples from 7.0x to 9.5x and applied this range to management's forecasted EBITDA for each of 2009 and 2010. This analysis indicated the following ranges of enterprise values, equity values and equity values per share for the Company:

Comparable Company	Current Trading								Enterprise Valuation Range							Equity Value per Share Range(2)
	Multiples				EBITDA	Valuation Range			Net Debt(1)	Equity Value Range			Share Range(2)
	Low	-	High	Low		-	High	Low		-	High	Low	-	High
Methodology	($ in millions, except per share data)
EBITDA	7.0x	-	9.5x	$ 36	$ 253	-	$ 343	$ 375	$ (122)	-	$ (32)	$ (6.11)	-	$ (1.00)
EBITDA	7.0x	-	9.5x	$ 36	$ 249	-	$ 337	$ 375	$ (126)	-	$ (37)	$ (6.31)	-	$ (1.00)

(1) Based on $474 million debt outstanding less $99 million in projected cash at November 1, 2009.

(2) Based on 20.0 million fully-diluted shares outstanding.

Greenhill believes that the comparable company analysis is of little or no relevance to a decision by a holder of convertible notes whether or not to tender its convertible notes in this exchange offer or accept or reject the prepackaged plan because, given the Company's liquidity crisis and limited alternatives, Greenhill does not believe that the range of enterprise values implied by the analysis is likely to be a meaningful indicator of potential recoveries by any holder of convertible notes. In addition, Greenhill's opinion did not address, and the comparable company analysis should not be relied upon as indicating, the price at which the Company's common stock will trade at any future time.

Comparable Transaction Analysis

Using publicly available information, Greenhill reviewed selected precedent transactions with a transaction value between $200.0 million and $1.5 billion announced since 2000 by companies in the building products and steel producers sector. Specifically, Greenhill reviewed the following transactions:

Building Products Transactions

05/30/2002	Birmingham Steel	Nucor Corp.
05/25/2000	Steelscape	IMSA Acero

For each of the selected precedent transactions, Greenhill analyzed the enterprise value of the target company expressed as a multiple of EBITDA and revenue for the last twelve months. Based upon these multiples and applying its professional judgment, Greenhill selected a range of EBITDA transaction multiples from 7.5x to 9.0x and applied this range to management's forecasted EBITDA for each of 2009 and 2010. This analysis indicated the following ranges of enterprise values, equity values and equity value per shares for the Company:

Comparable Transaction	Transaction Multiples			Enterprise Valuation Range				Equity Value Range			Equity Value per Share Range
	Low	-	High	EBITDA	Low	-	High	Net Debt(1)	Low	-	High	Low	-	High
($ in millions, except per share data)
EBITDA	7.5x	-	9.0x	$ 36	$ 271	-	$ 325	$ 375	$ (104)	-	$ (50)	$ (5.21)	-	$ (1.50)
EBITDA	7.5x	-	9.0x	$ 36	$ 266	-	$ 320	$ 375	$ (109)	-	$ (55)	$ (5.43)	-	$ (1.50)

(1) Based on $474 million debt outstanding less $99 million in projected cash at November 1, 2009.

(2) Based on 20 million fully-diluted shares outstanding.

Greenhill believes that the comparable transaction analysis is of little or no relevance to a decision by a holder of convertible notes whether or not to tender its convertible notes in this exchange offer or accept or reject the prepackaged plan because, given the Company's liquidity crisis and limited alternatives, Greenhill does not believe that the range of enterprise values implied by the analysis is likely to be a meaningful indicator of potential recoveries by a holder of convertible notes. In addition, Greenhill's opinion did not address, and the comparable transaction analysis should not be relied upon as indicating, the price at which the Company's common stock will trade at any future time.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Using a discounted cash flow methodology, Greenhill calculated the present values of the estimated future cash flows for the Company implied by management's forecast. In this analysis, Greenhill assumed a weighted average cost of capital of between 11.0% and 13.0% and EBITDA terminal multiples of between 6.0x and 8.0x. While Greenhill's discounted cash flow analysis implied a range of per share equity values of the Company of $18.48 to $32.14 and a range of enterprise values of the Company of $745 million to $1,018 million, Greenhill noted that such a traditional discounted cash flow analysis was of little utility because, among other things: (1) the analysis implicitly assumed that the Company's near-term liquidity crisis could be averted, the Company's existing stockholders would survive the near-term liquidity crisis and retain an equity interest, and the Company had no other actionable alternatives to the CD&R investment and restructuring other than filing for bankruptcy protection on terms other than as contemplated by the prepackaged plan; (2) the analysis was highly sensitive to the scale and timing of a recovery in the non-residential construction market, which was very uncertain; (3) the vast majority of the value in the discounted cash flow analysis was in the terminal value, which caused the total value to be very sensitive to small changes in terminal value and discount rate assumptions; and (4) a traditional weighted average cost of capital analysis did not reflect financing terms then-available to the Company. Greenhill noted the sensitivity of the calculated present values to potential delays in the recovery of the non-residential construction market by up to four years as well as to blended market costs of capital ranging from 15% to 25%, which costs of capital might be more indicative of the Company's true cost of capital given its liquidity position. Greenhill believes that these considerations make the discounted cash flow analysis of little or no relevance to a decision by a holder of convertible notes whether or not to tender its convertible notes in this exchange offer or to accept or reject the prepackaged plan.

Illustrative Bankruptcy Recovery Analysis

Greenhill reviewed the illustrative bankruptcy recoveries by the Company's stockholders and creditors implied by management's projections under various scenarios. Greenhill applied EBITDA multiples of 7.0x to 9.5x to forecasted EBITDA for each of 2009 and 2010 to derive an implied enterprise value range for the Company. The implied enterprise value range for 2009 and 2010 ranged from $253 million to $343 million and from $249 million to $337 million, respectively. Greenhill then subtracted the amount of specified secured claims (the existing credit facility and industrial revenue bonds) and unsecured claims (the convertible notes), which resulted in potential remaining equity value per existing share ranging from a negative $11.26 through a negative $6.54 (i.e., no recovery). In performing this analysis, Greenhill assumed that the Company's cash on hand would be required to pay bankruptcy expenses and for working capital needs and would therefore be unavailable to pay creditors.

Based on such analysis, Greenhill observed that the enterprise valuation of the Company would have to exceed 13.1x and 13.3x forecasted 2009 EBITDA and forecasted 2010 EBITDA, respectively, for current stockholders to attain any recovery under this analysis.

Greenhill's illustrative bankruptcy recovery analysis supported Greenhill's conclusion that in a standalone restructuring through bankruptcy, stockholders of the Company would be unlikely to retain any meaningful value. While the illustrative bankruptcy recovery analysis examined, among other things, illustrative potential recoveries for the holders of convertible notes, Greenhill did not conduct any independent valuation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities of the Company, nor was Greenhill furnished with any such appraisals, and at the Company's direction Greenhill based its analysis of the potential recoveries by the Company's stockholders and creditors in a bankruptcy on those implied by management's financial forecast. While Greenhill believes that the illustrative bankruptcy recovery analysis was an appropriate and reasonable way to generally analyze the nature of the potential stockholders' recoveries in a bankruptcy of the Company, Greenhill believes that an analysis intended to provide reasonable estimates of potential creditor recoveries in a bankruptcy would be substantially more complex and would require, among other things, a valuation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities of the Company, and thus Greenhill believes that the illustrative bankruptcy recovery analysis is of little or no relevance to a decision by a holder of convertible notes whether or not to tender its convertible notes in this exchange offer or accept or reject the prepackaged plan. In this regard, Greenhill notes that in The Prepackaged Plan Liquidation Analysis the Company has set forth a liquidation analysis that is an estimate by the Company of the proceeds that may be generated as a result of the hypothetical chapter 7 liquidation of the Company's assets.

The consideration for the CD&R investment was determined through arm's length negotiations between the Company and the CD&R Fund and was approved by the Company's board of directors. Greenhill provided advice to the Company during these negotiations. Greenhill did not, however, recommend any specific amount of consideration to the Company or its board of directors, that any specific amount of consideration constituted the only appropriate consideration for the CD&R investment or that the terms of the CD&R investment are the most beneficial terms from the Company's perspective that could under the circumstances be negotiated among the parties to the CD&R investment.

Our board of directors selected Greenhill as the Company's financial advisor based on its qualifications and expertise in providing financial advice to acquirors, target companies and their respective boards of directors in merger and acquisition transactions. During the two years preceding the date of the opinion Greenhill was not engaged by, performed any services for or received any compensation from the Company or any other parties to the investment agreement (other than any amounts that were paid to it under the letter agreement pursuant to which Greenhill was retained as a financial advisor to the Company in connection with the CD&R investment) and at the date of the opinion Greenhill had no material relationships mutually understood to be contemplated with such parties. The Company has paid Greenhill a fee for delivering its opinion to the Company's board of directors, in addition to a monthly advisory fee and certain contingent transaction fees, which fees will become payable upon closing of the restructuring. As a result, a substantial portion of Greenhill's compensation is dependent upon the successful consummation of the CD&R investment. In addition, the Company has agreed to reimburse Greenhill for travel and other reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with, or arising out of Greenhill's activities under or contemplated by its engagement, including all reasonable fees and disbursement of its legal counsel, consultants and other advisors, and to indemnify Greenhill and its affiliates for certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws, arising out of its engagement. Greenhill is also acting as the dealer-manager in connection with this exchange offer, for which it will be reimbursed for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and be indemnified for certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws, and for which it may receive an additional fee.

Greenhill's opinion was one of many factors considered by the Company's board of directors in evaluating the CD&R investment and restructuring and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the Company's board of directors with respect to the CD&R investment and restructuring.

Description of the CD&R Investment

On August 14, 2009, we entered into an investment agreement with the CD&R Fund, which we refer to as the original investment agreement, which was subsequently amended by (1) an amendment, dated as of August 28, 2009, and (2) an amendment no. 2, dated as of August 31, 2009, which we refer to as the amendments. The term "investment agreement" refers to the investment agreement, as amended. Pursuant to the investment agreement, subject to the terms and conditions therein, the Company agreed to sell, and the CD&R Fund agreed to purchase, for a total purchase price of $250.0 million, an aggregate of 250,000 shares of a new class of our preferred stock, par value $1.00 per share, to be designated the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock, at a price of $1,000 per share.

The Investment Agreement

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the investment agreement. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the investment agreement, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The original investment agreement is included as Annex C and the amendments are included as Annex D and Annex E hereto, each of which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the investment agreement in its entirety.

The investment agreement has been included to provide investors and security holders with information regarding its terms. It is not intended to provide any other factual information about the Company, the CD&R Fund, or CD&R or their respective subsidiaries and affiliates. The investment agreement contains representations and warranties by the Company, on the one hand, and by the CD&R Fund, on the other hand, each made solely for the benefit of the other. In the investment agreement, the assertions embodied in the representations and warranties are qualified by information in a confidential disclosure letter delivered in connection with the signing of the original investment agreement. The disclosure letter contains information that has been included in the Company's general prior public disclosures, as well as additional potentially nonpublic information. While the Company does not believe that the disclosure letter contains information required to be publicly disclosed under the securities laws other than information that has already been so disclosed, the disclosure letter contains information that modifies, qualifies and creates exceptions to the representations and warranties set forth in the investment agreement. Moreover, certain representations and warranties in the investment agreement were made as of a specified date, may be subject to a contractual standard of materiality different from what might be viewed as material to stockholders, or may have been used for the purpose of allocating risk between the Company, on the one hand, and the CD&R Fund, on the other hand. Accordingly, the representations and warranties in the investment agreement should not be relied on by any persons as characterizations of the actual state of facts about the Company or the CD&R Fund at the time they were made or otherwise. In addition, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties may change after the date of the original investment agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in the Company's public disclosures.

not been satisfied or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived and, subject to the termination of the investment agreement, we are required to extend this exchange offer if it expires before the registration statement of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part is declared effective.

In the event that the conditions to the recapitalization plan are satisfied, including the conditions to this exchange offer (which includes the minimum tender condition), the Company has agreed to accept for exchange all convertible notes validly tendered in this exchange offer.

Commencement of a Reorganization Case in Connection with the Prepackaged Plan Covenant

Under the investment agreement, we and the CD&R Fund have agreed that in the event that the conditions to the recapitalization plan are not satisfied or waived, we will seek to accomplish the restructuring through the prepackaged plan. Specifically, we agreed, among other things:

to use our reasonable best efforts to obtain acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes; and if the conditions to this exchange offer are not satisfied or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund waived, by the expiration date, but we have received, as of the expiration date, acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes:

(1) by either the CD&R Fund or the Company, if:

by November 12, 2009:

in each case, other than with respect to the prepackaged plan proceeding;

any bankruptcy proceeding has been commenced against any of the Company and our subsidiaries other than the prepackaged plan proceeding and such bankruptcy proceeding has not been dismissed within 30 days of such commencement;

confirming the prepackaged plan is vacated or reversed and does not become a final order within four weeks and ten days after the entry of such confirmation order; or

(8) by the mutual written consent of the CD&R Fund and the Company.

If the investment agreement is terminated and the CD&R investment is abandoned, except for the provisions relating to the indemnity obligations of the Company in connection with the CD&R losses for execution and performance of the investment agreement (see Indemnity below), confidentiality, the provisions described in Termination Fees; Transaction Expenses Following Termination below, the provisions relating to amendment, and waivers and certain other miscellaneous provisions in the investment agreement, the investment agreement forthwith becomes void and there will be no liability on the part of either party thereto.

Termination Fees; Transaction Expenses Following Termination

In the event the investment agreement is terminated for any reason (other than in circumstances described in clause (8) above under Termination of the Investment Agreement and other than solely as a result of the failure of the parties to obtain the clearance or approval under the HSR Act) and the CD&R Fund has not taken any action, or failed to take any action, in breach of the investment agreement that proximately caused the event, condition or passage of time giving rise to the termination of the investment agreement or the failure of the closing to occur, then we will reimburse the CD&R Fund for all of its transaction expenses up to $9.5 million in the aggregate (net of any transaction expenses already paid no later than two business days after submission of reasonable supporting documentation of such expenses).

In the event that the investment agreement is terminated:

in circumstances described in clause (4) or clause (6) above under Termination of the Investment Agreement ; or

in circumstances described in clause (1) above under Termination of the Investment Agreement, and (a) within 12 months of the date of termination, the Company enters into a definitive agreement with respect to, or consummates, a transaction contemplated by any qualifying transaction (as described below), and (b) at the time of the termination, (x) the CD&R Fund is not in material breach of any of its material covenants and agreements contained in the investment agreement or its representations and warranties contained in the investment agreement and (y) the following conditions have been satisfied:

the expiration or termination of any waiting period required to consummate the CD&R investment under the HSR Act and the Austrian Act (each, as described on the front cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement);

the absence of (1) any provision of any applicable law and any issued injunction, judgment, decree or other order that prohibits the closing, that restricts the CD&R Fund or its affiliates from owning, voting, or converting or exercising any Series B convertible preferred stock in accordance with its terms, or exercising the CD&R Fund's consent rights contemplated by the stockholders agreement and (2) any lawsuit by a governmental entity seeking to effect any of the foregoing; or in circumstances described in clause (3), clause (5) or clause (7) above under Termination of the Investment Agreement, and at the time of such termination, the CD&R Fund is not in material breach of any of its material covenants and agreements contained in the investment agreement or its representations and warranties contained in the investment agreement, and within 12 months of the date of termination, the Company enters into a definitive agreement with respect to, or consummates, a transaction contemplated by any qualifying transaction; then the Company will pay to the CD&R Fund a termination fee in an amount equal to $8.25 million and the Company will reimburse the CD&R Fund for up to $9.5 million of its expenses relating to the restructuring (net of any amounts previously paid or reimbursed).

A qualifying transaction means any company transaction proposal (see No Solicitation Covenant below), which, in the case of a company transaction proposal that is a restructuring, reorganization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction, is a superior lender proposal (as described in No Solicitation Covenant below, without giving regard to the parenthetical in such definition).

In addition, during the same period, except as expressly permitted or required by the transaction documents, without the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, neither we nor any of our subsidiaries:

will take any action that, if taken after the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock:

would require the written consent of or vote by holders of such Series B convertible preferred stock under the certificate of designations (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Voting Rights) or would require the consent of the CD&R Fund and its affiliates pursuant to the stockholders agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Consent Rights);

We also agree not to declare or pay any dividend or distribution on any of our securities on or prior to the closing.

No Solicitation Covenant

We have agreed to cease any discussions or negotiations with any parties that may be ongoing with respect to a company transaction proposal (as described below). In addition, after the execution of the investment agreement, we agreed not to, and not to authorize or permit our subsidiaries to:

solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage any inquiry with respect to, or the making, submission or announcement of, any proposal that constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to a company transaction proposal; engage in discussions regarding a company transaction proposal with any person, except to notify such person of the restrictions in the investment agreement;

approve, endorse or recommend any company transaction proposal;

propose or agree to do any of the foregoing.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if at any time prior to the closing, we receive a bona fide, written and unsolicited company transaction proposal and our board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with outside counsel and our independent financial advisor, that such company transaction proposal constitutes a superior proposal (as described below) or is reasonably likely to result in a superior proposal, the Company may:

furnish nonpublic information to the person making such company transaction proposal, if:

prior to so furnishing such nonpublic information, we have (1) advised the CD&R Fund of the receipt of the company transaction proposal and made specified disclosures to the CD&R Fund regarding the terms and conditions of such company transaction proposal and (2) have received from such person making the company transaction proposal a customarily restrictive confidentiality agreement; and all such nonpublic information has previously been provided to the CD&R Fund or is provided to the CD&R Fund prior to or substantially contemporaneously with the time it is provided to the person making such company transaction proposal; and engage in discussions or negotiations with such person with respect to the company transaction proposal.

From 12:00 midnight, New York City time, on October 7, 2009 until the later of (1) any scheduled expiration date on which all of the conditions to this exchange offer have been satisfied (or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived) or acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes have been received and (2) the date on which all conditions to the CD&R investment have been satisfied (or in our reasonable judgment, such conditions are reasonably certain to be satisfied by the outside date (see Termination of the Investment Agreement above)), at any time at which (a) any of the conditions to this exchange offer has not been satisfied (or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived), acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes have not been received or any other condition to the CD&R investment has not been satisfied (and, in the Company's reasonable judgment, there is material uncertainty as to whether any such condition will be satisfied by the outside date) and (b) we are not in material breach of any of our material covenants and agreements contained in the investment agreement, then we may:

propose a contingency plan proposal (as described below) to any person that, to our knowledge, is not considering making, and, in the case of a holder of convertible notes or a lender under our existing credit agreement, has not since April 1, 2009 made, a company transaction proposal other than a contingency plan proposal;

participate in negotiations and engage in discussions regarding a contingency plan proposal with, or furnish nonpublic information relating to a contingency plan proposal to, any person that, to our knowledge, is not considering making, and, in the case of a holder of convertible notes or a lender under our existing credit agreement, has not since April 1, 2009 made, a company transaction proposal other than a contingency plan proposal; or propose or agree to do any of the foregoing;

so long as:

prior to furnishing any nonpublic information, we have (i) advised the CD&R Fund of the receipt of the contingency plan proposal and made specified disclosures to the CD&R Fund regarding the terms and conditions of such contingency plan proposal; and (ii) have received from such person making a customarily restrictive confidentiality agreement; and all such nonpublic information has previously been provided to the CD&R Fund or is provided to the CD&R Fund prior to or substantially contemporaneously with the time it is provided to the person making such contingency plan proposal or to whom such contingency plan proposal has been made.

We have agreed (1) to promptly advise the CD&R Fund of the receipt of any request for nonpublic information relating to the Company or any of our subsidiaries other than requests for information not reasonably expected to be related to a company transaction proposal and (2) to keep the CD&R Fund fully informed of the status of any company transaction proposal or contingency plan proposal in connection with which we have provided nonpublic information.

A company transaction proposal means any inquiry, proposal or offer from any person or group of persons other than the CD&R Fund or its affiliates relating to any (1) direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of a business that constitutes 20% or more of the net revenues, net income or assets of the Company and our subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or 20% or more of any class or series of equity securities (or any indebtedness or other obligation that is exchangeable for or convertible into any such security, or any other right to acquire any such security, contingent or otherwise) of the Company, or (2) any tender offer or exchange offer, merger, reorganization, restructuring, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution, equity infusion or similar transaction involving the Company (or any of our subsidiaries whose business constitutes 20% or more of the net revenues, net income or assets of the Company and our subsidiaries, taken as a whole) that if consummated would result in any person or group of persons beneficially owning 20% or more of the voting rights of any class or series of capital stock of the Company.

A contingency plan proposal means any proposal relating to any merger, restructuring, reorganization, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving us or any of our subsidiaries that our board of directors in good faith determines does not constitute a superior proposal or a superior lender proposal and is not reasonably likely to result in a superior proposal or a superior lender proposal, which determination is made after consultation with outside counsel and our independent financial advisor and assumes consummation of the restructuring.

A superior lender proposal means any proposal involving any person making more than a de minimis investment or commitment (other than a person who is as of the date hereof a holder of convertible notes or a lender under our existing credit agreement) relating to a restructuring, reorganization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction pursuant to which (1) holders of convertible notes would receive consideration in respect of the convertible notes that is of equal or greater total market value than such holders would receive pursuant to the restructuring, or (2) the lenders under our existing credit agreement would receive cash in repayment of the outstanding borrowings under our existing credit agreement in an amount equal to or greater than pursuant to the term loan refinancing, or would receive consideration in respect of their rights under our existing credit agreement and related credit documents that are of equal or greater total market value and security than such lenders under our existing credit agreement would receive pursuant to the term loan refinancing and that does not include any equity security.

A superior proposal means a bona fide written proposal or offer from any person or group of persons other than the CD&R Fund or its affiliates not solicited in violation of the investment agreement relating to any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of a business that constitutes 50% or more of our net revenues, net income or assets, or 50% or more of any class or series of our securities, any tender offer or exchange offer that if consummated would result in any person or group of persons beneficially owning 50% or more of the voting rights of any class or series of our capital stock, any merger, reorganization, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution, equity infusion or similar transaction involving us (or our subsidiaries whose business constitutes 50% or more of our net revenues, net income or assets) or any restructuring or reorganization of us, in each case, that our board of directors in good faith determines, would, if consummated, result in a transaction that is more favorable to us and our existing stockholders than the restructuring, which determination is made (1) after receiving the advice of our independent financial advisor, (2) after taking into account the likelihood (and likely timing) of consummation of such transaction on the terms set forth therein (as compared to the terms in the transaction documents) and (3) after taking into account all relevant legal (with the advice of outside counsel), financial (including the financing terms of any such proposal, the additional transaction costs and the effect of any termination fee, expenses or amounts payable under the investment agreement), regulatory or other aspects of such proposal and any other relevant factors permitted by applicable law.

Acceptance of Superior Proposal

At any time prior to the closing, if we receive a superior proposal, our board of directors may terminate the investment agreement to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to such superior proposal, so long as:

we have provided prior written notice to the CD&R Fund at least five calendar days in advance of our intention to take such actions and providing disclosure of the terms and conditions of such superior proposal;

during such notice period, we and our independent financial advisor and outside counsel have negotiated with the CD&R Fund in good faith (to the extent the CD&R Fund desires to negotiate) to make such adjustments in the terms and conditions of the investment agreement so that such company transaction proposal ceases to constitute a superior proposal; and at or prior to the time of termination of the investment agreement, we have paid the termination fee (see Termination Fees; Transaction Expenses Following Termination above).

In the event of any material revisions to the superior proposal, we have agreed to deliver a new written notice to the CD&R Fund and comply with the above enumerated requirements with respect to such new written notice, except that the new notice period will be two calendar days instead of four calendar days.

Regulatory Filings and Third-Party Consents Covenant

We and the CD&R Fund have each agreed to cooperate and consult with the other and use our respective best efforts to take all actions, to file all documents, to do and to help the other party to do, all things necessary, proper or advisable to cause the conditions to this exchange offer and the closing to be satisfied as promptly as practicable and to consummate the restructuring, including (1) preparing and filing as promptly as practicable all documentation, effecting all necessary applications, notices, petitions, filings and other documents and obtaining all necessary permits, consents, waivers, clearances, approvals, authorizations, permits, orders, consents of, or any exemptions by, all governmental entities, (2) seeking all necessary or advisable consents of third parties to the restructuring and (3) using best efforts to cause the satisfaction, but not waiver, of the conditions to closing with respect to the expiration or termination of any waiting period require to consummate the CD&R investment under the HSR Act and the Austrian Act. In particular, we and the CD&R Fund have each agreed to use our respective best efforts to obtain, and use our respective best efforts to help the other obtain, as promptly as practicable, all approvals, authorizations, consents, clearances, expirations or terminations of waiting periods or exemptions required from all necessary governmental entities for the restructuring, including, but not limited to, filings and notifications with respect to, and expiration or termination of any applicable waiting period under, the HSR Act and any other applicable competition or merger control laws.

On August 28, 2009, each of the Company and the CD&R Fund made an appropriate filing of a Notification and Report Form pursuant to the HSR Act with respect to the CD&R investment and the CD&R Fund made an appropriate filing under the Austrian Act. The waiting period under the HSR Act was terminated on September 8, 2009. The review period under the Austrian Act will expire on September 25, 2009, unless the applicable governmental entity or the attorney with the applicable authority under the Austrian Act has requested (or both have waived their right to request) the initiation of an investigation prior to such date.

Each party specifically agreed not to agree or commit to contest the enforceability of the investment agreement under the Bankruptcy Code, or, except as otherwise provided in the investment agreement, agree or commit to delay or not to close any of the transactions contemplated by the investment agreement, without the express written consent of the other party.

Each party agreed to cooperate in all respects with each other in connection with any filing or submission and in connection with any investigation or other inquiry and to promptly (1) furnish to the other such necessary information and reasonable assistance as the other party may request in connection with the matters described in this section, (2) inform the other party of any communication from any governmental entity regarding the restructuring and of any communication received or given in connection with any legal, administrative or other proceeding by a private party or any investigation, proceeding or other action by the NYSE, in each case regarding the restructuring and (3) provide counsel for the other party with copies of all filings made by such party, and all correspondence between such party (and its advisors) with any governmental entity or the NYSE, and any other information supplied by such party and such party's subsidiaries to a governmental entity or the NYSE, in connection with the restructuring, subject to certain redactions. Each party also agreed to permit counsel for the other party to review in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other parties in connection with, any proposed written communication to any governmental entity or the NYSE in connection with the restructuring. The parties agreed not to participate in any meeting or discussion with any governmental entity or the NYSE in connection with the restructuring unless it consults with the other party in advance and, to the extent not prohibited by such governmental entity or the NYSE, to give the other party the opportunity to attend and participate.

Each party agreed not to acquire or agree to acquire by merger or consolidation, or by purchasing a substantial equity interest in or a substantial portion of the assets of, or by any other manner, any business or any corporation, partnership, association or other business organization or division thereof or otherwise acquire or agree to acquire any assets that would delay or make materially more difficult the obtaining of any approvals, authorizations, consents, clearances, expirations or terminations of waiting periods or exemptions approval or authorization required under the HSR Act for the CD&R investment.

Indemnity

We have agreed to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the CD&R Fund and its affiliates and each of their respective officers, directors, partners, employees and agents, and each person who controls the CD&R Fund, which we refer to collectively as the CD&R indemnified parties, from and against, and pay or reimburse such persons for:

CD&R losses for NCI breaches of representations and warranties, which means any and all losses, liabilities, damages and expenses arising from or relating to any inaccuracy in or breach of any representation or warranty when made or deemed made by us in or pursuant to the investment agreement;

CD&R losses for NCI breaches of covenants, which means any and all losses, liabilities, damages and expenses arising from or relating to our failure to perform any covenant or agreement under the investment agreement; or

CD&R losses for execution and performance of the investment agreement, which means any and all losses, liabilities, damages and expenses arising out of or resulting from our authorization and approval and our and/or the CD&R Fund's execution, delivery, performance or termination of the investment agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby (other than any losses, liabilities, damages and expenses attributable to acts, errors or omissions in violation of the investment agreement on the part of the CD&R Fund or any CD&R Indemnified Parties and other than any losses, liabilities, damages and expenses attributable to the economic risks of the CD&R Fund's investment decision) that the CD&R Fund or the CD&R Indemnified Parties are subject to, named in or made party to any litigation by any person other than us.

Our obligation to indemnify the CD&R indemnified parties is effective from and after the closing with respect to the CD&R losses for NCI breaches of representations and warranties and the CD&R losses for NCI breaches of covenants and is effective from and after the execution of the investment agreement with respect to the CD&R losses for execution and performance of the investment agreement.

Our obligation to indemnify the CD&R indemnified parties is subject to:

a de minimis exception of $50,000, under which we are not required to pay any amounts in respect of losses, liabilities, damages and expenses in connection with or related to any individual claim (or any series of related claims (including any class action)) unless such losses exceed $50,000;

a basket of $5.0 million, under which we are not required to pay any amounts in respect of losses, liabilities, damages or expenses (other than losses, liabilities, damages or expenses excluded because they do not meet the de minimis exception described in the immediately preceding bullet point) until such losses exceed $5.0 million, following which time all losses above such amount will be subject to indemnification; and a cap of $75.0 million.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, CD&R losses for NCI breaches of representations and warranties in respect of certain enumerated fundamental representations, CD&R losses for NCI breaches of covenants and CD&R losses for execution and performance of the investment agreement will be payable without regard to the $75.0 million cap described above (however, CD&R losses for NCI breaches of representations and warranties in respect of certain enumerated fundamental representations and CD&R losses for NCI breaches of covenants will be taken into account in determining whether such $75.0 million cap has been reached) and CD&R losses for execution and performance of the investment agreement are payable without regard to the $5.0 million basket described above and are not taken into account in determining whether the $5.0 million basket has been reached. We will not be required to pay more than $250.0 million to the CD&R Fund under the investment agreement, inclusive of all fees, expense reimbursements or amounts payable under our indemnification obligation.

The CD&R Fund has agreed to indemnify, defend and hold harmless us and our affiliates and each of our and their respective officers, directors, partners, employees and agents, which collectively we refer to as the NCI indemnified parties, from and against, and pay or reimburse us or such persons for:

NCI losses for CD&R breaches of representations and warranties, which means any and all losses, liabilities, damages or expenses arising from or relating to any inaccuracy in or breach of any representation or warranty when made or deemed made by the CD&R Fund in or pursuant to the investment agreement; or

NCI losses for CD&R breaches of covenants, which means any and all losses, liabilities, damages or expenses arising from or relating to the failure of the CD&R Fund to perform any covenant or agreement under the investment agreement.

The CD&R Fund's obligation to indemnify the NCI indemnified parties is effective from and after the closing.

The CD&R Fund's obligation to indemnify the NCI indemnified parties is subject to a parallel de minimis exception, basket and cap as described above with respect to our obligation to indemnify the CD&R indemnified parties.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the NCI losses for CD&R breaches of representations and warranties in respect of certain enumerated fundamental representations or NCI losses for CD&R breaches of covenants will be payable without regard to the $75.0 million cap (however, NCI losses for CD&R breaches of representations and warranties with respect to an inaccuracy or breach of certain enumerated fundamental representations and NCI losses for CD&R breaches of covenants will be taken into account in determining whether such $75.0 million cap has been reached). The CD&R Fund will not be required to pay more than $250.0 million to us or our affiliates pursuant to its indemnity or otherwise.

Governance Matters

We have agreed to take all actions necessary:

to cause all directors serving on our board of directors immediately prior to the closing (other than our Chief Executive Officer and, to the extent such individuals are chosen to serve as unaffiliated shareholder directors, two other directors (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related Matters)) to resign from our board, effective as of the closing;

to cause vacancies on our board of directors to be filled, effective as of the closing, by persons nominated or designated by the CD&R Fund no later than three business days prior to the closing, with the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Fund divided as nearly evenly as possible among each class of our board of directors, and to cause the representation of the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R

Fund, effective as of the closing, on each committee of our board of directors to be proportionate to the membership of the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Fund on our board of directors; to ensure that the by-laws, the charters of the committees of our board of directors and any of our corporate guidelines, effective as of the closing, are consistent with the provisions of the stockholders agreement and the transactions contemplated by that agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement); and to elect, effective as of the closing, to take advantage of the exemptions to the requirements of sections 303A.01, 303A.04 and 303A.05 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual (which exemptions would exempt us from compliance with the NYSE's requirements for companies listed on the NYSE to have (1) a majority of independent directors, (2) a nominating/corporate governance committee and a compensation committee, in each case, composed entirely of independent directors, and (3) charters for the nominating/corporate governance committee and the compensation committee, in each case, addressing certain specified matters).

Employee Benefit Matters

The investment agreement requires the Company to secure, prior to completion of the CD&R investment, amendments to the Company's deferred compensation plan, the Rabbi trust that funds the deferred compensation plan, the Company's severance plan, employment agreements with ten of the Company's senior executives and restricted stock award agreements with three of the Company's senior executives. Below is a brief description of the required amendments.

The amendment to the Company's deferred compensation plan would eliminate the right to appoint a third-party administrator of the plan after the closing. Similarly, the Rabbi trust that is a source of funding for obligations under the deferred compensation plan must be amended so that certain administrative protections that go into effect following a change in control will not apply as a result of the CD&R investment. In addition, as a result of the amendment, the requirement to fully fund the Rabbi trust upon a change of control will not apply as a result of the CD&R investment.

The Company maintains a change of control severance policy, in which 49 employees currently participate. The Company has agreed that it will not add any new participants to the policy between signing and closing without the consent of the CD&R Fund. In addition, the policy will be amended so that after the CD&R investment new participants may be added to the policy only with approval of the Company's board of directors. The policy also will be amended so that a change in duties will no longer permit a participant to resign and collect benefits under the policy. Finally, the policy will be amended so that, following the CD&R investment, with respect to any future change in control, any material amendment or termination of the policy will not be effective until 12 months after adoption.

The Company is a party to employment agreements with ten of its senior executives, including Norman C. Chambers (Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer), Mark E. Johnson (Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer), Mark W. Dobbins (Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer), Charles W. Dickinson (President of Metal Components Division) and Keith E. Fischer (President of Robertson-Ceco Division). The Company and these senior executives have entered into amendment agreements with respect to these employment agreements. In general, the amendment agreements modify the "good reason" definition in each executive's employment agreement. In addition, the amendment agreement for Mr. Chambers revises Mr. Chambers' employment agreement to provide that he will be entitled to a cash severance payment equal to the greater of (1) two times his base salary and (2) his base salary through April 30, 2014, upon a termination of his employment without cause or for good reason. (Mr. Chambers is currently entitled to receive his base salary through April 30, 2014 upon a termination of his employment without cause or for good reason.) In addition, pursuant to the amendment agreements, each of Messrs. Chambers, Dobbins and Dickinson has waived his right to accelerated vesting of 64,516, 25,000 and 25,000 Company restricted shares, respectively, as a result of the CD&R investment, and the Company has agreed that the Company restricted shares will continue to vest in accordance with their terms or, if earlier, upon a termination of the executive's employment without cause or for good reason.

Liability Limitations. Each of the Company and the CD&R Fund agreed that no former current or future director, officer, employee, incorporator, shareholder, managing member, member, manager, general partner, limited partner, stockholder, principal agent, other representative or affiliate, which collectively we refer to as the representatives, of any of the CD&R Fund or the Company and no former, current, or future Representative of any of such Representatives will have any liability for any obligations of the CD&R Fund or the Company, as applicable, under the investment agreement or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, the performance of the respective obligations of the CD&R Fund or the Company under the investment agreement or the negotiation, execution or delivery of the investment agreement whether by the enforcement of any assessment or by any legal or equitable proceeding, or by virtue of any statute, regulation or other applicable law or otherwise. Each of the Company and the CD&R Fund waived and released all such liability.

We have agreed that (1) in no event will the CD&R Fund's aggregate liability under the investment agreement in connection with a failure by the CD&R Fund to close on the CD&R investment in violation of the investment agreement exceed $250.0 million and (2) in no event will the CD&R Fund be liable for any consequential, incidental, indirect or punitive damages. In addition, the CD&R Fund will not be liable for diminution of value, loss of business opportunity or loss of future revenue, income or profits (except to the extent that such items constitute direct damages sought by the Company for breach of contract rather than indirect or consequential damages, which amounts payable with respect thereto will be subject to a cap of $250.0 million).

Additional Rights of Executive Officers and Directors

The consummation of the CD&R investment will constitute a change of control or change in control, as applicable, for purposes of the agreements and plans described below, which may entitle the Company's executive officers and directors to additional or accelerated payments and benefits under these agreements and plans.

Equity Compensation Awards

All outstanding options to acquire shares of our common stock will vest in full as of the consummation of the CD&R investment and, except with respect to the special long term restricted stock awards granted to Messrs. Chambers, Dobbins and Dickinson, each of whom has, as described above (see Employee Benefits Matters), waived his right to accelerated vesting of 64,516, 25,000 and 25,000 Company restricted shares, respectively, all restricted shares of our stock will vest in full as of the consummation of the CD&R investment. Based on their NCI equity compensation holdings as of September 18, 2009, and assuming a consummation of the CD&R investment on November 2, 2009, upon consummation of the CD&R investment, (1) the number of unvested NCI stock options (each, with an exercise price of $44.00 per share) held by each of Messrs. Dobbins, Dickinson and Fischer (who are our only named executive officers with unvested options), the three other NCI executive officers who hold unvested options (as a group), and the one non-employee director who holds unvested options that would vest are 341, 341, 341, 896 and 142, respectively; and (2) the number of unvested shares of restricted NCI common stock held by each of Messrs. Chambers, Johnson, Dobbins, Dickinson and Fischer, the six other NCI executive officers (as a group), and the nine non-employee directors (as a group) that would vest and become free of restrictions are 51,423, 14,108, 13,387, 12,833, 12,833, 53,281, and 46,030, respectively.

Employment Agreements and Severance Pay Plan

The Company is party to employment agreements with each of its executive officers, other than Mr. Allen, who is covered by the Company's Change in Control Severance Policy. As described above, the Company and each of these executives (other than Mr. Allen) have entered into amendment agreements with respect to these employment agreements and the Company has agreed to amend the Change in Control Severance Policy effective upon the consummation of the CD&R investment. The descriptions below reflect these amendments.

Employment Agreement with Mr. Chambers: The Company is a party to an employment agreement with Norman C. Chambers. Mr. Chambers' employment agreement provides for payment of certain severance benefits in the event of a termination of his employment by Mr. Chambers for good reason (as defined in the agreement) or by the Company without cause (as defined in the agreement) (we refer to such terminations as qualifying terminations). As described above, the Company and Mr. Chambers have entered into an amendment agreement with respect to Mr. Chambers' employment agreement which will become effective upon the consummation of the CD&R investment.

In the event of a qualifying termination, Mr. Chambers is entitled to receive certain accrued or earned benefits and a severance payment equal to the greater of (i) the base salary he would have been entitled to receive through April 30, 2014 and (ii) two times his base salary, in each case paid through April 30, 2014 (we refer to such amount as the severance payment). In the event of a qualifying termination within two years of certain change in control events (including the CD&R investment), the Company is required to pay Mr. Chambers the present value of the severance payment in a lump sum within seven days of his termination, rather than in installments through April 30, 2014. Assuming that the CD&R investment is consummated on November 2, 2009 and Mr. Chambers experiences a qualifying termination immediately thereafter, the amount of cash severance to which he will be entitled is approximately $2.7 million Employment Agreements with Messrs. Johnson, Dobbins, Dickinson, Fischer and Other Executive Officers (other than Mr. Allen): The Company is a party to substantially similar employment agreements with Messrs. Johnson, Dobbins, Dickinson, Fischer and each of its other executive officers, other than Mr. Allen. Upon a qualifying termination within 24 months after a change in control or during a potential change in control period, the executive will be entitled to (i) certain accrued amounts, (ii) a lump sum cash payment, equal to two times the executive's annual base salary at the highest annualized rate in effect during the one year period immediately preceding the date of the change in control or potential change in control, as applicable (in the case of Messrs. Dobbins and Dickinson, this payment is reduced by the market value of the vested portion of the 25,000 restricted shares granted to each of them on August 26, 2004) and (iii) continued medical and dental coverage at the active employee rate for up to 18 months. Assuming that the CD&R investment is consummated on November 2, 2009, and the executive has a qualifying termination immediately thereafter, the amount of cash severance that would be payable to each of Messrs. Johnson, Dobbins, Dickinson, Fischer and the other executive officers (other than Mr. Allen) (as a group), respectively, is approximately $664,000, $630,000, $581,000, $581,000 and $2,421,000.

Severance Pay Plan

Mr. Allen is eligible for severance benefits under the Company's Change in Control Severance Policy. Upon Mr. Allen's qualifying termination within 24 months after a change in control, subject to his execution and non-revocation of a release of claims, Mr. Allen is entitled to (i) a lump sum cash payment equal to the participant's annual base salary at the highest annualized rate in effect during the one year period immediately preceding the date of the change in control and (ii) continued medical and dental coverage at the active employee rate for up to 18 months. Assuming that the CD&R investment is consummated on November 2, 2009, and Mr. Allen has a qualifying termination immediately thereafter, the amount of cash severance that would be payable to Mr. Allen is approximately $165,000.

Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plan

The Company maintains the NCI Building Systems, Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan, which we refer to as the DCP, in which all of its executive officers participate.

Pursuant to the terms of the DCP, participants are generally fully vested in amounts credited to their DCP accounts, except for Company Contribution Amounts and Company Restoration Matching Amounts (each, as defined in the DCP). Any unvested Company Contribution Amounts and Company Restoration Matching Amounts in participants' DCP accounts will immediately become vested upon consummation of the CD&R investment. Assuming that the CD&R investment is completed on November 2, 2009, based on unvested Company Restoration Matching Amounts under their DCP accounts as of September 18, 2009, Messrs. Chambers, Johnson and the three other executive officers with unvested Company Restoration Matching Amounts (as a group) will vest, respectively, in approximately $28,034, $19,234 and $7,223 of Company Restoration Matching Amounts. The Company has not made any Company Contribution Amounts to participants' DCP accounts. The DCP also permits participants to elect to have their account balances paid out upon a change in control. Messrs. Dobbins, Dickinson, Robeson,

Moore, Brown and Golladay have each elected to have their account balances paid out upon a change in control and, as such, their account balances under the DCP will be paid out upon consummation of the CD&R investment.

Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock

The following is a summary of the preferences, limitations, voting powers and relative rights of the Series B convertible preferred stock as contained in the form of certificate of designations, preferences and rights of the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock. While we believe this summary covers the material preferences, limitations, voting powers and relative rights of the Series B convertible preferred stock contained in the form of certificate of designation, preferences and rights of the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the form of Certificate of Designation, Preferences and Rights of the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock, which is included as Annex G and which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the form of certificate of designations, preferences and rights of the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock in its entirety.

In connection with the consummation of the CD&R investment, we have agreed to file a certificate of designations, preferences and rights of the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock substantially in the form of the form of certificate of designations, preferences and rights of the Series B Cumulative Convertible Participating Preferred Stock attached hereto as Annex G, which certificate of designations, preferences and rights to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware prior to closing we refer to as the certificate of designations, setting forth the terms, rights, obligations, and preferences of the Series B convertible preferred stock, including those material terms summarized below.

Rank

The Series B convertible preferred stock will, with respect to payment of dividends, redemption payments, rights (including as to the distribution of assets) upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the affairs of the Company, or otherwise:

rank senior and prior to the common stock and each other class or series of equity securities of the Company, whether currently issued or to be issued in the future, that by its terms ranks junior to the Series B convertible preferred stock; and rank junior to each class or series of equity securities of the Company, whether currently issued or issued in the future, that by its terms ranks senior to the Series B convertible preferred stock.

At the time of the initial issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock or at any time in the future during which shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are outstanding, we have agreed to have no other class or series of equity securities of the Company that ranks on parity with the Series B convertible preferred stock.

We have no outstanding senior securities and we have agreed that at the time of the initial issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock there will be no senior securities outstanding. Following the initial issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock, (1) pursuant to the terms of the certificate of designations, the issuance of senior securities will require the approval of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock and, additionally, (2) pursuant to the terms of the stockholders agreement, subject to certain qualifications and exceptions contained therein, we will agree not to issue shares of our capital stock, ownership interests or voting securities without the prior consent of the CD&R Investors (as described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related Matters). See Voting

Liquidation

Each share of Series B convertible preferred stock will have an initial liquidation preference of $1,000 per share. In the event of any liquidation of the Company, each holder of Series B convertible preferred stock will be entitled to receive liquidating distributions out of the assets of the Company legally available for distribution to its stockholders, before any payment or distribution of any assets of the Company will be made or set apart for holders of any junior securities, including, without limitation, the common stock, for such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock in an amount equal to the greater of:

the sum of (a) the aggregate liquidation preference of such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock and (b) the aggregate accrued dividends of such shares as of the date of such liquidation; and the amount such holder would have received had such holder, immediately prior to such liquidation, converted such shares of Series B convertible preferred stock into shares of common stock in accordance with the certificate of designations (but without taking into account any limitations on convertibility that may then be applicable).

Dividends

Participating Dividends Holders of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock will be entitled to participate equally and ratably with the holders of shares of common stock in all cash dividends paid on the shares of common stock as if all shares of Series B convertible preferred stock issued and outstanding on the record date for the payment of dividends to the holders of shares of common stock were converted into shares of common stock (without taking into account any limitations on convertibility that may then be applicable). Such dividends or distributions payable to the holders of the Series B convertible preferred stock will be payable on the same date that the dividends or distributions are payable to holders of shares of common stock. Holders of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock will not be entitled to participate in dividends or distributions of any nature paid on or in respect of the common stock or to holders of common stock other than as described above; however, holders of Series B convertible preferred stock will be entitled to certain anti-dilution adjustments to the conversion price in the event of such dividends or distributions (see Convertibility and Anti-Dilution Adjustments below).

Series B Preferred Dividends The Company will pay, if, as and when declared by our board of directors, out of funds legally available therefor, on March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 of each year, dividends on each issued and outstanding share of Series B convertible preferred stock (1) if paid in kind, at a rate per annum equal to 12.00% of the then applicable liquidation preference and accrued but unpaid dividends with respect to such share, or (2) if paid in cash, at a rate per annum of 8.00% of the then applicable liquidation preference and accrued but unpaid dividends with respect to such share, Series B preferred dividends on each share of Series B convertible preferred stock will accrue and accumulate on a daily basis from the issuance date of such share, whether or not declared and whether or not the Company has funds legally available for the payment of such dividends, will compound quarterly on March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 of each year and will be payable quarterly in arrears, if, as and when so authorized and declared by our board of directors, on March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 of each year, starting on the first of such dates following the issuance date of such share. In the event that the Series B preferred dividends are not paid in cash on the applicable quarterly dividend payment date on which such Series B preferred dividends would otherwise compound, such Series B preferred dividends will compound at a rate per annum equal to 12.00%, regardless of whether such accrued and unpaid dividends are paid in cash thereafter.

The Series B preferred dividends may, at the option of the Company (to be determined by a majority of the directors of the Company who are (1) not nominated by the CD&R Investors (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related matters) or (2) if nominated by the CD&R Investors, independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Certain Limitations on Participation by Directors Nominated or Designated by the CD&R Investors)), be paid in cash or in kind by issuing shares of Series B convertible preferred stock.

We have agreed not to pay in kind by issuing shares of Series B convertible preferred stock any Series B preferred dividends accumulating prior to the date following the first date on which there are no longer any outstanding convertible notes, but must pay such Series B preferred dividends on the applicable date, if at all, in cash.

Default Dividend Rate

Upon the occurrence of a default (see Default below), the dividend rate with respect to the Series B convertible preferred stock will increase (starting on the date on which the default occurs and ending immediately prior to the date on which all then occurring defaults are no longer continuing) by:

6.00% per annum, if the default is the result of a failure by us at any time after June 30, 2011 to reserve and keep available for issuance a number of shares of common stock equal to 110% of the number of shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock; or

3.00% per annum, for all other defaults.

Only one 3.00% per annum dividend rate increase will be applicable at any time; however, if at a time when a 3.00% per annum default dividend rate is in effect after June 30, 2011, we fail to reserve and keep available for issuance the requisite number of shares of common stock to satisfy our obligations under the certificate of designations, the dividend rate will be increased an additional 3.00% per annum until such default is no longer continuing.

After giving effect to the restructuring, at the closing, we do not expect to have sufficient authorized but unissued shares of common stock to enable the conversion of all 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued to the CD&R Fund pursuant to the CD&R investment. Pursuant to the stockholders agreement, from and after the closing of the restructuring, we will use our best efforts and take all corporate actions necessary to obtain approval from holders of our common stock of an amendment to Article FOURTH, section 1 of our restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendments to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation). In the event that we do not obtain such approval prior to June 30, 2010, the dividend rate with respect to the Series B convertible preferred stock will increase by 3.00% per annum (and, if such approval is not obtained by June 30, 2011, by an additional 3.00% per annum, for an aggregate increase of 6.00% per annum) as described in this section.

Dividend Reduction

If, at any time after the 30-month anniversary of the closing, the trading price per share of common stock equals or exceeds two times a specified target price for each trading day during any period of 20 consecutive trading days, the dividend rate will become 0.00% commencing on the day immediately following the last trading day of such period of 20-consecutive trading days and for all days thereafter. The applicable default dividend rate will still apply, however, in the event of a default. The initial specified target price is $1.2748 and is subject to adjustment for any stock dividends, splits, combination or similar events.

Restrictions with Respect to Junior Securities Dividends

Subject to certain limited exceptions, at any time during which a default is occurring, we have agreed not to declare or pay or set apart for payment any dividend or other distribution with respect to any junior securities, or redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire for any consideration any junior securities. In addition, at all times during which shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are issued and outstanding, we have agreed that neither we nor any of our subsidiaries will (1) declare, pay or set aside for payment any dividends or distributions upon any junior securities, except for certain limited exceptions or for such ordinary cash dividends declared, paid or set aside for payment after the dividend has become 0.00% (see Dividend Reduction above) on shares of common stock in which the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock participate or (2) repurchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any junior securities for any consideration or pay any moneys or make available for a sinking fund for the redemption of any shares of such junior securities, except for certain limited exceptions, unless, in each case, the Company has access to sufficient lawful funds immediately following such action such that the Company would be legally permitted to redeem in full all shares of the Series B convertible preferred stock then issued and outstanding for an amount equal to the sum of (A) the aggregate liquidation preference and (B) the aggregate accrued dividends of such shares as of such date.

Default

The occurrence of one of the following events described below will constitute a default for purposes of the certificate of designations:

the Company fails to pay any participating dividend (see Participating Dividends above);

following the date on which there are no convertible notes outstanding, the Company fails to pay, in cash or in kind, any Series B preferred dividend on the applicable quarterly dividend payment date;

the Company fails at any time after June 30, 2010 to reserve and keep available for issuance the number of shares of common stock equal to 110% of the number of shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock;

the Company fails to maintain the listing of the common stock on the NYSE or another U.S. national securities exchange;

the Company violates any dividend payment restrictions with respect to junior securities dividends described in Restrictions with Respect to Junior Securities Dividends above;

the Company fails to comply with our obligations to convert Series B convertible preferred stock in accordance with our obligations under the certificate of designations; or the Company fails to redeem Series B convertible preferred stock in compliance with the certificate of designations.

The foregoing notwithstanding, unless the circumstances described in the next paragraph apply, no default will be deemed to have occurred or deemed to be continuing in connection with a failure of the type described above, if:

our board of directors can take a cure action which could reasonably be expected to prevent or to cure such failure;

our board of directors does not promptly take such cure action; and

at any time when our board of directors could have taken a cure action and it fails to take such cure action, the aggregate number of votes that the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors are entitled to cast constitute a majority of the total number of votes that can be cast by all directors then on our board of directors or, if the failure to take such cure action was with the approval of our board of directors, the aggregate number of votes that were cast by the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors constituted a majority of the total number of votes that could be cast by the directors constituting the quorum that granted such approval.

The preceding limitation on the occurrence of a default will not be applicable in circumstances where taking a cure action with respect to default (1) would result in a cross default (as described below), (2) would be adverse to the best interests of the Company in the good faith judgment of a majority of the unaffiliated shareholder directors (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related Matters) or (3) if the failure to take the cure action was with the approval of our board of directors, a majority of the number of votes that were cast by the directors who are independent of both the CD&R Investors and the Company were not cast in favor of taking the cure action.

result in a breach of any provision of applicable law or our restated certificate of incorporation; result in, with notice or lapse of time or both, an event of default under, or result in the termination of, or would cause or permit the acceleration or other changes of any right or obligation or the loss of any benefit under any agreement, arrangement, commitment, plan or other instrument or obligation to which the Company, or any of our subsidiaries, is a party or by which the Company or any of our subsidiaries may be bound, or to which the Company or any of our subsidiaries or any of the properties, assets, or rights of the Company or any of our subsidiaries may be subject, and such result (except with respect to any agreement, arrangement, commitment, plan or other instrument relating to indebtedness that is material to the Corporation and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole) would reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the business, assets, results of operations or financial condition of the Company and our subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

result in a breach of any injunction, judgment, decree or other order of any court or governmental agency and such breach would reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the business, assets, results of operations or financial condition of the Company and our subsidiaries, taken as a whole; or requires the consent of our stockholders or any other person (other than the CD&R Investors) and (1) if there is reasonably sufficient time to obtain such consent and our board of directors has timely authorized the seeking of such consent, (a) such consent is not obtained prior to the applicable failure and (b) if the consent required is of our stockholders, the CD&R Investors beneficially own in the aggregate less than 45% of the voting power of each group of voting securities of the Company which vote or consent is required to approve such cure action or the CD&R Investors have voted all shares of voting securities of the Company beneficially owned by it entitled to vote with respect to such cure action to approve such cure action; or (2) there is not reasonably sufficient time to obtain such consent.

Convertibility and Anti-Dilution Adjustments

To the extent that there is a sufficient number of authorized and unissued (or issued and included in treasury) and otherwise unreserved shares of common stock (or, if approved by the holders of Series B convertible preferred stock, other capital stock of the Company that is generally identical to the common stock), each holder of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock will have a conversion right, at any time and from time to time, at such holder's option, to convert all or any portion of such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock into shares of common stock (or such other capital stock). Upon a holder's election to exercise the conversion right, each share of Series B convertible preferred stock will be converted into a number of shares of common stock equal to the quotient of (1) the sum of (a) the liquidation preference and (b) the accrued dividends of such share as of the date of conversion, divided by (2) the conversion price of such share in effect at the time of conversion.

To the extent and for so long as any shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are issued and outstanding, the Company has agreed to at all times reserve and keep available an amount of authorized and unissued common stock equal to 110% of the number of shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of the then issued and outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock. If at any time the Company does not have such sufficient amount of authorized and unissued shares of common stock, the Company must take any and all actions, which, in the event such consent is required, have been consented to by CD&R, to increase the number of shares of authorized and unissued and unreserved shares of common stock, including, without limitation, calling meetings of the Company's stockholders to amend the Company's charter and causing a reclassification of its shares of common stock or authorizing and obtaining stockholder approval for the creation of a new class of common stock (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendment to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation).

The initial conversion price (1) with respect to each share of Series B convertible preferred stock issued on the date of the closing, is $1.2748 and (2) with respect to each share of Series B convertible preferred stock issued as payment in kind in respect of a share of Series B convertible preferred stock, is the conversion price in effect immediately prior to the issuance of such share. The conversion price is subject to certain anti-dilution adjustments. Specifically, the conversion price will be adjusted in accordance with the formulas set forth in the certificate of designations:

if the Company declares a dividend or makes a distribution on the common stock payable in shares of common stock;

if the Company subdivides, splits or combines the shares of common stock;

if the Company effects a below market price issuance, which means an issuance or sale of any common stock, convertible securities or options (subject to certain limited exceptions) without consideration or for consideration per share less than the then-current market price of the common stock;

if the Company effects a distribution of certain assets or securities, which means a distribution to all holders of shares of common stock evidences of indebtedness, shares of capital stock, securities, cash or other assets, subject to certain limited exceptions;

in a spin-off, where the Company makes a distribution to all holders of shares of common stock consisting of capital stock of any class or series, or similar equity interests of, or relating to, a subsidiary of the Company or other business unit;

if the Company effects an above market pro rata repurchase, which means a pro rata repurchase of common stock that involves the payment by the Company of consideration per share of common stock that exceeds the then-current average market price per share of common stock on the trading day next succeeding the effective date of such pro rata repurchase; or if, during the three-year period immediately following the closing, the Company effects a below conversion price issuance, which means the issuance or sale of any common stock, convertible securities or options (subject to certain limited exceptions) without consideration or for consideration per share less than the conversion price in effect immediately prior to such issuance or sale at a time when such conversion price is greater than the then-current market price.

With respect to an adjustment of the conversion price as a result of a below market price issuance, a distribution of certain assets or securities, a spin-off, or an above market pro rata repurchase, the conversion price will only be adjusted if at the time the relevant event is approved, or recommended to our stockholders by our board of directors either:

the aggregate number of votes that the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors are entitled to cast do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that can be cast by all directors on our board of directors or the aggregate number of votes that are cast by directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that could be cast by the directors constituting the quorum granting such approval or recommendation; or if the condition in the immediately preceding bullet point is not met, then (A) so long as at least one unaffiliated shareholder director was part of the quorum granting such approval or recommendation, either (1) a majority of the unaffiliated shareholder directors voting with respect to such approval or recommendation vote in favor of such approval or recommendation or (2) each unaffiliated shareholder director that was a part of the quorum granting such approval or recommendation abstains from voting with respect thereto or (B) a majority of the directors who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Fund does not in good faith oppose such approval or recommendation on the merits (without regard to the impact of such approval or recommendation, or the withholding thereof, on the CD&R Investors).

With respect to an adjustment as a result of a below conversion price issuance, the conversion price will only be adjusted if at the time the below conversion price issuance is approved, or recommended to our stockholders by our board of directors either:

the aggregate number of votes that the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors are entitled to cast do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that can be cast by all directors on our board of directors or the aggregate number of votes that are cast by directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that could be cast by the directors constituting the quorum granting such approval or recommendation; or if the condition in the immediately preceding bullet point is not met, either (1) a majority of the unaffiliated shareholder directors votes in favor of such approval or recommendation or (2) a majority of the directors who are independent of both the CD&R Investors and the Company does not in good faith oppose such approval or recommendation on the merits (without regard to the impact of such approval or recommendation, or the withholding thereof, on the CD&R Investors) and the unaffiliated shareholder directors receive a certificate of a majority of the directors who are officers of CD&R or the CD&R Investors or otherwise not deemed independent of the CD&R Investors under the stockholders agreement certifying that, in the good faith judgment of a majority of such directors, such issuance or sale is in the best interests of the Company.

Milestone Redemption

Each holder of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock will have the right to require, at any time on or after the tenth anniversary of the closing, at such holder's option and in accordance with the procedures set forth in the certificate of designations, that the Company redeem all, but not less than all, of such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, out of funds legally available therefor, at a purchase price for each share of Series B convertible preferred stock equal to the sum of (A) the liquidation preference and (B) the accrued dividends of such share as of the date on which the redemption of such share occurs.

The Company will have the right, at any time on or after the tenth anniversary of the closing, at the Company's option in accordance with the procedures set forth in the certificate of designations, to redeem all, but not less than all, of the then issued and outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, out of funds legally available therefor, at a purchase price for each share of Series B convertible preferred stock equal to the sum of (A) the liquidation preference and (B) the accrued dividends of such share as of the date on which the redemption of such share occurs.

Change of Control Redemption Right

In connection with a business combination change of control (as described below), each holder of Series B convertible preferred stock will have the right (exercisable at such holder's option) to require that the Company redeem (or that the acquiring or surviving person in such business combination change of control, if not the Company, redeem) such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, out of funds legally available therefor, at a purchase price per share equal to (1) if the redemption date of such share is prior to the fourth anniversary of the date of the closing, the sum of (a) the liquidation preference plus the accrued dividends of such share as of such redemption date and (b) an amount equal to the net present value of the sum of all Series B convertible preferred stock dividends that would otherwise be payable on such share from such redemption date until the fourth anniversary of the date of the closing (calculated based on a dividend rate of 8% per annum), or (2) if the redemption date of such share is on or after the fourth anniversary of the date of the closing, the sum of (x) the liquidation preference and (y) the accrued dividends of such share as of such redemption date.

In connection with a board level change of control (as described below), each holder of Series B convertible preferred stock will have the right (exercisable at such holder's option) to require that the Company redeem each of such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, out of funds legally available therefor, at a purchase price per share of Series B convertible preferred stock equal to (1) if the redemption date of such share is prior to the fourth anniversary of the date of the closing, the sum of (a) the liquidation preference plus the accrued dividends of such share as of such redemption date and (b) an amount equal to the net present value of the sum of all Series B convertible preferred stock dividends that would otherwise be payable on such share from such redemption date until the fourth anniversary of the date of the closing (calculated based on a dividend rate of 8% per annum), or (2) if the redemption date of such share is on or after the fourth anniversary of the date of the closing, the sum of (x) the liquidation preference and (y) the accrued dividends of such share as of such redemption date.

In connection with a change of control under debt instruments (as described below), each holder of Series B convertible preferred stock will have the right (exercisable at such holder's option) to require that the Company redeem each of such holder's shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, out of funds legally available therefor, at a purchase price per share equal to 101% of the sum of (1) the liquidation preference and (2) the accrued dividends of such share as of the redemption date of such share.

A business combination change of control means, unless the circumstances described in the following paragraph apply, the consummation of a business combination transaction by the Company where immediately following such transaction, which we refer to as a non-qualified business combination:

the individuals and entities that beneficially owned the outstanding voting stock of the Company immediately prior to such business combination do not beneficially own, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of the entity resulting from such business combination in substantially the same

proportions as their ownership immediately prior to such business combination of the voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the Company; or any person (excluding the CD&R Investors and their affiliates) either (1) beneficially owns more of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of such entity than the CD&R Investors and their affiliates so beneficially own (unless the CD&R Investors and their affiliates beneficially own more than 17.5% of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of such entity) or (2) beneficially owns 25% or more of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of such entity.

The consummation of a non-qualified business combination will not constitute a business combination change of control if at the time such business combination is approved, or recommended to our stockholders by our board of directors (if so approved or recommended) and at the time immediately prior to the consummation of such business combination (1) the CD&R Investors beneficially own 45% or more of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the Company or (2) the aggregate number of votes that the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors are entitled to cast constitutes a majority of the total number of votes that can be cast by all directors then on our board of directors or the aggregate number of votes that are cast by directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors constitutes a majority of the total number of votes that could be cast by the directors constituting the quorum granting such approval or recommendation.

A board level change of control means any person (other than any CD&R Investor or any of their affiliates) acquiring beneficial ownership of 50% or more of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the Company, if at the time immediately prior to the consummation of such acquisition and, if such acquisition (or any transaction or series of transactions leading to such acquisition) is approved, or recommended to our stockholders by our board of directors, at the time such acquisition is approved or recommended by our board of directors, (1) the CD&R Investors do not beneficially own 45% or more of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the Company and (2) the aggregate number of votes that the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors are entitled to cast do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that can be cast by all directors then on our board of directors or the aggregate number of votes that are cast by directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that could be cast by the directors constituting the quorum granting such approval or recommendation.

A change of control under debt instruments means any event that would constitute a change of control for purposes of the amended credit agreement or the ABL agreement, or any subsequent amendment, restatement, refinancing, replacement or other modification of such agreements or any successor contract to any such agreements (assuming that the events constituting a change of control under any such successor or amended debt agreement are the same as were in effect in the amended credit agreement or the ABL agreement, as applicable, as of the closing), so long as at the time such change of control is approved, or recommended to our stockholders by our board of directors (if so approved or recommended) and at the time immediately prior to the consummation of such change of control (1) the CD&R Investors do not beneficially own 45% or more of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting stock of the Company and (2) the aggregate number of votes that the directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors are entitled to cast do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that can be cast by all directors then on our board of directors or the aggregate number of votes that are cast by directors nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors do not constitute a majority of the total number of votes that could be cast by the directors constituting the quorum granting such approval or recommendation.

The change of control redemption right described in this section will not be triggered by either the out-of-court recapitalization plan or the in-court prepackaged plan.

Automatic Conversion upon Certain Business Combinations

If a non-qualified business combination is consummated pursuant to which the common stock is to be converted into the right to receive cash, securities or other property of an entity other than the Company, then upon the consummation of such non-qualified business combination, all shares of Series B convertible preferred stock (other than those with respect to which the redemption rights described above in Change of Control

Table of Contents

Redemption Right has been exercised) will automatically convert into the right to receive the kind and amount of cash, securities or other property, if any, receivable in such non-qualified business combination by a holder of common stock holding that number of shares of common stock into which shares of Series B convertible preferred stock would have been convertible (without taking into account any limitations on convertibility) immediately prior to the consummation of such non-qualified business combination. In the event that holders of shares of common stock have the opportunity to elect the form of consideration to be received in a non-qualified business combination, each holder of Series B convertible preferred stock will also have the same opportunity to elect the form of consideration that each such holder is entitled to receive.

Voting Rights

General. The holders of Series B convertible preferred stock will be entitled to vote on an as-converted basis with the holders of the common stock on all matters submitted to a vote of our stockholders, except as otherwise provided in the certificate of designations or as required by applicable law, voting together with the holders of common stock as a single class.

Class Voting Rights. So long as any shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are outstanding, in addition to any other vote required by applicable law, the Company may not take any of the following actions without the prior affirmative vote or written consent of the holders representing at least a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, voting together as a separate class:

any amendment, alteration, repeal or other modification of any provision of our restated certificate of incorporation, the certificate of designations or the by-laws that would alter or change the terms or the powers, preferences, rights or privileges of the Series B convertible preferred stock so as to affect them adversely;

any authorization, creation, increase in the authorized amount of, or issuance of any class or series of senior securities or any security convertible into, or exchangeable or exercisable for, shares of senior securities; and any increase or decrease in the authorized number of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock or the issuance of additional shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, subject to certain limited exceptions.

Special Contingent Voting Rights. In addition to any other vote required by applicable law, during any period:

beginning on a redemption date in respect of a redemption described above in Milestone Redemption, if the Company fails to deposit on or prior to such date money in immediately available funds sufficient to pay the aggregate purchase price as of such date for all shares of Series B convertible preferred stock to be redeemed on such date or at any time on or after a redemption date in respect of a redemption described above in

Milestone Redemption that the Company fails to pay the applicable full redemption price for any share of Series B convertible preferred stock to be redeemed on such date and ending at such time when the applicable full redemption price for all shares of Series B convertible preferred stock to be so redeemed has been paid; or beginning at any time that the Company fails to pay the applicable full redemption price in respect of a redemption in connection with a business combination change of control, a board level change of control or a change of control under debt instruments (see Change of Control Redemption Right above) for any share of Series B convertible preferred stock that a holder of Series B convertible preferred stock has requested be redeemed and ending at such time when the full applicable redemption price for all shares of Series B convertible preferred stock so requested to be redeemed is paid, we may not, without the consent of holders representing at least a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, voting together as a separate class:

take any of, commit, resolve or agree to take any of, or authorize or otherwise facilitate any of the actions described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Consent Rights ;

take any action that would result in an adjustment to the conversion price (see Convertibility and Anti-Dilution Adjustments above);

enter into any agreement or understanding, or commit, resolve or agree to enter into any agreement or understanding with respect to a business combination;

hire, terminate or change the compensation of any executive officer except for ordinary raises consistent with past practices, subject to certain conditions; or

Certain Additional Covenants

Merger. We will agree not to merge with or into or consolidate with or into, or sell, transfer, exchange or lease all or substantially all of our property to, any other entity, or permit consummation of any other business combination, unless the surviving successor, transferee or lessee entity, as the case may be, (1) expressly assumes the due and punctual performance and observance of each and every covenant and condition of the certificate of designations to be performed and observed by the Company and (2) if such business combination is a not a non-qualified business combination, expressly agrees, as part of the terms of such business combination, to exchange, at the holders' option, shares of Series B convertible preferred stock for shares of the surviving entity's capital stock having terms, preferences, rights (including, without limitation, as to dividends, voting, redemption at the option of the holder, and rights to assets upon liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the entity), privileges and powers no less favorable (individually and in the aggregate) than the terms, preferences, rights, privileges and powers under the certificate of designations, in each case, such that the rights of the holders of Series B convertible preferred stock are protected against dilution or other impairment.

Debt Agreements. In addition to any other vote required by applicable law, the Company will not, without the consent of the holders of a majority of the Series B convertible preferred stock outstanding, enter into any debt agreement or other financing agreement which by its terms would restrict the payment of dividends pursuant to the certificate of designations or the payment of any amounts due upon the redemption of Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the certificate of designations.

Stockholders Agreement

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the form of stockholders agreement. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the form of stockholders agreement, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The form of stockholders agreement is included as Annex F hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the form of stockholders agreement in its entirety.

In connection with, and as a condition to, the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the investment agreement, the Company, the CD&R Fund and any parallel or co-investment vehicles under common control or management with the CD&R Fund which purchased shares of Series B convertible preferred stock at the closing, which, collectively with the CD&R Fund, we refer to as the initial CD&R Investors, will enter into a stockholders agreement substantially in the form of the form of stockholders agreement attached hereto as Annex F, which stockholders agreement to be entered into at the closing we refer to as the stockholders agreement, setting forth certain terms and conditions regarding the CD&R investment and the ownership of the shares of the Series B convertible preferred stock, including certain restrictions on the transfer of the Series B convertible preferred stock and the common stock issuable upon conversion thereof and on certain actions of the CD&R Fund and its affiliates with respect to the Company, and to provide for, among other things, subscription rights, corporate governance rights and consent rights and other obligations and rights, including the material terms described below.

Board Representation and Other Related Matters

Under the stockholders agreement, from and after the closing and for so long as the CD&R Fund, the initial CD&R Investors and their affiliates that are permitted transferees under the stockholders agreement (see Transfer Restrictions below), which we collectively refer to as the CD&R Investors, hold voting power of the Company equal in the aggregate to at least 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing, the CD&R Investors will be entitled to nominate or designate to serve on the Company's board of directors (and to nominate or designate the replacements of such directors) a number of individuals proportionate to their percentage of the voting power of the Company at the relevant time, subject to any applicable legal and regulatory limitations. At each annual meeting or special meeting of stockholders at which any directors of the Company are to be elected during the time from and after the closing when the CD&R Investors are entitled to nominate or designate directors, the Company will take all corporate and other actions necessary to cause the applicable CD&R nominees or designees to be nominated for election as directors on our board of directors, and the Company will use our reasonable best efforts to solicit proxies in favor of the election of such nominees or designees to be elected at such meeting.

In addition, upon the occurrence of certain events relating to our failure to cause the CD&R Investors' nominees or designees to be elected to our board of directors or the removal of such persons without cause other than by action or request from the CD&R Investors, the CD&R Investors will have the right to designate a board observer to attend (without voting rights) each meeting of our board of directors or any committee thereof (and to receive from us, copies of all notices, information and other material we provide to our board of directors and committees) until such time as such event is cured.

For so long as the CD&R Investors hold in the aggregate at least 20% of the voting power of the Company, the CD&R Investors will be entitled to appoint one of its designees to our board of directors as Lead Director or as Chairman of the Executive Committee of our board of directors.

The foregoing notwithstanding, for so long as stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors own in the aggregate at least 5% of the voting power of the Company, the Company's board of directors will include (1) at least two directors who will not be appointed or designated by the CD&R Investors and will be independent of both the CD&R Investors and the Company, which we refer to as the unaffiliated shareholder directors, and (2) the Chief Executive Officer of the Company. A vacancy with respect to an unaffiliated shareholder director must be filled by the remaining unaffiliated shareholder director or, if no such director exists, the directors not nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors, or if no such directors exist, all directors who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors. In addition, for so long as the stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors own in the aggregate at least 5% of the voting power of the Company, an unaffiliated shareholder director may not be removed except by the affirmative vote (including by written consent) of stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors holding 80% of all of the voting power held by stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors.

Committees

Subject to any applicable legal and regulatory limitations, the CD&R Investors will also be entitled to representation on all committees of our board of directors proportionate to their percentage of the voting power of the Company at the relevant time. The foregoing notwithstanding, on each committee of our board of directors, there will be at least one CD&R Investors' nominee or designee and one unaffiliated shareholder director, provided that (1) where a director nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors is in a conflict position, such director may not serve on a special committee of our board of directors, and (2) where the CD&R Investors are in a conflict position, none of their nominees or designees (except those who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors) may serve on the relevant special committee of our board of directors.

From and after the closing, our board of directors will maintain an Affiliate Transactions Committee, which will be comprised of (1) the unaffiliated shareholder directors then in office and (2) one director nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors who is independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors if there is such a director on our board of directors, and otherwise, the Chief Executive Officer. The Affiliate Transactions Committee will review, consider and approve all affiliate transactions (subject to customary exceptions) and no such affiliate transaction can be effected without the prior approval of a majority of the directors on the Affiliate Transactions Committee; however, for so long as the provisions in Article TENTH of our restated certificate of incorporation are still in effect, an affiliate transaction that is subject to Article TENTH may be effected in accordance therewith, in lieu of the review, consideration or approval of the Affiliate Transactions Committee.

The foregoing rights and restrictions described in this section will terminate on the first date on which the CD&R Investors hold voting power of the Company equal in the aggregate to less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing.

Agreement with Respect to Controlled Company Status

Effective upon the closing, we will have taken all corporate action and filed all election notices or other documentation with the NYSE necessary to elect to take advantage of the exemptions to the requirements of sections 303A.01, 303A.04 and 303A.05 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual. In addition, for so long as we qualify as a controlled company within the meaning set forth in the NYSE Listed Company Manual or any similar provision in the rules of a stock exchange on which the securities of the Company are quoted or listed for trading, we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts to take advantage of the related exemptions therein. Such exemptions would exempt us from compliance with the NYSE's requirements for companies listed on the NYSE to have (1) a majority of independent directors, (2) a nominating/corporate governance committee and a compensation committee, in each case, composed entirely of independent directors, and (3) charters for the nominating/corporate governance committee and the compensation committee, in each case, addressing certain specified matters.

Certain Limitations on Participation of Directors Nominated or Designated by the CD&R Investors

Series B Preferred Dividends. With respect to action to be taken, or any determination to be made, regarding whether dividends payable on the outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are to be paid in cash or in kind by issuing shares of Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the certificate of designations, such action will be taken or determination will be made by a majority of the directors of the Company who are (1) not nominated by the CD&R Investors or (2) if nominated by the CD&R Investors, independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors. The remaining directors will not have any right to vote upon, and may be excluded from participating in any discussion of, such action or determination.

The directors taking the action or making any determination with respect to whether dividends payable on the outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are to be paid in cash or in kind must reasonably believe that such action or determination will not (1) constitute a default under any of the terms, conditions or provisions of any of the credit agreements and related documents contemplated by the term loan refinancing or the ABL financing or any other material financing or loan agreement, contract or other instrument or obligation to which the Company or any of our subsidiaries is a party or by which the Company or any of our subsidiaries are bound, or to which the Company or any of our subsidiaries or any of the properties, assets, or rights of the Company or any of our subsidiaries may be subject or (2) result in the Company having insufficient liquidity to operate our business in the ordinary course, consistent with past practice.

Amendment or Waiver under the Stockholders Agreement. With respect to any action by the Company to amend, waive, or enforce or comply with any provision of the stockholders agreement, or to make any determination pursuant to the stockholders agreement, in which the CD&R Investors have or may have interests different from the Company or its stockholders (other than the CD&R Investors), such action must be taken or determination must be made on behalf of the Company solely by a majority of the directors who are either (1) independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors and not nominated by the CD&R Investors or (2) the Chief Executive Officer of the Company. Any action to amend, waive, enforce or comply with any provision of the stockholders agreement, or any determination to be made pursuant to the stockholders agreement, which either (a) relates to the qualifications for, selection, nomination or election of, or to the powers, rights or privileges of the unaffiliated shareholder directors or (b) requires the consent or approval of the unaffiliated shareholder directors must be taken, or must be made, on behalf of the Company solely by the unaffiliated shareholder directors. No director nominated or designated by the CD&R Investors will have any right to vote upon, and by a decision of the remaining directors may be excluded from participating in, any discussion of any such action or determination referenced in this paragraph.

Consent Rights

Pursuant to the stockholders agreement, for so long as the CD&R Investors hold at least 25% of the voting power of the Company, subject to certain customary exceptions and specified baskets, the Company will agree not to take certain actions without the consent of the CD&R Fund, including:

In addition, until such time as the CD&R Investors hold less than 20% of the voting power of the Company, without the prior consent of the CD&R Investors in their sole discretion, the Company will be prohibited from issuing any stock or security (other than common stock, Series B convertible preferred stock and, with respect to the foregoing, options, restricted stock units, restricted stock and stock appreciation rights issued by the Company pursuant to any employment contract, employee or benefit plan, stock purchase plan, stock ownership plan, stock option or equity compensation plan or other similar plan, to or for the benefit of any employees (including new employees), officers or directors of the Company or any of our subsidiaries), including, without limitation, non-participating preferred stock or debt securities that are convertible into shares of capital stock or capital stock equivalents by their terms, that gives rise, in the good faith belief of the CD&R Investors based on advice of counsel, to a not insubstantial risk that distributions (or deemed distributions) on the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock that are paid (or deemed paid) in shares of such stock would not be governed by the general rule of section 305(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

Voting Agreement

At any time following the closing and prior to the earlier of (1) a change of control, (2) the six-month anniversary of the first date on which the CD&R Investors hold in the aggregate less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing and (3) the 30-month anniversary of the closing, during which the CD&R Investors hold less than 50% of the voting power of the Company, at any and all meetings of stockholders of the Company, the CD&R Investors will cause each share of common stock and Series B convertible preferred stock owned by it and certain of its affiliates to be present in person or represented by proxy at all meetings of stockholders of the Company and:

to vote in favor of all director nominees nominated by our board of directors for election by the stockholders in accordance with the terms of the stockholders agreement and our by-laws, and

proposals by stockholders of the Company (including under Rule 14a-8 of the Exchange Act);

provided, in respect of the first two proposals described above, that our board of director's recommendation is consistent with the CD&R Investors' exercise of their consent rights and the submission of such proposal occurred in a reasonably timely manner and such proposals have not failed to receive the requisite number of affirmative votes for the adoption of such proposals since the CD&R Investors' exercise of their consent right in connection therewith.

Subscription Rights

From and after the closing until such time as the CD&R Investors hold in the aggregate less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing, if the Company offers to sell equity securities or equity security equivalents of the Company (other than certain excluded securities), the CD&R Investors will have the opportunity to acquire from the Company, for the same price and on the same terms as such equity securities or equity security equivalents are offered to others, up to the amount of equity securities or equity security equivalents required to enable the CD&R Investors to maintain, in the aggregate, (1) with respect to offers to sell common stock, other voting stock or equity security equivalents convertible or exchangeable for common stock or other voting stock, the CD&R Investors' then-current percentage of the Company's voting power and (2) with respect to offers to sell equity securities or equity security equivalents consisting of non-voting equity of the Company or equity security equivalents convertible or exchangeable for non-voting equity, the CD&R Investors' then-current percentage of the Company's economic interest.

Standstill

The restrictions described below in Acquisition of Equity Securities will terminate upon the occurrence of a change of control, and will not apply at any time during which stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors own less than 5% of the voting power of the Company.

The restrictions described below in Acquisition of Debt Securities and in Acquisition of Equity Securities will terminate upon the occurrence of certain events relating to our failure to cause the CD&R Investors' nominees or designees to be elected to our board of directors or the removal of such persons without cause other than by action or request from the CD&R Investors.

Acquisition of Equity Securities During the period from the closing until the earlier of (1) the 30-month anniversary of the closing and (2) the six-month anniversary of the first date on which the CD&R Investors hold less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing, the CD&R Investors and certain of their affiliates will be prohibited from:

acquiring, offering or proposing to acquire, or agreeing to acquire, in any manner, beneficial ownership of any securities of the Company or our subsidiaries (including convertible securities) if immediately following such acquisition or agreement, the CD&R Investors and such affiliates would beneficially own in the aggregate more than 80% of the voting power or economic interest of the Company, other than acquisitions of (1) term loans advanced pursuant to, or outstanding under, the amended credit agreement contemplated by the term loan refinancing, or (2) securities of the Company or our subsidiaries resulting from (a) the payment of dividends in kind in additional shares of Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the certificate of designations (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Dividends), (b) the exercise of subscription rights granted under the stockholders agreement (see seeking, directly or indirectly, any amendment, waiver, or release of, or to contest the validity of, any of the restrictions described in the immediately preceding bullet point.

If the six-month anniversary of the first date on which the CD&R Investors hold less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing has not occurred prior to the 30-month anniversary of the closing, during the period from the 30-month anniversary of the closing until such six-month anniversary, the CD&R Investors and certain of its affiliates will be restricted from engaging in the actions described above.

The CD&R Investors and their affiliates will not be prohibited under the stockholder agreement from taking the restricted actions described above (1) with respect to an exchange for equity securities of the Company of term loans advanced pursuant to, or outstanding under, the amended credit agreement contemplated by the term loan financing, if the terms and conditions of such exchange are approved by the prior written consent of a majority of directors of the Company who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors or (2) from and after the 30-month anniversary of the closing, if a majority of the unaffiliated shareholder directors approve such action.

Acquisition of Indebtedness

During the period from the closing until the later of (1) the 30-month anniversary of the closing and (2) the first date on which the CD&R Investors hold less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing, without the prior written consent of a majority of the directors who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors, the CD&R Investors and certain of their affiliates will be prohibited from:

acquiring, offering or proposing to acquire or agreeing to acquire, directly or indirectly, in any manner, beneficial ownership of any indebtedness or debt securities of the Company other than term loans advanced pursuant to, or outstanding under, the amended credit agreement contemplated by the term loan refinancing; or seeking, directly or indirectly, any amendment, waiver, or release of, or to contest the validity of, any of the restrictions described in the bullet point above by the Company.

Transfer Restrictions

The restrictions described in this section entitled Transfer Restrictions (1) do not apply at any time during which stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors own less than 5% of the voting power of the Company and (2) terminate upon the occurrence of a change of control.

Prior to the expiration of the transfer limitation period (as described below), without the approval of a majority of the directors who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors, the CD&R Investors are prohibited from transferring, selling, pledging, assigning or otherwise disposing of (including by merger or otherwise by operation of law) any of the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock or common stock held by them, except:

to certain of its affiliates that agree to be bound by the provisions of the stockholders agreement;

to the Company;

in a qualified business combination (as described below) that is approved, or recommended to the stockholders of the Company, by our board of directors in which:

the consideration received by the CD&R Investors (other than with respect to any Series B convertible preferred stock that is exchangeable for, or convertible into, preferred stock of the resulting entity of the qualified business combination in accordance with the sub-bullet point below, if applicable), on an as-converted basis, is equal to, and in the same form as, the per-share consideration received by all holders of common stock; and/or

the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock are exchangeable for, or convertible into, shares of the resulting entity of the qualified business combination having terms, preferences, rights, privileges and powers substantially similar to and no more favorable than the terms, preferences, rights, privileges and powers under the certificate of designations, and the number of shares of such preferred stock of the resulting entity are convertible in the aggregate into the same amount and form of consideration that would have been receivable in the qualified business combination if the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock had been fully converted into the underlying common stock immediately prior to such qualified business combination; or in a business combination (other than a qualified business combination) that is approved, or recommended to the stockholders of the Company, by our board of directors in which the consideration received by the CD&R Investors, on an as-converted basis, is equal to, and in the same form as, the per-share consideration received by all holders of common stock.

We refer to the transfers, sales, pledges, assignments and other disposals described in the immediately preceding four bullet points as the transfer restriction exceptions.

Following the transfer limitation period, the CD&R Investors are prohibited from transferring, selling, pledging, assigning or otherwise disposing of (including by merger or otherwise by operation of law) any of the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock or common stock held by them, except:

the common stock held by it may be transferred, sold, pledged, assigned or otherwise disposed of (including by merger or otherwise by operation of law) by the CD&R Investors:

in a privately negotiated transaction, provided that the transferee represents that (1) it is not a competitor of the Company, (2) it is not and will not be, after giving effect to the transfer, a holder of 10% or more of the voting power of the Company or any affiliate of such a holder and (3) it is not proposing to effect a change of control of the Company without the prior written consent of a majority of the directors who are independent of both the Company and the CD&R Investors;

in public market trades, provided that the CD&R Investors or their affiliates transferring such shares have no reason to believe that any transferee does not meet the requirements described in clauses (1) through (3) described in the sub-bullet point immediately above and the CD&R Investors or their affiliates transferring such shares have instructed their underwriters or brokers, if any, of such requirements; in a traditional underwritten public offering in accordance with the registration rights agreement; and such shares of Series B convertible preferred stock or common stock may be transferred, sold, pledged, assigned or otherwise disposed of (including by merger or otherwise by operation of law) in the transfer restriction exceptions described in the paragraph above.

The transfer limitation period means any time during the period from the closing until the later of (1) the 30-month anniversary of the closing and (2) the occurrence of certain events relating to our failure to cause the CD&R Investors nominees or designees to be elected to our board of directors or the removal of such persons without cause other than by action or request from the CD&R Investors.

A qualified business combination means a business combination immediately following which:

the individuals and entities that were the beneficial owners of all classes and series of voting stock outstanding immediately prior to such business combination beneficially own more than 50% of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of the entity resulting from such business combination in substantially the same proportions as their ownership immediately prior to such business combination; and no person or group (excluding the CD&R Investors and their affiliates) either:

beneficially owns more of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of such entity than the CD&R Investors and their affiliates so beneficially own, and the CD&R Investors and their affiliates beneficially own more than beneficially owns 25% or more of the combined voting power of the then-outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors (or equivalent) of such entity.

Hedging Restrictions

During the period from the closing until the later of (1) the 30-month anniversary of the closing and (2) the first date on which the CD&R Investors hold in the aggregate less than 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing, the CD&R Investors and certain of their affiliates will be prohibited from hedging its or their direct or indirect exposure to the common stock and the Series B convertible preferred stock, except in transactions involving an index-based portfolio of securities that includes common stock (provided that the value of such common stock in such portfolio is not more than 5% of the total value of the portfolio of securities).

Agreement to Keep the CD&R Investors Informed

From and after the closing and so long as the CD&R Investors hold voting power of the Company equal in the aggregate to at least 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the initial CD&R Investors immediately following the closing, we will keep the CD&R Investors informed of any events, discussions, notices or changes with respect to any tax, criminal or regulatory investigation or action involving us or any of our subsidiaries that have been brought to the attention of our board of directors, and we will reasonably cooperate with the CD&R Investors and their affiliates in an effort to avoid or mitigate any cost or regulatory consequences to them that might arise from such investigation or action (including by reviewing written submissions in advance, attending meetings with authorities and coordinating and providing assistance in meeting with regulators).

Agreement to Seek Amendments to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation

As contemplated by the stockholders agreement, our board of directors have adopted and declared advisable, and unanimously approved and recommended to our stockholders each of the amendments to our restated certificate of incorporation described below:

amendment to Article FOURTH, section 1 of our restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock;

amendment to Article FOURTH, section 1 of our restated certificate of incorporation to enable holders of a majority of the capital stock of the Company entitled to vote generally in the election of directors to vote on proposals affecting the number of authorized shares of any class or classes of stock may be increased or decreased;

amendment to Article FIFTH, section 4 of our restated certificate of incorporation to provide for the removal of directors with or without cause by the affirmative vote of the holder or holders of 80% of the outstanding voting power of the Company;

amendment to Article FIFTH, section 5 of our restated certificate of incorporation to provide for the calling of special meetings of stockholders by the Chief Executive Officer, by our board of directors pursuant to a resolution approved by a majority of the entire board of directors, or by the Secretary of the Company at the written request of the holder or holders of 25% of the outstanding voting power of the Company;

deletion of Article FIFTH, section 6 of our restated certificate of incorporation that prohibited stockholder action by written consent;

deletion of Article SEVENTH of our restated certificate of incorporation that prohibited preemptive or preferential right;

deletion of Article TENTH of our restated certificate of incorporation relating to approval of certain business combinations; and addition of a new article to our restated certificate of incorporation relating to the number of votes that may be held by certain directors to give effect to the provisions in the stockholders agreement.

From and after the closing, we will use our best efforts and take all corporate actions necessary to obtain stockholder approval of each of the amendments described above promptly following the closing.

In the event that stockholder approval of the amendment to Article FOURTH, section 1 of our restated certificate of incorporation has not been obtained by the date that is 18 months following the closing, or at any time thereafter the number of shares of authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of common stock is less than 110% of the number of shares of common stock required to permit the conversion of all then-outstanding shares of Series B convertible preferred stock into shares of common stock in accordance with the applicable terms of conversion as set forth in the certificate of designations, the Company has agreed to take all actions permitted by law and consented to by the CD&R Investors (if such consent is required under the terms of the stockholders agreement), to increase the number of shares of authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of common stock, including, without limitation, at the option of the CD&R Investors (in their sole discretion), taking actions to effect a reclassification or to create a new class of capital stock generally identical to the common stock.

Registration Rights Agreement

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the form of registration rights agreement. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the form of registration rights agreement, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The form of registration rights agreement is included as Annex H hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the form of registration rights agreement in its entirety.

In connection with, and as a condition to, the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the investment agreement, at the closing, we and the initial CD&R Investors will enter into a registration rights agreement substantially in the form of the form of registration rights agreement attached hereto as Annex H, which registration rights agreement to be entered into at the closing, we refer to as the registration rights agreement, under which the Company will grant the CD&R Investors customary demand and piggyback registration rights, including the material terms described below.

Demand Registration

At any time and from time to time on or after the earlier of (i) the 30-month anniversary of the closing (ii) a Company default event or (iii) a change of control event, the CD&R Fund may make a demand request in writing that the Company effect the registration under, and in accordance with, the provisions of the Securities Act of all or any part of the shares of common stock and all shares of capital stock of the Company as may be created as described under

The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendments to Our Restated Certificate of Incorporation held by the CD&R Investors that were acquired by the CD&R Investors on, from and after the date of the registration rights agreement, including, without limitation, shares of common stock or such new class of capital stock, if any, issued or issuable upon conversion of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock, and any shares of capital stock or other equity interests issued or issuable by the Company, directly or indirectly, by way of conversion or exchange thereof or stock dividends, stock splits or in connection with a combination of shares, reclassification, recapitalization, merger or other reorganization, which we refer to as the registrable shares (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Convertibility and Anti Dilution Adjustments for a description of convertibility of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock), held by the CD&R Investors. Promptly after its receipt of any demand request, the Company will give timely written notice of such request to all holders of registrable shares, and will use its reasonable best efforts to file, as promptly as reasonably practicable, a registration statement covering all registrable shares that have been requested to be registered (1) in the demand request and (2) by any holder of registrable shares by written notice to the Company, in accordance with the method or methods of disposition of the applicable registrable shares elected by the CD&R Fund.

Subject to certain limited exceptions, the CD&R Fund is entitled to initiate no more than five demand registrations (other than short-form registrations that are not underwritten offerings) and underwritten offerings included in a shelf registration statement as described below in Shelf Underwritten Offerings in the aggregate, provided, however, that (1) in respect of four out of the five such demand registrations to which holders of registrable shares are entitled under the registration rights agreement, the Company will not be obligated to effect such demand registration unless the amount of registrable shares requested to be registered by the CD&R Fund is reasonably expected to result in aggregate gross proceeds (prior to deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and offering expenses) of at least $50.0 million and (2) the Company will not be obligated to effect such demand registration during the four-month period following the effective date of a registration statement pursuant to any other registration initiated pursuant to a demand request.

We will agree to use our reasonable best efforts to qualify for registration on Form S-3 or any comparable or successor form or forms or any similar short-form registration at all times after the earlier of (i) the 30-month anniversary of the closing, (ii) a Company default event or (iii) a change of control event. If requested by the CD&R Fund and available to the Company, such short-form registration will be a shelf registration statement providing for the registration of, and the sale on a continuous or delayed basis of the registrable shares, pursuant to Rule 415 of the Securities Act or otherwise.

At any time and from time to time on or after the earlier of (i) the 30-month anniversary of the closing (ii) a Company default event or (iii) a change of control event, the CD&R Fund will be entitled to request an unlimited number of short-form registrations, if available to the Company, with respect to the registrable shares held by the CD&R Investors, provided that the Company will not be obligated to effect any short-form registration (1) within 90 days after the effective date of any registration statement of the Company under the registration rights agreement and (2) unless the amount of registrable shares requested to be registered by the CD&R Investors is reasonably expected to result in aggregate gross proceeds (prior to deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and offering expenses) of at least $50.0 million. In no event will the Company be obligated to effect any shelf registration other than pursuant to a short-form registration.

Upon filing any short-form registration, we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts to keep such short-form registration effective with the SEC at all times and to re-file such short-form registration upon its expiration, and to cooperate in any shelf take-down, whether or not underwritten, by amending or supplementing the prospectus related to such short-form registration as may be reasonably requested by the CD&R Fund, or as otherwise required, until such time as all registrable shares that could be sold in such short-form registration have been sold or are no longer outstanding.

To the extent the Company is a well-known seasoned issuer (as defined in Rule 405 of the Securities Act) at the time any demand request for a short-form registration is submitted to the Company and such demand request requests that the Company file a shelf registration statement, the Company will file an automatic shelf registration statement (as defined in Rule 405 of the Securities Act) on Form S-3 in accordance with the requirements of the Securities Act and the rules and regulations of the SEC thereunder, which covers those registrable shares which are requested to be registered. The Company will use its reasonable best efforts to remain a well-known seasoned issuer (and not to become an ineligible issuer (as defined in Rule 405 of the Securities Act)) during the period during which any automatic shelf registration statement is effective. If at any time following the filing of an automatic shelf registration statement when the Company is required to re-evaluate its well-known seasoned issuer status the Company determines that it is not a well-known seasoned issuer, the Company will use its reasonable best efforts to post-effectively amend the automatic shelf registration statement to a shelf registration statement on Form S-3 or file a new shelf registration statement on Form S-3 or, if such form is not available, Form S-1, have such shelf registration statement declared effective by the SEC and keep such Registration Statement effective during the period during which such short-form registration is required to be kept effective as described below.

If the filing, initial effectiveness or continued use of a registration statement, including a shelf registration statement, initiated with respect to a demand request, would require the Company to make a public disclosure of material nonpublic information, which disclosure in the good faith judgment of our board of directors (after consultation with external legal counsel) (1) would be required to be made in any registration statement so that such registration statement would not be materially misleading, (2) would not be required to be made at such time but for the filing, effectiveness or continued use of such registration statement or (3) would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company or our business or on the Company's ability to effect a bona fide and reasonably imminent material proposed acquisition, disposition, financing, reorganization, recapitalization or similar transaction, then the Company may, upon giving prompt written notice of such action to holders of registrable shares participating in such registration, delay the filing or initial effectiveness of, or suspend use of, such Registration Statement, provided that the Company will not be permitted to do so (a) more than once in any six-month period or (b) for any single period of time in excess of 60 days, or for periods exceeding, in the aggregate, 90 days during any 12-month period. In the event that the Company exercises its rights under the preceding sentence, such holders of registrable shares will agree to suspend, promptly upon receipt of the notice referred to above, the use of any prospectus relating to such registration in connection with any sale or offer to sell registrable shares. If the Company so postpones the filing of a prospectus or the effectiveness of a registration statement, the CD&R Fund will be entitled to withdraw such request.

If the CD&R Fund intends that the registrable shares covered by its demand request be distributed by means of an underwritten offering, the CD&R Fund will advise the Company of that as a part of the demand request, and the Company will advise the other holders of registrable shares with respect to such demand request. The CD&R Fund has the right to choose the lead underwriter, subject to the prior written consent, not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed, of the Company for an underwritten demand request.

The Company may not include in any underwritten demand registration any securities that are not registrable shares without the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund.

If any of the registrable shares registered pursuant to a demand registration are to be sold in a firm commitment underwritten offering, and the managing underwriter(s) of such underwritten offering advises holders of registrable shares participating in the registration that, in its good faith opinion, the total number or dollar amount of registrable shares (and, if permitted by the registration rights agreement, securities other than registrable shares requested to be included in such offering) exceeds the largest number or dollar amount of securities that can be sold in such offering without adversely affecting the marketability of the offering (including an adverse effect on the per share offering price), the Company will include in such offering only such number of securities that in the good faith opinion of such underwriter can be included without adversely affecting the marketability of the offering, in the following order of priority: (i) registrable shares of the CD&R Investors, pro rata (if applicable) on the basis of the aggregate number of registrable shares owned by each such CD&R Investor; (ii) registrable shares of other holders of registrable shares, pro rata (if applicable) on the basis of the aggregate number of registrable shares owned by each such holder; and (iii) any securities other than registrable shares requested to be included in the registration by any other person (including the securities to be sold for the account of the Company) allocated among such persons in such manner as the Company may determine.

Piggyback Registration

If, at any time on or after (i) the 30-month anniversary of the closing, (ii) a Company default event or (iii) a change of control event, the Company proposes or is required to file a registration statement under the Securities Act with respect to an offering of securities of the Company, but excluding a registration statement that is (1) solely in connection with the registration of (a) equity securities and/or options or other rights in respect thereof solely registered on Form S-4, Form S-8 or any successor forms thereto or (b) shares of equity securities and/or options or other rights in respect thereof to be offered solely in connection with an employee benefit or dividend reinvestment plan or (2) pursuant to a demand registration, the Company will give written notice as promptly as practicable to all holders of registrable shares of its intention to effect such registration and will include in such registration all registrable shares with respect to which the Company has received timely written notice from such persons for inclusion therein.

If the securities that the Company proposes to register are to be sold in an underwritten primary offering on behalf of the Company, the holders of registrable shares are entitled to include all of their registrable shares on the same terms and conditions as provided to any securities other than registrable shares that are included therein. However, if the proposed offering includes a firm commitment underwritten offering, and the managing underwriter advises the Company and the holders of registrable shares that, in its good faith opinion, the number or dollar amount of registrable shares exceeds the largest number or dollar amount of securities that can be sold without adversely affecting the marketability of the offering, the Company will include in the registration or prospectus only the number of securities that, in the good faith opinion of the managing underwriter, will not adversely affect such marketability, in the following order of priority: (i) the securities other than registrable shares that the Company proposes to sell, (ii) the registrable shares requested to be included by all holders of registrable shares, pro rata (if applicable) on the basis of the aggregate number of shares held by each such holder, and (iii) any securities other than registrable shares requested to be included by any other person (other than the Company), allocated among such persons as determined by the Company.

If the securities proposed to be registered by the Company are to be sold in an underwritten secondary offering on behalf of holders of securities other than registrable shares, the holders of registrable shares are entitled to include all of their registrable shares on the same terms and conditions as provided to any securities other than registrable shares that are included therein. However, if the managing underwriter advises the Company and the holders of registrable shares that, in its good faith opinion, the number or dollar amount of registrable shares proposed to be included exceeds the largest number or dollar amount of securities that can be sold without adversely affecting the marketability of the offering, the Company will include in the registration only the number of securities that, in the reasonable opinion of the managing underwriter, will not adversely affect such marketability, in the following order of priority: (i) (x) the securities other than registrable shares requested to be included pursuant to contractual rights of the holders of such securities and (y) the registrable shares, each pro rata (if applicable) on the basis of the aggregate number of securities requested to be included by each holder; and (ii) any securities other than registrable shares requested to be included by the Company or any other person not exercising a contractual right, allocated as determined by the Company.

Shelf Underwritten Offering

At any time that a shelf registration statement covering registrable shares is effective, if the CD&R Fund delivers a take-down notice to the Company stating that it or the CD&R Investors intend to effect an underwritten offering of all or part of its or the CD&R Investors' registrable shares, in each case included by it or them on the shelf registration statement, the Company will amend or supplement the shelf registration statement or related prospectus as may be necessary in order to enable such registrable shares to be distributed pursuant to the underwritten offering included in the shelf registration statement. The CD&R Fund is not entitled to deliver more than three take-down notices in any 12-month period and the CD&R Fund may not deliver any take-down notice within 30 days after the effective date of any registration statement of the Company.

In connection with any underwritten offerings included on a shelf registration statement, in the event that the managing underwriter advises the Company in its good faith opinion that marketing factors require a limitation on the number of shares which would otherwise be included in such take-down, the managing underwriter may limit the number of shares which would otherwise be included in such take-down offering in the same manner as is described under Demand Registration above with respect to a limitation of shares to be included in a registration.

Expenses

Each holder of registrable shares will bear the pro rata cost of underwriting discounts, selling commissions and transfer taxes associated with any sale of registrable shares.

All expenses incidental to the Company's obligations under the registration rights agreement, including registration and filing fees, fees and expenses with respect to compliance with securities and blue sky laws, certain expenses of counsel to holders of registrable shares, expenses associated with listing the securities to be registered, fees and disbursements of experts, counsel to and advisors engaged by the Company, and other internal expenses of the Company will be paid by the Company, other than expenses incurred in connection with certain withdrawn demands and shelf registrations and the underwriting discounts, selling commissions and transfer taxes associated with any sale of registrable shares.

Termination

The registration rights agreement will terminate when no registrable shares remain outstanding. Certain of the Company's obligations survive termination, as do the parties' indemnification obligations.

Lock-up and Holdback

The initial CD&R Investors may not transfer shares of Series B convertible preferred stock and their ability to transfer shares of common stock is limited (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Transfer Restrictions). All holders of registrable shares are subject to holdback restrictions that are applicable to offerings in which they participate. The Company is also subject to holdback restrictions with regards to the public sale or distribution or the filing of any registration statement covering any equity securities, subject to limited exceptions, or securities convertible into equity.

Limitations on Other Registration Rights

Until such time as the initial CD&R Investors own less than 25% of the voting power of the Company, the Company may not grant registration rights to any other holder or prospective holder of securities without the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund. For the term of the registration rights agreement, the Company will not take any action or permit any change to occur with respect to its securities which would adversely affect the right of any holder of registrable shares to participate in a registration undertaken pursuant to the registration rights agreement.

Indemnification Agreement

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the form of indemnification agreement. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the form of indemnification agreement, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The form of indemnification agreement is included as Annex I hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the form of indemnification agreement in its entirety.

In connection with, and as a condition to, the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the investment agreement, at the closing, we and our wholly owned subsidiaries, NCI Group, Inc., and Robertson-Ceco II Corporation, which we collectively refer to as the NCI entities, will enter into an indemnification agreement substantially in the form of the form of indemnification agreement attached hereto as Annex I, which indemnification agreement to be entered into at the closing we refer to as the indemnification agreement, with the initial CD&R Investors and CD&R.

Pursuant to the indemnification agreement, and subject to the terms and conditions contained therein, each of the NCI entities will agree, jointly and severally, to indemnify, defend and hold harmless CD&R, the initial CD&R Investors and their general partners, the special limited partner of the CD&R Fund and any other investment vehicle that is a stockholder of the Company and is managed by CD&R or CD&R's affiliates, their respective affiliates, their respective successors and assigns, and the respective directors, officers, partners, members, employees, agents, advisors, consultants, representatives and controlling persons of each of them, or of their partners, members and controlling persons, and each other person who is or becomes a director or an officer of any of the Company or its subsidiaries, in each case irrespective of the capacity in which such person acts, from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, damages expenses or obligations:

resulting from third-party claims resulting from, arising out of or in connection with, based upon or relating to the Securities Act, the Exchange Act or any other applicable securities or other laws, in connection with any future securities offering of the Company, the term loan refinancing, the ABL financing, this exchange offer or any documents relating to any of these actions;

resulting from third-party claims against an indemnitee in its capacity as an affiliate (within the meaning of the Exchange Act) or controlling person (within the meaning of the Exchange Act) of the Company or any of our subsidiaries, resulting from, arising out of or in connection with, based upon or relating to any action or inaction by the Company or any of our subsidiaries, provided that such action or inaction was not proximately caused by such indemnitee;

whether incurred with respect to third parties or otherwise, resulting from, arising out of, or in connection with, based upon or relating to any payment or reimbursement by an indemnitee pursuant to indemnification arrangements to an indemnitee acting as a director or an officer of the Company or any of our subsidiaries or having served at the request of or for the benefit of the Company or any of our subsidiaries as a director, officer, member, employee or agent of or advisor or consultant to another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including with respect to any breach or alleged breach by an indemnitee of his or her fiduciary duty as a director or an officer of the Company or any of our subsidiaries; or in each case including but not limited to any and all fees, costs and expenses (including without limitation fees and disbursements of attorneys and other professional advisers) incurred by or on behalf of any indemnitee in asserting, exercising or enforcing any of its rights, powers, privileges or remedies in respect of the indemnification agreement. The foregoing notwithstanding, none of the NCI entities are obligated to indemnify and hold harmless any indemnitee in respect of (1) any claim made against the indemnitee by any of its related persons, including its own directors, officers, shareholders, partners, members, employees, agents, advisors, consultants, representatives and controlling persons to the extent arising from any obligation of such indemnitee to such related person (whether arising from contract, by law or otherwise), other than to the extent such claim arises out of any indemnification obligation by such indemnitee to such related person as a result of such related person's service as a director or an officer of the Company or any of our subsidiaries or (2) any fraud or intentional misconduct by such indemnitee.

Retirement of Convertible Notes in the Recapitalization Plan

As part of the recapitalization plan, in this exchange offer, we are offering to acquire any and all of the convertible notes for cash and shares of common stock, in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and in the letter of transmittal.

For each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes that you tender and that we accept in this exchange offer, you will, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and the letter of transmittal, receive $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock. The cash payment and the shares of common stock to be issued pursuant to this exchange offer will be in full satisfaction of the principal amount of, and any accrued but unpaid interest through the consummation of this exchange offer on, the convertible notes so tendered and accepted.

The closing of the exchange offer is conditioned on the satisfaction or, with the consent of the CD&R Fund, waiver of the minimum tender condition, which requires that at least 95% of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes are validly tendered and not withdrawn in this exchange offer. We intend, but are not required, to retire any convertible notes outstanding after the consummation of this exchange offer by exercising our redemption right under the convertible notes indenture on or after November 20, 2009; if we do not so exercise our redemption, right such remaining convertible notes will otherwise be retired pursuant to the terms of the convertible notes indenture.

Retirement of Convertible Notes in the Prepackaged Plan

As an alternative to the recapitalization plan, we have prepared the prepackaged plan for accomplishing the restructuring, including the retirement of the convertible notes. If the conditions to completion of the recapitalization plan are not satisfied or waived, including, for example, the minimum tender condition, not satisfied or waived, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, we may elect and, under the terms of the investment agreement, we may be required, to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan in a chapter 11 proceeding to effect the retirement of the convertible notes.

Under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims as they would in this exchange offer. See The Prepackaged Plan.

Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing

The debt financing arrangements described below with respect to the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing are subject to change (whether as a result of market conditions or otherwise), and the debt financings described below (or any other debt financings that may be obtained if one or both of the debt financings described below are not available to us) remain subject to negotiation and completion of definitive documentation. Accordingly, since the final terms, structures and amounts of the actual debt financing arrangements have not been agreed upon and may not be determined until shortly before the closing of the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan (as applicable), the final terms, structures and amounts of any or all of the actual debt financing arrangements may materially differ from those described below.

There can be no assurances as to when, or if, we will be successful with respect to the consummation of any transactions contemplated by the restructuring and no assurances as to the exact terms and conditions of each of the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing.

The Term Loan Refinancing

Overview

As part of the restructuring, we expect to enter into an amendment to our existing credit agreement under which we would repay approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and modify the terms and maturity of the remaining $150.0 million balance.

Pursuant to the investment agreement, we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts (and the CD&R Fund has agreed to use reasonable best efforts to cooperate with us in such efforts) to take all reasonable actions and to do all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable, to enter into an amended credit agreement under the term loan refinancing, which will amend our existing credit agreement on the terms and conditions provided in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J and described below or otherwise contemplated thereby.

CD&R Fund may make such additions, modifications, alterations, corrections or other changes to the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J as it deems advisable in its sole discretion (exercised in good faith) to:

add, provide or complete any schedule, annex, exhibit, numerical amount or other information that is omitted, missing or incomplete, or modify, alter, correct or change (including without limitation by deleting or replacing) any wording that is in brackets;

cure any ambiguity, mistake, omission or defect;

cure any inconsistency, including with any other provision of the same agreement or of the ABL agreement or any other transaction document or other agreement entered into in connection therewith;

address a material risk that (1) we will be unable to comply with the terms or conditions of the agreement or (2) by complying with the terms and conditions of the agreement we will be subject to a material risk of not complying with the terms and conditions of the ABL agreement or any other transaction document or other agreement entered into in connection therewith;

effect the intent evidenced by the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J; or avoid adverse tax consequences to us or any of our subsidiaries.

Table of Contents

If, for whatever reason, we cannot amend our existing credit agreement under the term loan refinancing on the terms and conditions contemplated in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, (with such changes thereto deemed advisable by the CD&R Fund in its sole discretion (exercised in good faith), we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts (and the CD&R Fund has agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with us in such efforts, including by actively assisting us in negotiation of related definitive documentation) to amend the terms of our existing credit agreement (1) on terms and conditions that are, in the CD&R Fund's sole discretion (exercised in good faith), (x) no less favorable (as to each item (other than immaterial items) and in the aggregate) to the Company and the CD&R Fund (as a prospective stockholder of the Company) than the terms and conditions contemplated in the form of the amended credit agreement, or (y) otherwise acceptable to the CD&R Fund, and (2) to extend the maturity of $150.0 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit agreement, as promptly as practicable but in any event no later than the outside date (which is described in "The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Termination of the Investment Agreement").

The closing of the term loan refinancing through the recapitalization plan requires the approval of all of the lenders under our existing credit agreement. We have not yet obtained such approval and it is uncertain if such approval will be obtained.

As an alternative, in the event that the conditions to completion of the recapitalization plan are not satisfied, including, for example, if we do not get the approval of all of the lenders under our existing credit agreement to amend our existing credit agreement, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual "cram-down" provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, we may elect and, under the terms of the investment agreement, we may be required, to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan in a chapter 11 proceeding to effect the term loan refinancing (see "The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Commencement of a Reorganization Case in Connection with the Prepackaged Plan Covenant"). Under the prepackaged plan, the lenders under our existing credit agreement would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims as they would receive in the recapitalization plan (see "The Prepackaged Plan").

Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement that also hold obligations under our existing credit agreement have agreed, subject to the terms contained in the lock-up agreement, (1) to support the term loan refinancing by accepting a portion of the repayment contemplated thereby and by executing an amendment to our existing credit agreement in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J and (2) to vote all their obligations under the existing credit agreement in favor of the prepackaged plan, among other things. See "The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement."

Form of Amended Credit Agreement

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the form of amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J if it is executed at the closing of the restructuring. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. We incorporate by reference into this document the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J. We encourage you to read carefully the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J in its entirety.

For reasons noted above, these terms and conditions may be subject to change. The form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J described below also remains subject to final negotiation of various items and completion of definitive ancillary documentation. Accordingly, the final terms of any amended credit agreement may materially differ from those described below. In addition, there can be no assurances as to when, or if, we will be successful with respect to the consummation of the term loan refinancing or any transaction contemplated thereby and no assurances as to the exact terms and conditions of the term loan refinancing.

Maturity; Prepayments. The term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J would mature on the fifth anniversary of the closing date thereof and, prior to such date, would amortize in nominal quarterly installments equal to one percent of the aggregate principal amount thereof per annum.

The term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J would be prepayable at our option at any time without premium or penalty (other than customary breakage costs). We would also have the ability to repurchase a portion of the term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J subject to certain terms and conditions set forth in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J.

Subject to certain exceptions, the term loans under form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J would be subject to mandatory prepayment and reduction in an amount equal to:

the net cash proceeds of (1) certain asset sales, (2) certain debt offerings and (3) certain insurance recovery and condemnation events; and

50% of annual excess cash flow (as defined in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J) for any fiscal year ending on or after October 31, 2010, unless a specified leverage ratio target is met.

Guarantees; Security. Our obligations under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J and any interest rate protection agreements or other permitted hedging agreement entered into with any lender under the amended credit agreement would be irrevocably and unconditionally guaranteed on a joint and several basis by substantially the same guarantors as under our existing credit agreement.

In addition, the term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, the permitted hedging agreements and the guarantees thereof would be secured by security interests on substantially all of the tangible and intangible assets of NCI and the guarantors, including liens on material real property and pledges of all the capital stock of all direct domestic subsidiaries owned by NCI and the guarantors and of up to 65% of the capital stock of certain direct foreign subsidiaries owned by NCI or any guarantor. The security and pledges would be subject to certain exceptions.

The liens securing the term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, the permitted hedging agreements and the guarantees thereof would be first in priority (as between the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing) with respect to stock, material real property and assets other than accounts receivable, inventory and associated intangibles of the Company and the guarantors, subject to certain exceptions. Such liens would be second in priority (as between the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing) with respect to accounts receivable, inventory and associated intangibles of NCI and the guarantors, subject to certain exceptions. The details of the respective collateral rights between lenders under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J and lenders under the ABL agreement would be governed by an intercreditor agreement which has not yet been negotiated.

Pricing. At our election, the interest rates per annum applicable to the term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement would be based on a fluctuating rate of interest measured by reference to either (1) an adjusted London inter-bank offered rate, or LIBOR, or (2) an alternate base rate, in each case, plus a borrowing margin.

Covenants. The form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J contains a number of covenants that, among other things, would limit or restrict the ability of NCI and its subsidiaries to dispose of assets, incur additional indebtedness, incur guarantee obligations, prepay other indebtedness, make dividends and other restricted payments, create liens, make investments, make acquisitions, engage in mergers, change the nature of their business and engage in certain transactions with affiliates.

In addition, under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J, NCI and its consolidated subsidiaries would be subject to a financial covenant that would require us to maintain a specified consolidated debt to EBITDA leverage ratio for specified periods (the requirement for this ratio would vary throughout the term of the term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J) beginning with the four fiscal quarter period ending October 30, 2011. We would, however, not be subject to this financial covenant if certain prepayments or repurchases of the term loans under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J are made in the specified period.

Events of Default. The form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J would contain customary events of default, including non-payment of principal, interest or fees, violation of covenants, material inaccuracy of representations or warranties, cross default and cross acceleration to certain other material indebtedness (including the ABL financing), certain bankruptcy events, certain ERISA events, material invalidity of guarantees or security interest, material judgments and change of control.

Incremental Commitments. The form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J also would provide that NCI has the right at any time to request up to $50.0 million of incremental commitments in the aggregate under one or more incremental term loan facilities. The lenders under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J would not be under any obligation to provide any such incremental commitments, and any such addition of or increase in commitments would be subject to pro forma compliance with an incurrence-based financial covenant and customary conditions precedent. Our ability to obtain extensions of credit under these incremental commitments would be subject to the same conditions as extensions of credit would be under the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J.

The ABL Financing

Overview

As part of the restructuring, we also expect to enter into an ABL agreement for a $125.0 million asset-based loan facility.

Pursuant to the investment agreement, we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts to take (and the CD&R Fund has agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with us in such efforts) all reasonable actions and to do all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable, to arrange and obtain revolving credit commitments for general corporate purposes from lenders under the ABL financing on terms and conditions that reflect the terms and conditions summarized in the ABL term sheet attached hereto as Annex K and described below and otherwise (1) are consistent with and no less favorable (as to each item (other than immaterial items) and in the aggregate) to us and the CD&R Fund (as a prospective stockholder of the Company) than the terms and conditions of asset-based revolving credit financing transactions for companies sponsored by CD&R, as determined by the CD&R Fund in its reasonable discretion (exercised in good faith), or (2) are acceptable to the CD&R Fund in its sole discretion (exercised in good faith).

If, for whatever reason, we cannot arrange and obtain revolving credit commitments from lenders under the ABL financing on terms and conditions that reflect the terms and conditions summarized in the ABL term sheet, we have agreed to use our reasonable best efforts (and the CD&R Fund has agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with us in such efforts, including by actively assisting us in negotiation of related definitive documentation) to obtain alternative financing from alternative sources that (1) is on terms and conditions that (A) are no less favorable (as to each item and in the aggregate) to us and the CD&R Fund (as a prospective stockholder of the Company) than the terms and conditions summarized in the ABL term sheet, as determined by the CD&R Fund in its sole discretion (exercised in good faith) and (B) otherwise (x) are consistent with and no less favorable to us and the CD&R Fund (as a prospective stockholder of the Company) than the terms and conditions of asset-based revolving credit financing transactions for companies sponsored by CD&R, as determined by the CD&R Fund in its reasonable discretion (exercised in good faith) or (y) are acceptable to the CD&R Fund in its sole discretion (exercised in good faith), and (2) provides revolving credit commitments in an aggregate principal amount that is not less than $125.0 million, as promptly as practicable but in any event no later than the outside date.

Whether the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, the closing of the ABL financing requires the approval and execution of the ABL agreement by all lenders providing revolving credit commitments thereunder. There can be no assurances as to when, or if, we will be successful with respect to the consummation of the ABL financing or any transaction contemplated thereby and no assurances as to the exact terms and conditions of the ABL financing.

ABL Term Sheet

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the ABL financing if the ABL financing were consummated as set forth in the ABL term sheet. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the ABL term sheet, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The ABL term sheet is included as Annex K hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the ABL term sheet attached hereto as Annex K in its entirety.

The terms and conditions of the ABL financing described below remain subject to final negotiation and completion of definitive documentation. Accordingly, the final terms of the ABL financing may materially differ from those described below. In addition, there can be no assurances as to when, or if, we will be successful with respect to the consummation of the ABL financing or any transaction contemplated thereby and no assurances as to the exact terms and conditions of the ABL financing. Although we have been in discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, no loan commitment letter from any such prospective lender has been received by the Company.

Availability. The ABL term sheet provides for an asset-based revolving credit facility which would allow aggregate maximum borrowings by us of up to $125.0 million. As set forth in the ABL term sheet, extensions of credit under the ABL financing would be limited by a borrowing base calculated periodically based on specified percentages of the value of qualified cash, eligible inventory and eligible accounts receivable, less certain reserves and subject to certain other adjustments. Based on its discussions with prospective lenders under the ABL agreement, the Company expects that because of borrowing base constraints, initial availability under the ABL agreement will be substantially less than the $125.0 million commitment described above and may be as low as $45 million. Availability will be reduced by issuance of letters of credit as well as by borrowings. The Company expects that it will have approximately $13 million face amount of letters of credit initially outstanding under the ABL agreement, and that initial unfunded availability accordingly could be as low as $32 million.

Borrowers. NCI's domestic subsidiaries, NCI Group Inc. and Robertson-Ceco II Corporation, would be borrowers under the ABL financing as set forth in the ABL term sheet, along with any other domestic operating subsidiary of NCI that has assets that may be included in the borrowing base. The borrowers under the ABL financing, as set forth in the ABL term sheet, would be jointly and severally liable for all loans outstanding thereunder.

Maturity. The loans under the ABL financing, as set forth in the ABL term sheet, would mature on the earlier of the fifth anniversary of the closing date thereof and the scheduled maturity of the term loans under the amended credit agreement.

Guarantees; Security. The obligations of the borrowers under the ABL financing, as set forth in the ABL term sheet, would be guaranteed by us and each of our material domestic subsidiaries that is not a borrower under the ABL agreement.

In addition, the ABL financing, as set forth in the ABL term sheet, and the guarantees thereof would be secured by a first priority lien on accounts receivable, inventory and associated intangibles of the Company and the guarantors, subject to certain exceptions, and a second priority lien on the assets securing the term loans under the amended credit agreement on a first-lien basis.

Pricing

As set forth in the ABL term sheet, the interest rates per annum applicable to borrowings under the ABL agreement would be based on a fluctuating rate of interest measured by reference to either (1) an adjusted London inter-bank offered rate or LIBOR or (2) an alternate base rate that, in each case, is expected to vary depending on the quarterly average excess availability under such facility.

Fees. As set forth in the ABL term sheet, the borrowers would pay (1) fees on the unused commitments of the lenders under the ABL agreement ranging from 0.75% to 1.00%, depending on the proportion of the loans that have been drawn under the ABL agreement and (2) other customary fees in respect of the ABL financing.

Covenants. The ABL financing as set forth in the ABL term sheet would include a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio of one to one, which would apply if the borrowers fail to maintain a specified minimum level of borrowing capacity.

Incremental Commitments. The ABL financing, as set forth in the ABL term sheet, would also provide that NCI has the right to request up to $50.0 million of incremental commitments in the aggregate, although the lenders under the ABL financing, as set forth in the ABL term sheet, would not be expected to be under any obligation to provide any incremental commitments.

The Lock-Up Agreement

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the lock-up agreement. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the lock-up agreement, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The lock-up agreement is included as Annex B hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document. We encourage you to read carefully the lock-up agreement in its entirety.

We entered into lock-up and voting agreement, dated as of August 31, 2009, with certain holders of convertible notes, pursuant to which such holders, who hold more than 79% in aggregate principal amount of outstanding convertible notes, have agreed to support the restructuring.

Agreement to Tender

Unless this exchange offer is terminated in accordance with its terms, each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement has irrevocably agreed to tender in this exchange offer, and not withdraw from this exchange offer, all convertible notes held by or beneficially owned by it, or with respect to which it serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote or dispose thereof so long as:

- certain economic terms of the restructuring are not altered or amended in a manner adverse to such holder;
- the consideration (and mix of consideration) being offered in the restructuring is not altered or amended; and
- certain other terms of the restructuring are not altered or amended in a manner materially adverse to such holder.

Agreement to Support the Term Loan Refinancing

Each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement that is also a lender under our existing credit agreement has agreed, contemporaneously with the closing of the restructuring, (1) to support the term loan refinancing by accepting its portion of the repayment contemplated thereby with respect to the term loans and other obligations under our existing credit agreement held by it or beneficially owned by it, or with respect to which it serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote or dispose thereof, and (2) with respect to the remaining obligations under our existing credit agreement held by it or beneficially owned by it, or with respect to which it serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote or dispose thereof, by executing an amendment to our existing credit agreement in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J (with the completion of items currently blank as agreed upon by Wachovia Bank, National Association (or any successor thereto), as administrative agent under our existing credit agreement) so long as:

- certain economic terms of the restructuring are not altered or amended in a manner adverse to such holder;
- the consideration (and mix of consideration) being offered in the restructuring is not altered or amended; and
- certain other terms of the restructuring are not altered or amended in a manner materially adverse to such holder.

Agreement to Vote

So long as the prepackaged plan attached hereto as Annex A is not altered or amended and such holder has received this prospectus/disclosure statement and related documents in compliance with the Bankruptcy Code, each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement has agreed to vote (and not change or revoke such vote) all convertible notes and all obligations under our existing credit agreement held by it or beneficially owned by it, or with respect to which it serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote thereof, to accept the prepackaged plan.

Table of Contents

Additional Agreements of the Lock-Up Agreement Parties; Agreement with Respect to Other Transactions

Each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement has agreed that, from and after the date of the lock-up agreement:

it will not solicit, support or encourage any other plan, proposal or offer of reorganization, merger, restructuring or recapitalization or otherwise delay or impede the consummation of the restructuring; and it will not:

object to, or otherwise commence any proceeding opposing, any of the terms of the transactions contemplated by the restructuring;

take any action, including, but not limited to, objecting to the prepackaged plan, which is inconsistent with, or that would delay approval, consummation or confirmation of any of the transactions contemplated by the restructuring; or take any action that would make any representation or warranty of such holder untrue or incorrect in any material respect, or have the effect of preventing or disabling such holder from performing its obligations hereunder in any material respect.

Restrictions on Transfer of Convertible Notes and Term Loans

Each holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement has agreed, from and after the date of the lock-up agreement, not to directly or indirectly transfer or dispose of or enter into an agreement or arrangement to transfer or dispose of (other than ordinary course pledges in a prime brokerage account) any convertible note or term loans under our existing credit agreement or interest therein other than a transfer that does not require registration under the Securities Act and in accordance with the terms of our existing credit agreement and the convertible notes indenture, as applicable, to (1) a transferee that is already a party to the lock-up agreement or any of such person's or entity's affiliates or (2) a transferee that represents that it is a Qualified Institutional Buyer within the meaning of Rule 144A promulgated under the Securities Act.

Unless a transfer is being made to a person or party that is already a party to the lock-up agreement, such transfer must be pursuant to a privately negotiated transaction and the transferee must execute and deliver to the Company a joinder agreement pursuant to which the transferee agrees to be bound by the terms of the lock-up agreement.

A holder of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement may acquire additional convertible notes or term loans under our existing credit agreement so long as such convertible notes or term loans become subject to the terms of the lock-up agreement.

Registration Rights

We have agreed to enter into a registration rights agreement containing customary indemnification provisions for selling stockholders that will provide registration rights to the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement in the event that the restructuring is accomplished through the recapitalization plan or, if the restructuring is accomplished through the prepackaged plan and the common stock received by them is not freely tradable pursuant to the provisions of section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code. We will be obligated, under such registration statement, subject to customary blackout periods in connection with earnings releases and material corporate developments:

to file with the SEC a shelf registration statement no later than five business days following the closing of the restructuring covering resales of the common stock received by each such holder on a delayed or continuous basis; and to use our best efforts to maintain the effectiveness of such registration until the earlier of (a) six months after the closing of the restructuring and (b) the date on which all such common stock held by the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement can be resold pursuant to Rule 144 of the Securities Act without limitation as to volume or compliance with any manner of sale requirements.

However, if, during the six months after the completion of the restructuring, there is not adequate current public information with respect to the Company for purposes of resales of common stock under Rule 144(c) under the Securities Act, then we will use our best efforts to maintain the effectiveness of the registration until the earlier of (a) 12 months after the closing of the restructuring and (b) the date on which all such common stock held by the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement can be resold pursuant to Rule 144 of the Securities Act without limitation as to volume or compliance with any manner of sale requirements.

Covenants of the Company

Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, we have agreed that we will not, among other things:

publish or disclose the identity of any of the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement without such holder's consent (except the Company may disclose the aggregate amount of convertible notes and/or existing term loans held by such holders without reference to the convertible notes and/or term loans held by any such individual holder and the nature of such holder's obligations under the lock-up agreement, subject to the right of such holder to review and comment on any such disclosure prior to publication, disclosure or filing); or enter into any agreement or other arrangement with any holder of convertible notes or term loans under our existing credit agreement with respect to or relating in any way to the restructuring if such agreement or other arrangement contains any term or provision relating to the consideration in respect of such convertible notes or term loans (including any agreement to pay any fee or other consideration (whether or not in cash), and any conditions relating to such payments) that is more favorable to such holder than those contained in agreements and arrangements with the lock-up agreement parties without also providing such term, provision or condition for the benefit of the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement.

Agreements Related to our Board of Directors

Pursuant to the lock-up agreement, we have agreed that the directors who are members of our board of directors effective as of the closing of the restructuring will include two directors, who are independent from both the Company, on the one hand, and the CD&R Fund and its affiliates, on the other hand, who are unaffiliated shareholder directors (as described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related Matters).

We have also agreed that for so long as the lock-up agreement is in effect and there has been no material breach by the holders that executed the lock-up agreement:

holders of convertible notes representing at least a majority of the outstanding convertible notes may submit proposed persons to serve as the initial unaffiliated shareholder directors, and the Company will consider in good faith any such proposed persons;

prior to the appointment of the initial unaffiliated shareholder directors, the Company will provide notice prior to the closing of the restructuring of the Company's proposed initial unaffiliated shareholder directors; and in the event that holders of convertible notes representing at least a majority of the outstanding convertible notes provide written notice to the Company within seven business days that they object to the proposed initial unaffiliated shareholder directors, the Company will propose (and, if necessary, continue to propose) alternative initial unaffiliated shareholder directors so that at least one of the two initial unaffiliated shareholder directors is acceptable to holders of convertible notes representing at least a majority of the outstanding convertible notes.

Termination

The lock-up agreement may be terminated by a number of holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement holding not less than two-thirds in aggregate principal amount of all convertible notes held by all holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement:

if an event occurs that would provide either the Company or the CD&R Fund with the right to terminate the investment agreement under the terms of the investment agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Termination of the Investment Agreement);

if the Company materially breaches any of our obligations set forth in the lock-up agreement;

if the investment agreement terminates in accordance with its terms (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Termination of the Investment Agreement);

if certain economic terms of the restructuring are altered or amended in a manner adverse to the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement that are lenders under our existing credit agreement;

if the consideration (or mix of consideration) being offered in the restructuring is altered or amended;

if certain other terms of the restructuring are altered or amended in a manner materially adverse to the holders of convertible notes that executed the lock-up agreement;

if the minimum tender condition is decreased or is altered or amended, or the amended credit agreement is executed and in effect and, at such time, the amended credit agreement is not binding on all lenders under our existing credit agreement;

if an event of default under the convertible notes indenture has occurred and is continuing (other than an event of default resulting from the commencement of a filing with respect to the prepackaged plan); or at any time after 11:59 p.m. on January 15, 2010.

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT

Accounting for Induced Conversion Charge and Settlement Gain Related to Convertible Notes

We expect to record the net result of the induced conversion charge (reflected in accordance with SFAS 84, Induced Conversions of Convertible Debt an amendment of APB Opinion No. 26) and the gain on settlement of a convertible instrument related to this exchange offer (reflected in accordance with EITF03-07, Accounting for the Settlement of the Equity-Settled Portion of a Convertible Debt Instrument That Permits or Requires the Conversion Spread to Be Settled in Stock (Instrument C of Issue No. 90-19)) as a debt extinguishment charge of approximately $93.2 million. SFAS 84, Induced Conversions of Convertible Debt an amendment of APB Opinion No. 26, requires us to recognize an expense equal to the fair value of all securities or other consideration transferred in the exchange of the convertible notes in excess of the fair value of securities issuable pursuant to the original conversion terms. In accordance with the original conversion terms of the convertible notes, the expected fair value of common stock issuable upon conversion is approximately $273.2 million (based on a $2.61 closing stock price for common stock as of September 4, 2009) as compared to the expected fair value of common stock issuable pursuant to this exchange offer of approximately $11.7 million. This would result in an expected induced conversion charge of approximately $261.5 million. EITF03-07, Accounting for the Settlement of the Equity-Settled Portion of a Convertible Debt Instrument That Permits or Requires the Conversion Spread to Be Settled in Stock (Instrument C of Issue No. 90-19), requires us to account for the settlement of the convertible notes as a debt extinguishment. When extinguishment accounting is required, the reacquisition price of the debt would include the cash payment for the accreted value of the debt and the fair value of the equity instruments issued to settle the conversion spread. The original conversion rate is 24.9121 shares per $1,000 of principal and the exchange of the convertible notes results in 390 shares per $1,000 of principal. The change in conversion rate based on a $2.61 closing stock price for common stock as of September 4, 2009 is expected to result in a gain on settlement of $168.3 million.

Accounting for the Issuance of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities the Company expects to classify the Series B convertible preferred stock as an equity host contract. We expect that certain dividend related features of the Series B convertible preferred stock that are not clearly and closely related to an equity host contract will be bifurcated and be recognized at fair value. At the closing of the recapitalization plan, we expect to record a derivative liability of approximately $7.5 million ($4.6 million net of tax) related to the issuance of the Series B convertible preferred stock. This amount is estimated based on the probability that we would be required to pay dividends at an increased rate due to the occurrence of a default. For a description of the designations, preferences and rights of the Series B convertible preferred stock, see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Certain Terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock.

In accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force, EITF Issue 98-5, Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios and EITF Issue 00-27, Application of Issue 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments, the Company expects to recognize approximately $10.4 million in intrinsic value of the beneficial conversion feature related to the Series B convertible preferred stock shares (that is, the difference between the conversion price and the fair value of the common stock into which the Series B convertible preferred stock is convertible, multiplied by the number of shares into which the Series B convertible preferred stock is convertible) at the closing of the recapitalization plan. This amount representing the intrinsic value of the beneficial conversion feature related to the Series B convertible preferred stock is calculated based on (1) the number of shares of Series B convertible preferred stock that would be immediately convertible into common stock at the closing of the recapitalization plan, which is approximately 7.8 million and (2) the value of such shares of common stock upon conversion based on the closing stock price for common stock of $2.61 per share as of September 4, 2009 less the equivalent conversion price of $1.2748 per share.

At the closing of the recapitalization plan, due to the contingency related to the number of authorized common shares, we expect to record the Series B convertible preferred stock on our balance sheet at $212.6 million, which is calculated based on the proceeds from the CD&R Fund from the CD&R investment less the fair value of the embedded derivative liability, net of tax, described above and the reimbursement or payment of transaction costs related to the recapitalization plan, including amounts due to the CD&R Fund.

Under the stockholders agreement, we are required to use our best efforts to obtain necessary approvals to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock. Upon receipt of such approvals, we expect to recognize an additional $259.7 million in intrinsic value of the remaining contingent beneficial conversion feature.

Accounting for Accelerated Vesting of Shares Issued under the 2003 Long-Term Stock Incentive Plan

In accordance with SFAS 123(R), Share-Based Payment, the Company recognizes compensation costs related to the 2003 Long-Term Stock Incentive Plan by amortizing the fair value of shares valued on the date of grant over the expected service period related to each stock grant. The shares granted under this program vest ratably over the service period which is typically over a four-year period. The shares granted under this program automatically vest upon a contractually defined change of control. As a result of the recapitalization plan, most of the shares are expected to fully vest resulting in the recognition of approximately $9.6 million accelerated compensation costs. In addition, the Company expects to have a tax deduction that is less than the accelerated compensation costs, thus resulting in an elimination of the deferred tax asset related to stock compensation and a reduction in the APIC pool of approximately $6.0 million.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The following unaudited pro forma financial information has been presented to give effect to and show the pro forma impact of the transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan, which include (1) this exchange offer, (2) the CD&R investment, (3) the term loan refinancing and (4) the ABL financing, on NCI's balance sheet as of August 2, 2009, and also describes the impact of the recapitalization plan on NCI's earnings for the fiscal year ended November 2, 2008 and the nine months ended August 2, 2009. The unaudited pro forma financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the financial position or results of operations that would have actually been reported had the transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan occurred at the beginning of the periods presented, nor is it indicative of our future financial position or results of operations. The unaudited pro forma financial information presented in this prospectus/disclosure statement does not give effect to the pro forma impact of the transactions contemplated by the prepackaged plan. The filing of a prepackaged plan would result in the application of restart accounting which could significantly change to recorded value of asset, liabilities and stockholders equity.

The unaudited pro forma adjustments were prepared based on the assumptions we believe are reasonable. The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated balance sheet as of August 2, 2009, gives effect to the recapitalization plan as if it had occurred on August 2, 2009. The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statements of operations for the year ended November 2, 2008, and the nine months ended August 2, 2009, give effect to the recapitalization plan as if it had occurred on October 29, 2007.

Due to the fact that the transactions contemplated by the recapitalization plan have not yet been completed, except as indicated, the selected unaudited pro forma financial information assumes that:

100% of the convertible notes are exchanged for a combination of $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock for each $1,000 principal amount of the convertible notes and accrued and unpaid interest thereon;

the conversion price of the Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued in the CD&R investment is $1.27 per share of common stock;

the restructuring is effected through the consummation of the recapitalization plan as opposed to the prepackaged plan;

the assumed market price for common stock for all computations is $2.61 per share, which was the closing stock price on September 4, 2009; and

If (1) the consideration offered in this exchange offer change, (2) the conversion price of the Series B convertible preferred stock change (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Convertibility and Anti-Dilution Adjustments) and/or (3) we are required to file the prepackaged plan (see The Prepackaged Plan), the unaudited pro forma adjustments could be materially different. These adjustments could result in significant differences in the estimates for the embedded derivative liability of the Series B convertible preferred stock, the estimated beneficial conversion feature of the Series B convertible preferred stock, and the estimated debt extinguishment cost of the convertible notes. See Accounting Treatment Accounting for the Issuance of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock.

The selected unaudited pro forma financial information has been derived from our consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended in 2008, which are attached as Exhibit 99.1 to our current report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on September 10, 2009, and our consolidated financial statements for the quarterly period ended May 3, 2009, which are included in our quarterly report on Form 10-Q, each of which is incorporated herein by reference and should be read in conjunction with the sections of this prospectus/disclosure statement titled Selected Consolidated Financial and Other Data. Our financial statements and schedules included in this prospectus/disclosure statement have been prepared on the assumption that we have the ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of asset carrying amounts or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result should we be unable to continue as a going concern.

THE EXCHANGE OFFER

Purpose of the Exchange Offer

This exchange offer is a critical component to completing the restructuring through the recapitalization plan (see The Restructuring Overview). Under the recapitalization plan, we are proposing to effect:

the CD&R investment through a private placement of the Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the investment agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment);

the retirement of the convertible notes, including the retirement of at least 95% of the convertible notes through this exchange offer to acquire any and all of the convertible notes in exchange for cash and shares of our common stock;

the term loan refinancing through the repayment of approximately $143.3 million of the $293.3 million in principal amount of term loans outstanding under our existing credit facility and a modification of the terms and maturity of the $150.0 million balance by amending our existing credit agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing The Term Loan Refinancing); and the ABL financing through our entry into an ABL agreement for a $125.0 million asset-based revolving credit facility (see The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing The ABL Financing).

Terms of the Exchange Offer

We are offering to acquire any and all convertible notes in exchange for cash and shares of common stock in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and in the letter of transmittal. You may tender your convertible notes for exchange by following the procedures described under the heading Procedures for Tendering Convertible Notes below.

For each $1,000 principal amount of convertible notes that you tender and that we accept in this exchange offer, you will, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and the letter of transmittal, receive $500 in cash and 390 shares of common stock. The cash payment and the shares of common stock to be issued in this exchange offer will be in full satisfaction of the principal amount of, and any accrued but unpaid interest through the consummation of this exchange offer on, the convertible notes so tendered and accepted.

Certain Matters Relating to Non-U.S. Jurisdictions

This prospectus/disclosure statement will not, subject to limited exceptions, be distributed outside the United States and is not an offer to sell or exchange and it is not a solicitation of an offer to buy securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, sale or exchange is not permitted. Countries outside the United States generally have their own legal requirements that govern securities offerings made into those countries and often impose stringent requirements about the form and content of offers made to the general public. We have not taken any action in any jurisdiction to facilitate a public offer of securities outside the United States or to facilitate the distribution of this prospectus/disclosure statement outside of the United States. This prospectus/disclosure statement does not constitute an invitation to participate in this exchange offer in any jurisdiction in which it is unlawful to make such invitation under applicable securities laws. The distribution of this prospectus/disclosure statement in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. Persons into whose possession this prospectus/disclosure statement comes are required by each of the Company and the dealer-manager to inform themselves about, and to observe, any such restrictions. No action has been or will be taken in any jurisdiction other than the United States by the Company or the dealer-manager in relation to this exchange offer described herein that would permit a public offering of securities. Non-U.S. holders should consult their advisors in considering whether they may participate in this exchange offer in accordance with the laws of their home countries and, if they do participate, whether there are any restrictions or limitations on transactions in the convertible notes that may apply in their home countries. We and the dealer-manager cannot provide any assurance about whether such limitations may exist. In those jurisdictions where the securities, blue sky or other laws require this exchange offer to be made by a licensed broker or dealer and the dealer-manager or any of its affiliates is such a licensed broker or dealer in such jurisdictions, this exchange offer shall be deemed to be made by the dealer-manager or such affiliate (as the case may be) on our behalf in such jurisdictions.

Financing of the Exchange Offer; Pro Forma Ownership

Assuming that 100% of the convertible notes are tendered and accepted in this exchange offer, approximately $90.0 million would be required to pay the cash consideration for all of the convertible notes. In addition, assuming that we complete the recapitalization plan and that 100% of the convertible notes are tendered and accepted in this exchange offer, based on the number of shares of common stock authorized, issued and outstanding as of September 4, 2009, at the closing of, after giving effect to, the recapitalization plan:

holders of convertible notes would receive 70,200,000 shares of common stock, or approximately 24.5% of our voting power;

the CD&R Fund would receive 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock convertible into 196,109,194 shares of common stock based on the initial conversion price (assuming that we have sufficient authorized but unissued shares to permit such conversion, which, after giving effect to the restructuring, we do not expect to have (see Summary The Restructuring CD&R Investment)), or approximately 68.5% of our voting power; and our current stockholders would continue to hold approximately 19,981,585 shares of common stock, or approximately 7.0% of our voting power.

We contemplate that a portion of the proceeds from the CD&R investment will be used to fund the aggregate cash payment in this exchange offer. If we are unable to consummate the CD&R investment, we will not consummate this exchange offer.

Exchange Offer Expiration Date

The expiration date for this exchange offer is 11:59 p.m. on October 7, 2009, unless we extend this exchange offer. We may extend this expiration date for any reason, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement. The last date on which tenders will be accepted, whether on October 7, 2009 or any later date to which this exchange offer may be extended, is referred to as the expiration date.

Extensions; Amendments

Subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement, we expressly reserve the right, in our sole discretion, for any reason, to:

delay the acceptance of the convertible notes tendered for exchange, for example, in order to allow for the rectification of any irregularity or defect in the tender of the convertible notes, provided that in any event we will promptly pay the cash consideration and issue the shares of common stock in this exchange offer or return tendered convertible notes after expiration or withdrawal of this exchange offer;

extend the time period during which this exchange offer is open, by giving notice of an extension to the holders of convertible notes in the manner described below, during which extension all convertible notes previously tendered and not withdrawn will remain subject to this exchange offer;

waive (to the extent waivable by us) or amend any of the terms or conditions of this exchange offer; and/or terminate this exchange offer, as described under Conditions to Completion of the Exchange Offer below.

If we consider an amendment to this exchange offer to be material, or if we waive a material condition of this exchange offer, we will promptly disclose the amendment or waiver in a prospectus/disclosure statement supplement or post-effective amendment, as appropriate, and extend this exchange offer to the extent required by applicable law.

If:

we increase or decrease the price to be paid for convertible notes or decrease the percentage of convertible notes being sought in this exchange offer; and this exchange offer is scheduled to expire at any time earlier than the expiration of a period ending on the tenth business day from, and including, the date that the notice of an increase or decrease is first published, sent or given to holders of convertible notes in the manner described below, this exchange offer will be extended until the expiration of such ten business day period. Rules and certain related releases and interpretations of the SEC provide further that the minimum period during which this exchange offer must remain open following material changes in the terms of this exchange offer or information concerning this exchange offer (other than a change in price or a change in percentage of securities sought) will depend on the facts and circumstances, including the relative materiality of the terms or information.

We will promptly give notice of any extension, amendment, non-acceptance or termination of this exchange offer to holders of convertible notes. In the case of any extension, we will issue a press release or other public announcement no later than 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on the next business day after the expiration date. In the case of an amendment to any of the terms or conditions of this exchange offer, we will issue a press release or other public announcement.

Under the investment agreement, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to this exchange offer or making any changes to the terms and conditions to this exchange offer without the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund. See

The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement The Exchange Offer; Solicitation of Acceptances of the Prepackaged Plan.

We may extend this exchange offer beyond the initial expiration date without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund for a period of not more than ten business days, if, at such date, any of the conditions to this exchange offer have not been satisfied or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived and, subject to the termination of the investment agreement, we are required to extend this exchange offer if it expires before the registration statement which includes this prospectus/disclosure statement is declared effective.

Procedures for Tendering Convertible Notes

Your tender of convertible notes to us and our acceptance of your tender will constitute a binding agreement between you and us upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus/disclosure statement and in the letter of transmittal.

What to Submit and How

If you, as a holder of convertible notes, wish to tender your convertible notes for exchange in this exchange offer, you must transmit the following prior to 11:59 p.m. on the expiration date to the exchange agent:

if convertible notes are tendered in accordance with the book-entry procedures described under Book-Entry Transfer below, an agent's message, which means a message, transmitted through ATOP by DTC to, and received by, the exchange agent and forming a part of a book-entry confirmation, that states that DTC has received an express acknowledgement that the tendering holder has received, and agrees to be bound by, makes each of the representations and warranties contained in, the letter of transmittal and that we may enforce the letter of transmittal against such holder; or a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal, or a facsimile copy thereof, to the exchange agent at its address on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement, including all other documents required by the letter of transmittal.

In addition, prior to 11:59 p.m. on the expiration date:

a timely book-entry confirmation, which means a confirmation of a book-entry transfer of convertible notes into the exchange agent's account at DTC using the procedure for book-entry transfer described under Book-Entry Transfer, along with an agent's message or a letter of transmittal, must be received by the exchange agent; or certificates for convertible notes, if any, must be received by the exchange agent along with the letter of transmittal.

The method of delivery of convertible notes, letters of transmittal and all other required documentation, including delivery of convertible notes through DTC and transmission of an agent's messages through DTC's ATOP, is at your election and risk. Delivery will be deemed made when actually received by the exchange agent. Delivery of documents or electronic instructions to DTC in accordance with its procedures does not constitute delivery to the exchange agent. If delivery is by mail, we recommend that registered mail, properly insured, with return receipt requested, be used. In all cases, sufficient time should be allowed to assure timely delivery. Holders tendering convertible notes or transmitting agent's messages through DTC's ATOP must allow sufficient time for completion of the ATOP procedures during DTC's normal business hours. No convertible notes, agent's messages, letters of transmittal or any other required documentation should be sent to the Company.

Special Instructions for Holders of Convertible Notes Under Lock-Up Agreement

If you are a party to the lock-up agreement and are required to tender your convertible notes for exchange in this exchange offer, you must:

advise your broker, dealer or other nominee that you are party to the lock-up agreement and will be tendering your convertible notes for restricted shares of common stock;

complete, or have your nominee complete, the form called Special Issuance Instructions and Form for Issuance of Restricted Shares; and complete the Internal Revenue Service Form W-9, included with the letter of transmittal, and send it to the exchange agent.

Please send both forms to the exchange agent by fax or by mail to its fax number or address set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement. Your tender will not be deemed valid unless the exchange agent receives such forms.

Questions and requests for assistance with respect to the procedures for tendering your convertible notes pursuant to the lock-up agreement may be directed to Morrow & Co., LLC, as the information agent, at its address and telephone number set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement.

How to Sign Your Letter of Transmittal and Other Documents

Signatures on a letter of transmittal or a notice of withdrawal, as the case may be, must be guaranteed unless the convertible notes being surrendered for exchange are tendered:

by a registered holder of the convertible notes or by a participant in DTC whose name is shown on a security position listing as the owner of the convertible notes who has not completed the box entitled Special Issuance Instructions or Special Delivery Instructions on the letter of transmittal; or for the account of an eligible institution.

If signatures on a letter of transmittal or a notice of withdrawal, as the case may be, are required to be guaranteed, the guarantees must be by any of the following eligible institutions:

a firm which is a member of a registered national securities exchange or a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc.;

a commercial bank or trust company having an office or correspondent in the United States; or another eligible institution within the meaning of Rule 17Ad-15 under the Securities Act.

If the letter of transmittal is signed by a person or persons other than the registered holder or holders of convertible notes, the convertible notes must be endorsed or accompanied by appropriate powers of attorney, in either case, signed exactly as the name or names of the registered holder or holders appear on the convertible notes and with the signatures guaranteed.

If the letter of transmittal or any convertible notes or powers of attorney are signed by trustees, executors, administrators, guardians, attorneys-in-fact, officers or corporations or others acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity, the person should so indicate when signing and, unless waived by us, proper evidence satisfactory to the Company of such person's authority to so act must be submitted.

Certain Other Procedural Matters

Any convertible notes not accepted for exchange for any reason will be promptly returned, without expense, to the tendering holder of convertible notes after the expiration or termination of this exchange offer. See Return of Convertible Notes Not Accepted for Exchange below.

If, for any reason whatsoever, acceptance for exchange of any convertible notes validly tendered and not withdrawn pursuant to this exchange offer is delayed (whether before or after our acceptance for exchange of the convertible notes) or we extend this exchange offer or are unable to accept for exchange the convertible notes validly tendered and not withdrawn pursuant to this exchange offer, then, without prejudice to our rights set forth herein, we may instruct the exchange agent to retain validly tendered convertible notes and those convertible notes may not be withdrawn, subject to the limited circumstances described in Withdrawal Rights below.

We will have accepted the validity of tendered convertible notes if and when we give oral or written notice to the exchange agent. If we do not accept any tendered convertible notes for exchange because of an invalid tender or the occurrence of any other event, the exchange agent will return those convertible notes to you without expense, promptly after the expiration date. See Return of Convertible Notes Not Accepted for Exchange below.

Please note that delivery of documents or electronic instructions to DTC in accordance with its procedures does not constitute delivery to the exchange agent and the Company will not be able to accept your tender of convertible notes until the exchange agent receives the information and documentation described under Acceptance of Convertible Notes for Exchange; Delivery of Cash and Shares of Common Stock below.

Book-Entry Transfer

The exchange agent will make a request to establish an account with respect to the convertible notes at DTC for purposes of this exchange offer promptly after the date of this prospectus/disclosure statement. Any financial institution that is a participant in DTC's systems may make book-entry delivery of convertible notes by causing DTC to transfer such convertible notes into the exchange agent's account at DTC in accordance with DTC's ATOP procedures for transfer. However, the exchange for the convertible notes so tendered will only be made after book-entry confirmation of delivery of such convertible notes, and timely receipt by the exchange agent of an agent's message and all other documents required by the letter of transmittal.

Although delivery of convertible notes may be effected through book-entry transfer into the exchange agent's account at DTC, an agent's message or the letter of transmittal, or a facsimile copy thereof, properly completed and duly executed, with any required signature guarantees, and all other required documentation must in any case be transmitted to and received by the exchange agent at its address set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement on or prior to the expiration date.

Please note that delivery of documents or electronic instructions to DTC in accordance with its procedures does not constitute delivery to the exchange agent and the Company will not be able to accept your tender of convertible notes until the exchange agent receives the information and documentation described under Acceptance of Convertible Notes for Exchange; Delivery of Cash and Shares of Common Stock below.

Effect of Letter of Transmittal

Subject to and effective upon the acceptance for exchange of convertible notes tendered thereby, by executing and delivering a letter of transmittal, or being deemed to have done so as part of your electronic confirmation of submission pursuant to DTC's ATOP system, you (1) irrevocably sell, assign and transfer to or upon our order all right, title and interest in and to all the convertible notes tendered thereby and (2) irrevocably appoint the exchange agent as your true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact with respect to the tendered convertible notes (with full knowledge that the exchange agent also acts as our agent), with full power of substitution and resubstitution (such power of attorney being deemed to be an irrevocable power coupled with an interest), to:

transfer ownership of the convertible notes on the DTC book-entry transfer facility, together with all accompanying evidences of transfer and authenticity, to or upon our order; present and deliver the convertible notes for transfer on the relevant security register; and receive all benefits or otherwise exercise all rights and incidents of beneficial ownership of the convertible notes, all in accordance with the terms of this exchange offer.

Binding Interpretations

We will determine in our reasonable discretion all questions as to the validity, form, eligibility and acceptance of the convertible notes tendered for exchange. Our determination will be final and binding. We reserve the absolute right to reject any and all invalid tenders of any particular convertible notes or to not accept any particular convertible notes, which acceptance might, in our reasonable judgment or our counsel's judgment, be unlawful. We also reserve the absolute right to waive any defects or irregularities in the tender of the convertible notes. Unless waived, any defects or irregularities in connection with tenders of the convertible notes for exchange must be cured within such reasonable period of time as we shall determine. None of us, the exchange agent or any other person, shall be under any duty to give notification of any defect or irregularity with respect to any tender of the convertible notes for exchange, nor shall we or the exchange agent or any other person incur any liability for failure to give such notification.

Acceptance of Convertible Notes for Exchange; Delivery of Cash and Shares of Common Stock

Once all of the conditions to this exchange offer are satisfied or waived, we will accept all convertible notes validly tendered and will cause the issuance of the common stock, and the cash payment will be made, in each case, promptly after the expiration date. The discussion under the heading "Conditions to Completion of the Exchange Offer" below provides further information regarding the conditions to this exchange offer. For purposes of this exchange offer, we will be deemed to have accepted validly tendered convertible notes for exchange when, as and if we have given oral or written notice to the exchange agent. The cash payment and the common stock will be in full satisfaction of the principal amount of, and any accrued but unpaid interest through the consummation of this exchange offer on, the convertible notes so tendered and accepted.

We expressly reserve the right, in our sole discretion, to delay acceptance for exchange of convertible notes validly tendered and not withdrawn under this exchange offer (subject to Rule 14e-1(c) promulgated under the Exchange Act, which requires that we issue the offered consideration or return the tendered convertible notes promptly after termination or withdrawal of this exchange offer), or to terminate this exchange offer and not accept for exchange any convertible notes not previously accepted, (1) if any of the conditions to this exchange offer have not been satisfied or validly waived by us, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement (see "The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement The Exchange Offer; Solicitation of Acceptances of the Prepackaged Plan") or (2) in order to comply in whole or in part with any applicable law. In all cases, issuance of the common stock and payment of cash for the convertible notes that are accepted for exchange in this exchange offer will be made only after timely receipt by the exchange agent of:

a book-entry confirmation of delivery of such convertible notes into the exchange agent's account at the DTC book-entry transfer facility or certificates for convertible notes, if any, in proper form for transfer;

an electronic confirmation of the submitting holder's acceptance through DTC's ATOP system or a properly completed and duly executed letter of transmittal; and all other required documents, if any.

If, for any reason whatsoever, acceptance for exchange of any convertible notes validly tendered and not withdrawn pursuant to this exchange offer is delayed (whether before or after our acceptance for exchange of the convertible notes), or we extend this exchange offer or we are unable to accept for exchange the convertible notes validly tendered and not withdrawn pursuant to this exchange offer, then, without prejudice to our rights set forth

herein, we may instruct the exchange agent to retain validly tendered convertible notes and those convertible notes may not be withdrawn, subject to the limited circumstances described in Withdrawal Rights below.

Except as set forth in this paragraph, the Company will pay or cause to be paid any transfer taxes applicable to the exchange of convertible notes pursuant to this exchange offer. If, however, a transfer tax is imposed for any reason other than the exchange of convertible notes pursuant to this exchange offer, then the amount of such transfer tax (whether imposed on the registered holder or any other persons) will be payable by the tendering holder. If satisfactory evidence of the payment of such taxes or exemptions therefrom is not submitted with the letter of transmittal, the amount of such transfer taxes will be deducted from the amount to be paid to such tendering holder upon the exchange.

Under no circumstances will any interest be payable because of any delay in the transmission of funds to you with respect to accepted convertible notes or otherwise.

Withdrawal Rights

Unless otherwise restricted by the lock-up agreement, you may validly withdraw your tender of convertible notes at any time prior to 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the expiration date.

For a withdrawal to be valid, the exchange agent must receive a written notice of withdrawal at the address or, in the case of eligible institutions, at the facsimile number, set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement or through DTC's ATOP prior to 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the expiration date. Any notice of withdrawal must:

specify the name of the person having tendered the convertible notes to be withdrawn;

identify the convertible notes to be withdrawn;

specify the principal amount of the convertible notes to be withdrawn;

contain a statement that the tendering holder is withdrawing its election to have such convertible notes exchanged for cash and shares of common stock;

other than a notice transmitted through DTC's ATOP system, be signed by the holder in the same manner as the original signature on the letter of transmittal by which the convertible notes were tendered, including any required signature guarantees, or be accompanied by documents of transfer to have the trustee with respect to the convertible notes register the transfer of the convertible notes in the name of the person withdrawing the tender;

if certificates for convertible notes have been delivered to the exchange agent, specify the name in which the convertible notes are registered, if different from that of the withdrawing holder;

if certificates for convertible notes have been delivered or otherwise identified to the exchange agent, then, prior to the release of those certificates, specify the serial numbers of the particular certificates to be withdrawn, and, other than a notice transmitted through DTC's ATOP system, include a signed notice of withdrawal with signatures guaranteed by an eligible institution unless you are an eligible institution; and if the convertible notes have been tendered using the procedure for book-entry transfer described above, specify the name and number of the account at DTC from which the convertible notes were tendered and the name and number of the account at DTC to be credited with the withdrawn convertible notes, and otherwise comply with the procedures of DTC.

Please note that all questions as to the validity, form, eligibility and time of receipt of notices of withdrawal will be determined by the issuers, and their determination shall be final and binding on all parties. Any convertible notes so withdrawn will be considered not to have been validly tendered for exchange for purposes of this exchange offer. Cash and shares of common stock will not be issued in exchange for such withdrawn convertible notes unless the convertible notes so withdrawn are validly re-tendered. Validly withdrawn convertible notes may be re-tendered by following the procedures described under the heading Procedures for Tendering Convertible Notes above, at any time prior to 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the expiration date.

Any convertible notes that have been tendered for exchange, but that are not exchanged for any reason, will be credited to an account maintained with the book-entry transfer facility for the convertible notes, as soon as practicable after withdrawal, rejection of tender or termination of this exchange offer.

Subject to applicable regulations, including Rule 13e-4(f)(2)(ii) promulgated under the Exchange Act, which requires that we permit convertible notes to be withdrawn if not yet accepted for payment after the expiration of forty business days from the commencement of this exchange offer, if, for any reason whatsoever, acceptance for exchange of, or exchange of, any convertible notes tendered pursuant to this exchange offer is delayed (whether before or after our acceptance for exchange of convertible notes), or we are unable to accept for exchange, or exchange, the convertible notes tendered pursuant to this exchange offer, we may instruct the exchange agent to retain tendered convertible notes, and those convertible notes may not be withdrawn, except to the extent that you are entitled to the withdrawal rights set forth herein.

Return of Convertible Notes Not Accepted for Exchange

If we do not accept any tendered convertible notes for any reason set forth in the terms and conditions of this exchange offer, the unaccepted or non-exchanged convertible notes will be returned without expense to the tendering holder. Convertible notes tendered by book-entry transfer into the exchange agent's account at the book-entry transfer facility will be returned in accordance with the book-entry procedures described above, and the convertible notes that are not to be exchanged will be credited to an account maintained with DTC, promptly after the expiration or termination of this exchange offer.

Conditions to Completion of the Exchange Offer

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this exchange offer, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement, we will not be required to accept for exchange any convertible notes tendered, and we may terminate or amend this exchange offer, if any of the following conditions precedent to this exchange offer are not satisfied, or are reasonably determined by us not to be satisfied, and, in our reasonable judgment, if the failure of the condition makes it inadvisable to proceed with this exchange offer:

the minimum tender condition is not met or waived;

the receipt of proceeds from the CD&R investment (which is itself subject to several conditions, including the consummation of the term loan refinancing and the ABL financing and the expiration or termination of any waiting period required to consummate the CD&R investment under the Austrian Act) (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Conditions to the CD&R Investment);

the effectiveness of the registration statement of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part and the absence of a stop order suspending such effectiveness; and the absence of any applicable law or order prohibiting consummation of this exchange offer.

The foregoing conditions are for our sole benefit and may be waived by us, in whole or in part at any time, and from time to time prior to the time the convertible notes are accepted for exchange, in our reasonable discretion (to the extent such condition is waivable by us), subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement. Any determination that we make concerning an event, development or circumstance described or referred to above shall be conclusive and binding. However, all conditions for completion of the exchange offer must be satisfied or waived by us prior to acceptance.

If any of the foregoing conditions are not satisfied, we may, at any time before the expiration date, subject to applicable laws and our obligations under the investment agreement:

modify, extend or otherwise amend this exchange offer and retain all tendered convertible notes until the expiration date, as it may be extended, subject, however, to the withdrawal rights described in Withdrawal Rights above; or waive the unsatisfied conditions (if waivable by us) and accept all convertible notes tendered and not previously withdrawn.

Except for the requirements of applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws, we know of no federal or state regulatory requirements to be complied with or approvals to be obtained by us in connection with this exchange offer which, if not complied with or obtained, would have a material adverse effect on us.

Under the investment agreement, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to this exchange offer or making any changes to the terms and conditions to this exchange offer without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund. We may extend this exchange offer beyond the initial expiration date without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund for a period of not more than ten business days, if, at such date, any of the conditions to this exchange offer have not been satisfied or, with the prior written consent of the CD&R Fund, waived and, subject to the termination of the investment agreement, we are required to extend this exchange offer if it expires before the registration statement which includes this prospectus/disclosure statement is declared effective.

Resale of the Shares of Common Stock

Other than as described below and except for shares held by our affiliates, as that term is defined under Rule 144 under the Securities Act, the shares of common stock issued pursuant to this exchange offer will be freely transferable and will not be subject to any transfer restrictions.

Shares of common stock issued pursuant to the lock-up agreement will not be registered under the Securities Act and such common stock may only be offered, resold or otherwise transferred (1) in a transaction not involving a public offering; (2) pursuant to an exemption from registration promulgated by Rule 144 of the Securities Act (if available); (3) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act; or (4) to the Company or our subsidiaries, in each of cases (1) (4) in accordance with any applicable U.S. federal or state laws.

In the lock-up agreement, we agreed to enter into a registration rights agreement containing customary indemnification provisions for selling shareholders that will provide registration rights to the noteholders who are parties to the lock-up agreement in the event that this exchange offer is consummated. Under such registration rights agreement, and subject to customary blackout periods in connection with earnings releases and material corporate developments, we will:

no later than five business days following the closing of the CD&R investment, file with the SEC a shelf registration statement covering resales of the common stock received by such noteholders on a delayed or continuous basis; and

use our best efforts to maintain the effectiveness of such registration until the earlier of (a) six months after the closing of the CD&R investment (subject to an extension to 12 months after the closing in certain limited circumstances) and (b) the date on which all such common stock held by such noteholders can be resold pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act without limitation as to volume or compliance with any manner of sale requirements.

See The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement Registration Rights.

Each subsequent holder is required to notify any subsequent purchaser of common stock from such holder of the resale restrictions referred to above, as applicable, and will provide the Company and the transfer agent such certificates and other information as they may reasonably require to confirm that the transfer by it complies with the foregoing restrictions, if applicable.

No Appraisal Rights

Holders of the convertible notes do not have dissenters' rights of appraisal in connection with this exchange offer.

Table of Contents

Material Differences in the Rights of Holders of Convertible Notes and Common Stock

Interest

The convertible notes obligate us to pay 2.125% per annum on the principal amount of the convertible notes, payable semi-annually in arrears in cash on May 15 and November 15 of each year.

Holders of common stock do not have any rights to interest.

Ranking

The convertible notes are our unsecured senior subordinated obligations and the payment of the principal of, and interest on, the convertible notes is subordinated in right of payment to the prior payment in full of our existing and future senior indebtedness, including obligations under our existing credit agreement. The convertible notes rank equally in express right of payment with our future senior subordinated indebtedness and senior to any of our existing and future subordinated indebtedness. The convertible notes also rank junior to our secured indebtedness to the extent of the underlying collateral. The convertible notes are effectively subordinated to all existing and future indebtedness and other liabilities, including trade payables, of our subsidiaries.

The common stock is the most junior of all of our securities. As a result, our existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims, as well as our preferred stock, including the Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued to the CD&R Fund, will rank senior to the common stock.

Repurchase Option

A holder of convertible notes may require us to repurchase the convertible notes for cash on November 15, 2009, November 15, 2014, and November 15, 2019, at a repurchase price equal to 100% of their principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest, including additional amounts, if any, to, but excluding, the repurchase date.

Holders of common stock do not have any such right to require us to repurchase their shares of common stock.

Repurchase Upon a Designated Event

If a designated event occurs prior to maturity, including the consummation of the recapitalization plan, a holder of convertible notes has the right to require that we repurchase the convertible notes (1) upon the closing of the exchange offer because such closing would result in a designated event under the convertible notes indenture, at a repurchase price equal to 100% of their principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest, including additional amounts, if any, plus under certain circumstances, if the restructuring occurs on or prior to November 15, 2009, a make-whole premium, payable solely in shares of our common stock (other than cash paid in lieu of fractional shares) and (2) after 5, 10 and 15 years from the date of the issuance of the convertible notes at 100% of the principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, beginning November 15, 2009, and we will be required to repurchase any outstanding convertible notes for which you deliver a written repurchase notice to the paying agent, subject to certain conditions in the convertible notes indenture.

Holders of common stock are not protected against a designated event, such as a change of control, other than as provided in our restated certificate of incorporation. See Description of Capital Stock.

Fees and Expenses

Greenhill & Co., LLC is acting as the dealer-manager in connection with this exchange offer. We will pay the dealer-manager a fee, which fee is contingent and will be payable upon the earlier of (1) the consummation of this exchange offer or (2) the receipt of acceptances (or agreements to provide such acceptances) to the prepackaged plan from (a) holders of at least two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding principal amount of the convertible notes and (b) lenders under our existing credit facility holding two-thirds (2/3) of the aggregate amount of outstanding term loans (including any accrued interest and other amounts owed) thereunder. Such services will include assisting in the solicitation of tenders of the convertible notes and communicating with brokers, dealers, banks, trust companies, nominees and other persons with respect to this exchange offer. The obligations of the dealer-manager are subject to certain conditions, including the truth of representations and warranties made by us to the dealer-manager, the performance by us of our obligations in connection with this exchange offer and the receipt of legal opinions and certificates by the dealer-manager. We have agreed to indemnify the dealer-manager against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws, or to contribute to payments that the dealer-manager may be required to make in respect thereof. Questions regarding the terms of this exchange offer may be directed to the dealer-manager at the address set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement.

During the two years preceding the date of this prospectus/disclosure statement, Greenhill has not been engaged by, performed any services for or received any compensation from us or any other parties to the investment agreement (other than any amounts that were paid to Greenhill under the letter agreement pursuant to which it was retained as a financial advisor to the Company in connection with the CD&R investment) and at the date hereof we have no material relationships mutually understood to be contemplated with such parties.

We have retained Morrow & Co., LLC to act as the information agent and Computershare Trust Company, N.A. to act as the exchange agent in connection with this exchange offer. The information agent may contact holders of convertible notes by mail, telephone, facsimile transmission and personal interviews and may request brokers, dealers and other nominee existing holders to forward materials relating to this exchange offer to beneficial owners. The information agent and the exchange agent will receive a fee for their respective services, will be reimbursed for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and will be indemnified against liabilities in connection with their services, including liabilities under the federal securities laws.

We have retained Financial Balloting Group, LLC to act as the voting agent in connection with the solicitation of acceptances to the prepackaged plan. The voting agent may contact holders of convertible notes by mail, telephone, facsimile transmission and personal interviews and may request brokers, dealers and other nominee existing holders to forward materials relating to the solicitation to beneficial owners. The voting agent will receive a fee for its services, will be reimbursed for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and will be indemnified against liabilities in connection with its services, including liabilities under the federal securities laws.

Neither the information agent, the exchange agent nor the voting agent has been retained to make solicitations or recommendations. The fees that they receive will not be based on the aggregate principal amount of the convertible notes tendered under this exchange offer.

We will not pay any fees or commissions to any broker or dealer, or any other person, other than the dealer-manager for soliciting tenders of the convertible notes under this exchange offer. Brokers, dealers, commercial banks and trust companies will, upon request, be reimbursed by us for reasonable and necessary costs and expenses incurred by them in forwarding materials to their customers.

Information Agent

Morrow & Co. LLC has been appointed as the information agent for this exchange offer. Questions relating to the procedures for tendering of convertible notes and requests for assistance should be directed to the information agent at the address or telephone number set forth on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement. THE PREPACKAGED PLAN

WE HAVE NOT COMMENCED A CASE UNDER THE BANKRUPTCY CODE AND HAVE NOT FILED THE PREPACKAGED PLAN IN A PREPACKAGED PLAN PROCEEDING (WHICH MEANS A REORGANIZATION CASE UNDER THE BANKRUPTCY CODE CONTEMPLATED BY THE INVESTMENT AGREEMENT) AT THIS TIME. THIS PROSPECTUS/DISCLOSURE STATEMENT SOLICITS ADVANCE ACCEPTANCE OF THE PREPACKAGED PLAN IN THE EVENT THAT THE PREPACKAGED PLAN PROCEEDING IS COMMENCED AND THE PREPACKAGED PLAN IS FILED, AND CONTAINS INFORMATION RELEVANT TO A DECISION TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THE PREPACKAGED PLAN.

The following is a summary of the material terms and provisions of the prepackaged plan. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions of the prepackaged plan, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The prepackaged plan is included as Annex A hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document.

To allow us to effect a chapter 11 reorganization in the quickest and most cost efficient manner, we are soliciting acceptances of the prepackaged plan from holders of impaired claims entitled to vote under the prepackaged plan. Under the prepackaged plan, holders of convertible notes and the lenders under our existing credit agreement (as well as the holders of all other claims and interests) would receive the same treatment with respect to their claims (and interests) as they would receive in the recapitalization plan, the initial CD&R Investors would receive the same 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock contemplated by the CD&R investment and the Company would enter into the ABL agreement. Existing holders of our common stock would continue to hold such common stock.

We are soliciting acceptances of the prepackaged plan from the holders of our convertible notes and the lenders under our existing credit agreement pursuant to this prospectus/disclosure statement. In the event that the conditions to the recapitalization plan are not satisfied, including, for example, if the minimum tender condition is not met or waived, but we receive acceptances from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, as an alternative to the recapitalization plan, we may elect and, under the terms of the investment agreement, we may be required, to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan in a chapter 11 proceeding. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Commencement of a Reorganization case in connection with the Prepackaged Plan Covenant. The Debtors in such cases would be NCI, NCI Group, Inc., Steelbuilding.com, Inc. and Robertson-Ceco II Corporation, which we refer to collectively as the debtors).

IF THE PREPACKAGED PLAN IS CONFIRMED BY THE BANKRUPTCY COURT, IT WILL BIND ALL OF OUR CLAIM AND EQUITY INTEREST HOLDERS, INCLUDING ALL HOLDERS OF CONVERTIBLE NOTES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THEY VOTED TO ACCEPT OR REJECT THE PREPACKAGED PLAN, OR DID NOT VOTE AT ALL. THE HOLDERS OF CLAIMS AND INTERESTS WILL RECEIVE THE SAME TREATMENT AS THEY WOULD RECEIVE IN THE RECAPITALIZATION PLAN.

The prepackaged plan is conditioned on the closing of the CD&R investment. Without the CD&R investment, we do not believe the prepackaged plan would meet the requirement for confirmation contained in section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code that the plan be feasible. Therefore, in the event that the CD&R Fund does not satisfy its obligation to purchase the shares of Series B convertible preferred stock pursuant to the investment agreement, and no suitable alternative new investment is located, we do not plan to seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan and your vote on the prepackaged plan will be disregarded.

The form of the prepackaged plan is attached to this prospectus/disclosure statement as Annex A. The prepackaged plan and this prospectus/disclosure statement should be read and studied in their entirety prior to voting on the prepackaged plan. See Risk Factors Risks Relating to the Prepackaged Plan for a discussion of risks associated with the prepackaged plan and the transactions contemplated thereunder. You are urged to consult your counsel about the prepackaged plan and its effect on your legal rights before voting.

Anticipated Events in a Reorganization Case

Chapter 11 is the principal business reorganization chapter of the Bankruptcy Code. Pursuant to chapter 11, a debtor may remain in possession of its assets, continue to manage its business and attempt to reorganize its business for the benefit of the debtor, its creditors and other parties in interest. The commencement of a reorganization case creates an estate comprising all the legal and equitable interests of a debtor in property as of the date the petition is filed. Sections 1107 and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code provide that a debtor may continue to operate its business and remain in possession of its property as a debtor in possession, unless the bankruptcy court orders the appointment of a trustee. The filing of a reorganization case also triggers the automatic stay provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. Section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code provides, among other things, for an automatic stay of all attempts to collect prepetition claims from the debtor or otherwise interfere with its property or business. Except as otherwise ordered by the bankruptcy court, the automatic stay generally remains in full force and effect until confirmation of a plan of reorganization.

Pursuant to section 1102 of the Bankruptcy Code, upon the commencement of the chapter 11 case, the Office of the United States Trustee is required to appoint a committee of creditors holding unsecured claims and may appoint additional committees of creditors or of equity security holders as the United States Trustee deems appropriate. However, it is not uncommon for the United States Trustee to not appoint an unsecured creditors committee in cases where solicitation of a prepackaged plan has been conducted prior to the petition date.

Pursuant to section 1103 of the Bankruptcy Code, a committee appointed under section 1102 may:

- consult with the trustee or debtor in possession concerning the administration of the chapter 11 case;

- investigate the acts, conduct, assets, liabilities, and financial condition of the debtor, the operation of the debtor's business and the desirability of the continuance of such business, and any other matter relevant to the case or to the formulation of a plan;

- participate in the formulation of a plan, advise those represented by such committee of such committee's determinations as to any plan formulated, and collect and file with the court acceptances or rejections of a plan;

- request the appointment of a trustee or examiner under section 1104 of the Bankruptcy Code; and

- perform such other services as are in the interest of those represented by the committee.

Furthermore, pursuant to section 1109(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, upon the commencement of the chapter 11 case, any party in interest, including the debtor, a creditors committee, an equity security holders committee, a creditors, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue in the chapter 11 case.

The formulation and confirmation of a plan of reorganization is the principal objective of a chapter 11 case. The plan sets forth the means for satisfying the claims against and interests in the debtor. The prepackaged plan we propose provides for the reorganization of our capital structure, thereby enabling us to continue as a viable business enterprise.

Solicitations of Acceptances of the Prepackaged Plan

Usually, a plan of reorganization is filed and votes to accept or reject the plan are solicited after the filing of a reorganization case. Nevertheless, a debtor may solicit votes prior to the commencement of a reorganization case in accordance with section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy rule 3018(b). In accordance with such provisions, we are soliciting acceptances from holders of impaired claims in connection with our reorganization case.

Bankruptcy rule 3018(b) requires that:

the plan of reorganization be transmitted to substantially all creditors and interest holders entitled to vote on the plan;

the time prescribed for voting to reject or accept such plan not be unreasonably short; and the solicitation of votes be in compliance with any applicable nonbankruptcy law, rule or regulation governing the adequacy of disclosure in such solicitation or, if no such law, rule or regulation exists, votes be solicited only after the disclosure of adequate information.

Section 1125(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code describes adequate information as information of a kind and in sufficient detail as would enable a hypothetical reasonable investor typical of holders of claims and interests to make an informed judgment about the plan. With regard to a solicitation of votes prior to the commencement of a reorganization case, bankruptcy rule 3018(b) specifically provides that acceptances or rejections of the plan by holders of claims or interests prior to the commencement of a reorganization case will not be deemed acceptances or rejections of the plan if the bankruptcy court determines, after notice and a hearing, that the plan was not transmitted to substantially all creditors and equity security holders entitled to vote on the plan, that an unreasonably short time was prescribed for such creditors and equity security holders to vote on the plan, or that the solicitation was not otherwise in compliance with section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. If the aforementioned conditions of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy rules are met, all acceptances and rejections received prior to the commencement of the reorganization case and within the prescribed solicitation period will be deemed to be acceptances and rejections of the plan for purposes of confirmation of the plan under the Bankruptcy Code.

As further described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Commencement of a Reorganization case in connection with the Prepackaged Plan Covenant, in the event that the conditions to the exchange offer are not satisfied or waived by the date on which acceptances are due and we receive from a sufficient number of holders of impaired claims in an impaired class of claims to allow the prepackaged plan to be confirmed under the Bankruptcy Code, including confirmation through the nonconsensual cram-down provisions of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code with respect to non-accepting impaired claims classes, we are required:

to file chapter 11 petitions in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, which we refer to as the bankruptcy court, and commence the prepackaged plan proceeding under the Bankruptcy Code; to file certain first day motions and to seek to obtain entry of the orders approving such motions and to schedule a hearing in the bankruptcy court on the earliest date possible to consider confirmation of the prepackaged plan and approve this prospectus/disclosure statement;

to send notices to all persons to whom such notices are required to be sent under the Bankruptcy Code and to such other persons as ordered by the bankruptcy court, as soon as practicable after the commencement of the prepackaged plan proceeding; to use our reasonable best efforts to obtain confirmation of the prepackaged plan by the bankruptcy court; to use our reasonable best efforts to obtain the dismissal of any and all appeals and motions for reconsideration filed with respect to the prepackaged plan; and to cause the prepackaged plan to become effective and the distributions provided for under the prepackaged plan to be commenced as promptly as possible on or following the day on which conditions to effectiveness set forth in the prepackaged plan have been satisfied or waived.

However, there can be no assurance that the bankruptcy court will conclude that the requirements of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code for confirmation of the prepackaged plan have been met. The bankruptcy court may find that the holders of impaired claims have not properly accepted the prepackaged plan if the bankruptcy court finds that the prepackaged plan solicitation did not comply with all of the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and the bankruptcy rules (including the requirement under section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code that the prepackaged plan solicitation comply with any applicable nonbankruptcy law, rule or regulation governing the adequacy of disclosure or that the prepackaged plan solicitation is made after disclosure of adequate information). In such an event, we may be required to resolicit votes on the prepackaged plan before seeking confirmation of the prepackaged plan, in which case confirmation of the prepackaged plan could be delayed and possibly jeopardized.

Bankruptcy Rule 3016(b) provides that either a disclosure statement under section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code or evidence showing compliance with section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code must be filed with the prepackaged plan or within the time fixed by the court. This prospectus/disclosure statement is presented to holders of our impaired claims to satisfy the requirements of section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy rule 3016(b) and 3018(b). We believe that this prospectus/disclosure statement and the solicitation process we undertake will meet these requirements.

This prepackaged plan solicitation is being conducted at this time to obtain the acceptance of each impaired class of claims entitled to vote. If we seek relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code by commencing the prepackaged plan proceeding, we will attempt to use such acceptances as are received to obtain confirmation of the prepackaged plan as promptly as practicable. If we commence the prepackaged plan proceeding, we will promptly seek to obtain an order of the bankruptcy court finding that the prepackaged plan solicitation was in compliance with section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and bankruptcy rule 3018(b) and that the acceptance of each class of impaired claims can be used for purposes of confirmation of the prepackaged plan under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. Subject to our obligations under the investment agreement, we reserve the right to use the acceptances to seek confirmation of any permitted amendment or modification of the prepackaged plan, provided that we may not make any amendment or modification to the prepackaged plan prohibited by the prepackaged plan. Under the investment agreement, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to the prepackaged plan or making any changes to the terms and conditions of the prepackaged plan without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement The Exchange Offer; Solicitation of Acceptances of the Prepackaged Plan.

As more fully described below, we are soliciting acceptances of the prepackaged plan from holders of each class of claims in classes 3 and 5.

Holders of Claims Entitled to Vote; Voting Record Date

Chapter 11 does not require that each holder of a claim against or interest in a debtor vote in favor of a plan of reorganization in order for the bankruptcy court to confirm the plan. At a minimum, however, at least one class of impaired claims under the plan, without including any acceptance of the plan by any insider of the debtor, must accept the plan. An impaired class of claims will be deemed to accept the prepackaged plan if the holders of claims in that class casting votes in favor of acceptance of the prepackaged plan (1) hold at least two-thirds (2/3) in aggregate dollar amount of the claims of the holders in such class who cast votes with respect to the prepackaged plan, and (2) constitute more than one-half (1/2) in number of holders of allowed claims in such class who cast votes with respect to the prepackaged plan.

Classes of claims or interests that are not impaired under a plan of reorganization are conclusively presumed to have accepted the plan of reorganization and are not entitled to vote. By contrast, classes of claims or interests that do not receive or retain any property under a plan on account of such claims or interests are deemed to have rejected the plan and do not vote. Acceptances of the prepackaged plan are being solicited only from those persons who hold claims in a class that is impaired under the prepackaged plan and who are not deemed by the Bankruptcy Code to have rejected the prepackaged plan. A class of claims or interests is impaired if the legal, equitable, or contractual rights to which the claims or interests entitle the holders of claims or interests of that class are altered.

The following classes of claims and interests are impaired under the prepackaged plan, and all holders of claims in such classes as of the voting record date are entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan: Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims (which includes claims in respect of the term loans and other obligations under our existing credit agreement) and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims (which includes the claims in respect of the convertible notes).

CLASSES 1, 2, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 ARE UNIMPAIRED UNDER THE PREPACKAGED PLAN IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 1124 OF THE BANKRUPTCY CODE AND, ACCORDINGLY, HOLDERS OF CLAIMS OR INTERESTS IN SUCH CLASSES ARE DEEMED TO HAVE ACCEPTED THE PREPACKAGED PLAN AND ARE NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE ON THE PREPACKAGED PLAN.

CLASS 13 IS IMPAIRED AND EACH HOLDER OF A CLASS 13 CLAIM IS DEEMED TO HAVE REJECTED THE PREPACKAGED PLAN PURSUANT TO SECTION 1126(G) OF THE BANKRUPTCY CODE.

To be entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan, a holder of an allowed claim in Class 3 must have been the holder of such claim or interest at the close of business on the voting record date, in accordance with the records of the agent. The holder of the claim can vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, indicating their vote on the ballot, executing the ballot, and returning their ballot in the enclosed, pre-addressed postage paid envelope so it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline.

To be entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan, a holder of an allowed claim in Class 5 must have been the beneficial owner of such claim or interest at the close of business on the voting record date, regardless of whether such claim is held of record on the voting record date in such holder's name or in the name of such holder's broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee. If a claim is held in the name of a holder's broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee, the beneficial owner will vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, voting and signing the ballot and then providing the ballot to the record holder holding the claim for the beneficial owner's benefit if the ballot has not already been signed by the beneficial owner's nominee or agent. If the ballot has already been signed by the beneficial owner's agent or nominee, the beneficial owner can vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, indicating their vote on the ballot and returning their ballot in the enclosed, pre-addressed postage paid envelope so it is actually received by the Voting Agent before the Voting Deadline.

No appraisal rights are available to holders of claims in connection with the prepackaged plan.

Vote Required for Class Acceptance of the Prepackaged Plan

As a condition to confirmation, the Bankruptcy Code requires that, except to the extent the prepackaged plan meets the nonconsensual confirmation standards discussed below under Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan Without Acceptance by All Classes of Impaired Claims, each impaired class of claims accept the prepackaged plan.

For a class of impaired claims to accept the prepackaged plan, section 1126 of the Bankruptcy Code requires acceptance by holders of claims that hold at least two-thirds (2/3) in amount and more than one-half (1/2) in number of holders of allowed claims of such class who vote on the prepackaged plan.

If the prepackaged plan is confirmed, each holder of a claim or interest in a class will receive the same consideration as the other members of the class, and the prepackaged plan will be binding with respect to all holders of claims and interests of each class, including members who did not vote or who voted to reject the prepackaged plan.

Classifications under the Prepackaged Plan

The principal provisions of the prepackaged plan are summarized below. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the prepackaged plan. WE URGE ALL CLAIM HOLDERS AND OTHER PARTIES IN INTEREST TO READ AND STUDY CAREFULLY THE PREPACKAGED PLAN.

Classification and Allowance of Claims and Interests

Section 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a plan of reorganization must classify claims against, and interests in, a debtor. Under section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code, a plan of reorganization may classify claims and interests only into classes containing claims and interests which are substantially similar to such claims or interests. The prepackaged plan designates 11 classes of claims and two classes of interests. We believe that we have classified all claims and interests in compliance with the provisions of section 1122 of the Bankruptcy Code. However, once our reorganization case has been commenced, a claim holder or interest holder could challenge our classification of claims and interests, and the bankruptcy court could determine that a different classification is required for the prepackaged plan to be confirmed. In such event, it is our intention to seek to modify the prepackaged plan to provide for whatever classification might be required by the bankruptcy court and to use the acceptances received, to the extent permitted by the bankruptcy court, to demonstrate the acceptance of the class or classes which are affected. Any such reclassification could affect a class's acceptance of the prepackaged plan by changing the composition of such class and the required vote for acceptance of the prepackaged plan and could potentially require a resolicitation of votes on the prepackaged plan.

The prepackaged plan provides for the classification and treatment of claims and interests of our creditors and interest holders allowed under section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code. Only the holder of an allowed claim or an allowed interest is entitled to receive a distribution under the prepackaged plan. An allowed claim or allowed interest is a claim or interest:

that is reflected in the Company's books and records as liquidated in an amount and not disputed nor contingent and no objection to the allowance of the claim or interest or request to estimate the claim or interest has been interposed within any time period provided under the prepackaged plan or by order of any bankruptcy court; that has been adjudicated as an allowed claim or interest; or that is specified as an allowed claim or allowed interest under the prepackaged plan or the confirmation order.

Table of Contents

A disputed claim or disputed interest is a claim or interest that is not an allowed claim or allowed interest and:

is the subject of a timely objection or request for estimation in accordance with the Bankruptcy Code, the bankruptcy rules, any applicable order of the bankruptcy court, the prepackaged plan or applicable nonbankruptcy law, which objection or request for estimation has not been withdrawn or resolved; or is otherwise specified as disputed or a disputed claim pursuant to the prepackaged plan.

Summary of Distributions under the Prepackaged Plan

The following is a summary of the distributions under the prepackaged plan. While we believe this summary covers the material terms and provisions relating to the distributions under the prepackaged plan, it may not contain all of the information that is important to you. The prepackaged plan is included as Annex A hereto, which we incorporate by reference into this document.

The following describes the prepackaged plan's classification of claims and interests and the treatment that holders of allowed claims and allowed interests would receive for such allowed claims and allowed interests under the prepackaged plan. Holders of such allowed claims or allowed interests can agree to accept less favorable treatment by settlement or otherwise. If the prepackaged plan is confirmed by the bankruptcy court, each holder of an allowed claim or allowed interest in a particular class will receive the same treatment as the other holders in the same class of claims or interests, whether or not such holder voted to accept the prepackaged plan. Moreover, upon confirmation, the prepackaged plan will be binding on all of our creditors and stockholders regardless of whether such creditors or stockholders voted to accept the prepackaged plan (unless such holder agrees to accept less favorable treatment). Such treatment will be in full satisfaction, release and discharge of and in exchange for such holder's claims against or interests in us, except as otherwise provided in the prepackaged plan.

Treatment of Unclassified Claims

The Bankruptcy Code does not require classification of certain priority claims against a debtor. In this case, these unclassified claims include administrative claims and priority tax claims as set forth below.

Administrative Claims

Under the prepackaged plan, administrative claims includes claims for the costs and expenses of administration of the bankruptcy cases pursuant to sections 503(b), 507(a)(2), or 507(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, including: (1) the actual and necessary costs and expenses of preserving the estates and operating the businesses of the debtors (such as wages, salaries, or commissions for services, and payments for goods and other services and leased premises); (2) all fees and charges assessed against the estates pursuant to section 1930 of chapter 123 of the Judicial Code; (3) requests for compensation of professionals retained in the chapter 11 cases and the reimbursement of expenses incurred by such professionals; and (4) all requests for compensation or expense reimbursement for making a substantial contribution in the chapter 11 Cases pursuant to sections 503(b)(3), (4), and (5) of the Bankruptcy Code, which collectively we refer to as the Administrative Claims. To confirm the prepackaged plan, allowed Administrative Claims must be paid in full or in a manner otherwise agreeable to the holders of those claims.

Priority Tax Claims

Under the prepackaged plan, priority tax claims include any claim specified in section 507(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code, which collectively we refer to as the Priority Tax Claims. Except to the extent that a holder of an allowed Priority Tax Claim agrees to a less favorable treatment, in full and final satisfaction, settlement, release, and discharge of and in exchange for each allowed Priority Tax Claim, each holder of such allowed Priority Tax Claim shall be treated in accordance with the terms set forth in section 1129(a)(9)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code. To the extent any allowed Priority Tax Claim is not due and owing on the effective date of the prepackaged plan, such claim shall be paid in full in cash in accordance with the terms of any agreement between the debtors and such holder, or as may be due and payable under applicable non-bankruptcy law or in the ordinary course of business.

Treatment of Classified Claims

The following describes the prepackaged plan's classification of the claims and interests that are required to be classified under the Bankruptcy Code and the treatment that the holders of allowed claims or allowed interests will receive for such claims or interests:

Class 1 Priority Non-Tax Claims

The claims in Class 1 are of the types identified in section 507(a) of the Bankruptcy Code that are entitled to priority treatment (other than Administrative Claims and Priority Tax Claims), which collectively we refer to as Priority Non-Tax Claims. Most of these claims will have already been paid by the debtors pursuant to orders entered by the bankruptcy court by the Petition Date.

Class 1 is unimpaired by the prepackaged plan. Each holder of a Priority Non-Tax Claim is conclusively presumed to have accepted the prepackaged plan and is not entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan.

Except to the extent a holder of an allowed Priority Non-Tax Claim agrees to a less favorable treatment, in full and final satisfaction of and in exchange for each Priority Non-Tax Claim, each holder of such Allowed Priority Non-Tax Claim will be paid in full in cash on the later of the effective date of the prepackaged plan and the date such Priority Non-Tax Claim becomes allowed, or as soon as practicable thereafter.

Class 2 Secured Tax Claims

The claims in Class 2 are the types of claims that, absent their status as a secured claim, would be entitled to priority treatment under section 507(a)(8) of the Bankruptcy Code which collectively we refer to as Secured Tax Claims. If a Secured Tax Claim accrues interest under applicable local law and, to the extent the value of the collateral exceeds the amount of the allowed claim, such Secured Tax Claim will include interest.

Class 2 is unimpaired by the prepackaged plan. Each holder of a Secured Tax Claim is conclusively presumed to have accepted the prepackaged plan and is not entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan.

Except to the extent that a holder of an allowed Secured Tax Claim has been paid by the debtors prior to the effective date of the prepackaged plan or agrees to a less favorable treatment, in full and final satisfaction and discharge of and in exchange for each allowed Secured Tax Claim, each holder of such an allowed Secured Tax Claim will receive, at the sole option of the debtors or the reorganized Company and our reorganized subsidiaries, (1) cash on the effective date in an amount equal to such allowed Secured Tax Claim, (2) commencing on the effective date and continuing over a period not exceeding five years from the petition date, equal semi-annual cash payments in an aggregate amount equal to such allowed Secured Tax Claim, together with interest at the applicable rate under non-bankruptcy law, subject to the sole option of the debtors or the reorganized Company and our reorganized subsidiaries to prepay the entire amount of the allowed Secured Tax Claim or (3) regular cash payments in a manner not less favorable than the most favored non-priority unsecured claim provided for by the prepackaged plan.

Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims

The claims in Class 3 consist of claims arising under our existing credit facility, which collectively we refer to as Senior Secured Term Loan Claims. On the effective date of the prepackaged plan, each holder of a Senior Secured Term Loan Claim shall (1) receive its pro rata share of cash in an amount equal to the difference between the aggregate principal amount and other obligations outstanding under our existing credit agreement as of the Petition Date and $150.0 million, plus cash equal to accrued but unpaid interest, fees and expenses on the loans under our existing credit agreement up to the effective date of the prepackaged plan; and (2) with respect to the remaining obligations under our existing credit agreement held by it, execute an amendment to our existing credit agreement in the form of the amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J (with the completion of items currently blank as agreed upon by Wachovia Bank, National Association (or any successor thereto), as administrative agent under our existing credit agreement).

Class 4 Other Secured Claims effective date of the prepackaged plan will receive payment in full in cash of the unpaid portion of such allowed NCIBS General Unsecured Claim on the latest of (1) the effective date of the prepackaged plan, (2) the date such allowed NCIBS General Unsecured Claim becomes due and payable in the ordinary course of business and (3) as otherwise agreed to by the debtors and the holder of such NCIBS General Unsecured Claim; provided, however, that the debtors may seek authority from the bankruptcy court to pay certain NCIBS General Unsecured Claims in advance of the effective date of the prepackaged plan in the ordinary course of business. Class 12 Equity Interests in NCIBS

The claims in Class 12 consist of the equity interests in NCI, which collectively we refer to as the Equity Interests in NCIBS.

Class 12 is unimpaired by the prepackaged plan. Each holder of an equity interest in NCI is presumed to have accepted the prepackaged plan and is not entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan.

On the effective date, all Equity Interests in NCIBS shall be reinstated for the benefits of the holders thereof, provided, such equity interests shall be subject to dilution in accordance with our restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, on account of the common stock distributed to holders of the convertible notes and the Series B convertible preferred stock issued to the CD&R Fund.

Class 13 Section 510(b) Claims

The claims in Class 13 are the types of claims which, because they arose in connection with the purchase or sale of a security of NCIBS, are subordinated to general unsecured claims under section 510(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, which collectively we refer to as the Section 510(b) Claims.

Class 13 is impaired by the prepackaged plan. Each holder of a Section 510(b) Claim is conclusively deemed to have rejected the prepackaged plan and is not entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan.

Table of Contents

Holders of Section 510(b) Claims shall not receive any distribution on account of such Section 510(b) Claims. On the effective date, all Section 510(b) Claims shall be discharged.

Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan

If we seek to implement the prepackaged plan by commencing the prepackaged plan proceeding contemplated by the investment agreement, we will promptly request that the bankruptcy court hold a confirmation hearing (including a determination that the prepackaged plan solicitation was in compliance with any applicable nonbankruptcy law, rule or regulation governing the adequacy of disclosure or, if there is not any such law, rule or regulation, was made after disclosure of adequate information as defined in the Bankruptcy Code), upon such notice to parties in interest as is required by the Bankruptcy Code and the bankruptcy court. Bankruptcy rule 2002(b) requires no less than 25 days notice by mail of the time for filing objections to confirmation of the prepackaged plan and of the time and place of the confirmation hearing, unless the bankruptcy court shortens or lengthens this period. Parties in interest, including all holders of impaired claims and interests, will be provided notice by mail, or by publication if required by the bankruptcy court, of the date and time fixed by the bankruptcy court for the confirmation hearing. Section 1128(b) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that any party in interest may object to confirmation of the prepackaged plan. The bankruptcy court will also establish procedures for the filing and service of objections to confirmation of the prepackaged plan. Such procedures will be described to parties in interest in the notice informing them of the time for filing objections to confirmation of the prepackaged plan.

ANY OBJECTIONS TO CONFIRMATION OF THE PREPACKAGED PLAN MUST BE FILED WITH THE BANKRUPTCY COURT IN ACCORDANCE WITH APPLICABLE BANKRUPTCY RULES AND ANY PROCEDURES ESTABLISHED BY THE BANKRUPTCY COURT.

In order for the prepackaged plan to be confirmed, and regardless of whether all impaired classes of claims vote to accept the prepackaged plan, the Bankruptcy Code requires that the bankruptcy court determine that the prepackaged plan complies with the requirements of section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code. Section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code requires for confirmation, among other things, that:

except to the extent the prepackaged plan meets the nonconsensual confirmation standards discussed below under Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan Without Acceptance by All Classes of Impaired Claims, the prepackaged plan be accepted by each impaired class of claims and interests by the requisite votes of holders of claims or interests in such impaired classes;

the prepackaged plan is feasible (that is, there is a reasonable probability that we will be able to perform our obligations under the prepackaged plan and continue to operate our business without the need for further financial reorganization) (see Feasibility of the Prepackaged Plan below); and the prepackaged plan meets the requirements of section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code, which requires that, with respect to each impaired class, each holder of a claim or interest in such class either (1) accepts the prepackaged plan or (2) receives at least as much pursuant to the prepackaged plan as such holder would receive in our liquidation under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code (see Best Interests Test below).

In addition, we must demonstrate in accordance with section 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code that:

the prepackaged plan is proposed in good faith;

the prepackaged plan complies with the Bankruptcy Code;

payments for services or costs and expenses in or in connection with the case, or in connection with the prepackaged plan, have been approved by or are subject to the approval of the bankruptcy court;

the individuals to serve as our officers and directors have been disclosed and their appointment or continuance in such office is consistent with the interests of creditors and interest holders;

the identity of any insider that will be employed or retained by us is disclosed, as well as any compensation to be paid to such insider;

Table of Contents

all statutory fees have been or will be paid; and the prepackaged plan provides for the continued maintenance of retiree benefits, if any, at a certain level.

Acceptance of the Prepackaged Plan

As a condition to confirmation, the Bankruptcy Code requires that each impaired class of claims or interests accept a plan of reorganization, unless the cram-down requirements of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code are met. Classes of claims or interests that are not impaired under a plan are conclusively presumed to have accepted the plan and are not entitled to vote.

Feasibility of the Prepackaged Plan

The Bankruptcy Code requires that, in order to confirm the prepackaged plan, the bankruptcy court find that confirmation of the prepackaged plan will not likely be followed by liquidation or the need for further financial reorganization. For the prepackaged plan to meet the feasibility test, the bankruptcy court must find that we will possess the resources and working capital necessary to fund our operations and that we will be able to meet our obligations under the prepackaged plan.

We have analyzed our ability to meet our obligations under the prepackaged plan. As part of our analysis, we have considered our forecasts of our financial performance after completion of the prepackaged plan proceeding. These projections and the significant assumptions on which they are based are included in this prospectus/disclosure statement. See Unaudited Projected Consolidated Financial Information for Restructuring under the Prepackaged Plan. We believe, based on our analysis, that the prepackaged plan provides a feasible means of reorganization from which there is a reasonable expectation that, following the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan, we will possess the resources and working capital necessary to fund our operations and to meet our obligations under the prepackaged plan.

In connection with confirmation of the prepackaged plan, the bankruptcy court will have to determine that the prepackaged plan is feasible. There can be no assurance that the bankruptcy court will agree with our determination. In particular, there can be no assurance that the bankruptcy court will accept the projections or the assumptions underlying our determination.

Best Interests Test

Even if the prepackaged plan is accepted by each impaired class of claims, section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that in order to confirm the prepackaged plan, the bankruptcy court must determine that either (1) each member of an impaired class of claims or interests has accepted the prepackaged plan or (2) the prepackaged plan will provide each non-accepting member of an impaired class of claims or interests a recovery that has a value at least equal to the value of the distribution that such member would receive if we were liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. If all members of an impaired class of claims or interests accept the prepackaged plan, the best interests test does not apply with respect to that class.

The first step in meeting the best interests test is to determine the dollar amount that would be generated from the liquidation of our assets and properties in the context of a chapter 7 liquidation case. The total amount available would be the sum of the proceeds from the disposition of our assets and the cash held by us at the time of the commencement of the chapter 7 case. The next step is to reduce that total by the amount of any claims secured by such assets, the costs and expenses of the liquidation, and such additional administrative expenses and priority claims that may result from the termination of our business and the use of chapter 7 for the purposes of liquidation. Finally, the present value of that amount (taking into account the time necessary to accomplish the liquidation) is allocated to creditors and stockholders in the strict order of priority in accordance with section 726 of the Bankruptcy Code which requires that no junior creditor receive any distribution until all senior creditors are paid in full and can be compared to the value of the property that is proposed to be distributed under the prepackaged plan on the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective.

After consideration of the effects that a chapter 7 liquidation would have on the ultimate proceeds available for distribution to creditors in a chapter 11 case, including:

the increased costs and expenses of a liquidation under chapter 7 arising from fees payable to a trustee in bankruptcy and professional advisors to such trustee;

the erosion in value of assets in a chapter 7 case in the context of the expeditious liquidation required under chapter 7 and the forced sale atmosphere that would prevail; and substantial increases in claims which would be satisfied on a priority basis or on a parity with creditors in a chapter 11 case, we have determined that confirmation of the prepackaged plan will provide each creditor and equity holder with a recovery that is not less than it would receive pursuant to our liquidation under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. Moreover, we believe that the value of any distributions from the liquidation proceeds to each class of allowed claims and interests in a chapter 7 case would be less than the value of distributions under the prepackaged plan because such distributions in chapter 7 may not occur for a substantial period of time. In this regard, it is possible that distribution of the proceeds of the liquidation could be delayed for a substantial time after the completion of such liquidation to resolve all objections to claims and prepare for distributions.

Liquidation Analysis

THE FOLLOWING LIQUIDATION ANALYSIS IS AN ESTIMATE OF THE PROCEEDS THAT MAY BE GENERATED AS A RESULT OF THE HYPOTHETICAL CHAPTER 7 LIQUIDATION OF OUR ASSETS. THE ANALYSIS IS BASED UPON A NUMBER OF SIGNIFICANT ASSUMPTIONS WHICH ARE DESCRIBED BELOW. THE LIQUIDATION ANALYSIS DOES NOT PURPORT TO BE A VALUATION OF OUR ASSETS AND IS NOT NECESSARILY INDICATIVE OF THE VALUES THAT MAY BE REALIZED IN AN ACTUAL LIQUIDATION.

Pursuant to section 1129(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code (often called the best interests test) (see Best Interests Test above), each holder of an allowed claim or allowed equity interest must either (1) accept the prepackaged plan or (2) receive or retain under the prepackaged plan property of a value, as of the assumed effective date of the prepackaged plan, that is not less than the value such non-accepting holder would receive or retain if the Company were to be liquidated under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

In determining whether the best interests test has been met, the first step is to determine the dollar amount that would be generated from a hypothetical liquidation of the Company's assets under chapter 7. The Company, with the assistance of its restructuring and financial advisors, has prepared this hypothetical liquidation analysis in connection with the prospectus/disclosure statement. The liquidation analysis reflects the estimated cash proceeds, net of liquidation-related costs, that would be available to the Company's creditors if the Company were to be liquidated pursuant to a chapter 7 liquidation as an alternative to continued operation of the Company's business. Accordingly, asset values discussed herein may be different than amounts referred to elsewhere in this prospectus/disclosure statement, including the prepackaged plan. The liquidation analysis is based upon the assumptions discussed herein and in this prospectus/disclosure statement. All capitalized terms not defined in this liquidation analysis have the meanings ascribed to them in this prospectus/disclosure statement.

UNDERLYING THE LIQUIDATION ANALYSIS ARE NUMEROUS ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS REGARDING LIQUIDATION PROCEEDS THAT, ALTHOUGH DEVELOPED AND CONSIDERED REASONABLE BY THE COMPANY'S MANAGEMENT AND ITS ADVISORS, ARE INHERENTLY

SUBJECT TO SIGNIFICANT BUSINESS, ECONOMIC, REGULATORY AND COMPETITIVE UNCERTAINTIES AND CONTINGENCIES BEYOND THE CONTROL OF THE COMPANY AND ITS MANAGEMENT. ACCORDINGLY, THERE CAN BE NO ASSURANCE THAT THE VALUES REFLECTED IN THE LIQUIDATION ANALYSIS WOULD BE REALIZED IF THE COMPANY WERE, IN FACT, TO UNDERGO SUCH A LIQUIDATION, AND ACTUAL RESULTS COULD DIFFER MATERIALLY FROM THE RESULTS SET FORTH HEREIN.

Significant Assumptions

Hypothetical recoveries to stakeholders of the Company in a chapter 7 liquidation were determined through multiple steps, as set forth below.

The basis of the liquidation analysis is the Company's projected balance sheet as of November 1, 2009 (except as noted otherwise), and assumes that the Company would commence a chapter 7 liquidation on that date.

The liquidation analysis also assumes that the liquidation of the Company would commence under the direction of a court-appointed chapter 7 trustee. The liquidation analysis reflects the wind-down and liquidation of substantially all of the Company's operations over a 12-month wind-down period, during which time all of the Company's major assets would be sold and the cash proceeds, net of liquidation-related costs, would be distributed to satisfy claims.

Estimate of Net Proceeds

Estimates were made of the cash proceeds that might be received from the liquidation of the Company's assets listed on its balance sheet, giving due consideration to the effects of the chapter 7 liquidation itself, including (1) the increased costs and expenses of a liquidation under chapter 7 arising from fees payable to a trustee in bankruptcy and advisors to such trustee (see below) and (2) the potential erosion in value of assets in a chapter 7 case in the context of the expedited liquidation required under chapter 7.

In this liquidation analysis, each operating facility is assumed to be shut down and marketed for sale separately. Liquidation values were assessed for general classes by estimating percentage recoveries of the gross book value of the asset that a chapter 7 trustee might achieve through the disposition. Proceeds are net of holding costs, including insurance, taxes, utilities, security and maintenance, which are assumed to be incurred until a sale is concluded.

The liquidation analysis does not reflect any potential recoveries that might be realized by the chapter 7 trustee's potential pursuit of any avoidance actions, as the Company believes that any such potential recoveries are highly speculative in light of, among other things, the various defenses that would likely be asserted. Similarly, the liquidation analysis does not reflect any recoveries that might be realized from any current or potential future litigation initiated by the Company.

Estimate of Costs

Proceeds from a chapter 7 liquidation would be reduced by administrative costs incurred during the wind-down of the Company's operations, the disposition of assets and the reconciliation of claims against the Company. These liquidation costs include professional (including attorneys, financial advisors, appraisers and accountants) and trustee fees, commissions, salaries, severance and retention costs, certain occupancy costs, the estimated holding costs for each plant over the relevant period and the estimated costs of shutting down the plants. Actual liquidation costs may exceed the estimate included in this liquidation analysis, particularly if the wind-down of operations, disposition of assets and reconciliation of claims takes longer than the assumed 12-month wind-down period.

Distribution of Net Proceeds under Absolute Priority

The amount of cash available would be the sum of the proceeds from the disposition of the Company's assets and the cash held by the Company at the commencement of its chapter 7 cases. Under the absolute priority rule, no junior creditor would receive any distribution until all senior creditors are paid in full, and no equity holder would receive any distribution until all creditors are paid in full. As such, prior to delivering any proceeds to holders of general unsecured claims and convertible notes claims, available cash and asset liquidation proceeds would first be applied, as applicable, to the liquidation costs (including any incremental administrative expense claims that may result from the termination of the Company's business and the liquidation of the Company's assets), secured claims and other priority claims under section 507 of the Bankruptcy Code as required under section 726 of the Bankruptcy Code. Remaining cash and asset liquidation proceeds after satisfaction of the liquidation costs, secured claims and priority claims, if any, would be available for distribution to holders of general unsecured claims, holders of convertible notes and equity interest holders in accordance with the distribution hierarchy established by section 726 of the Bankruptcy Code.

After consideration of the effects that a chapter 7 liquidation would have on the ultimate proceeds available for distribution to creditors, the Company has determined, as summarized in the charts below and in the section above titled Best Interests Test, that the Company's proposed prepackaged plan will provide creditors with a recovery that is not less than what creditors would receive pursuant to a liquidation of the Company's assets under chapter 7.

The following liquidation analysis should be reviewed with the accompanying footnotes.

Footnotes to the Liquidation Analysis

Unless stated otherwise, the book values used in this liquidation analysis are the projected net book values of the Company's assets as of November 1, 2009. Actual results may vary significantly from those projected.

Note A Cash and Cash Equivalents

The liquidation analysis is based on the assumption that operations during the liquidation period would not generate additional cash available for distribution. It is assumed that all cash and cash equivalents held in the Company's accounts are available for distribution except for restricted cash that collateralizes letters of credits. On that basis, the Company projects that on November 1, 2009, the Company will have available cash on hand of approximately $75.7 million.

Note B Accounts Receivable

The analysis of accounts receivable assumes that a chapter 7 trustee would retain certain existing staff of the Company to handle an aggressive collection effort of outstanding trade accounts receivable from customers. Collections during a liquidation of the Company would likely be significantly compromised as customers may attempt to set off outstanding amounts owed to the Company against alleged damages relating to breach of contract claims. The liquidation value of accounts receivable was estimated by applying a recovery factor consistent with the Company's experience in collecting accounts receivable and the expectation of additional attempts to set off. The estimate also considers the inevitable difficulty a liquidating company has in collecting its receivables and any concessions that might be required to facilitate the collection of certain accounts. Estimated recoveries are between 60% and 70% of accounts receivable.

Note C Other Receivables

Other receivables include rebate receivables from vendors and miscellaneous non-trade receivables. Estimated recoveries are between 70% and 75%.

Note D Inventory

Inventory is primarily comprised of raw materials, work in process and finished goods. Estimated recoveries are between 30% and 40% of the book value of inventory.

Note E Income Tax Receivables

The Company expects to have an income tax receivable of $25.2 million on November 1, 2009. Estimated recoveries are between approximately 90% and 100% of the income tax receivables.

Note F Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses include equipment and software maintenance contracts, Mexican VAT taxes, insurance, professional fees related to the debt restructuring, deposits and supplies. Estimated recoveries are between approximately 15% and 30%.

Note G Investments in Debt and Equity

Investments in debt and equity are comprised of mutual fund type securities. Estimated recoveries are between approximately 80% and 90%.

Note H Intangible Assets, net

Intangible assets include trade names, backlog, customer lists and relationships, non-competition agreements, and property rights. Estimated recoveries are between approximately 15% and 20%.

Note I Property, Plant and Equipment, net

The estimated net book value of fixed assets owned by the Company at November 1, 2009 is $237.5 million. The Company's fixed assets consist primarily of land, buildings and improvements, machinery, equipment, furniture, transportation equipment, and computer software and equipment. Estimated recoveries are between 30% and 40%.

Note J Administrative Expenses Corporate/Plant Wind Down

Administrative expenses include operating costs during a projected one-year wind-down period commencing November 1, 2009, as well as certain liquidation costs and expenses of the chapter 7 estates, but exclude chapter 7 trustee compensation and fees to professionals retained in the chapter 7 cases.

Corporate and plant-level payroll and operating costs during the liquidation are based upon the assumption that certain operating and corporate functions would be retained to assist a trustee with the liquidation process. The remaining staff would also be needed to maintain and close the accounting records and to complete certain administrative tasks including the preparation of payroll and tax returns. Certain minimum plant staff would be required at the Company's operating facilities to complete the closure and mothballing of the facilities, assist with the sale and handling of the inventory and to oversee the removal and sale/disposal of equipment.

Note K Administrative Expenses Professionals and Other

Administrative expenses include chapter 7 professional fees and expenses, including legal, investment banking and accounting fees expected to be incurred during the one-year liquidation period and not already deducted from liquidation values.

Note L Administrative Expenses Chapter 7 Trustee

Chapter 7 trustee fees include compensation for services rendered by a chapter 7 trustee in accordance with section 326 of the Bankruptcy Code. Trustee fees are estimated at 1.5% of the gross liquidation value of the Company's assets.

Note M Industrial Revenue Bond

Our industrial revenue bond is estimated to have a balance of $0.4 million on November 1, 2009. It is assumed that the balance owed is paid using proceeds from the Elizabethton, Tennessee facility to which the bonds are related, with excess proceeds from the sale of the facility, if any, to be made available to other creditors in accordance with their priority.

Note N Existing Credit Facility

The balance owed under our existing credit facility is assumed to be paid from the net liquidation proceeds of the liquidated assets after satisfaction of the liquidation costs and our industrial revenue bond. The obligations owing under our existing credit facility on November 1, 2009 are estimated to be $300.8 million (including pre-petition accrued and unpaid interest and a liability for a related interest-rate swap).

Note O Priority Claims

Priority Claims include claims entitled to priority status as set out in section 507 of the Bankruptcy Code. Estimated Priority Claims of approximately $50.6 million include certain obligations to employees and are assumed to be paid on from the net proceeds, if any, remaining after the payment of the liquidation costs and obligations under the existing credit facility and our industrial revenue bonds.

Note P General Unsecured Claims and Convertible Notes

The liquidation analysis assumes that general unsecured claims will consist of pre-petition unpaid, unsecured obligations owed to vendors, employees (other than priority claims of employees) and litigation parties. The liquidation analysis does not attempt to estimate additional general unsecured claims that would arise as a result of the rejection of executory contracts and leases that would otherwise be assumed under the prepackaged plan, and the failure of the Company to perform under existing contracts. The amount of such additional claims would likely be substantial in amount. For purposes of this liquidation analysis, general unsecured claims in the aggregate are estimated to be $81.7 million.

The liquidation analysis assumes that the convertible notes are pari passu to general unsecured claims. The convertible notes claims are estimated to be $181.8 million (including pre-petition accrued and unpaid interest).

General unsecured claims and the convertible notes claims are assumed to be paid on a pro rata basis from the net liquidation proceeds available, if any, after the payment of all other claims.

THESE ESTIMATED LIQUIDATION VALUES ARE SPECULATIVE AND COULD VARY DRAMATICALLY FROM THE AMOUNTS THAT MAY BE RECOVERED IN AN ACTUAL LIQUIDATION UNDER CHAPTER 7 OF THE BANKRUPTCY CODE. IN MANY CASES, OUR ASSETS MIGHT NOT COMMAND SIGNIFICANT PRICES IF PURCHASED FOR USES OTHER THAN THAT FOR WHICH THEY WERE DESIGNED.

As described above, to estimate the liquidation proceeds we assumed that our assets are disposed of in a straight liquidation during a the 12-month wind-down period. Our belief that confirmation of the prepackaged plan will provide each holder of a claim in an impaired class with a recovery at least equal to the recovery that such holder would receive pursuant to a liquidation under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code is based on a comparison of the liquidation values set forth in the liquidation analysis with our estimate of the value of the distributions to the holders of claims pursuant to the prepackaged plan. In preparing these analyses, we were assisted by Greenhill, our financial advisor in connection with the restructuring.

Alternatives to Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan

If the prepackaged plan is not confirmed, we or, subject to further determination by the bankruptcy court as to extensions of our exclusive period within which to propose a plan of reorganization (which is the first 120 days after the commencement of reorganization case, subject to reduction or extension by the bankruptcy court), any other party in interest in our reorganization case could attempt to formulate and propose a different plan or plans of reorganization. Such plans could involve a reorganization and continuation of our businesses, a sale of our business as a going concern, an orderly liquidation of our assets, or any combination thereof. If no plan of reorganization is confirmed by the bankruptcy court, our reorganization case may be converted to a liquidation case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code. In that event, the bankruptcy court may grant holders of secured claims relief from the automatic stay to foreclose on their collateral and, accordingly, our valuable assets may be lost.

In a chapter 7 case, a trustee would be appointed or elected with the primary duty of liquidating our assets. Typically, in a liquidation, assets are sold for less than their going concern value and, accordingly, the return to creditors would be reduced. Proceeds from liquidation would be distributed to our creditors in accordance with the priorities set forth in the Bankruptcy Code.

Because of the difficulties in estimating what our assets would bring in a liquidation and the uncertainties concerning the aggregate claims to be paid and their priority in liquidation, it is not possible to predict with certainty what return, if any, each class of claims or interests might receive in a liquidation. Nevertheless, we believe that the most likely result would be the sale of our assets at a price which is significantly less than needed to pay our debts in full. We believe that holders of impaired claims and interests would realize a greater recovery under the prepackaged plan than would be realized under a chapter 7 liquidation.

Solicitation and Voting Procedures

The following summarizes briefly the procedures to accept or reject the prepackaged plan. Holders of claims are encouraged to review the relevant provisions of the Bankruptcy Code and/or to consult their own attorneys.

The Solicitation Package

The following materials constitute the solicitation package:

the appropriate ballots and applicable voting instructions;

a pre-addressed, postage pre-paid return envelope; and the prospectus/disclosure statement with all exhibits, including the prepackaged plan and any other supplements or amendments to these documents.

The two voting classes, Classes 3 and 5, entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan shall be sent paper copies of the prospectus/disclosure statement with all exhibits, including the prepackaged plan. Any party who desires additional paper copies of these documents may request copies from the voting agent by writing to Financial Balloting Group LLC, 757 Third Avenue, 3rd Floor, New York, NY 10017, or calling (646) 282-1800. The solicitation package (except the ballots) can also be obtained by accessing the Company's website, <http://www.ncilp.com>. All parties entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan shall receive a paper copy of each appropriate ballot.

The plan supplement will be filed with the bankruptcy court no later than five days prior to the confirmation hearing or such later date as may be approved by the bankruptcy court. The plan supplement will include the following: (1) our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and by-laws as of the effective date of the prepackaged plan; (2) the list (as may be amended), as determined by us, of executory contracts and unexpired leases (including any amendments or modifications thereto) that will be rejected by us pursuant to the provisions of the prepackaged plan; (3) a list of retained causes of action; (4) the stockholders agreement; (5) the ABL agreement; and (6) the amended credit agreement. The Company may subsequently add additional items to the plan supplement, which will also be filed with the bankruptcy court.

Voting Deadline

The period during which ballots with respect to the prepackaged plan will be accepted by the voting agent will terminate on the voting deadline, or 11:59 p.m, New York City Time, on October 7, 2009, unless the Company extends the date until which ballots will be accepted. Except to the extent the Company so determines or as permitted by the bankruptcy court, ballots that are received after the voting deadline will not be counted or otherwise used by the Company in connection with the Company's request for confirmation of the prepackaged plan (or any permitted modification thereof).

Table of Contents

The Company reserves the absolute right, at any time or from time to time, to extend the period of time (on a daily basis, if necessary) during which ballots will be accepted for any reason, including determining whether or not the requisite number of acceptances have been received, by making a public announcement of such extension no later than 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on the next business day after the voting deadline. The Company will give notice of any such extension in a manner deemed reasonable to the Company in its discretion. As of the date of this prospectus/disclosure statement, we have no intention of extending such date.

Voting and Revocation Instructions

Only the holders of allowed Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims are entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan, and they may do so by following the instructions below and the voting instructions attached to the ballot. The failure of a holder to deliver a duly executed ballot will be deemed to constitute an abstention by such holder with respect to voting on the prepackaged plan, and such abstentions will not be counted as votes for or against the prepackaged plan.

The Company is providing the solicitation package to holders of Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims whose names (or the names of their nominees) appear as of the voting record date, which was August 28, 2009, in the records maintained by the Company.

If you hold Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims that are registered in your own name, including by a participant in DTC whose name appears on a security position listing as the owner of convertible notes, you can vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the appropriate ballot, signing, dating and indicating your vote on the ballot, and returning the completed original ballot in the enclosed, pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline, 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on October 7, 2009 (unless the voting deadline is extended, in which case the ballots must be received by the voting agent by any subsequent time or date to which the voting deadline is extended).

If you are a beneficial owner holding securities as a record holder in your own name you should complete the information requested on the ballot, indicate your vote on the ballot, and return the completed original ballot in the enclosed, pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline.

If you are a beneficial owner holding securities through a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee, or your nominee, you can vote on the prepackaged plan in one of the two following ways:

If your ballot has already been signed (or prevalidated) by your nominee (as described below), you can vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, indicating your vote on the ballot, and returning the completed original ballot in the enclosed, pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline.

If your ballot has not been signed (or prevalidated) by your nominee, you can vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, indicating your vote on the ballot, and returning the completed original ballot to your nominee in sufficient time for your nominee then to process the ballot and return it to the voting agent so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline. If no self-addressed, postage pre-paid envelope was enclosed for this purpose, the nominee must be contacted for instructions.

Any ballot returned to a nominee by a beneficial owner will not be counted for purposes of acceptance or rejection of the prepackaged plan until such nominee properly completes and delivers to Financial Balloting Group that ballot (properly validated) or a master ballot that reflects the vote of such beneficial owner.

If you are a broker, dealer, commercial bank, trust company or other nominee that is the registered holder of securities, please forward a copy of this prospectus/disclosure statement, the appropriate ballot, and any other enclosed materials to each beneficial owner as of the voting record date and arrange for beneficial owners to vote in accordance with the voting procedures described herein and:

If you have signed (or prevalidated) a ballot by: (1) signing the ballot; (2) indicating on the ballot the name of the registered holder and the amount of securities held by the nominee; and (3) forwarding such ballot together with the solicitation package and other materials requested to be forwarded, to the beneficial owner for voting; then the beneficial owner must vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, indicating its vote on the ballot, and returning the completed original ballot in the enclosed, pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline. A list of the beneficial owners to whom pre-validated ballots were delivered should be maintained by the nominee for inspection for at least one year from the voting deadline.

If you have not signed (or prevalidated) the appropriate ballot, then you, as nominee, may obtain the votes of beneficial owners by forwarding to the beneficial owners the unsigned ballots, together with this prospectus/disclosure statement, a return envelope provided by, and addressed to, the nominee, and other materials requested to be forwarded. Each such beneficial owner may vote on the prepackaged plan by completing the information requested on the ballot, indicating its vote on the ballot, and returning the completed original ballot to you, as nominee. After collecting the ballots, you, as nominee, should, in turn, complete a master ballot compiling the votes and other information from the ballot, execute the master ballot, and deliver the master ballot to the voting agent so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline. All ballots returned by beneficial owners should either be forwarded to the voting agent (along with the master ballot) or be retained by nominees for inspection for at least one year from the voting deadline.

Each nominee should advise its beneficial owners to return their ballots to the nominee by a date calculated by the nominee to allow it to prepare and return the master ballot to the voting agent so that it is actually received by the voting agent before the voting deadline.

The Company expects that The Depository Trust Company, as a nominee holder of convertible notes, will arrange for its participants to vote by executing a letter of authorization in favor of such participants. As a result of such letter, each such participant will be authorized to vote its voting record date positions held in the name of such securities clearing agencies, and the Company shall, in any event, rely on the listing of participants provided by the Depository Trust Company as of the voting record date.

Any beneficial owner of eligible Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims that has not received a ballot should contact its nominee or the Financial Balloting Group LLC at its address and telephone number on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement.

The Company has engaged Financial Balloting Group LLC as the voting agent to assist in the balloting and tabulation process. The voting agent will process and tabulate ballots for each class entitled to vote to accept or reject the prepackaged plan and will file the voting report as soon as practicable on or after the petition date.

Any ballot that is properly executed by the holder of a claim, but which does not clearly indicate an acceptance or rejection of the prepackaged plan or which indicates both an acceptance and a rejection of the prepackaged plan, shall not be counted.

Each holder of a Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims must vote all of their claims within a particular class either to accept or reject the prepackaged plan and may not split their votes.

All ballots are accompanied by a pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope. It is important to follow the specific instructions provided on each ballot.

Acceptances or rejections may be withdrawn or revoked at any time prior to the voting deadline by the beneficial owner on the voting record date who completed the original master ballot or ballot, or by the nominee who completed the master ballot in such beneficial owner's name, as the case may be. However, after commencement of a reorganization case in connection with the prepackaged plan, withdrawal or revocation of votes accepting or rejecting the prepackaged plan may be effected only with the approval of the bankruptcy court.

Acceptances or rejections in regard to the prepackaged plan may be withdrawn or revoked prior to commencement of a reorganization case in connection with the prepackaged plan by complying with the following procedures: (1) a beneficial owner of convertible notes should deliver a written notice of withdrawal or revocation to the record holder for endorsement and delivery to the voting agent and (2) a record holder of convertible notes who voted securities held for their own account should deliver a written notice of withdrawal or revocation to the voting agent.

To be effective, a notice of revocation and withdrawal must:

be timely received by the ballot agent at its address specified on the back cover of this prospectus/disclosure statement, specify the name and/or customer account number of the beneficial owner whose vote on the prepackaged plan of reorganization is being withdrawn or revoked, contain the description of the claim as to which a vote on the prepackaged plan of reorganization is withdrawn or revoked, and be signed by the beneficial owner of the claim who executed the ballot reflecting the vote being withdrawn or revoked, or by the nominee who executed the master ballot reflecting the vote being withdrawn or revoked, as applicable, in each case in the same manner as the original signature on the ballot or master ballot, as the case may be.

After the commencement of a reorganization case in connection the prepackaged plan, a notice of withdrawal of a previously furnished ballot or master ballot will not be effective without the approval of the bankruptcy court.

Note to Holders of Class 3 Second Secured Term Loan Claims and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims

By signing and returning a ballot, each holder of a Class 3 Second Secured Term Loan Claim or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claim will be certifying to the bankruptcy court and the Company that, among other things:

the holder has received and reviewed a copy of the prospectus/disclosure statement and solicitation package and acknowledges that the solicitation is being made pursuant to the terms and conditions set forth therein;

the holder has cast the same vote with respect to all claims in the same respective class; and no other ballots with respect to the same claim have been cast, or, if any other ballots have been cast with respect to such claim, then any such ballots are thereby revoked.

Voting Tabulation

The ballot does not constitute, and shall not be deemed to be, a proof of claim or an assertion or admission of a claim. Only holders of claims in the voting classes shall be entitled to vote with regard to such claims.

Unless the Company decides otherwise, ballots received after the voting deadline may not be counted. The method of delivery of the ballots to be sent to the voting agent is at the election and risk of each holder of a Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claim and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claim. Except as otherwise provided in the solicitation procedures, a ballot will be deemed delivered only when the voting agent actually receives the original executed ballot. No ballot should be sent to the Company, the Company's agents (other than the voting agent), or the Company's financial or legal advisors.

Subject to our obligations under the investment agreement, we reserve the right to use the acceptances to seek confirmation of any permitted amendment or modification of the prepackaged plan, provided that we may not make any amendment or modification to the prepackaged plan prohibited by the prepackaged plan. Under the investment agreement, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to the prepackaged plan or making any changes to the terms and conditions of the prepackaged plan without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund.

The Bankruptcy Code may require the Company to disseminate additional solicitation materials if the Company makes material changes to the terms of the prepackaged plan or if the Company waives a material condition to confirmation of the prepackaged plan. In that event, the solicitation will be extended to the extent directed by the bankruptcy court.

If multiple ballots are received from the same holder with respect to the same Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claim or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claim prior to the voting deadline, the last ballot timely received will be deemed to reflect that voter's intent and will supersede and revoke any prior ballot. Holders must vote all of their Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims within a particular prepackaged plan class either to accept or reject the prepackaged plan and may not split their vote. Accordingly, a ballot that partially rejects and partially accepts the prepackaged plan will not be counted. Further, to the extent there are multiple Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims in the same class, the Company may, in their discretion, and to the extent possible, aggregate the Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims or Class 5 Convertible Notes Claims of any particular holder within the particular class for the purpose of counting votes.

In the event a designation of lack of good faith is requested by a party in interest under section 1126(e) of the Bankruptcy Code, the bankruptcy court will determine whether any vote to accept and/or reject the prepackaged plan cast with respect to that claim will be counted for purposes of determining whether the prepackaged plan has been accepted and/or rejected.

The Company will file with the bankruptcy court, on the petition date, or as soon as practicable thereafter, the voting report prepared by the voting agent. The voting report shall, among other things, delineate every ballot that does not conform to the voting instructions or that contains any form of irregularity, including, but not limited to, those ballots that are late or (in whole or in material part) illegible, unidentifiable, lacking signatures or lacking necessary information, received via facsimile or e-mail or damaged. The voting report also shall indicate the Company's intentions with regard to such irregular ballots. Neither the Company nor any other person or entity will be under any duty to provide notification of defects or irregularities with respect to delivered ballots other than as provided in the voting report, nor will any of them incur any liability for failure to provide such notification.

Holders of claims not a party to the lock-up agreement may elect to withhold their consent to the releases set forth in article VIII of the prepackaged plan by checking the applicable box on the ballot if such holders vote to reject the prepackaged plan.

Means for Implementing the Prepackaged Plan

Management

On the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective, our management, control and operation will become the general responsibility of our board of directors in accordance with Delaware law. Our board of directors on the effective date is described in the section titled Directors and Management. The prepackaged plan also authorizes us to assume, as may be modified, employment agreements with our executive officers, which will become effective on the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective. For a description of the directors' and officers' backgrounds, affiliations, salary compensation and whether or not such persons are also insiders, see Directors and Management.

We will disclose, prior to the hearing on the confirmation of the prepackaged plan, such additional information as is necessary to satisfy section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code including (1) the identity and affiliation of any other individual who is proposed to serve as one of our officers or directors, to the extent it is different than disclosed herein, and (2) the identity of any other insider that will be employed or retained by us and said insider's compensation.

Cancellation of Existing Securities and Indebtedness

As a general matter, on the effective date, all notes, indentures, instruments and other documents evidencing the claims or interests classified in Classes 3 and 5 of the prepackaged plan will be cancelled and any collateral security with respect to such claims will be released. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, on the effective date of the prepackaged plan, the convertible notes will be cancelled.

Table of Contents

The CD&R Investment

As a condition to the effective date of the prepackaged plan, the CD&R investment must be consummated in order to make any distributions pursuant to the prepackaged plan.

Issuance of Common Stock

On the effective date of the prepackaged plan, we will issue, in accordance with the terms of the prepackaged plan, an aggregate of 250,000 shares of Series B convertible preferred stock and, as permitted by our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, 70,200,000 newly issued shares of common stock. All shares to be issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan will be, upon issuance, fully paid and non-assessable. The holders of common stock do not have preemptive or other rights to subscribe for additional shares. The CD&R Fund will be granted subscription rights under the terms and conditions of the stockholders agreement. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement.

We expect that the confirmation order of the bankruptcy court will provide that the issuance of the common stock in respect of the convertible notes shall be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Confirmation of the Prepackaged Plan Without Acceptance by All Classes of Impaired Claims

We may seek confirmation of the prepackaged plan even if the plan is not accepted by all impaired classes pursuant to the cram-down provisions set forth in section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. Under the cram-down provisions, upon the request of a plan proponent, the bankruptcy court will confirm a plan despite the lack of acceptance by an impaired class or classes if the bankruptcy court finds that:

the plan does not discriminate unfairly with respect to each non-accepting impaired class; and the plan is fair and equitable with respect to each non-accepting impaired class.

These standards ensure that holders of junior interests, such as common stockholders, cannot retain any interest in the debtor under a plan that has been rejected by a senior class of impaired claims or interests unless such impaired claims or interests are paid in full.

As used by the Bankruptcy Code, the phrases discriminate unfairly and fair and equitable have narrow and specific meanings unique to bankruptcy law. A plan does not discriminate unfairly if claims or interests in different classes but with similar priorities and characteristics receive or retain property of similar value under a plan. By establishing separate classes for the holders of each type of claim or interest and by treating each holder of a claim or interest in each class identically, the prepackaged plan has been structured so as to meet the unfair discrimination test of section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code.

The Bankruptcy Code sets forth different standards for establishing that a plan is fair and equitable with respect to a dissenting class, depending on whether the class is comprised of secured or unsecured claims or interests. In general, section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code permits confirmation notwithstanding non-acceptance by an impaired class if that class and all junior classes are treated in accordance with the absolute priority rule, which requires that the dissenting class be paid in full before a junior class may receive any distributions under the plan. In addition, case law surrounding section 1129(b) requires that no class senior to a non-accepting impaired class receives more than payment in full on its claims.

With respect to a class of unsecured claims that does not accept the prepackaged plan, we must demonstrate to the bankruptcy court that either:

each holder of an unsecured claim in the dissenting class receives or retains under such plan property of a value equal to the allowed amount of its unsecured claim; or the holders of claims or holders of interests that are junior to the claims of the holders of such unsecured claims will not receive or retain any property under the prepackaged plan.

Additionally, we must demonstrate that the holders of claims or interests that are senior to the claims or interests of the dissenting class of unsecured claims or interests receive no more than payment in full on their claims or interests under the prepackaged plan.

To the extent necessary, we will demonstrate that the prepackaged plan satisfies the standards set forth in section 1129(b) of the Bankruptcy Code at the confirmation hearing.

Valuation Analysis and Financial Projections

Valuation of the Company Post Restructuring

At the Company's request, Greenhill has prepared an estimated going concern value for the Company after giving effect to the restructuring.

In preparing the Company's estimated enterprise value after giving effect to the restructuring, Greenhill:

reviewed certain historical financial information of the Company for recent years and interim periods;

reviewed certain internal financial and operating data of the Company, including the financial projections developed by the Company's management relating to their businesses and prospects;

met with certain members of senior management of the Company to discuss the Company's operations and future prospects;

reviewed publicly available financial data and considered the market values of public companies deemed generally comparable to the operating businesses of the Company;

considered certain economic and industry information relevant to the Company's operating businesses; and conducted such other analyses as Greenhill deemed appropriate.

Although Greenhill conducted a review and analysis of the Company's businesses, operating assets and liabilities, and business plans, Greenhill assumed and relied on, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of all: (1) historical financial and other information furnished to it by or on behalf of the Company and (2) publicly available information. Greenhill further assumed that the financial projections were prepared reasonably and in good faith on a basis reflecting the Company's best estimates and judgment as to future operating and financial performance. Greenhill did not conduct an independent evaluation or appraisal of the Company's assets, and no independent evaluations or appraisals of the Company's assets were sought or were obtained in connection therewith.

Greenhill estimated the Company's enterprise value after giving effect to the restructuring to be between approximately $375 million and $525 million, with a midpoint of $450 million as of an assumed effective date of the prepackaged plan of November 2, 2009, which may not be the actual effective date of the prepackaged plan. This reorganization enterprise value (ascribed as of the date of this prospectus/disclosure statement) reflects, among other factors discussed below, current financial market conditions and the inherent uncertainty today as to the achievement of the Company's financial projections, which are set forth under Unaudited Projected Consolidated Financial Information for Restructuring under the Prepackaged Plan. Greenhill's estimate of a range of enterprise values does not constitute an opinion as to the fairness from a financial point of view of the consideration to be received under the terms of the prepackaged plan or of the terms and conditions of the prepackaged plan.

The range of the Company's estimated enterprise value, as of an assumed effective date of November 2, 2009, and after giving effect to the restructuring, reflects work performed by Greenhill on the basis of information available to, and analyses undertaken by, Greenhill as of August 26, 2009. It should be understood that, although subsequent developments may affect Greenhill's conclusions, Greenhill does not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm its estimate.

In performing its analysis, Greenhill used various valuation techniques, including:

a comparable company analysis, in which Greenhill analyzed the enterprise values of public companies that Greenhill deemed generally comparable to all or parts of the Company's operating business as a multiple of certain financial measures, including EBITDA and then applied selected multiples derived from such analysis to the projected EBITDA of the Company;

a precedent transactions analysis, in which Greenhill analyzed the financial terms of certain acquisitions of companies that Greenhill believed were comparable to all or parts of the Company's business, and then applied certain financial performance and other metrics provided by such analysis to the relevant metrics of the Company; and a discounted cash flow analysis, in which Greenhill, using a weighted average cost of capital, computed the present value of free cash flows from the Company and the terminal value of the Company.

The summary set forth above does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Greenhill. An estimate of total enterprise value is not entirely mathematical, but rather it involves complex considerations and judgments concerning various factors that could affect the value of an operating business. The preparation of an estimate involves various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of these methods in the particular circumstances and, therefore, such an estimate is not readily susceptible to summary description. The value of an operating business is subject to uncertainties and contingencies that are difficult to predict and will fluctuate with changes in factors affecting the financial conditions and prospects of such a business. As a result, the estimate of implied reorganized equity value set forth herein is not necessarily indicative of actual outcomes, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those set forth herein. The estimates are inherently subject to uncertainties and contingencies beyond the control of the Company. Greenhill does not assume responsibility for their accuracy. Depending on the results of the Company's operations or changes in the financial markets, Greenhill's valuation analysis as of the effective date may differ from that disclosed herein. In addition, estimates of implied reorganized equity value do not purport to be appraisals, nor do they necessarily reflect the values that might be realized if assets were sold.

The foregoing valuation reflects a number of assumptions, including a successful reorganization of the Company's businesses and finances in a timely manner, achieving the forecasts reflected in the financial projections, the amount of available cash, market conditions, the availability of certain tax attributes and the prepackaged plan becoming effective in accordance with its terms on a basis consistent with the estimates and other assumptions discussed herein. The estimates of value represent hypothetical enterprise values of the Company after giving effect to the restructuring as the continuing operator of its business and assets and assume that such assets are operated in accordance with the Company's business plan. They do not purport to reflect or constitute appraisals, liquidation values or estimates of the actual market value that may be realized through the trading value or sale of any securities to be issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan, which may be significantly different than the amounts set forth herein. Such estimates were developed solely for purposes of formulation and negotiation of the prepackaged plan and analysis of implied relative recoveries to creditors thereunder. Moreover, to the extent that the estimated range of enterprise value is dependent upon the Company's achievement of the financial projections, it is inherently speculative.

In addition, the valuation of newly issued securities is subject to additional uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict. Actual market prices of such securities at issuance will depend upon, among other things, prevailing interest rates; conditions in the financial markets; the anticipated initial securities holdings of prepetition creditors, some of which may prefer to liquidate their investment rather than hold it on a long term basis; and other factors that generally influence the prices of securities. If the Company seeks confirmation of the prepackaged plan in the prepackaged plan proceeding, actual market prices of such securities also may be affected by the prepackaged plan proceeding or by other factors not possible to predict. Accordingly, the reorganization enterprise value estimated by Greenhill does not necessarily reflect, and should not be construed as reflecting, values of the common stock that will be attained in the public or private markets. The enterprise value ascribed in the analysis does not purport to be an estimate of the post reorganization market trading value of the common stock. Such trading value may be materially different from the reorganization enterprise value ranges associated with Greenhill's valuation analysis.

THE FOREGOING VALUATION IS BASED UPON A NUMBER OF ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS THAT ARE INHERENTLY SUBJECT TO SIGNIFICANT UNCERTAINTIES AND CONTINGENCIES BEYOND THE CONTROL OF THE COMPANY. ACCORDINGLY, THERE CAN BE NO ASSURANCE

THAT THE RANGES REFLECTED IN THE VALUATION WOULD BE REALIZED IF THE PLAN WERE TO BECOME EFFECTIVE, AND ACTUAL RESULTS COULD VARY MATERIALLY FROM THOSE SHOWN HERE.

THE ESTIMATED CALCULATION OF ENTERPRISE VALUE IS HIGHLY DEPENDENT UPON ACHIEVING THE FUTURE FINANCIAL RESULTS AS SET FORTH IN THE COMPANY'S FINANCIAL PROJECTIONS, AS WELL AS THE REALIZATION OF CERTAIN OTHER ASSUMPTIONS, NONE OF WHICH ARE GUARANTEED AND MANY OF WHICH ARE OUTSIDE OF THE COMPANY'S CONTROL, AS FURTHER DISCUSSED IN THE RISK FACTORS AND ELSEWHERE IN THIS PROSPECTUS/DISCLOSURE STATEMENT.

THE CALCULATIONS OF VALUE SET FORTH HEREIN REPRESENT ESTIMATED REORGANIZATION VALUES AND DO NOT NECESSARILY REFLECT VALUES THAT COULD BE ATTAINABLE IN PUBLIC OR PRIVATE MARKETS. THE ENTERPRISE VALUE STATED HEREIN DOES NOT PURPORT TO BE AN ESTIMATE OF THE POST-RESTRUCTURING MARKET VALUE. SUCH VALUE, IF ANY, MAY BE MATERIALLY DIFFERENT FROM THE ENTERPRISE VALUE RANGES ASSOCIATED WITH THIS VALUATION ANALYSIS. NO RESPONSIBILITY IS TAKEN BY GREENHILL FOR CHANGES IN MARKET CONDITIONS AND NO OBLIGATIONS ARE ASSUMED TO REVISE THIS CALCULATION OF THE COMPANY'S VALUE TO REFLECT EVENTS OR CONDITIONS THAT SUBSEQUENTLY OCCUR. THE CALCULATIONS OF VALUE DO NOT CONFORM TO THE UNIFORM STANDARDS OF PROFESSIONAL APPRAISAL PRACTICE OF THE APPRAISAL FOUNDATION.

Distributions

All distributions required under the prepackaged plan to holders of allowed claims and interests shall be made by a disbursing agent pursuant to a disbursing agreement. The disbursing agent may designate, employ or contract with other entities to assist in or perform the distributions. The disbursing agent and such other entities will serve without bond.

The distribution date will mean the date, occurring on or as soon as practicable after the later of (1) the effective date and (2) the date when a claim becomes an allowed claim or an interest becomes an allowed interest. Only holders of record of Class 3 Senior Secured Term Loan Claims and Class 5 Convertible Notes Claim as of the distribution record date shall be entitled to receive the distributions provided for in the prepackaged plan. As of the close of business on the distribution record date, the respective transfer ledgers in respect of the convertible notes and term loans under our existing credit facility will be closed, for purposes of making the distributions required in accordance with the provisions of the prepackaged plan. We and the disbursing agent will have no obligation to recognize any transfer of convertible notes or terms loans under our existing credit facility occurring after the distribution record date for purposes of such distributions. We and the disbursing agent will recognize and, for purposes of making such distributions under the prepackaged plan, deal only with those holders of record reflected on the transfer ledgers maintained by the registrars for the convertible notes and terms loans under our existing credit facility as of the close of business on the distribution record date, provided that nothing contained in the prepackaged plan will be deemed to prohibit or otherwise restrict the right of any such holder to transfer such securities at any time.

Distributions to holders of allowed claims and allowed interests will be made at the address of each such holder as set forth in our books and records, or in the case of holders of convertible notes or existing term loans, claims may be made at the addresses of the registered holders contained in the records of the registrar as of the distribution record date, except as provided below. If any holder's distribution is returned as undeliverable, no further distributions to such holder will be made, unless and until we or the disbursing agent are notified of such holder's then current address, at which time all missed distributions will be made to such holder together with any interest or dividends earned thereon. Amounts in respect of undeliverable distributions made through a disbursing agent will be returned to such disbursing agent making such distribution until such distributions are claimed. All claims for undeliverable distributions must be made on or before the later of the first anniversary of the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective and the date 90 days after such claim is allowed. After such date all unclaimed property held by a disbursing agent for distribution to holders will be returned to us and the claim of any holder with respect to such property will be discharged and forever barred.

Conditions to the Effective Date of the Prepackaged Plan

The effective date of the prepackaged plan will not occur until the conditions set forth below have been satisfied or waived:

the satisfaction or waiver of all conditions precedent to the obligations of the parties to the investment agreement thereunder;

the receipt of all authorizations, consents, regulatory approvals, rulings, or documents that are necessary to implement and effectuate the prepackaged plan;

the consummation of the ABL financing (see The Restructuring Description of the Term Loan Refinancing and the ABL Financing the ABL Financing); and the occurrence of the effective date on or before the deadline set forth in the investment agreement.

We retain the right to waive any condition in our sole and absolute discretion, subject to the investment agreement.

Modification of the Prepackaged Plan

Except as otherwise specifically provided in the prepackaged plan, we reserve the right to modify the prepackaged plan, whether such modification is material or immaterial, and seek confirmation consistent with the Bankruptcy Code. Subject to certain restrictions and requirements set forth in section 1127 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 3019 and those restrictions on modifications set forth in the prepackaged plan, we expressly reserve our rights to revoke, withdraw, alter, amend or modify the prepackaged plan, one or more times, after confirmation, and, to the extent necessary may initiate proceedings in the Bankruptcy Court to so alter, amend, or modify the prepackaged plan, or remedy any defect or omission, or reconcile any inconsistencies in the prepackaged plan, the prospectus/disclosure statement, or the confirmation order, in such matters as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and intent of the prepackaged plan.

Under the investment agreement, we are prohibited from waiving any condition to the prepackaged plan or making any changes to the terms and conditions of the prepackaged plan without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund.

We reserve the right to revoke or withdraw the prepackaged plan prior to the effective date of the prepackaged plan and to file subsequent plans of reorganization. If we revoke or withdraw the prepackaged plan, or if confirmation does not occur, then: (1) the prepackaged plan will be null and void in all respects; (2) any settlement or compromise embodied in the prepackaged plan (including the fixing or limiting to an amount certain of any claim or interest or class of claims or interests), assumption or rejection of executory contracts or unexpired leases effected by the prepackaged plan, and any document or agreement executed pursuant to the prepackaged plan, will be null and void; and (3) nothing contained in the prepackaged plan will: (a) constitute a waiver or release of any claims or interests; (b) prejudice in any manner the rights of such debtor or any other entity; or (c) constitute an admission, acknowledgement, offer, or undertaking of any sort by us.

Effect of Prepackaged Plan Confirmation

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, the release set forth above will not release any claims of an impaired creditor that rejects the plan and opts out of the releases on the ballot or any post-effective date obligations of any party under the prepackaged plan or any document, instrument, or agreement (including those set forth in the plan supplement) executed to implement the prepackaged plan. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, the release set forth above will not release the personal liability of any of the aforementioned released parties if any holder of a claim that votes to reject the prepackaged plan and opts out of such releases by a timely written election and in article VIII of the prepackaged plan for any statutory violation of

The debtors and the reorganized debtors (and each of their respective affiliates, agents, directors, officers, employees, advisors, and attorneys) have participated in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code with regard to the solicitation and distribution of the securities pursuant to the prepackaged plan, and, therefore, are not, and on account of such distributions shall not be, liable at any time for the violation of any applicable law, rule, or regulation governing the solicitation of acceptances or rejections of the prepackaged plan or such distributions made pursuant to the prepackaged plan.

Injunction

Except as otherwise expressly provided in the prepackaged plan or for obligations issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan, all entities who have held, hold, or may hold claims or equity interests that have been released pursuant to article VIII.C of the prepackaged plan or article VIII.D of the prepackaged plan, discharged pursuant to article VIII.A of the of the prepackaged plan, or are subject to exculpation pursuant to article VIII.E of the prepackaged plan will be permanently enjoined, from and after the effective date, from taking any of the following actions against, as applicable, the debtors, the reorganized debtors, the released parties, or the exculpated parties: (1) commencing or continuing in any manner any action or other proceeding of any kind on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such claims or equity interests; (2) enforcing, attaching, collecting, or recovering by any manner or means any judgment, award, decree, or order against such entities on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such claims or equity interests; (3) creating, perfecting, or enforcing any encumbrance of any kind against such entities or the property or estates of such entities on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such claims or equity interests; (4) asserting any right of setoff, subrogation, or recoupment of any kind against any obligation due from such Entities or against the property or estates of such entities on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such claims or equity interests unless such holder has filed a motion requesting the right to perform such setoff on or before the confirmation date, and notwithstanding an indication in a proof of claim or equity interest or otherwise that such holder asserts, has, or intends to preserve any right of setoff pursuant to section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise; and (5) commencing or continuing in any manner any action or other proceeding of any kind on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such claims or equity interests released or

Subordination Rights

Any distributions under the prepackaged plan to holders of Convertible Notes Claims shall be received and retained free from any obligations to hold or transfer the same to any other creditor, and shall not be subject to levy, garnishment, attachment, or other legal process by any holder by reason of claimed contractual subordination rights. The confirmation order shall constitute an injunction enjoining any person from enforcing or attempting to enforce any contractual, legal, or equitable subordination rights to property distributed under the of the prepackaged plan to holders of Convertible Notes Claims, in each case other than as provided in the prepackaged plan.

Rights of Internal Revenue Service

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the prepackaged plan, the confirmation order or the implementing of the prepackaged plan documents: (1) the rights of the IRS to setoff and recoupment shall be preserved; and (2) nothing in Article VIII.D of the prepackaged plan shall constitute a release of the IRS' s claims, if any, against the released parties and nothing shall affect the ability of the IRS to pursue, to the extent allowed by non-bankruptcy law, any non-debtors for any liabilities that may be related to any federal tax liabilities owed by the debtors and the reorganized debtors.

Retention of Causes of Action

Except to the extent such rights, claims, causes of action, defenses, and counterclaims are expressly and specifically released in connection with the prepackaged plan, or in any settlement agreement approved during our reorganization case:

all rights, claims, causes of action, defenses, and counterclaims of or accruing to us will remain our assets, whether or not litigation relating thereto is pending on the effective date of the prepackaged plan, and whether or not any such rights, claims, causes of action, defenses, and counterclaims have been listed or referred to in the prepackaged plan, the schedules, or any other document filed with the bankruptcy court, and we do not waive, relinquish, or abandon (nor will we be estopped or otherwise precluded from asserting) any right, claim, cause of action, defense, or counterclaim: (1) whether or not such right, claim, cause of action, defense, or counterclaim has been listed or referred to in the prepackaged plan or the schedules, or any other document filed with the bankruptcy court, (2) whether or not such right, claim, cause of action, defense, or counterclaim is currently known to us, and (3) whether or not a defendant in any litigation relating to such right, claim, cause of action, defense, or counterclaim filed a proof of claim in the reorganization case, filed a notice of appearance or any other pleading or notice in the reorganization case, voted for or against the prepackaged plan, or received or retained any consideration under the prepackaged plan. Without in any manner limiting the generality of the foregoing, notwithstanding any otherwise applicable principle of law or equity, including, without limitation, any principles of judicial estoppel, res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, or any similar doctrine, the failure to list, disclose, describe, identify, or refer to a right, claim, cause of action, defense, or counterclaim, or potential right, claim, cause of action, defense, or counterclaim, in the prepackaged plan, the schedules, or any other document filed with the bankruptcy court will in no manner waive, eliminate, modify, release, or alter our right to commence, prosecute, defend against, settle, and realize upon any rights, claims, causes of action, defenses, or counterclaims that we have or may have, as of the confirmation date. We may commence, prosecute, defend against, settle, and realize upon any rights, claims, causes of action, defenses, and counterclaims in our sole discretion, in accordance with what is in our best interests.

Objections to Claims and Interest/Distributions

The prepackaged plan provides that we may object to the allowance of claims or interests filed with the bankruptcy court and that after the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective only we may object to the allowance of claims and interests. Such objections may be resolved by a final order or by compromise or settlement. We, on the one hand, or the holder of any disputed claim, on the other hand, may seek resolution and/or enforcement of an unimpaired disputed claim (other than a claim arising from the rejection of an unexpired lease or executory contract), if a proof of the claim is timely filed, in the bankruptcy court, or, if no proof of claim is timely filed, in any other court of competent jurisdiction, either before or after the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective. Rejection claims may be resolved only in the bankruptcy court pursuant to the provisions of the prepackaged plan.

At such time as a disputed claim or disputed interest becomes an allowed claim or allowed interest, in whole or in part, the prepackaged plan provides that the holder of such claim or interest will receive on the distribution date the property that would have been distributed to such holder on the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective if such allowed claim or allowed interest was an allowed claim or allowed interest on the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective.

Limitation of Liability

Except as otherwise provided in the investment agreement, prepackaged plan or the confirmation order, to the extent permitted by law (including section 14 of the Securities Act), neither us nor CD&R, nor any of our officers, directors, members or employees (acting in such capacity), nor any professional persons employed by us shall have or incur any liability to any entity or person for any action taken or omitted to be taken in connection with or related to our reorganization case, the formulation, preparation, dissemination, solicitation, confirmation or consummation of the prepackaged plan, or any other action taken or omitted to be taken in connection with the prepackaged plan or the prepetition restructuring efforts; provided that the foregoing will have no effect on the liability of any entity that would otherwise result from any such act or omission to the extent that such act or omission is determined in a final order to have constituted gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Retention of Jurisdiction

The prepackaged plan provides that the bankruptcy court will retain and have jurisdiction of all matters arising in, arising under, and related to our reorganization case and the prepackaged plan pursuant to, and for the purposes of, sections 105(a) and 1142 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases

On the effective date of the prepackaged plan, and to the extent permitted by applicable law, all of our executory contracts and unexpired leases will be assumed in accordance with the provisions of sections 365 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code, excluding:

any and all executory contracts or unexpired leases which are the subject of separate motions filed pursuant to section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code by us prior to the commencement of the hearing on confirmation of the prepackaged plan; and all executory contracts or unexpired leases rejected prior to the entry of the confirmation order of the bankruptcy court. Contracts or leases entered into after the date of commencement of our reorganization case will be performed by us in the ordinary course of business. In order to assume an executory contract or unexpired lease, we must, if there has been a default in such executory contract or unexpired lease, other than a default caused solely by the filing of our reorganization case, at the time of assumption (1) cure, or provide adequate assurance that we will cure such default, (2) compensate or provide adequate assurance that we will promptly compensate, a party to such contract or lease, for any actual pecuniary loss to such party resulting from such default, and (3) provide adequate assurance of future performance under such contract or lease.

Any claims arising out of the rejection of contracts or leases must be filed with the bankruptcy court within 30 days after the later of (1) the entry of a final order authorizing such rejection and (2) the confirmation date of the prepackaged plan, or be forever barred. Each such claim will constitute a Class 6 claim, to the extent such claim is allowed by the bankruptcy court.

We currently intend to assume all or substantially all executory contracts and unexpired leases.

Treatment of Trade Creditors and Employees During Our Reorganization Case

PROCEEDING TO SEEK BANKRUPTCY COURT APPROVAL OF VARIOUS MEASURES

Table of Contents

DESIGNED TO ENSURE THAT OUR TRADE CREDITORS AND EMPLOYEES ARE UNAFFECTED BY THE FILING.

We intend to seek the approval of the bankruptcy court, promptly following the commencement of the prepackaged plan proceeding, to make payments in the ordinary course of business in respect of claims of trade creditors. There can be no assurance, however, that the bankruptcy court will permit the payment of the claims of trade creditors in the ordinary course. IN ANY EVENT, THE PREPACKAGED PLAN PROVIDES THAT VALID CLAIMS OF TRADE CREDITORS ARE TO BE PAID IN FULL AND THAT THE HOLDERS OF SUCH CLAIMS WILL NOT BE REQUIRED TO FILE A PROOF OF CLAIM OR TAKE ANY OTHER FORMAL ACTION TO OBTAIN SUCH PAYMENT.

Salaries, wages, expense reimbursements, accrued paid vacations, health-related benefits, severance benefits and similar benefits of our employees will be unaffected by the prepackaged plan. To ensure the continuity of our work force and to further accommodate the unimpaired treatment of employee benefits, we intend to seek the approval of the bankruptcy court, promptly following the commencement of the prepackaged plan proceeding, to pay all accrued prepetition salaries or wages, and expense reimbursements, to permit employees to utilize their paid vacation time which accrued prior to the commencement of our reorganization case (so long as they remain our employees) and to continue paying medical benefits under our health plans. There can be no assurance that the bankruptcy court will permit the payment of employee claims and health benefits in the ordinary course. IN ANY EVENT, THE PREPACKAGED PLAN PROVIDES FOR ALL EMPLOYEE CLAIMS AND BENEFITS TO BE PAID OR HONORED NO LATER THAN THE DATE ON OR AFTER THE DATE THE PREPACKAGED PLAN BECOMES EFFECTIVE WHEN SUCH PAYMENT OR OTHER OBLIGATION BECOMES DUE AND PERFORMABLE. EMPLOYEES SHALL NOT BE REQUIRED TO FILE A PROOF OF CLAIM OR TAKE ANY OTHER FORMAL ACTION TO OBTAIN SUCH PAYMENT.

We intend to seek the approval of the bankruptcy court, promptly following the commencement of the prepackaged plan proceeding, to continue to honor our customer programs in the ordinary course of business. There can be no assurance, however, that the bankruptcy court will permit the payment of claims associated with the customer programs. IN ANY EVENT, THE PREPACKAGED PLAN PROVIDES THAT VALID OBLIGATIONS ARISING UNDER OUR CUSTOMER PROGRAMS ARE TO BE HONORED AND THAT HOLDERS OF CLAIMS THAT ARISE OUT OF THE CUSTOMER PROGRAMS WILL NOT BE REQUIRED TO FILE A PROOF OF CLAIM OR TAKE ANY OTHER FORMAL ACTION ON ACCOUNT OF SUCH CLAIMS.

We estimate that payments to trade creditors and employees will total approximately $107 million over 30 days.

Other First Day Relief

In addition to any orders relating to the payment of prepetition claims of trade creditors and employees, we intend to seek certain orders very shortly after commencement of our reorganization case, including the following (if necessary):

an order authorizing us to obtain debtor-in-possession financing or to use cash collateral;

an order authorizing the retention of professionals (including accountants, attorneys and financial advisors) in connection with our reorganization case; an order authorizing the retention of ordinary course professionals without the filing of individual retention applications and affidavits; an order authorizing us (a) to continue our current cash management system, (b) to maintain prepetition bank accounts and (c) to continue use of existing business forms and existing books and records;

an order to relieve us from the filing of certain forms and schedules otherwise required by the U.S. Trustee Operating Guidelines and Reporting Requirements ; an order authorizing us to continue our current investment guidelines and invest our available cash in the customary manner and consistent with past practices;

an order authorizing us to pay the CD&R Fund fees and expenses pursuant to the investment agreement; an order fixing the dates for the hearings on approval of this prospectus/disclosure statement and the prepackaged plan solicitation and confirmation of the prepackaged plan; and such other orders as are typical in reorganization cases or that may be necessary for the preservation of our assets or for confirmation of the prepackaged plan.

The orders will be sought pursuant to accompanying motions and, if appropriate, memoranda of law. The foregoing list is subject to change depending upon our needs in connection with our operations during our reorganization case. Failure of the bankruptcy court to enter one or more of these orders, or a delay in doing so, could result in our reorganization case becoming protracted and could delay, perhaps materially, the hearing on, and the ultimate confirmation of, the prepackaged plan.

Restriction on Transfer of Securities

Except as noted below, the securities to be issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan may be freely transferred by most recipients thereof, and all resales and subsequent transactions in the new securities will be exempt from registration under federal and state securities laws, unless the holder is an underwriter with respect to such securities.

Section 1145(b) of the Bankruptcy Code defines four types of underwriters :

- (1) persons who purchase a claim against, an interest in, or a claim for administrative expense against the debtor with a view to distributing any security received in exchange for such a claim or interest;
- (2) persons who offer to sell securities offered under a plan for the holders of such securities;
- (3) persons who offer to buy such securities for the holders of such securities, if the offer to buy is (a) with a view to distributing such securities or (b) made under a distribution agreement; and
- (4) a person who is an issuer with respect to the securities, as the term issuer is defined in section 2(11) of the Securities Act.

Under section 2(11) of the Securities Act, an issuer includes any person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by the issuer, or any person under direct or indirect common control with the issuer. To the extent that persons deemed to be underwriters receive securities pursuant to the prepackaged plan, resales by such persons would not be exempted by section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code from registration under the Securities Act or other applicable law. Persons deemed to be underwriters, however, may be able to sell such securities without registration, subject to the provisions of Rule 144 or Rule 148 under the Securities Act, both of which permit the public sale of securities received pursuant to the prepackaged plan by underwriters, subject to the availability to the public of current information regarding the issuer, volume limitations and certain other conditions.

Whether or not any particular person would be deemed to be an underwriter with respect to any security to be issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan would depend upon various facts and circumstances applicable to that person. Accordingly, we express no view as to whether any person would be an underwriter with respect to any security to be issued pursuant to the prepackaged plan.

GIVEN THE COMPLEX, SUBJECTIVE NATURE OF THE QUESTION OF WHETHER A PARTICULAR PERSON MAY BE AN UNDERWRITER, WE MAKE NO REPRESENTATION CONCERNING THE RIGHT OF ANY PERSON TO TRADE IN THE COMMON STOCK TO BE DISTRIBUTED PURSUANT TO THE PREPACKAGED PLAN. WE RECOMMEND THAT POTENTIAL RECIPIENTS OF SECURITIES CONSULT THEIR OWN COUNSEL CONCERNING WHETHER THEY MAY TRADE SUCH SECURITIES FREELY.

We expect that the confirmation order of the bankruptcy court will provide that the issuance of the shares of common stock distributed under the prepackaged plan in respect of the convertible notes that are subject to the lock-up agreement shall be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act in accordance with section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code. See Securities Laws Matters.

To the extent that we do not receive such confirmation, such shares of common stock may only be offered, resold or otherwise transferred (1) in a transaction not involving a public offering; (2) pursuant to an exemption from registration promulgated by Rule 144 of the Securities Act; (3) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act; or (4) to the Company or our subsidiaries, in each of case, in accordance with any applicable U.S. federal or state laws.

In the lock-up agreement, we agreed to enter into a registration rights agreement containing customary indemnification provisions for selling shareholders that will provide registration rights to the noteholders who are parties to the lock-up agreement in the event that this exchange offer is consummated or, in the alternative, if the prepackaged plan is confirmed and the common stock received by the parties to the lock-up agreement is not freely tradable pursuant to the provisions of Section 1145 of title 11 of the United States Code. Under such registration rights agreement, and subject to customary blackout periods in connection with earnings releases and material corporate developments, we will:

no later than five business days following the closing of the CD&R investment or, in the alternative, the confirmation of the prepackaged plan, file with the SEC a shelf registration statement covering resales of the common stock received by such noteholders on a delayed or continuous basis; and

use our best efforts to maintain the effectiveness of such registration until the earlier of (a) six months after the closing of the CD&R investment or, in the alternative, the confirmation of the prepackaged plan (subject to an extension to 12 months after the closing in certain limited circumstances) and (b) the date on which all such common stock held by such noteholders can be resold pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act without limitation as to volume or compliance with any manner of sale requirements.

See The Restructuring The Lock-Up Agreement Registration Rights.

Securities Laws Matters

To the extent that the issuance, transfer or exchange of the securities to be issued under the prepackaged plan are not exempt under section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code, the issuance, transfer and exchange of the common stock to be issued under the prepackaged plan to holders of convertible notes (except with respect to the holders of convertible notes that have executed the lock-up agreement) will be made by us in a registered offering pursuant to the Registration Statement on Form S-4 of which this prospectus/disclosure statement forms a part, and the issuance, transfer and exchange of the common stock to be issued under the prepackaged plan to holders of convertible notes that have executed the lock-up agreement will be made upon the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, afforded by section 4(2) of the Securities Act. The issuance and sale of the Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued under the prepackaged plan to the CD&R Fund will be made upon the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, afforded by section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

Certain Transactions by Stockbrokers

Under section 1145(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code, stockbrokers are required to deliver a copy of this prospectus/disclosure statement (and supplements hereto, if any, if ordered by the bankruptcy court) at or before the time of delivery of securities issued under the prepackaged plan to their customers for the first 40 days after the date the prepackaged plan becomes effective. This requirement specifically applies to trading and other aftermarket transactions in such securities.

Summary of Significant Assumptions. The projections are based upon a number of significant assumptions described below.

Effective Date. The projections have been prepared based on the assumption that the effective date of the transactions contemplated by the prepackaged plan is November 2, 2009, the last day of the Company's 2009 fiscal year. Although the Company presently intends to cause the effective date to occur as soon as practical following the confirmation of the prepackaged plan, there can be no assurance as to when the effective date will actually occur given the conditions for the effective date to occur pursuant to the terms of the prepackaged plan (including the conditions in the investment agreement (see The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Conditions to the CD&R Investment)).

Revenues. Revenues were calculated for each business segment based on the forecasted volume of product shipped, multiplied by expected sales prices. Sales volumes for each business segment were determined based on the expected level of non-residential construction activity and each segment's current and projected market share. Our forecast of non-residential construction activity is similar to the McGraw-Hill 3Q 2009 non-residential construction forecast as measured in square feet, which projects construction starts measured in square feet to change by -34.8%, -3.3%, +18.4% and +29.4% in 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012, respectively. Expected sales prices are based on the historical mark-ups over raw material costs.

Gross Profit. Gross profit is calculated based on estimated raw material input costs, expected levels of plant capacity utilization, and expected mark-ups over material cost inputs. The primary raw material cost input is steel, which is expected to remain consistent with the average cost incurred in the last half of 2009 through the end of 2010. Steel costs for the periods subsequent to 2010 are projected to be moderately higher than those experienced in 2010 based on expected steel demand increases. During the last six years, steel prices have been exceptionally volatile. The Company's average cost of steel has fluctuated in a manner similar to the fluctuations reported in the CRU North American Steel Price Index published by the CRU Group. Historically, the Company has been able to pass the majority of raw material price increases on to customers, however, there can be no assurance that the Company will continue to be able to pass on steel price fluctuations.

Selling, General, and Administrative Expenses. Operating expenses are based on the historical expense structures, after giving effect to cost reduction initiatives that were completed during 2009. The cost reduction initiatives included reductions in workforce as well as idling or closure of certain manufacturing plants. We believe that the increased operating leverage resulting from these initiatives will enable us to reduce our ratio of selling, general and administrative expenses to revenues as sales volumes increase.

Interest and Other Expense, Net. Interest expense is calculated based on the terms of the amended credit agreement and ABL credit agreement as presented in the prepackaged plan and the projected underlying borrowings.

Effects of Completion. In determining the projections, the Company estimated the pro forma effects of completing the transactions contemplated by the prepackaged plan. These pro forma effects included estimating the debt extinguishment accounting treatment that would be accorded the transactions, as well as the accounting treatment that would be accorded the issuance of the Series B preferred stock. These transactions are highly complex and require significant estimations and judgment in application. The ultimate accounting for these transactions will be dependent in part on the value of the Company's common stock on the day the transactions close, which may be significantly different than the estimates, which are based on the stock price near the time of this filing. The actual entries recorded upon the close of the transactions may vary significantly from the estimates included in the projections.

Adjusted EBITDA. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated based on the terms of the amended credit agreement contemplated by the prepackaged plan, which are provided in the form of amended credit agreement attached hereto as Annex J (with the completion of items currently blank as agreed upon by Wachovia Bank, National Association (or any successor thereto)), and excludes the effects of the significant charges incurred in 2009 for lower of cost or market adjustments, asset impairments, goodwill and intangible asset impairments, and debt extinguishment and refinancing costs.

Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as set forth in the table below. Adjusted EBITDA excludes non-cash charges for goodwill and other asset impairments, restructuring charges, lower of cost or market adjustment and stock compensation expense. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated based on the terms contained in our existing credit agreement. Adjusted EBITDA is used by management and provided to investors to provide comparability between periods of underlying operational results. Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as substitutes for operating income (loss), net income (loss), debt or earnings (loss) per share determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

A reconciliation of net loss attributable to the Company to adjusted EBITDA is as follows (in millions):

Net income (loss)	$ (758)	$ (8)	$ 16	$ 50
Depreciation/Amortization	33	29	31	29
Stock Compensation	16	5	5	5
Interest and Taxes	68	10	21	43
Restructuring Charges	14
Goodwill Impairment	623
LCM Inventory Reserve	40
Adjusted EBITDA	$ 36	$ 36	$ 73	$ 127

Net Income (Loss) Applicable to Common Shares. Dividends and accretion on the prospective Series B convertible preferred stock are deducted from net income to determine net income applicable to common shares. The Company has the option to pay the dividends on the Series B convertible preferred stock in cash or in-kind with shares of Series B convertible preferred stock. Further, the dividends are eliminated if, at any time after the 30-month anniversary of the initial investment, our common stock trades at or above two times a specified target price (which is equal to $1.2748 at the closing of the restructuring, but is subject to adjustments thereafter) for each trading day during any period of 20 consecutive trading days. The projections assume that the Company will pay the required dividends for the first two and a half years in-kind and that no dividends would be required thereafter. There can be no assurance that the price of the Company's common stock will exceed the 200% threshold and that no dividends will be required after the 30-month anniversary of the initial investment.

In addition, the Company expects to incur a non-cash beneficial conversion charge related to the Series B convertible preferred stock that will be deducted from net income applicable to the shares of common stock. The amount of the charge is based on the excess of the price of common stock on the closing date of the transaction contemplated by the prepackaged plan over the $1.2748 conversion price. The charge will be recognized on the date that the shares are immediately convertible into shares of our common stock. The Series B preferred shares are not immediately convertible but will become convertible on the date that we have sufficient authorized shares of common stock available, which date is projected to be at the completion of the March 2010 shareholders meeting.

Cash Flow from Operating Activities. Cash flows from operating activities result from the Company's earnings, adjusted for non-cash charges and changes in working capital. The non-cash charges in 2009 include significant adjustments for asset impairments, goodwill and intangible asset impairments and lower of cost or market inventory charges. Other non-cash charges include share-based compensation expenses and deferred income taxes. Investments in working capital are based on historical asset turn ratios and projected pricing for raw materials.

Cash Flow from Investing Activities. The primary investing activity is capital expenditures. Capital expenditures are based on minimum maintenance and refurbishment activities in 2010 followed by specific capital projects planned thereafter. The capital projects are derived from the Company's strategic plan and include software development and implementation for engineering and drafting software, common ERP systems, and investments in insulated panel manufacturing capacity.

Cash Flow from Financing Activities. Cash flows from financing activities are based on the debt repayments called for in the recapitalization plan.

Board of Directors from and after the Closing of the Restructuring

Under the stockholders agreement, from and after the closing of the restructuring and for so long as the CD&R Investors hold voting power of the Company equal in the aggregate to at least 10% of the aggregate voting power held by the CD&R Investors immediately following the closing of the restructuring, the CD&R Investors will be entitled to nominate or designate to serve on the Company's board of directors a number of individuals proportionate to their percentage of aggregate voting power of the Company at the relevant time, subject to any applicable legal and regulatory limitations.

In addition, upon the occurrence of certain events relating to our failure to cause the CD&R Investors' nominees or designees to be elected to our board of directors or the removal of such persons without cause other than by action or request from the CD&R Investors, the CD&R Investors will have the right to designate a board observer to attend (without voting rights) each meeting of our board of directors or any committee thereof (and to receive from us, copies of all notices, information and other material we provide to our board of directors and committees) until such time as such event is cured.

Furthermore, for so long as the CD&R Investors hold in the aggregate at least 20% of the voting power of the Company, the CD&R Investors will be entitled to appoint one of its designees to our board of directors as Lead Director or Chairman of the Executive Committee of our board of directors.

However, for so long as stockholders unaffiliated with the CD&R Investors own in the aggregate at least 5% of the voting power of the Company, the Company's board of directors will include (1) at least two unaffiliated shareholder directors (as described in The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related Matters) and (2) the Chief Executive Officer of the Company.

See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Board Representation and Other Related Matters and The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Governance Matters.

We have also agreed that for so long as the lock-up agreement is in effect and there has been no material breach by the holders that executed the lock-up agreement:

holders of convertible notes representing at least a majority of the outstanding convertible notes may submit proposed persons to serve as the initial unaffiliated shareholder directors, and the Company will consider in good faith any such proposed persons;

prior to the appointment of the initial unaffiliated shareholder directors, the Company will provide notice prior to the closing of the restructuring of the Company's proposed initial unaffiliated shareholder directors; and

in the event that holders of convertible notes representing at least a majority of the outstanding convertible notes provide written notice to the Company within seven business days that they object to the proposed initial unaffiliated shareholder directors, the Company will propose (and, if necessary, continue to propose) alternative initial unaffiliated shareholder directors so that at least one of the two initial unaffiliated shareholder directors is acceptable to holders of convertible notes representing at least a majority of the outstanding convertible notes.

At this time, no individuals have been proposed by the CD&R Investors or by the Company to serve on our board of directors from and after the closing of the restructuring.

In accordance with the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code, we will disclose the identity and affiliations of those individuals proposed to serve as members of our board of directors following the restructuring prior to confirmation of the prepackaged plan.

Pursuant to the investment agreement, we have also agreed to take all actions necessary to elect, effective as of the closing of the restructuring, to take advantage of the exemptions to the requirements of sections 303A.01, 303A.04 and 303A.05 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual (which exemptions would exempt us from compliance with the NYSE's requirements for companies listed on the NYSE to have (1) a majority of independent directors, (2) a nominating/corporate governance committee and a compensation committee, in each case, composed entirely of independent directors, and (3) charters for the nominating/corporate governance committee and the compensation committee, in each case, addressing certain specified matters) and to ensure that the by-laws, the charters of the committees of our board of directors and any of our corporate guidelines, effective as of the closing, are consistent with the provisions of the stockholders agreement and the transactions contemplated by that agreement. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Governance Matters and The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement with Respect to Controlled Company Status.

DIVIDEND POLICY

Historically, we have not paid dividends on our common stock and have no current plans to do so in the future. Furthermore, the terms of our existing credit agreement restrict our ability to do so, and we expect that, if the term loan refinancing is consummated, the amended credit agreement will have similar restrictions. In addition, under the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock, the holders of such shares would participate in any declared common stock dividends and also receive preferred dividends, reducing the cash available to holders of common stock. Our other future indebtedness, if any, may also restrict payment of dividends on our common stock. Also, assuming the consummation of the CD&R investment, we may not declare or pay any extraordinary dividend or distribution without the prior consent of the CD&R Fund pursuant to the stockholders agreement.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

Capital Stock

Our authorized capital stock consists of 100,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, and 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $1.00 per share.

At September 4, 2009, we had outstanding:

19,981,585 shares of common stock, excluding shares held by the Company as treasury stock;

1,814,854 shares of common stock were reserved for issuance in respect of outstanding options and warrants;

no shares of preferred stock; and an aggregate of $180,000,000 principal amount of convertible notes that would be convertible into a maximum of 10,851,687 shares of our common stock.

Pursuant to the stockholders agreement, if the restructuring is completed, we will seek, at a later date, approval to amend our restated certificate of incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock so that there are sufficient shares for issuance upon conversion of the Series B convertible preferred stock. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendments to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation.

Preferred Stock

As of the date of this prospectus/disclosure statement, no shares of our preferred stock are outstanding. The authorized shares of our preferred stock are issuable, without further stockholder approval, in one or more series as determined by our board of directors. Our board of directors also determines the voting rights, designations, powers, preferences and the relative participating, optional or other special rights of each series of our preferred stock, as well as any qualifications, limitations or restrictions. Our board may designate:

the title of the series of preferred stock;

any limit upon the number of shares of the series of preferred stock which may be issued;

the preference, if any, to which holders of the series of preferred stock will be entitled upon our liquidation;

the date or dates on which we will be required or permitted to redeem the preferred stock;

the terms, if any, on which we or holders of the preferred stock will have the option to cause the preferred stock to be redeemed or purchased;

the voting rights, if any, of the holders of the preferred stock;

any listing of the preferred stock on any securities exchange;

the dividends, if any, which will be payable with regard to the series of preferred stock, which may be fixed dividends or participating dividends and may be cumulative or non-cumulative;

the rights, if any, of holders of preferred stock to convert the preferred stock into another class of our stock or securities, including provisions intended to prevent dilution of those conversion rights;

any provisions by which we will be required or permitted to make any payments to a sinking fund to be used to redeem preferred stock or a purchase fund to be used to purchase preferred stock;

any material U.S. federal income tax considerations applicable to the preferred stock; and any other material terms of the preferred stock.

The material preferences, limitations, voting powers and relative rights of the Series B convertible preferred stock to be issued pursuant to the investment agreement are set forth in the certificate of designations which is included as Annex G and which we incorporate by reference into this document. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment Certain Terms of the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock for a description of the terms of the Series B convertible preferred stock.

Effect of New Issuance of Preferred Stock

If our board were to issue a new series of preferred stock, the issuance of such preferred stock could:

- decrease the amount of earnings and assets available for distribution to existing common stockholders;
- make removal of the present management more difficult;
- result in restrictions upon the payment of dividends and other distributions to existing common stockholders;
- delay or prevent a change in control of the Company; and
- limit the price that investors are willing to pay in the future for our existing common stock.

Possible Anti-Takeover Effects of Delaware Law and Relevant Provisions of Our Certificate of Incorporation

Provisions of Delaware law and our restated certificate of incorporation and by-laws may make more difficult the acquisition of the company by tender offer, a proxy contest or otherwise or the removal of our officers and directors. For example:

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law prohibits certain publicly-held Delaware corporations from engaging in a business combination with an interested stockholder for a period of three years following the time such person became an interested stockholder unless the business combination is approved in a specified manner. Generally, an interested stockholder is a person who, together with its affiliates and associates, owns 15% or more of the corporation's voting stock, or is affiliated with the corporation and owns or owned 15% of the corporation's voting stock within three years before the business combination.

Our restated certificate of incorporation provides for a classified board of directors, approximately one-third of which is elected annually for a three-year term. Our restated certificate of incorporation also requires a vote of holders of at least 80% of our voting stock to approve a merger, sale, lease or exchange of any of our assets having an aggregate fair market value of $5.0 million or more or certain other transactions between us and any other person or corporation holding directly or indirectly more than 10% of our voting stock, unless the merger, sale or other transaction was approved by a majority of the disinterested members of our board of directors or certain price and procedure requirements are met. The above provisions cannot be changed unless the change is approved by the affirmative vote of at least 80% of our voting stock. Further, our restated certificate of incorporation also requires a vote of holders of at least two-thirds (2/3) of our voting stock to adopt, alter, amend or repeal our by-laws.

Our restated certificate of incorporation provides that stockholder action can be taken only at an annual or special meeting of stockholders. Special meetings of stockholders may be called by the chairman of our board of directors, the chief executive officer or the secretary at the request in writing or by electronic transmission of a majority of our board of directors.

Our by-laws provide time limitations for nominations for election to our board of directors or for proposing matters that can be acted upon at stockholders' meetings.

Pursuant to the investment agreement, we have agreed to take all actions necessary to ensure that the by-laws, the charters of the committees of our board of directors and any of our corporate guidelines, effective as of the closing, are consistent with the provisions of the stockholders agreement and the transactions contemplated by that agreement. See

The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Investment Agreement Governance Matters. In addition, we have agreed to amend our restated certificate of incorporation. See The Restructuring Description of the CD&R Investment The Stockholders Agreement Agreement to Seek Amendments to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation.

Copies of our restated certificate of incorporation and by-laws, each as amended, have been filed with and are publicly available at or from the SEC. See Where You Can Find More Information.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a discussion of the material U.S. federal income tax considerations to U.S. holders and non-U.S. holders (each term as described below and which we collectively refer to as holders) and to the Company and its subsidiaries, relating to the exchange of the convertible notes for cash and shares of common stock pursuant to this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the treatment of claims with respect to the convertible notes under the prepackaged plan and to the ownership and disposition of the common stock received in respect of the convertible notes and, where indicated, represents the opinion of Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz. This discussion is based on U.S. federal income tax law, including the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Internal Revenue Code (which we refer to as the Treasury Regulations), administrative rulings and judicial authority, all as in effect as of the date of this prospectus. Subsequent developments in U.S. federal income tax law, including changes in law or differing interpretations, which may be applied retroactively, could have a material effect on the U.S. federal income tax consequences of participating in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan and of owning and disposing of the common stock received in respect of the convertible notes described in this discussion. No assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service, or IRS, will not challenge one or more of the tax results described in this discussion, and no ruling from the IRS has been, or is expected to be, sought with respect to the U.S. federal tax consequences of this exchange offer or the prepackaged plan or the ownership and disposition of the common stock received in respect of the convertible notes. This discussion is not tax advice, and holders are urged to consult their independent tax advisors regarding the tax consequences to them of this exchange offer or the prepackaged plan and of the ownership and disposition of the common stock received in respect of the convertible notes.

This discussion addresses only the U.S. federal income tax considerations that are relevant to holders that hold convertible notes, and that will hold common stock received in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan, as capital assets within the meaning of section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code. This discussion does not address all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular holder or the Company and its subsidiaries. In particular, it does not address the U.S. federal estate and gift or alternative minimum tax consequences, or any state, local or foreign tax consequences, of participating in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, upon the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan or of owning or disposing of common stock. Additionally, this discussion does not address any of the tax consequences to holders that may be subject to special tax treatment with respect to their participation in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, upon the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan or their ownership or disposition of common stock, including banks, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts, partnerships or other pass-through entities, personal holding companies, tax-exempt organizations, insurance companies, persons who elect to use a mark-to-market method of accounting for their securities holdings, persons who hold the convertible notes or will hold the common stock in a straddle or as part of a hedging, conversion or constructive sale transaction, U.S. holders whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar, controlled foreign corporations, passive foreign investment companies, certain former citizens or residents of the United States, brokers, traders or dealers in securities or currencies, or any person owning directly, indirectly or constructively 5% or more of the total voting power or total value of our stock or any affiliate of such person. Further, this discussion does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences to stockholders in, or partners or beneficiaries of, an entity that participates in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, upon the effectiveness of the prepackaged plan.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of a convertible note or a share of common stock, as applicable, that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;

a corporation, or other business entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state of the United States or the District of Columbia;

an estate, if its income is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or a trust, if (i) a U.S. court can exercise primary supervision over the trust's administration and one or more U.S. persons (within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code) have the authority to control all of its substantial decisions or (ii) the trust has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury Regulations to be treated as a U.S. person.

For purposes of this discussion, a non-U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of a convertible note or a share of common stock, as applicable, that is neither a partnership (or other entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) nor a U.S. holder.

If a partnership or other entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes holds a convertible note and participates in this exchange offer, or in the alternative, the prepackaged plan is effected, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend on the status of the partner and on the activities of the partnership. Partners of partnerships holding convertible notes are encouraged to consult their independent tax advisors regarding the tax consequences to them of this exchange offer or the prepackaged plan and of the ownership and disposition of the common stock received in respect of the convertible notes.

This discussion assumes that the convertible notes are treated as debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Exchange of Convertible Notes for Common Stock and Cash

The tax treatment of the exchange of convertible notes for common stock and cash pursuant to this exchange offer or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan depends on whether the convertible notes are treated as securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The term "security" is not defined in the Internal Revenue Code or in the Treasury Regulations and has not been clearly defined by judicial decisions. The determination of whether a particular debt obligation constitutes a security depends on an evaluation of the overall nature of the debt obligation. One of the most significant factors considered in determining whether a particular debt obligation is a security is its original term. In general, debt obligations issued with a maturity at issuance of less than five years do not constitute securities, whereas debt obligations with a maturity at issuance of ten years or more constitute securities. Whether the convertible notes constitute securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes is unclear because holders have the option to require the Company to redeem the convertible notes after five years of their issuance.

If the convertible notes are treated as securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, counsel is of the opinion that the material U.S. federal income tax consequences to a U.S. holder of the exchange of a convertible note for common stock and cash generally will be as follows:

Gain (but not loss) will be recognized on the exchange in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount of gain realized (measured by the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the shares of common stock and the amount of cash received exceeds the U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the convertible note) and (ii) the amount of cash received, excluding in each case cash and common stock attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, if any.

Subject to the discussion of "market discount" below, any such gain generally will be capital gain and will be long-term capital gain if the U.S. holder's holding period for the convertible note is more than one year at the time of the exchange.

The holding period of the shares of common stock (excluding common stock attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, if any) will include the holding period of the convertible note exchanged for the shares of common stock.

The adjusted tax basis of the shares of common stock (excluding common stock attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, if any) will be equal to the adjusted tax basis of the convertible note decreased by the amount of cash received (excluding cash attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, if any) and increased by the amount of gain recognized, if any.

If the convertible notes do not constitute securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the exchange of a convertible note for common stock and cash will be a taxable transaction, and the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the exchange to a U.S. holder generally will be as follows:

Gain or loss will be recognized in an amount equal to the difference between (i) the sum of the fair market value of the shares of common stock and the amount of cash received (excluding cash and common stock attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, if any) and (ii) the U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the convertible note.

Subject to the discussion of market discount below, any such gain or loss generally will be capital gain or loss and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. holder's holding period for the convertible note is more than one year at the time of the exchange. The deduction of capital losses for U.S. federal income tax purposes is subject to limitations.

The holding period of the shares of common stock will start on the day following the exchange.

The adjusted tax basis of the shares of common stock generally will equal their fair market value on the day of the exchange.

Due to the inherently factual nature of the determination, U.S. holders are urged to consult their independent tax advisors regarding the classification of the convertible notes as securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes and the U.S. federal income tax consequences of such classification.

Market Discount

A U.S. holder that purchased its convertible notes at a market discount (defined as the excess, subject to a de minimis threshold, of the stated redemption price of the convertible note at maturity over the U.S. holder's basis in such convertible note immediately after its acquisition) may be subject to the market discount rules of the Internal Revenue Code. Under those rules, any gain recognized on the exchange of such convertible notes generally would be treated as ordinary income to the extent of the market discount accrued during the U.S. holder's period of ownership, unless the U.S. holder elected to include the market discount in income as it accrued. If the convertible notes are treated as securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as discussed above, then any accrued market discount not recognized on the exchange may carry over to the shares of common stock (excluding common stock attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, if any) such that any gain recognized by the U.S. holder upon a subsequent disposition of such shares of common stock would be treated as ordinary income to the extent of any such accrued market discount not previously included in income. U.S. holders who acquired their convertible notes other than at original issuance should consult their independent tax advisors regarding the possible application of the market discount rules of the Internal Revenue Code to an exchange of the convertible notes pursuant to this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the prepackaged plan.

Accrued and Unpaid Interest

The extent to which the consideration received by a U.S. holder of a convertible note in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan will be attributable to accrued and unpaid interest is unclear. Treasury Regulations generally treat a payment under a debt instrument first as a payment of accrued and unpaid interest and then as a payment of principal. To the extent that any amount of the consideration received by a U.S. holder of a convertible note is attributable to accrued and unpaid interest, (i) if not previously included in income, such amount should be taxable to the U.S. holder as interest income or (ii) the U.S. holder may recognize a loss to the extent the amount of such consideration is less than the amount of accrued and unpaid interest that has been previously included in income.

Ownership and Disposition of Common Stock Received in this Exchange Offer or, in the Alternative, the Prepackaged Plan

Distributions paid by us out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits (as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes) on shares of common stock will constitute dividends. Under current law, such dividends received by individual U.S. holders generally will qualify for a 15% tax rate on qualified dividend income through December 31, 2010 provided that holding period and other requirements are met. Such dividends will be eligible for the dividends received deduction if the U.S. holder is an otherwise qualifying corporate holder that meets the holding period and other requirements for the dividends received deduction. If a distribution exceeds our current and accumulated earnings and profits, the excess will be treated as a tax-free return of the U.S. holder's investment up to such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of common stock and thereafter as gain from the disposition of the shares of common stock.

Upon a disposition of the shares of common stock, a U.S. holder generally will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount realized and the U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of common stock. Such capital gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. holder's holding period in such shares of common stock exceeds one year immediately prior to such disposition. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. As discussed above, a U.S. holder may be required to treat gain from the disposition of shares of common stock (including certain dispositions that are non-recognition transactions under the Internal Revenue Code) as ordinary income to the extent accrued market discount on the convertible note is carried over to such shares of common stock.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Payments of interest on the convertible notes, payments of dividends on the shares of common stock and payments with respect to amounts realized on the disposition (including a disposition pursuant to this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the prepackaged plan, a retirement or a redemption) of the convertible notes or the shares of common stock may be reported to the IRS and may be subject to backup withholding unless the U.S. holder (i) is a corporation or other exempt recipient or (ii) provides a valid taxpayer identification number and certifies that no loss of exemption from backup withholding has occurred.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules may be allowed as a refund or credit against a U.S. holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, provided the required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

Consequences to Non-U.S. Holders

Exchange of Convertible Notes for Common Stock and Cash

A non-U.S. holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income or withholding taxes with respect to any gain recognized on the exchange of convertible notes for common stock and cash unless:

the gain is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business in the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment that such non-U.S. holder maintains or, in the case of an individual, a fixed base), in which case the gain will be subject to tax in the same manner as effectively connected income as described below under Income Effectively Connected with a U.S. Trade or Business ;

the non-U.S. holder is an individual present in the United States for 183 days or more during the taxable year of the exchange and certain other conditions are met, in which case the gain generally will be subject to tax at a rate of 30%; or the non-U.S. holder meets certain ownership requirements and we have been a United States real property holding corporation, or a USRPHC, for U.S. federal income tax purposes at any time during the five-year period ending on the date of the exchange or, if shorter, the non-U.S. holder's holding period with respect to the convertible notes. However, we do not believe that we are currently, or have been at any time over the past five years, a USRPHC, nor do we anticipate becoming a USRPHC.

Accrued and Unpaid Interest

The extent to which the consideration received by a non-U.S. holder of a convertible note in this exchange offer or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan, will be attributable to accrued and unpaid interest is unclear. Treasury Regulations generally treat a payment under a debt instrument first as a payment of accrued and unpaid interest and then as a payment of principal. A non-U.S. holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income or withholding tax on interest paid on the convertible notes, if the interest is not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business (or, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is not attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment or, in the case of an individual, a fixed base), provided that the non-U.S. holder:

does not actually or constructively, directly or indirectly, own 10% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of our stock entitled to vote; is not a controlled foreign corporation that is related to us (directly or indirectly) through stock ownership; is not a bank receiving interest on a loan agreement entered into in the ordinary course of its trade or business; and certifies to its non-U.S. status on IRS Form W-8BEN (or other applicable form).

If a non-U.S. holder cannot satisfy the requirements described above, payments treated as interest made to the non-U.S. holder will be subject to a 30% U.S. federal withholding tax, unless the non-U.S. holder (i) qualifies for a reduced rate of withholding, or is able to claim a valid exemption, under an income tax treaty (generally, by providing an IRS Form W-8BEN claiming treaty benefits) or (ii) establishes that such interest is not subject to withholding tax because it is effectively connected with the non-U.S. holder's conduct of a trade or business in the United States as further discussed below under Income Effectively Connected with a U.S. Trade or Business. A non-U.S. holder that is eligible for a reduced rate of U.S. withholding tax under a tax treaty may also obtain a refund of any amounts withheld in excess of that rate by filing a timely refund claim with the IRS.

Ownership and Disposition of Common Stock Received in this Exchange Offer or, in the Alternative, Pursuant to the Prepackaged Plan

In general, any distributions we make to a non-U.S. holder with respect to its shares of common stock that constitute a dividend for U.S. federal income tax purposes will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a rate of 30% of the gross amount, unless the non-U.S. holder is eligible for a reduced rate of withholding tax under an applicable tax treaty and the non-U.S. holder provides proper certification of its eligibility for such reduced rate. A distribution will constitute a dividend for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of our current or accumulated earnings and profits as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Any distribution not constituting a dividend will be treated first as reducing the adjusted basis in the non-U.S. holder's shares of common stock and thereafter as gain from the sale or exchange of such shares of common stock. Dividends we pay to a non-U.S. holder that are effectively connected with its conduct of a trade or business within the United States will not be subject to U.S. withholding tax, as described above, if the non-U.S. holder complies with applicable certification and disclosure requirements. Instead, such dividends generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax as further discussed below under Income Effectively Connected with a U.S. Trade or Business.

Non-U.S. holders will generally not be subject to U.S. federal income or withholding tax on gain recognized on the sale, exchange, redemption or other taxable disposition of shares of common stock unless certain exceptions apply, as described above under Exchange of Convertible Notes for Common Stock and Cash.

Income Effectively Connected with a U.S. Trade or Business

If a non-U.S. holder is or was engaged in a trade or business in the United States and interest, dividends or gain with respect to a convertible note or a share of common stock is or was effectively connected with the conduct of the non-U.S. holder's trade or business, and, where a U.S. income tax treaty applies, the non-U.S. holder maintains a U.S. permanent establishment (or, in the case of an individual, a fixed base) to which the interest, dividends or gain is attributable, the non-U.S. holder generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on a net income basis on such interest, dividends or gain in the same manner as a U.S. Holder, as described above under "Consequences to

U.S. Holders. Such interest or dividends will generally be exempt from U.S. federal withholding tax if the non-U.S. holder claims the exemption by providing a properly executed IRS Form W-8ECI or other applicable form to the payer on or before the relevant payment date. In addition, if a non-U.S. holder is a corporation, the non-U.S. holder may be subject to a U.S. branch profits tax at a rate of 30%, as adjusted for certain items, unless a lower rate applies to the non-U.S. holder under a U.S. income tax treaty with the non-U.S. holder's country of residence.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

A non-U.S. holder not subject to U.S. federal income tax may nonetheless be subject to backup withholding and information reporting with respect to interest paid on the convertible notes or dividends paid on the shares of common stock and with respect to amounts realized on the disposition (including a disposition pursuant to this exchange offer or, in the alternative, the prepackaged plan, a retirement or a redemption) of the convertible notes or the shares of common stock unless the non-U.S. holder provides the withholding agent with the applicable IRS Form W-8 or otherwise establishes an exemption. Non-U.S. holders should consult their independent tax advisors as to their qualifications for an exemption from backup withholding and the procedure for obtaining such an exemption.

Consequences to Non-Participating Holders if the Recapitalization Plan Is Consummated

If the recapitalization plan is consummated, holders that do not tender their convertible notes in this exchange offer will not recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes and will continue to have the same tax basis and holding period with respect to the convertible notes as they had before the consummation of this exchange offer.

Consequences to the Company

Cancellation of Indebtedness Income

The exchange of convertible notes pursuant to the recapitalization plan or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan will generally result in COD income to us for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent that the adjusted issue price of the exchanged convertible notes exceeds the fair market value of the shares of common stock and cash paid in exchange for such convertible notes (except to the extent that such consideration is attributable to accrued and unpaid interest). Thus, the precise amount of COD income, if any, resulting from the exchange of convertible notes cannot be determined until the date of the exchange. In addition, the term loan refinancing may also result in COD income to us.

To the extent we were considered insolvent from a tax perspective immediately prior to the completion of the recapitalization plan, any such COD income would be excluded from our taxable income. Alternatively, if the discharge of our liability occurred pursuant to the prepackaged plan, any COD income from such discharge would be excluded from our taxable income.

If and to the extent any COD income is excluded from taxable income pursuant to the insolvency exception or the bankruptcy exception described above, we generally will be required to reduce certain of our tax attributes, including, but not limited to, our net operating losses, loss carryforwards, credit carryforwards and tax basis in certain assets, by the amount of any excluded COD income. This may result in a significant reduction in, and possible elimination of, certain of our tax attributes. Under regulations applicable to taxpayers filing consolidated returns, generally the tax attributes attributable to the debtor member (and, to the extent required by certain look-through rules, its direct or indirect subsidiaries) are the first to be reduced. To the extent that any COD income of such debtor member of the consolidated group exceeds the tax attributes attributable to such debtor member, the consolidated tax attributes attributable to other members of the consolidated group must be reduced.

If any COD income is not excluded from our taxable income and we do not have sufficient losses to offset fully such COD income, we may incur tax liability from such COD income. We may make an election under recently enacted section 108(i) of the Internal Revenue Code to defer the inclusion of all or a portion of any COD income resulting from the consummation of the recapitalization plan or the prepackaged plan, with the amount of deferred

COD income becoming includible in taxable income ratably over a five-taxable-year period beginning in, if such consummation occurs in 2009, the fifth taxable year after such consummation.

To the extent the fair market value of the shares of common stock and cash paid pursuant to this exchange offer, or, in the alternative, pursuant to the prepackaged plan, exceeds the adjusted issue price of the convertible notes (except to the extent that such consideration is attributable to accrued and unpaid interest), the Company will generally have paid a premium on the exchange for the convertible notes. The premium might not be deductible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Potential Limitations on Net Operating Loss Carryforwards and Other Tax Attributes

The restructuring is expected to result in an ownership change of our Company within the meaning of section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code. Under section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code, if a corporation or a consolidated group with net operating losses, or NOLs, loss carryforwards or certain other tax attributes, which we refer to as a loss corporation, undergoes an ownership change, the loss corporation's use of its pre-change NOLs, loss carryforwards and certain other tax attributes generally will be subject to an annual limitation in the post-change period.

Subject to the special bankruptcy rules discussed below, the amount of the annual limitation on a loss corporation's use of its pre-change NOLs (and certain other tax attributes) is generally equal to the product of the applicable long-term tax-exempt rate (as published by the IRS for the month in which the ownership change occurs) and the value of the loss corporation's outstanding stock immediately before the ownership change (excluding certain capital contributions). If a loss corporation has a net unrealized built-in gain, immediately prior to the ownership change, the annual limitation may be increased during the subsequent five-year period. If a loss corporation has a net unrealized built-in loss, immediately prior to the ownership change, certain losses recognized during the subsequent five-year period also would be subject to the annual limitation.

If the ownership change occurs pursuant to a bankruptcy plan and, if as expected here, the debtor does not satisfy the requirements of, or elects not to apply, section 382(l)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code, the debtor's use of its pre-change NOLs, loss carryforwards and certain other tax attributes will be subject to an annual limitation as determined under section 382(l)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code. In such case, the amount of the annual limitation generally will be equal to the product of the applicable long-term tax-exempt rate and the value of the debtor's outstanding stock immediately after the bankruptcy reorganization, provided such value may not exceed the value of the debtor's gross assets immediately before the ownership change, subject to certain adjustments.

The impact on us of any ownership change under section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code depends upon, among other things, the amount of our pre-ownership change losses and other tax attributes remaining after the recognition of any COD income or reduction of tax attributes, the value of our Company at the time of the ownership change, and the amount and timing of future taxable income.

Alternative Minimum Tax

Notwithstanding our ability to utilize our losses to offset any COD income for regular U.S. federal income tax purposes, we may nonetheless be liable to tax under the alternative minimum tax, which we refer to as AMT, provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. In addition, if a corporation undergoes an ownership change and is in a net unrealized built-in loss position (as determined for AMT purposes) on the date of the ownership change, the corporation's aggregate tax basis in its assets would be reduced for certain AMT purposes to reflect the fair market value of such assets as of the change date.

Any AMT that a corporation pays generally is allowed as a nonrefundable credit against its regular U.S. federal income tax liability in future taxable years when it is no longer subject to the AMT.

CERTAIN ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of certain considerations associated with the exchange of the convertible notes for cash and shares of common stock and the acquisition, holding and, to the extent relevant, disposition of shares of common stock by an employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or ERISA, a plan described in section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code, including an individual retirement account, or IRA, or a Keogh plan, a plan subject to provisions under applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the provisions of Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code, and any entity whose underlying assets include plan assets by reason of any such employee benefit or retirement plan's investment in such entity, each of which we refer to as a plan.

General Fiduciary Matters

ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code impose certain duties on persons who are fiduciaries of a Plan subject to Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code, which we refer to as an ERISA plan and prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of an ERISA plan with its fiduciaries or other interested parties. In general, under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code, any person who exercises any discretionary authority or control over the administration of such an ERISA plan or the management or disposition of the assets of such an ERISA plan, or who renders investment advice for a fee or other compensation to such an ERISA plan, is generally considered to be a fiduciary of the ERISA plan. Plans that are governmental plans (as defined in section 3(32) of ERISA), certain church plans (as defined in section 3(33) of ERISA or section 4975(g)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code) and non-U.S. plans (as described in section 4(b)(4) of ERISA) are not subject to the requirements of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code (but may be subject to similar prohibitions under applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the provisions of Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code).

In considering an exchange of the convertible notes for cash and shares of common stock and the acquisition, holding and, to the extent relevant, disposition of the shares of common stock with a portion of the assets of a plan, a fiduciary should determine whether the investment is in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the plan and the applicable provisions of ERISA, the Internal Revenue Code or any applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the provisions of Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code relating to a fiduciary's duties to the plan including, without limitation, the prudence, diversification, delegation of control and prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA, the Internal Revenue Code and any other applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the provisions of Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Prohibited Transaction Issues

Section 406 of ERISA prohibits ERISA plans from engaging in specified transactions involving plan assets with persons or entities who are parties in interest, within the meaning of section 3(14) of ERISA, and section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code imposes an excise tax on certain disqualified persons, within the meaning of section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code, who engage in similar transactions, in each case, unless an exemption is available. A party in interest or disqualified person who engages in a non-exempt prohibited transaction also may be subject to other penalties and liabilities under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code. In the case of an IRA, the occurrence of a prohibited transaction could cause the IRA to lose its tax-exempt status.

The acquisition and/or holding (and, to the extent relevant, disposition) of the convertible notes or the shares of common stock by an ERISA plan with respect to which NCI, the dealer-manager, the information agent or the exchange agent is considered a party in interest or a disqualified person may constitute or result in a direct or indirect prohibited transaction under section 406 of ERISA and/or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code, unless the investment is acquired and is held in accordance with an applicable statutory, class or individual prohibited transaction exemption. In this regard, the U.S. Department of Labor, or DOL, has issued prohibited transaction class exemptions, or PTCEs, that may apply to the acquisition and holding of the convertible notes or the shares of common stock. These class exemptions include, without limitation, PTCE 84-14 respecting transactions determined by independent qualified professional asset managers, PTCE 90-1 respecting insurance company pooled separate accounts, PTCE 91-38 respecting bank collective investment funds, PTCE 95-60 respecting life insurance company general accounts and PTCE 96-23 respecting transactions determined by in-house asset managers. Plans that acquired or held convertible notes in reliance on PTCE 84-14 should note that this exchange offer may constitute a renewal under Part V(i) of PTCE 84-14 and any such plan should consult its counsel to evaluate whether PTCE 84-14 remains applicable. In addition, section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and section 4975(d)(20) of the Internal Revenue Code each provides a limited exemption, called the service provider exemption, from the prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code for certain transactions, provided that neither the issuer of the securities nor any of its affiliates (directly or indirectly) have or exercise any discretionary authority or control or render any investment advice with respect to the assets of any ERISA plan involved in the transaction and provided further that the ERISA plan pays no more than adequate consideration in connection with the transaction. There can be no assurance that all of the conditions of any such exemptions will be satisfied.

Because of the foregoing, the shares of common stock should not be acquired or held by any person investing plan assets of any plan, unless such acquisition and holding will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code or similar violation of any applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the provisions of Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Representation

By exchanging a convertible note and accepting cash and shares of common stock, each purchaser and holder will be deemed to have represented and warranted that either (1) it is not a plan and no portion of the assets used to acquire or hold the shares of common stock constitutes assets of any plan or (2) the exchange of a convertible note and the acquisition and holding of shares of common stock (including the exchange of a convertible note for common stock) will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under section 406 of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code or similar violation under any applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations that are similar to the provisions of Title I of ERISA or section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code.

The foregoing discussion is general in nature and is not intended to be all inclusive. Due to the complexity of these rules and the penalties that may be imposed upon persons involved in non-exempt prohibited transactions, it is particularly important that fiduciaries, or other persons considering acquiring the common stock (or exchanging the convertible notes for cash and shares of common stock) on behalf of, or with the assets of, any plan, consult with their counsel regarding the potential applicability of ERISA, section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code and any similar laws to such investment and whether an exemption would be applicable to the purchase and holding of the common stock. The sale of any convertible notes by or to any plan or plan subject to similar laws is in no respect a representation by us or any of our affiliates or representatives that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirements with respect to investments by such plans generally or any particular plan, or that such an investment is appropriate for plans generally or any particular plan.

G. Subordinated Claims.

The allowance, classification, and treatment of all Allowed Claims and the respective distributions and treatments under the Plan take into account and conform to the relative priority and rights of the Claims in each Class in connection with any contractual, legal, and equitable subordination rights relating thereto, whether arising under general principles of equitable subordination, section 510(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, or otherwise. Pursuant to section 510 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Reorganized Debtors reserve the right to re-classify any Allowed Claim or Equity Interest in accordance with any contractual, legal, or equitable subordination relating thereto.

Subject to Article VI, all Distributions made to Holders of Allowed Claims in any Class are intended to be and shall be final.

5. Series B Preferred Stock

On the Effective Date, Reorganized NCIBS shall issue 250,000 shares of Series B Preferred Stock to the CD&R Investors in accordance with the terms of the Investment Agreement. The issuance of the Series B Preferred Stock by Reorganized NCIBS is consistent with the terms of the NCIBS Charter and is authorized without the need for any further corporate action or without any further action by the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests.

6. Common Stock.

The issuance of the Common Stock required to Consummate the Plan is consistent with the terms of the NCIBS Charter and is authorized without the need for any further corporate action or without any further action by the Holders of Claims or Equity Interests. On the Effective Date, approximately 70,200,000 shares of Common Stock will be issued to the Holders of Claims in Class 5.

All of the shares of Common Stock issued pursuant to the Plan shall be duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid, and non-assessable. Each distribution and issuance referred to in Article VI shall be governed by the terms and conditions set forth in the Plan applicable to such distribution or issuance and by the terms and conditions of the instruments evidencing or relating to such distribution or issuance, which terms and conditions shall bind each Entity receiving such distribution or issuance.

respective certificate of incorporation and bylaws (or other formation documents) in effect prior to the Effective Date, except to the extent such certificate of incorporation and bylaws (or other formation documents) are amended by the Plan or otherwise, and to the extent such documents are amended, such documents are deemed to be amended pursuant to the Plan and require no further action or approval (other than any requisite filings required under applicable state, provincial, or federal law).

G. Vesting of Assets in the Reorganized Debtors.

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or any agreement, instrument, or other document incorporated in the Plan, on the Effective Date, all property in each Estate, all Causes of Action, and any property acquired by any of the Debtors pursuant to the Plan shall vest in each respective Reorganized Debtor, free and clear of all Liens, Claims, charges, or other encumbrances (except for Liens securing the New Term Loan and New ABL Revolving Credit Facility). On and after the Effective Date, except as otherwise provided in the Plan, each Reorganized Debtor may operate its business and may use, acquire, or dispose of property and compromise or settle any Claims, Equity Interests, or Causes of Action without supervision or approval by the Bankruptcy Court and free of any restrictions of the Bankruptcy Code or Bankruptcy Rules.

H. Cancellation of Securities and Agreements.

On the Effective Date, except as otherwise specifically provided for in the Plan: (1) the obligations of the Debtors under the Senior Secured Credit Agreement, the Convertible Notes Indentures, and any other Certificate, Equity Security, share, note, bond, indenture, purchase right, option, warrant, or other instrument or document directly or indirectly evidencing or creating any indebtedness or obligation of or ownership interest in the Debtors giving rise to any Claim or Equity Interest (except such Certificates, notes, or other instruments or documents evidencing indebtedness or obligation of or ownership interest in the Debtors that are Reinstated pursuant to the Plan), shall be cancelled solely as to the Debtors and their affiliates, and none of the Reorganized Debtors shall have any continuing obligation thereunder, except that, to the extent provided in the New Term Loan and/or New ABL Revolving Credit Facility, the guarantees of and Liens securing obligations under the Senior Secured Credit Agreement shall not be cancelled and shall guarantee or secure obligations under the New Term Loan and/or New ABL Revolving Credit Facility, as applicable, and only such obligations; and (2) the obligations of the Debtors and their affiliates pursuant, relating, or pertaining to any agreements, indentures, certificates of designation, bylaws, or certificate or articles of incorporation or similar documents governing the shares, Certificates, notes, bonds, indentures, purchase rights, options, warrants, or other instruments or documents evidencing or creating any indebtedness or obligation of or ownership interest in the Debtors (except such agreements, Certificates, notes, or other instruments evidencing indebtedness or obligation of or ownership interest in the Debtors that are specifically Reinstated pursuant to the Plan) shall be released and discharged; provided, however, that notwithstanding Confirmation or Consummation, any such indenture or agreement that governs the rights of the Holder of a Claim shall continue in effect solely for purposes of allowing Holders to receive distributions under the Plan; provided, further, however, that the preceding proviso shall not affect the discharge of Claims or Equity Interests pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code, the Confirmation Order, or the Plan, or result in any expense or liability to the Reorganized Debtors; provided, further, however, that the foregoing shall not effect the cancellation of shares issued pursuant to the Restructuring Transactions nor any other shares held by one Debtor in the capital of another Debtor; and provided, further, however, that to the extent provided in the New Term Loan and/or New ABL Revolving Credit Facility, the guarantees of and Liens securing obligations under the Senior Secured Credit Agreement shall not be cancelled and shall guarantee or secure obligations under the New Term Loan and/or New ABL Revolving Credit Facility, as applicable, and only such obligations.

I. Surrender of Existing Securities.

As soon as practicable on or after the Effective Date, each Holder of Convertible Notes Claims shall surrender its note(s) to the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee, or in the event such note(s) are held in the name of, or by a nominee of, The Depository Trust Company, the Reorganized Debtors shall seek the cooperation of The Depository Trust Company to provide appropriate instructions to the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee. No distributions under the Plan shall be made for or on behalf of such Holder unless and until such note is received by the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee or appropriate instructions from The Depository Trust Company are received by the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee or the loss, theft, or destruction of such note is established to the reasonable satisfaction of the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee, which satisfaction may require such Holder to submit (1) a lost instrument affidavit and (2) an indemnity bond holding the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, and the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee, harmless in respect of such note and distributions made thereof. Upon compliance with this Section by a Holder of any Convertible Note, such Holder shall, for all purposes under the Plan, be deemed to have surrendered such Convertible Note. Any Holder that fails to surrender such Convertible Note or satisfactorily explain its non-availability to the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee, within one year of the Effective Date shall be deemed to have no further Claim against the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors (or their property), or the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee in respect of such Claim and shall not participate in any distribution under the Plan. All property in respect of such forfeited distributions, including interest thereon, shall be promptly returned to the Reorganized Debtors by the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee, and any such security shall be cancelled.

J. Corporate Action.

Upon the Effective Date, all actions contemplated by the Plan shall be deemed authorized and approved in all respects, including: (1) assumption of the Management Employment Contracts, as may be amended; (2) selection of the directors and officers for the Reorganized Debtors; (3) the issuance and distribution of Common Stock to holders of Class 5 Claims; (4) the issuance and distribution of the Series B Preferred Stock to the CD&R Investors; (5) implementation of the Restructuring Transactions; (6) the execution and entry into the New Term Loan and New ABL Revolving Credit Facility; and (7) all other actions contemplated by the Plan (whether to occur before, on, or after the Effective Date). All matters provided for in the Plan involving the corporate structure of the Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, and any corporate action required by the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, or Reorganized NCIBS in connection with the Plan shall be deemed to have occurred and shall be in effect, without any requirement of further action by the security holders, directors, or officers of the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, or Reorganized NCIBS. On or (as applicable) prior to the Effective Date, the appropriate officers of the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, or Reorganized NCIBS, as applicable, shall be authorized and (as applicable) directed to issue, execute, and deliver the agreements, documents, securities, and instruments contemplated by the Plan (or necessary or desirable to effect the transactions contemplated by the Plan) in the name of and on behalf of the Reorganized Debtors and Reorganized NCIBS, including the New Term Loan and New ABL Revolving Credit Facility, and any and all other agreements, documents, securities, and instruments relating to the foregoing. The authorizations and approvals contemplated by this Article IV.J shall be effective notwithstanding any requirements under non-bankruptcy law.

K. New Certificates of Incorporation and New By-Laws.

On or immediately prior to the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtors will file their respective New Certificates of Incorporation with the applicable Secretaries of State and/or other applicable authorities in their respective states, provinces, or countries of incorporation in accordance with the corporate laws of the respective states, provinces, or countries of incorporation. Pursuant to section 1123(a)(6) of the Bankruptcy Code, the New Certificates of Incorporation will prohibit the issuance of non-voting equity securities. Subject to the preceding sentence, the New Certificate of Incorporation of NCIBS shall be identical to the NCIBS Charter. After the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtors may amend and restate their respective New Certificates of Incorporation and New By-Laws and other constituent documents as permitted by the laws of their respective states, provinces, or countries of incorporation and their respective New Certificates of Incorporation and New By-Laws.

L. Directors and Officers of the Reorganized Debtors.

As of the Effective Date, the term of the current members of the board of directors of NCIBS shall expire, and the initial boards of directors and the officers of each of the Reorganized Debtors shall be appointed in accordance with the respective New Certificates of Incorporation and New By-laws and the Investment Agreement. Pursuant to section 1129(a)(5) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Debtors will disclose in advance of the Confirmation Hearing the identity and affiliations of any Person proposed to serve on the New Boards or be an officer of each of the Reorganized Debtors and Reorganized NCIBS. To the extent any such director or officer of the Reorganized Debtors or Reorganized NCIBS is an insider under the Bankruptcy Code, the nature of any compensation to be paid to such director or officer will also be disclosed. Each such director and officer shall serve from and after the

Effective Date pursuant to the terms of the New Certificates of Incorporation, New By-laws, the Stockholders Agreement, and other constituent documents of the Reorganized Debtors or Reorganized NCIBS.

M. Effectuating Documents; Further Transactions.

On and after the Effective Date, the Reorganized Debtors, and the officers and members of the boards of directors thereof, are authorized to and may issue, execute, deliver, file, or record such contracts, Securities, instruments, releases, and other agreements or documents and take such actions as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement, and further evidence the terms and conditions of the Plan and the Securities issued pursuant to the Plan in the name of and on behalf of the Reorganized Debtors and Reorganized NCIBS, without the need for any approvals, authorization, or consents except for those expressly required pursuant to the Plan.

N. Section 1146 Exemption.

Pursuant to section 1146 of the Bankruptcy Code, any transfers of property pursuant hereto shall not be subject to any document recording tax, stamp tax, conveyance fee, intangibles or similar tax, mortgage tax, stamp act, real estate transfer tax, mortgage recording tax, or other similar tax or governmental assessment, and upon entry of the Confirmation Order, the appropriate state or local governmental officials or agents shall forgo the collection of any such tax or governmental assessment and accept for filing and recordation any of the foregoing instruments or other documents without the payment of any such tax, recordation fee, or governmental assessment.

O. Employee and Retiree Benefits.

All employment, retirement, indemnification, and other agreements or arrangements in place as of the Effective Date with the Debtors' officers, directors, or employees, or retirement income plans and welfare benefit plans for such persons, or variable incentive plans regarding payment of a percentage of annual salary based on performance goals and financial targets for certain employees identified as key leaders, top level managers or sales leaders, or indemnification arrangements with directors of non-Debtor subsidiaries, shall remain in place after the Effective Date, and the Reorganized Debtors will continue to honor such agreements, arrangements, programs, and plans. Nothing in the Plan shall limit, diminish, or otherwise alter the Reorganized Debtors' defenses, claims, Causes of Action, or other rights with respect to any such contracts, agreements, policies, programs, and plans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, pursuant to section 1129(a)(13) of the Bankruptcy Code, on and after the Effective Date, all retiree benefits (as that term is defined in section 1114 of the Bankruptcy Code), if any, shall continue to be paid in accordance with applicable law.

P. Preservation of Causes of Action.

In accordance with section 1123(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, but subject to Article VIII hereof, the Reorganized Debtors shall retain and may enforce all rights to commence and pursue, as appropriate, any and all Causes of Action, whether arising before or after the Petition Date, including any actions specifically enumerated in the Plan Supplement, and the Reorganized Debtors' rights to commence, prosecute, or settle such Causes of Action shall be preserved notwithstanding the occurrence of the Effective Date. The Reorganized Debtors may pursue such Causes of Action, as appropriate, in accordance with the best interests of the Reorganized Debtors. No Entity may rely on the absence of a specific reference in the Plan, the Plan Supplement, or the Disclosure Statement to any Cause of Action against them as any indication that the Debtors or Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, will not pursue any and all available Causes of Action against them. The Debtors or Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, expressly reserve all rights to prosecute any and all Causes of Action against any Entity, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Plan. Unless any Causes of Action against an Entity are expressly waived, relinquished, exculpated, released, compromised, or settled in the Plan or a Bankruptcy Court order, the Reorganized Debtors expressly reserve all

Causes of Action, for later adjudication, and, therefore, no preclusion doctrine, including the doctrines of res judicata, collateral estoppel, issue preclusion, claim preclusion, estoppel (judicial, equitable or otherwise), or laches, shall apply to such Causes of Action upon, after, or as a consequence of the Confirmation or Consummation.

The Reorganized Debtors reserve and shall retain the Causes of Action notwithstanding the rejection or repudiation of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease during the Chapter 11 Cases or pursuant to the Plan. In accordance with section 1123(b)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code, any Causes of Action that a Debtor may hold against any Entity shall vest in the Reorganized Debtors, as the case may be. The applicable Reorganized Debtor, through its authorized agents or representatives, shall retain and may exclusively enforce any and all such Causes of Action. The Reorganized Debtors shall have the exclusive right, authority, and discretion to determine and to initiate, file, prosecute, enforce, abandon, settle, compromise, release, withdraw, or litigate to judgment any such Causes of Action and to decline to do any of the foregoing without the consent or approval of any third party or further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

ARTICLE V.
TREATMENT OF EXECUTORY CONTRACTS AND UNEXPIRED LEASES

A. Assumption and Rejection of Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases.

On the Effective Date, except as otherwise provided herein, all Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases, not previously assumed or rejected pursuant to an order of the Bankruptcy Court, will be deemed assumed, in accordance with the provisions and requirements of sections 365 and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code, other than those Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases that (1) were previously assumed or rejected by the Debtors, (2) are identified on the Rejected Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease List, (3) are the subject of a motion to reject Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases that is pending on the Confirmation Date, or (4) are subject to a motion to reject an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease pursuant to which the requested effective date of such rejection is after the Effective Date. Entry of the Confirmation Order by the Bankruptcy Court shall constitute approval of such assumptions and the rejection of the Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases listed on the Rejected Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease List pursuant to sections 365(a) and 1123 of the Bankruptcy Code. Any motions to assume Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases pending on the Effective Date shall be subject to approval by the Bankruptcy Court on or after the Effective Date by a Final Order. Each Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease assumed pursuant to this Article V.A or by any order of the Bankruptcy Court, which has not been assigned to a third party prior to the Confirmation Date, shall revest in and be fully enforceable by the Reorganized Debtors in accordance with its terms, except as such terms are modified by the provisions of the Plan or any order of the Bankruptcy Court authorizing and providing for its assumption under applicable federal law.

B. Claims Based on Rejection of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases.

All proofs of Claim with respect to Claims arising from the rejection of Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases, pursuant to the Plan or the Confirmation Order, if any, must be filed with the Bankruptcy Court within 30 days after the date of entry of an order of the Bankruptcy Court approving such rejection (which order may be the Confirmation Order). Any Claims arising from the rejection of an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease not filed with the Bankruptcy Court within such time will be automatically disallowed, forever barred from assertion, and shall not be enforceable against the Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, the Estates, or their property without the need for any objection by the Reorganized Debtors or further notice to, or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court. All Allowed Claims arising from the rejection of the Debtors' Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases shall be classified as General Unsecured Claims and shall be treated in accordance with Article III.B of the Plan.

C. Cure of Defaults for Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases Assumed.

Any monetary defaults under each Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease to be assumed pursuant to the Plan shall be satisfied, pursuant to section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, by payment of the default amount in Cash on the Effective Date, subject to the limitation described below, or on such other terms as the parties to such Executory Contracts or Unexpired Leases may otherwise agree. In the event of a dispute regarding (1) the amount of any payments to cure such a default, (2) the ability of the Reorganized Debtors or any assignee to provide adequate assurance of future performance (within the meaning of section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code) under the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to be assumed, or (3) any other matter pertaining to assumption, the cure payments required by section 365(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code shall be made following the entry of a Final Order or orders resolving the dispute and approving the assumption. At least 20 days prior to the Confirmation Hearing, the Debtors shall provide for notices of proposed assumption and proposed cure amounts to be sent to applicable third parties and for procedures for objecting thereto and resolution of disputes by the Bankruptcy Court. Any objection by a counterparty to an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease to a proposed assumption or related cure amount must be filed, served, and actually received by the Debtors at least three (3) days prior to the Confirmation Hearing. Any counterparty to an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease that fails to object timely to the proposed assumption or cure amount will be deemed to have assented to such assumption or cure amount.

Assumption of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease pursuant to the Plan or otherwise shall result in the full release and satisfaction of any Claims or defaults, whether monetary or nonmonetary, including defaults of provisions restricting the change in control or ownership interest composition or other bankruptcy-related defaults, arising under any assumed executory contract or unexpired lease at any time prior to the effective date of assumption. Any Proofs of Claim filed with respect to an executory contract or unexpired lease that has been assumed shall be deemed disallowed and expunged, without further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

D. Insurance Policies.

All of the Debtors' insurance policies and any agreements, documents, or instruments relating thereto, are treated as Executory Contracts under the Plan. On the Effective Date, the Debtors shall be deemed to have assumed all insurance policies and any agreements, documents, and instruments relating to coverage of all Insured Claims.

E. Modifications, Amendments, Supplements, Restatements, or Other Agreements.

Unless otherwise provided in the Plan, each Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease that is assumed shall include all modifications, amendments, supplements, restatements, or other agreements that in any manner affect such Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, and all Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases related thereto, if any, including all easements, licenses, permits, rights, privileges, immunities, options, rights of first refusal, and any other interests, unless any of the foregoing agreements has been previously rejected or repudiated or is rejected or repudiated under the Plan.

Modifications, amendments, supplements, and restatements to prepetition Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases that have been executed by the Debtors during the Chapter 11 Cases shall not be deemed to alter the prepetition nature of the Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease, or the validity, priority, or amount of any Claims that may arise in connection therewith.

F. Reservation of Rights.

Neither the exclusion nor inclusion of any Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease on the Rejected Executory Contract and Unexpired Lease List, nor anything contained in the Plan, shall constitute an admission by the Debtors that any such contract or lease is in fact an Executory Contract or Unexpired Lease or that any Reorganized Debtor has any liability thereunder. If there is a dispute regarding whether a contract or lease is or was executory or unexpired at the time of assumption or rejection, the Debtors or Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, shall have 30 days following entry of a Final Order resolving such dispute to alter their treatment of such contract or lease.

G. Nonoccurrence of Effective Date.

In the event that the Effective Date does not occur, the Bankruptcy Court shall retain jurisdiction with respect to any request to extend the deadline for assuming or rejecting unexpired leases pursuant to section 365(d)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code.

H. Contracts and Leases Entered Into After the Petition Date.

Contracts and leases entered into after the Petition Date by any Debtor, including any Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases assumed by such Debtor, will be performed by the Debtor or Reorganized Debtor liable thereunder in the ordinary course of its business. Accordingly, such contracts and leases (including any assumed Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases and any agreements entered into pursuant to the Investment Agreement) will survive and remain unaffected by entry of the Confirmation Order.

PROVISIONS GOVERNING DISTRIBUTIONS

A. Timing and Calculation of Amounts to Be Distributed.

Unless otherwise provided in the Plan, on the Effective Date (or if a Claim is not an Allowed Claim on the Effective Date, on the date that such Claim becomes an Allowed Claim, or as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter), each Holder of an Allowed Claim against the Debtors shall receive the full amount of the distributions that the Plan provides for Allowed Claims in the applicable Class. In the event that any payment or act under the Plan is required to be made or performed on a date that is not a Business Day, then the making of such payment or the performance of such act may be completed on the next succeeding Business Day, but shall be deemed to have been completed as of the required date. If and to the extent that there are Disputed Claims, distributions on account of any such Disputed Claims shall be made pursuant to the provisions set forth in Article VII of the Plan. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan, Holders of Claims shall not be entitled to interest, dividends, or accruals on the distributions provided for in the Plan, regardless of whether such distributions are delivered on or at any time after the Effective Date.

B. Disbursing Agent.

All distributions under the Plan shall be made by the Disbursing Agent on or as soon as practicable after the Effective Date. The Disbursing Agent shall not be required to give any bond or surety or other security for the performance of its duties unless otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court. Additionally, in the event that the Disbursing Agent is so otherwise ordered, all costs and expenses of procuring any such bond or surety shall be borne by the Reorganized Debtors.

C. Rights and Powers of Disbursing Agent.

1. Powers of the Disbursing Agent.

The Disbursing Agent shall be empowered to: (a) effect all actions and execute all agreements, instruments, and other documents necessary to perform its duties under the Plan; (b) make all distributions contemplated hereby; (c) employ professionals to represent it with respect to its responsibilities; and (d) exercise such other powers as may be vested in the Disbursing Agent by order of the Bankruptcy Court, pursuant to the Plan, or as deemed by the Disbursing Agent to be necessary and proper to implement the provisions hereof.

2. Expenses Incurred On or After the Effective Date.

Except as otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court, the amount of any reasonable fees and expenses incurred by the Disbursing Agent on or after the Effective Date (including taxes) and any reasonable compensation and expense reimbursement claims (including reasonable attorney fees and expenses) made by the Disbursing Agent shall be paid in Cash by the Reorganized Debtors.

D. Delivery of Distributions and Undeliverable or Unclaimed Distributions.

1. Delivery of Distributions in General.

Except as otherwise provided herein, the Reorganized Debtors shall make distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims on the Distribution Record Date at the address for each such Holder as indicated on the Debtors' records as of the date of any such distribution; provided, however, that the manner of such distributions shall be determined at the discretion of the Reorganized Debtors; provided further, however, that the address for each Holder of an Allowed Claim shall be deemed to be the address set forth in any Proof of Claim Filed by that Holder.

2. Delivery of Distributions to Senior Secured Claims and Convertible Notes Claims.

(a) Senior Secured Agent.

The Senior Secured Agent shall be deemed to be the Holder of all Senior Secured Claims, as applicable, for purposes of distributions to be made hereunder, and all distributions on account of such Senior Secured Claims shall be made to or on behalf of the Senior Secured Agent. The Senior Secured Agent shall hold or direct such distributions for the benefit of the Holders of Allowed Senior Secured Claims, as applicable. As soon as practicable

A-22

following compliance with the requirements set forth in Article IV.H of the Plan, the Senior Secured Agent shall arrange to deliver such distributions to or on behalf of such Holders of Allowed Senior Secured Claims

(b) Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee.

The Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee shall be deemed to be the Holder of all Convertible Notes Claims, as applicable, for purposes of distributions to be made hereunder, and all distributions on account of such Convertible Notes Claims shall be made to or on behalf of the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee. The Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee shall hold or direct such distributions for the benefit of the Holders of Allowed Convertible Notes Claims, as applicable. As soon as practicable following compliance with the requirements set forth in Article IV.I of the Plan, the Convertible Notes Indenture Trustee shall (a) arrange to deliver such distributions to or on behalf of such Holders of Allowed Convertible Notes Claims, (b) exercise its charging liens against any such distributions, and (c) seek compensation and reimbursement for any fees and expenses incurred in making such distributions.

3. Minimum Distributions.

No fractional shares of Common Stock shall be distributed and no Cash shall be distributed in lieu of such fractional amounts. When any distribution pursuant to the Plan on account of an Allowed Claim would otherwise result in the issuance of a number of shares of Common Stock that is not a whole number, the actual distribution of shares of Common Stock shall be rounded as follows: (a) fractions of one-half (1/2) or greater shall be rounded to the next higher whole number and (b) fractions of less than one-half (1/2) shall be rounded to the next lower whole number with no further payment therefor. The total number of authorized shares of Common Stock to be distributed to holders of Allowed Claims shall be adjusted as necessary to account for the foregoing rounding.

4. Undeliverable Distributions and Unclaimed Property.

In the event that any distribution to any Holder is returned as undeliverable, no distribution to such Holder shall be made unless and until the Disbursing Agent has determined the then-current address of such Holder, at which time such distribution shall be made to such Holder without interest; provided, however, that such distributions shall be deemed unclaimed property under section 347(b) of the Bankruptcy Code on the first anniversary of the Effective Date. After such date, all unclaimed property or interests in property shall revert to the Reorganized Debtors automatically and without need for a further order by the Bankruptcy Court (notwithstanding any applicable federal, provincial or state escheat, abandoned, or unclaimed property laws to the contrary), and the Claim of any Holder to such property or Equity Interest in property shall be discharged and forever barred.

E. Manner of Payment.

1. All distributions of the Common Stock to Holders of Class 5 Claims under the Plan shall be made by the Disbursing Agent on behalf of Reorganized NCIBS.
2. All distributions of the New Term Loan to Holders of Class 3 Claims under the Plan shall be made by the Disbursing Agent on behalf of Reorganized NCIBS.
3. All distributions of Cash under the Plan shall be made by the Disbursing Agent on behalf of the applicable Debtor.
4. At the option of the Disbursing Agent, any Cash payment to be made hereunder may be made by check or wire transfer or as otherwise required or provided in applicable agreements.

F. Section 1145 Exemption.

To the extent permitted by section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code, the offering, issuance, and distribution of the Common Stock as contemplated by Article III.B of the Plan to Class 5, shall be exempt from, among other things, the registration requirements of section 5 of the Securities Act and any other applicable law requiring registration prior to the offering, issuance, distribution, or sale of Securities. In addition, to the extent permitted by section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code, such Common Stock will be freely tradable in the U.S. by the recipients thereof, subject to the provisions of section 1145(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code relating to the definition of an underwriter in section 2(a)(11) of the Securities Act, and compliance with applicable securities laws and any rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, if any, applicable at the time of any future transfer of such Securities or instruments and subject to any restrictions in the Stockholders Agreement and the New Certificate of Incorporation.

G. Compliance with Tax Requirements.

In connection with the Plan, to the extent applicable, the Reorganized Debtors shall comply with all tax withholding and reporting requirements imposed on them by any Governmental Unit, and all distributions pursuant to the Plan shall be subject to such withholding and reporting requirements. Notwithstanding any provision in the Plan to the contrary, the Reorganized Debtors and the Disbursing Agent shall be authorized to take all actions necessary or appropriate to comply with such withholding and reporting requirements, including liquidating a portion of the distribution to be made under the Plan to generate sufficient funds to pay applicable withholding taxes, withholding distributions pending receipt of information necessary to facilitate such distributions, or establishing any other mechanisms they believe are reasonable and appropriate. The Reorganized Debtors reserve the right to allocate all distributions made under the Plan in compliance with all applicable wage garnishments, alimony, child support, and other spousal awards, liens, and encumbrances.

H. Allocations.

Distributions in respect of Allowed Claims shall be allocated first to the principal amount of such Claims (as determined for federal income tax purposes) and then, to the extent the consideration exceeds the principal amount of the Claims, to any portion of such Claims for accrued but unpaid interest.

I. No Postpetition Interest on Claims.

Unless otherwise specifically provided for in the Plan or the Confirmation Order, or required by applicable bankruptcy law, postpetition interest shall not accrue or be paid on any Claims against the Debtors, and no Holder of a Claim against the Debtors shall be entitled to interest accruing on or after the Petition Date on any such Claim.

J. Setoffs and Recoupment.

The Debtors may, but shall not be required to, setoff against or recoup from any Claims of any nature whatsoever that the Debtors may have against the claimant, but neither the failure to do so nor the allowance of any Claim hereunder shall constitute a waiver or release by the Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors of any such Claim it may have against the Holder of such Claim.

K. Claims Paid or Payable by Third Parties.

1. Claims Paid by Third Parties.

The Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, shall reduce in full a Claim, and such Claim shall be disallowed without a Claims objection having to be Filed and without any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court, to the extent that the Holder of such Claim receives payment in full on account of such Claim from a party that is not a Debtor or Reorganized Debtor. Subject to the last sentence of this paragraph, to the extent a Holder of a Claim receives a distribution on account of such Claim and receives payment from a party that is not a Debtor or a Reorganized Debtor on account of such Claim, such Holder shall, within two weeks of receipt thereof, repay or return the distribution to the applicable Reorganized Debtor, to the extent the Holder's total recovery on account of such Claim from the third party and under the Plan exceeds the amount of such Claim as of the date of any such distribution under the Plan. The failure of such Holder to timely repay or return such distribution shall result in the Holder owing the applicable Reorganized Debtor annualized interest on such amount owed for each Business Day after the two-week grace period specified above until the amount is repaid.

2. Claims Payable by Third Parties.

No distributions under the Plan shall be made on account of an Allowed Claim that is payable pursuant to one of the Debtors' insurance policies until the Holder of such Allowed Claim has exhausted all remedies with respect to such insurance policy. To the extent that one or more of the Debtors' insurers agrees to satisfy in full or in part a Claim (if and to the extent adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction), then immediately upon such insurers' agreement, the applicable portion of such Claim may be expunged without a Claims objection having to be Filed and without any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

3. Applicability of Insurance Policies.

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan, distributions to Holders of Allowed Claims shall be in accordance with the provisions of any applicable insurance policy. Nothing contained in the Plan shall constitute or be deemed a waiver of any Cause of Action that the Debtors or any Entity may hold against any other Entity, including insurers under any policies of insurance, nor shall anything contained herein constitute or be deemed a waiver by such insurers of any defenses, including coverage defenses, held by such insurers.

UNLIQUIDATED, AND DISPUTED CLAIMS

A. Allowance of Claims.

After the Effective Date, each Reorganized Debtor shall have and retain any and all rights and defenses such Debtor had with respect to any Claim or Interest immediately prior to the Effective Date.

B. Proofs of Claims.

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan, Holders of Claims shall not be required to File a Proof of Claim, and no parties should File a Proof of Claim. On the Effective Date, any and all Filed Proofs of Claims shall be deemed expunged from the record of these cases and the Debtors shall not be required to object to such Proofs of Claim in the Bankruptcy Court.

C. Prosecution of Objections to Claims.

The Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, shall have the exclusive authority to File, settle, compromise, withdraw, or litigate to judgment any objections to any Claims not specifically Allowed by the Plan. From and after the Effective Date, the Debtors and the Reorganized Debtors may settle or compromise any Disputed Claim without approval of the Bankruptcy Court. The Debtors also reserve the right to resolve any Disputed Claim outside the Bankruptcy Court under applicable governing law.

D. Procedures Regarding Disputed Claims

The Debtors do not intend to object to the allowance of Claims Filed; provided, however, that the Debtors and the Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, reserve the right to object to any Claim that is entitled, or deemed to be entitled, to a distribution under the Plan or is rendered Unimpaired under the Plan within 120 days of the Effective Date. Instead, the Debtors intend to make distributions, as required by the Plan, in accordance with the books and records of the Debtors. Unless disputed by a Holder of a Claim, the amount set forth in the books and records of the Debtors shall constitute the amount of the Allowed Claim of such Holder. If any such Holder of a Claim disagrees with the Debtors' books and records with respect to the Allowed amount of such Holder's Claim, such Holder must so advise the Debtors in writing, in which event the Claim will become a Disputed Claim. The Debtors intend to attempt to resolve any such disputes consensually or through judicial means outside the Bankruptcy Court. Nevertheless, the Debtors may, in their discretion, file with the Bankruptcy Court (or any other court of competent jurisdiction) an objection to the allowance of any Claim or any other appropriate motion or adversary proceeding with respect thereto. All such objections will be litigated to Final Order; provided, however, that the Debtors may compromise, settle, withdraw, or resolve by any other method approved by the Bankruptcy Court any objections to Claims.

Any Debtor or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable, may, at any time, request that the Bankruptcy Court estimate any contingent or unliquidated Claim pursuant to section 502(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, regardless of whether such Debtor has previously objected to such Claim or whether the Bankruptcy Court has ruled on any objection, and the Bankruptcy Court will retain jurisdiction to estimate any Claim at any time during litigation concerning any objection to any Claim, including during the pendency of any appeal related to any such objection. In the event the Bankruptcy Court estimates any contingent or unliquidated Claim, that estimated amount will constitute either the Allowed amount of such Claim or a maximum limitation on such Claim, as determined by the Bankruptcy Court. If the estimated amount constitutes a maximum limitation on such Claim, the Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, as applicable, may elect to pursue any supplemental proceedings to object to any ultimate payment on such Claim. All of the aforementioned objection, estimation, and resolution procedures are cumulative and are not necessarily exclusive of one another. Claims may be estimated and thereafter resolved by any permitted mechanism.

E. Disallowance of Claims or Interests.

Any Claims held by Entities from which property is recoverable under section 542, 543, 550, or 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or that is a transferee of a transfer avoidable under section 522(f), 522(h), 544, 545, 547, 548, 549, or 724(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, shall be deemed disallowed pursuant to section 502(d) of the Bankruptcy Code, and Holders of such Claims may not receive any distributions on account of such Claims until such time as such Causes of Action against that Entity have been settled or a Bankruptcy Court order with respect thereto has been entered and all sums due, if any, to the Debtors by that Entity have been turned over or paid to the Reorganized Debtors. All Claims Filed on account of an indemnification obligation to a director, officer, or employee shall be deemed satisfied and expunged as of the Effective Date to the extent such indemnification obligation is assumed (or honored or reaffirmed, as the case may be) pursuant to the Plan, without any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court. All Claims Filed on account of an employee benefit shall be deemed satisfied and expunged as of the Effective Date to the extent the Reorganized Debtors elect to honor such employee benefit, without any further notice to or action, order, or approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

F. No Distributions Pending Allowance.

If an objection to a Claim or portion thereof is filed as set forth in Article VII.D, no payment or distribution provided under the Plan shall be made on account of such Claim or portion thereof unless and until such Disputed Claim becomes an Allowed Claim.

G. Distributions After Allowance.

To the extent that a Disputed Claim ultimately becomes an Allowed Claim, distributions (if any) shall be made to the Holder of such Allowed Claim in accordance with the provisions of the Plan. As soon as practicable after the date that the order or judgment of the Bankruptcy Court allowing any Disputed Claim becomes a Final Order, the Disbursing Agent shall provide to the Holder of such Claim the distribution (if any) to which such Holder is entitled under the Plan as of the Effective Date, without any interest to be paid on account of such Claim unless required under applicable bankruptcy law.

ARTICLE VIII.
SETTLEMENT, RELEASE, INJUNCTION, AND RELATED PROVISIONS

A. Discharge of Claims and Termination of Equity Interests.

Pursuant to section 1141(d) of the Bankruptcy Code, and except as otherwise specifically provided in the Plan or in any contract, instrument, or other agreement or document created pursuant to the Plan, the distributions, rights, and treatment that are provided in the Plan shall be in complete satisfaction, discharge, and release, effective as of the Effective Date, of Claims (including any Intercompany Claims resolved or compromised after the Effective Date by the Reorganized Debtors), Equity Interests, and causes of action of any nature whatsoever, including any interest accrued on Claims or Equity Interests from and after the Petition Date, whether known or unknown, against, liabilities of, Liens on, obligations of, rights against, and Equity Interests in, the Debtors or any of their assets or properties, regardless of whether any property shall have been distributed or retained pursuant to the Plan on account of such Claims and Equity Interests, including demands, liabilities, and causes of action that arose before the Effective Date, any liability (including withdrawal liability) to the extent such Claims or Equity Interests relate to services performed

Any default by the Debtors or their Affiliates with respect to any Claim or Equity Interest that existed immediately prior to or on account of the filing of the Chapter 11 Cases shall be deemed cured on the Effective Date. The Confirmation Order shall be a judicial determination of the discharge of all Claims and Equity Interests subject to the Effective Date occurring.

B. Release of Liens.

Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or in any contract, instrument, release, or other agreement or document created or assumed pursuant to the Plan, on the Effective Date and concurrently with the applicable distributions made pursuant to the Plan and, in the case of a Secured Claim, satisfaction in full of the portion of the Secured Claim that is Allowed as of the Effective Date, all mortgages, deeds of trust, Liens, pledges, or other security interests against any property of the Estates shall be fully released and discharged, and all of the right, title, and interest of any Holder of such mortgages, deeds of trust, Liens, pledges, or other security interests shall revert to the Reorganized Debtor and its successors and assigns.

C. Releases by the Debtors.

Pursuant to section 1123(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, and except as otherwise specifically provided in the Plan, for good and valuable consideration, including the service of the Released Parties to facilitate the expeditious reorganization of the Debtors and the implementation of the restructuring contemplated by the Plan, on and after the Effective Date of the Plan, the Released Parties are deemed released and discharged by the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, and the estates from any and all Claims, obligations, rights, suits, damages, causes of action, remedies, and liabilities whatsoever, including any derivative Claims asserted on behalf of the Debtors, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, existing or hereinafter arising, in law, equity, or otherwise, that the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, the Estates, or their Affiliates would have been legally entitled to assert in their own right (whether individually or collectively) or on behalf of the Holder of any Claim or Equity Interest or other Entity, based on or relating to, or in any manner arising from, in whole or in part, the Debtors, the Chapter 11 Cases, the purchase, sale, or rescission of the purchase or sale of any Security of the Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, the subject matter of, or the transactions or events giving rise to, any Claim or Equity Interest that is treated in the Plan, the business or contractual arrangements between any Debtor and any Released Party, the restructuring of Claims and Equity Interests prior to or in the Chapter 11 Cases, the negotiation, formulation, or preparation of the Plan, the Plan Supplement, the Disclosure Statement, or related agreements, instruments, or other documents, upon any other act or omission, transaction, agreement, event, or other occurrence taking place on or before the Effective Date of the Plan, other than Claims or liabilities arising out of or relating to any act or omission of a Released Party that constitutes willful misconduct or gross negligence. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, the release set forth above does not release any post-Effective Date obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement (including those set forth in the Plan Supplement) executed to implement the plan, including the Investment Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, the Amended and Restated Senior Secured Credit Agreement, and the New ABL Revolving Credit Facility.

D. Releases by Holders of Claims and Equity Interests.

As of the Effective Date of the Plan, each Holder of a Claim or an Equity Interest shall be deemed to have conclusively, absolutely, unconditionally, irrevocably, and forever, released and discharged the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, and the Released Parties from any and all Claims, Equity Interests, obligations, rights, suits, damages, causes of action, remedies, and liabilities whatsoever, including any derivative Claims asserted on behalf of a debtor, whether known or unknown, foreseen or unforeseen, existing or hereafter arising, in law, equity or otherwise, that such entity would have been legally entitled to assert (whether individually or collectively), based on or relating to, or in any manner arising from, in whole or in part, the Debtors, the

Debtors restructuring, the Chapter 11 Cases, the purchase, sale, or rescission of the purchase or sale of any Security of the Debtors or the Reorganized Debtors, the subject matter of, or the transactions or events giving rise to, any Claim or Equity Interest that is treated in the Plan, the business or contractual arrangements between any Debtor and any Released Party, the restructuring of Claims and Equity Interests prior to or in the Chapter 11 Cases, the negotiation, formulation, or preparation of the Plan, the related Disclosure Statement, the related Plan Supplement, or related agreements, instruments, or other documents (including, without limitation, the Investment Agreement and related agreements, instruments, or other documents), upon any other act or omission, transaction, agreement, event, or other occurrence taking place on or before the Confirmation Date of the Plan, other than Claims or liabilities arising out of or relating to any act or omission of a Released Party that constitutes willful misconduct or gross negligence. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, the release set forth above does not release any post-Effective Date obligations of any party under the Plan or any document, instrument, or agreement (including those set forth in the Plan Supplement) executed to implement the Plan. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, the release set forth above shall not apply to any Holder of a Claim that votes to reject the Plan and opts out of the releases provided in this section by a timely written election and does not release the personal liability of any of the aforementioned Released Parties in this Article VIII for any statutory violation of applicable tax laws or bar any right of action asserted by a governmental taxing authority against the aforementioned Released Parties for any statutory violation of applicable tax laws.

E. Exculpation.

Except as otherwise specifically provided in the Plan or Plan Supplement, no Exculpated Party shall have or incur, and each Exculpated Party is hereby released and exculpated from any Exculpated Claim, obligation, cause of action, or liability for any Exculpated Claim, except for gross negligence or willful misconduct, but in all respects such Entities shall be entitled to reasonably rely upon the advice of counsel with respect to their duties and responsibilities pursuant to the Plan. The Debtors and the Reorganized Debtors (and each of their respective Affiliates, agents, directors, officers, employees, advisors, and attorneys) have participated in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code with regard to the solicitation and distribution of the Securities pursuant to the Plan, and, therefore, are not, and on account of such distributions shall not be, liable at any time for the violation of any applicable law, rule, or regulation governing the solicitation of acceptances or rejections of the Plan or such distributions made pursuant to the Plan.

F. Injunction.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in the Plan or for obligations issued pursuant to the Plan, all Entities who have held, hold, or may hold Claims or Equity Interests that have been released pursuant to Article VIII.C or Article VIII.D, discharged pursuant to Article VIII.A, or are subject to exculpation pursuant to Article VIII.E are permanently enjoined, from and after the Effective Date, from taking any of the following actions against, as applicable, the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, the Released Parties, or the Exculpated Parties: (1) commencing or continuing in any manner any action or other proceeding of any kind on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such Claims or Equity Interests; (2) enforcing, attaching, collecting, or recovering by any manner or means any judgment, award, decree, or order against such Entities on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such Claims or Equity Interests; (3) creating, perfecting, or enforcing any encumbrance of any kind against such Entities or the property or estates of such Entities on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such Claims or Equity Interests; (4) asserting any right of setoff, subrogation, or recoupment of any kind against any obligation due from such Entities or against the property or Estates of such Entities on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such Claims or Equity Interests unless such Holder has Filed a motion requesting the right to perform such setoff on or before the Confirmation Date, and notwithstanding an indication in a Proof of Claim or Equity Interest or otherwise that such Holder asserts, has, or intends to preserve any right of setoff pursuant to section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise; and (5) commencing or continuing in any manner any action or other proceeding of any kind on account of or in connection with or with respect to any such Claims or Equity Interests released or settled pursuant to the Plan.

G. Subordination Rights.

Any distributions under the Plan to Holders of Convertible Notes Claims shall be received and retained free from any obligations to hold or transfer the same to any other creditor, and shall not be subject to levy, garnishment, attachment, or other legal process by any Holder by reason of claimed contractual subordination rights. The Confirmation Order shall constitute an injunction enjoining any Person from enforcing or attempting to enforce any contractual, legal, or equitable subordination rights to Property distributed under the Plan to Holders of Convertible Notes Claims, in each case other than as provided in the Plan.

H. Rights of Internal Revenue Service.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Plan, the Confirmation Order or the implementing Plan documents: (1) the rights of the Internal Revenue Service to setoff and recoupment shall be preserved; and (2) nothing in Article VIII.D shall constitute a release of the Internal Revenue Service's claims, if any, against the Released Parties and nothing shall affect the ability of the Internal Revenue Service to pursue, to the extent allowed by non-bankruptcy law, any non-debtors for any liabilities that may be related to any federal tax liabilities owed by the Debtors and the Reorganized Debtors.

ARTICLE IX.
AND CONSUMMATION OF THE PLAN

A. Conditions Precedent to the Effective Date.

It shall be a condition to the Effective Date of the Plan that the following conditions shall have been satisfied or waived pursuant to the provisions of Article IX.B hereof:

B. Waiver of Conditions.

The conditions to the Effective Date set forth in this Article IX may be waived only by consent of the Debtors and CD&R Fund, without notice, leave, or order of the Bankruptcy Court or any formal action other than proceeding to consummate the Plan.

C. Effect of Failure of Conditions.

If the Consummation of the Plan does not occur, the Plan shall be null and void in all respects and nothing contained in the Plan or the Disclosure Statement shall: (1) constitute a waiver or release of any claims by the Debtors, Claims, or Equity Interests; (2) prejudice in any manner the rights of the Debtors, any Holders, or any other Entity; or (3) constitute an admission, acknowledgment, offer, or undertaking by the Debtors, any Holders, or any other Entity in any respect.

ARTICLE X.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

A. Immediate Binding Effect.

Subject to Article IX.A and notwithstanding Bankruptcy Rules 3020(e), 6004(h), or 7062 or otherwise, upon the occurrence of the Effective Date, the terms of the Plan and the Plan Supplement shall be immediately effective and enforceable and deemed binding upon the Debtors, the Reorganized Debtors, and any and all Holders of Claims or Equity Interests (irrespective of whether such Claims or Equity Interests are deemed to have accepted the Plan), all Entities that are parties to or are subject to the settlements, compromises, releases, discharges, and injunctions described in the Plan, each Entity acquiring property under the Plan, and any and all non-Debtor parties to Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases with the Debtors.

B. Additional Documents.

D. Payment of Fees and Expenses of the Convertible Indenture Trustee.

II. AGREEMENT TO TENDER, VOTE AND SUPPORT

Section 2.1 Agreement to Tender. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof and provided that (1) the economic terms of the transactions contemplated by the Amended Investment Agreement (including the Offer, the Prepayment, the Restatement and the Investment, collectively, the Transactions) are not altered or amended in a manner adverse to the Consenting Noteholders, (2) the consideration (and mix of consideration) being offered in the Transactions is not altered or amended and (3) the other terms of the Transactions are not altered or amended in a manner materially adverse to such Consenting Noteholder, each Consenting Noteholder hereby irrevocably agrees to promptly (but in any event not later than the 10th Business Day after the commencement of the Offer) tender in the Offer, and not withdraw from the Offer, all Notes held by or Beneficially Owned by it, or with respect to which it serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote or dispose thereof, unless the Offer shall have been terminated in accordance with its terms; provided that such Consenting Noteholder may withdraw such Notes from the Offer in order to effect a Transfer of such Notes in compliance with Section 2.4(c) of this Agreement so long as any transferee of such Notes shall promptly thereafter tender such Notes in the Offer.

Section 2.3 Agreement to Vote. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof and provided that the terms of the Prepackaged Plan as set forth in the Amended Investment Agreement are not altered or amended and provided further that it has received the Solicitation Materials in compliance with Section 1126(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, each Consenting Creditor hereby irrevocably agrees to timely (as set forth in the Solicitation Materials and in any event prior to the Initial Expiration Date) vote, and not change or revoke such vote, all Notes and/or all obligations under the Credit Agreement held by it, or with respect to which it serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote, in favor of the Prepackaged Plan; provided that the terms of the Prepackaged Plan are consistent with Exhibit I to the Amended Investment Agreement and otherwise reasonably satisfactory to the Required Consenting Creditors.

Section 2.4 Additional Agreements of Consenting Creditors.

(a) Against Other Transactions. Each Consenting Creditor agrees that, from and after the date hereof, it will not directly or indirectly seek, solicit, support, formulate or encourage any other plan, sale, proposal or offer of reorganization or liquidation, merger, restructuring or recapitalization of the Company and/or its subsidiaries that could reasonably be expected to prevent, delay or impede the Transactions on the terms set forth in the Amended Investment Agreement. Each Consenting Creditor agrees it shall not (i) object to, or otherwise commence any proceeding opposing, any of the terms of the Transactions or the Transaction Documents, (ii) take any action, including but not limited to objecting to the Prepackaged Plan, which is inconsistent with, or that would delay approval, consummation or confirmation of any of the Transactions or any of the Transaction Documents or (iii) take any action that would make any representation or warranty of such Consenting Creditor herein untrue or incorrect in any material respect, or have the effect of preventing or disabling the Consenting Creditor from performing its obligations hereunder in any material respect.

(b) Other Proxy Matters. The Consenting Creditor hereby irrevocably grants to, and appoints, the Company, and any individual designated in writing by the Company, and each of them individually, as the Consenting Creditor's proxy and attorney-in-fact (with full power of substitution and resubstitution), for and in the name, place and stead of the Consenting Creditor, to vote such creditor's Notes and/or Loans, or grant a consent or approval in respect of such creditor's Notes and/or Loans solely to implement and fulfill such Consenting Creditor's obligations under Section 2.1, Section 2.2, Section 2.3 and Section 2.4(a) of this Agreement to the extent the Consenting Creditor has failed to fulfill such obligations after notice by the Company of such failure. Such irrevocable proxy is executed and intended to be irrevocable in accordance with the provisions of Section 212(e) of the DGCL. The irrevocable proxy granted hereunder shall automatically terminate upon the termination of this Agreement.

(c) Restrictions on Transfer, Etc. Each Consenting Creditor agrees, from and after the date hereof, not to directly or indirectly Transfer any Note or Loan or interest therein other than a Transfer that does not require registration under the Securities Act and in accordance with the terms of the Credit Agreement and the Indenture, as applicable, to (x) a transferee that is a Consenting Creditor or any Affiliate thereof or (y) a transferee that represents that it is a Qualified Institutional Buyer within the meaning of Rule 144A under the Securities Act. Unless such Transfer is to a Consenting Creditor, such Transfer shall be pursuant to a privately negotiated transaction and the transferee shall execute and deliver to the Company a joinder agreement pursuant to which the transferee agrees to be bound by the terms of this Agreement as though it had been an original signatory hereto, including the making of the representations by the Consenting Creditors therein, including those in Sections 3.1(d) through 3.1(h). Any Transfer of any Note or Loan in violation of the foregoing shall be deemed ineffective to Transfer any right to accept or reject the Offer, which right shall remain with and be exercised only by the purported transferor. This Agreement shall in no way be construed to preclude any Consenting Creditor from acquiring additional Notes or Loans; provided that such Notes or Loans shall become subject to the terms hereof as if such Notes or Loans had been held by such Consenting Creditor as of the date of this Agreement; provided further that any such Consenting Creditor acquiring additional Notes or Loans shall notify the Company of the amount of any such additional Notes or Additional Loans and Schedule A hereto shall be updated accordingly. Nothing in this Agreement shall prohibit any Consenting Creditor from ordinary course pledges of Notes in a prime brokerage account. In addition, any transferee which is an entity that acquires Notes or Loans for the purpose of facilitating trading in Notes or Loans shall not be bound by the provisions of this Agreement with respect to any Notes or Loans held by it other than Notes or Loans that were acquired from a Consenting Creditor or that otherwise were subject to this Agreement (any such Notes or Loans held by it other than Notes or Loans that were acquired from a Consenting Creditor or that otherwise were subject to this Agreement, the Excluded Notes or Excluded Loans, as the case may be).

(d) Public Statement. Each Consenting Creditor agrees that it shall not issue any press release or make any other public statement with respect to the Amended Investment Agreement, the Offer, the Prepayment, the Form of Amended Credit Agreement or the Prepackaged Plan or any other transaction contemplated by the Amended Investment Agreement without the prior written consent of the Company, except as may be required by applicable Law.

(e) Additional Matters. Each Consenting Creditor shall, from time to time, execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, such additional or further consents, documents and other instruments as the Company may reasonably request for the purpose of effecting the tenders and votes of such Consenting Creditor contemplated by Sections 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3 of this Agreement.

(ii) Except for any Excluded Notes or Excluded Loans in the case of a transferee of Notes or Loans, the Loans and Notes set forth next to such Consenting Creditor's name on Schedule A hereto constitute all of the Loans and Notes that are Beneficially Owned by such Consenting Creditor, or as to which such Consenting Creditor serves as manager or investment advisor having the unrestricted power to vote or dispose thereof, as of the date hereof, and such Consenting Creditor does not Beneficially Own or otherwise so manage or advise with respect to, any other Loans or

(d) Such Consenting Noteholder is (i) an accredited investor within the meaning of Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, (ii) aware that the offer and sale of the Common Stock pursuant to the Offer and the Prepackaged Plan (except to the extent that Securities distributed under the Prepackaged Plan may be resold, pledged or otherwise transferred under Section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code) (the Securities) to it is being made in reliance on a private placement exemption from registration under the Securities Act and not by means of a general solicitation or general advertising and (iii) acquiring the Securities for its own account and has no current intention to Transfer any of its Notes or Loans or the Common Stock received pursuant to the Offer or the Prepackaged Plan (except to the extent that Securities distributed under the Prepackaged Plan may be resold, pledged or otherwise transferred under Section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code).

(f) Except to the extent that Securities distributed under the Prepackaged Plan may be resold, pledged or otherwise transferred under Section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code (and not otherwise prohibited because such Consenting Noteholder is deemed an underwriter as defined in subsection (b) of Section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code), such Consenting Noteholder understands that, unless sold pursuant to a registration statement that has been declared effective under the Securities Act or in compliance with Rule 144, the Company may require that the Securities will bear a legend or other restriction substantially to the following effect (it being agreed that if the Securities are not certificated, other appropriate restrictions shall be implemented to give effect to the following):

(c) The representations of the Company set forth in the Amended Investment Agreement in Sections 4(a), (b) and (c) and set forth below are true and correct as of the date hereof and shall be true and correct upon the consummation of the Transactions:

(i) Securities. Subject to Section 6(p) of the Investment Agreement, in the event the Restructuring is being effectuated through the Prepackaged Plan and the satisfaction of the Prepackaged Plan Conditions, the Securities shall have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action. When issued and sold against receipt of the consideration therefor as contemplated by the Offer or the Prepackaged Plan, the Securities will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable, will not subject the holders thereof to personal liability, will not be subject to preemptive rights of any other stockholder of the Company and will be free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer under the Transaction Documents, this Agreement, and under applicable state and federal securities laws.

The Company is as of the date of this Agreement in compliance in all material respects with applicable continued listing requirements of the New York Stock Exchange, and the Company has not received any notice of the delisting of the Common Stock from the New York Stock Exchange.

(iii) Board Approvals. At a duly held meeting on August 31, 2009, the Board unanimously determined that this Agreement and the Transactions, including without limitation the issuance of the Securities, the compliance with the terms of this Agreement, are in the best interests of the Company and the Company's Subsidiaries.

IV. ADDITIONAL COVENANTS

Without the consent of any Consenting Creditor, the Company may not publish or disclose in any announcement or disclosure such individual Consenting Creditor's identity and ownership of Loans and Notes. The Company may publish or disclose the aggregate amount of the Consenting Creditors' Loans and/or Notes without reference to any individual Consenting Creditors' Loans or Notes and the nature of the Consenting Creditor's obligations under this Agreement; provided that, the Consenting Creditors shall have a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any such announcement or disclosure prior to its publication, filing or disclosure.

Section 4.2 Additional Covenants of the Company. (a) As long as the End Date (as defined below) has not occurred, the Company shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to successfully consummate the Transactions in the manner and in accordance with the timeline contemplated by this Agreement and the Amended Investment Agreement.

(b) The Company shall not enter into any agreement or other arrangement with any holder of Loans or Notes with respect to or relating in any way to the transactions contemplated by the Amended Investment Agreement if such agreement or other arrangement contains any term or provision relating to the consideration in respect of such Loans

Section 4.3 Consenting Creditor Shelf Registration Statement. If the Restructuring is completed pursuant to the Offer or, if the Restructuring is completed through a prepackaged bankruptcy and the Securities received by the Consenting Creditors are not freely tradeable pursuant to the provisions of section 1145 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Company will enter into a registration rights agreement (the Exchange Registration Rights Agreement) containing customary indemnification provisions for selling stockholders and providing that the Company will, subject to customary blackout periods in connection with earnings releases and material corporate developments, (i) file with the SEC as soon as practicable, but in any event not later than 5 Business Days following the consummation of the Offer or the effective date of any bankruptcy plan, as the case may be, a shelf registration statement covering resales of the Securities received by each Consenting Creditor in the Offer or pursuant to the bankruptcy plan on a delayed or continuous basis and (ii) use its best efforts to maintain the effectiveness of such registration until the earlier of (A) six months after the completion of the Restructuring and (B) the date on which all such Securities held by the Consenting Creditors can be resold pursuant to Rule 144 without limitation as to volume or compliance with any manner of sale requirements; provided, however, that, if, during the six months after the completion of the Restructuring, there is not adequate current public information with respect to the Company for purposes of resales of Common Stock under Rule 144(c) under the Securities Act, then the words six months in the immediately preceding clause (A) shall be replaced with words twelve months. The Company shall pay all expenses incurred in connection the filing of the registration statement pursuant to this Section 4.3.

The Company agrees that the directors who are members of the Board effective as of the Closing shall include two Independent Directors (as defined in the Stockholders Agreement in the form attached to the Investment Agreement as in effect on the date hereof) who are Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors (as defined in the Stockholders Agreement in the form attached to the Investment Agreement as in effect on the date hereof) (the Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors). So long as this Agreement is in effect and there has been no breach by the Consenting Creditors of their obligations under Sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.4(c) or 6.19 of this Agreement and there has been no material breach by the Consenting Creditors of their obligations under Sections 2.4(a) or 2.4(d) of this Agreement, (i) Noteholders representing at least a majority of the outstanding Notes may submit proposed persons to serve as the Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors, and the Company shall consider in good faith any such proposed persons; (ii) prior to the appointment of the Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors, the Company shall provide notice prior to the Closing of the Company s proposed Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors; and (iii) in the event that Noteholders representing at least a majority of the outstanding Notes provide written notice to the Company within 7 Business Days that they object to the proposed Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors, the Company shall propose (and, if necessary, continue to propose) alternative Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors so that at least one of the two Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors is acceptable to Noteholders representing at least a majority of the outstanding Notes (which acceptance shall, in the case of the initially proposed Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors, be evidenced by the absence of a written objection within 7 Business Days of notice of such initially proposed Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors and, in the case of any subsequently proposed Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors, be evidenced by the absence of a written objection within 2 Business Days of notice of such subsequently proposed Initial Unaffiliated Shareholder Directors).

(b) if the Company shall have materially breached any of its obligations set forth in this Agreement;

Section 5.2 Notice of Termination. In the event that the Required Consenting Creditors desire to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 5.1, the Required Consenting Creditors shall provide written notice to the Company of the basis of such termination, and such termination shall be effective within three (3) Business Days of receipt by the Company of such written notice unless the basis of such termination has been cured by the Company (it being agreed that, during such 3-Business-Day period, the Consenting Noteholders obligations under Article II (other than those set forth in Sections 2.4(c) and 2.4(d)) of this Agreement shall be suspended and the Company shall not be permitted to consummate the Offer, the Prepayment, the Restatement, or the Prepackaged Plan during such period in reliance on the Loans or Notes subject to this Agreement or the votes of the Consenting Creditors).

Section 5.3 Effect of Termination. (a) Upon the Closing, the rights and obligations of all the parties will terminate and become void without further action by any party and (b) if this Agreement shall be terminated in accordance with its terms prior to the completion of the Restructuring, all votes and tenders delivered by a Consenting Creditor prior to such termination shall be deemed, for all purposes, to be null and void from the first instance and shall not be considered or otherwise used in any manner by the Company and the rights and obligations of all the parties will terminate and become void without further action by any party, except, in each of clause (a) and clause (b), for the provisions of Section 5.1, Section 5.2, this Section 5.3 and Article VI, and in the case of clause (a), Section 4.3, which will survive such termination. For the avoidance of doubt, the termination of this Agreement shall not relieve any party of liability for any willful breach of this Agreement prior to the time of termination.

Section 6.2 Parties in Interest. Other than with respect to the parties to this Agreement, nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any person any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

Section 6.3 Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the Laws of the State of Delaware applicable to contracts made and to be performed within the State of Delaware, without giving effect to conflicts of law rules that would require or permit the application of the laws of another jurisdiction.

Section 6.4 Severability. Any term or provision of this Agreement that is invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to that jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such invalidity or unenforceability without rendering invalid or unenforceable the remaining terms and provisions of this Agreement or affecting the validity or enforceability of any of the terms or provisions of this Agreement in any other jurisdiction.

Section 6.5 Assignment. Except for Transfers permitted by Section 2.4(c), neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations hereunder shall be assigned by any of the parties hereto, in whole or in part (whether by operation of law or otherwise), without the prior written consent of each of the other parties. Subject to the first sentence of this Section 6.5, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties and their respective successors and assigns. Any attempted assignment in violation of this Section 6.5 shall be void. For purposes of this Agreement, successor for any entity other than a natural person shall mean a successor to such entity as a result of such entity's merger, consolidation, sale of substantially all of its assets, or similar transaction.

Section 6.6 Interpretation. When a reference is made in this Agreement to a Section, such reference shall be to a Section of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Whenever the words include, includes or including are used in this Agreement, they shall be deemed to be followed by the words without limitation. The words hereof, herein and hereunder and words of similar import when used in this Agreement shall refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular provision of this Agreement. The word or shall be deemed to mean and/or. All terms defined in this Agreement shall have the defined meanings when used in any certificate or other document made or delivered pursuant thereto unless otherwise defined therein. The definitions contained in this Agreement are applicable to the singular as well as the plural forms of such terms and to the masculine as well as to the feminine and neuter genders of such term. Any agreement, instrument or statute defined or referred to herein or in any agreement or instrument that is referred to herein means such agreement, instrument or statute as from time to time amended, modified or supplemented, including (in the case of agreements or instruments) by waiver or consent and (in the case of statutes) by succession of comparable successor statutes and references to all attachments thereto and instruments incorporated therein. Each of the parties has participated in the drafting and negotiation of this Agreement. If an ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement must be construed as if it is drafted by all the parties, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any party by virtue of authorship of any of the provisions of this Agreement.

Section 6.7 Amendments. This Agreement may not be modified or amended with respect to the Consenting Creditors except pursuant to an instrument in writing signed by the Requisite Consenting Creditors; provided that any such modification or amendment that treats one Consenting Creditor in an adverse manner as compared to any other Consenting Creditor shall not be effective unless such Consenting Creditor shall have consented to such modification or amendment. No failure by any party to insist upon the strict performance of any covenant, duty, agreement or condition of this Agreement or to exercise any right or remedy consequent upon breach thereof shall constitute a waiver of any such breach or of any other covenant, duty, agreement or condition, nor shall any delay or omission of any party to exercise any right hereunder in any manner impair the exercise of any such right accruing to it thereafter.

Section 6.8 Waiver. The Company may, in its sole discretion, (i) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations of any Consenting Creditor, (ii) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties of any Consenting Creditor contained in this Agreement or in any document delivered under this Agreement or (iii) waive compliance by any Consenting Creditor with any of the covenants or conditions contained in this Agreement. Any agreement on the part of a party to any extension or waiver will be valid only if set forth in an instrument in writing signed by such party. No failure by any party to insist upon the strict performance of any covenant, duty, agreement or condition of this Agreement or to exercise any right or remedy consequent upon breach thereof shall constitute a waiver of any such breach or of any other covenant, duty, agreement or condition, nor shall any delay or omission of any party to exercise any right hereunder in any manner impair the exercise of any such right accruing to it thereafter.

Section 6.9 Fees and Expenses. Except as set forth in the next sentence, each party is responsible for its own fees and expenses (including the fees and expenses of counsel, financial consultants, investment bankers and accountants) in connection with the entry into this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby; provided that the Company shall pay the fees and expenses of the counsel to the Consenting Creditors in accordance with that letter agreement, dated August 17, 2009, by and between the Company and Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy LLP. The Company shall pay all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses of the Consenting Creditors (including, without limitation, the reasonable fees and disbursements of counsel) incurred in connection with the enforcement of any of their rights and remedies hereunder.

Section 6.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and supersedes all other prior agreements, understandings, representations and warranties, both written and oral, among the parties to this Agreement with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement.

Section 6.11 Remedies Cumulative. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, any and all remedies expressly conferred upon a party to this Agreement will be cumulative with, and not exclusive of, any other remedy contained in this Agreement, at law or in equity. The exercise by a party to this Agreement of any one remedy will not preclude the exercise by it of any other remedy.

Section 6.12 Counterparts; Effectiveness; Execution. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, all of which are one and the same agreement. This Agreement will become effective and binding upon each Consenting Creditor when executed by such Consenting Creditor. This Agreement may be executed by facsimile signature by any party and such signature is deemed binding for all purposes hereof, without delivery of an original signature being thereafter required.

Section 6.13 Specific Performance; Jurisdiction.

(a) The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur for which money damages would not suffice in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached and that the parties would not have any adequate remedy at Law. It is accordingly agreed that the non-breaching party shall be entitled to an injunction, temporary restraining order or other equitable relief exclusively (i) if the Company has commenced a case under the Bankruptcy Code, in the Bankruptcy Court or (ii) if the Company has not commenced a case under the Bankruptcy Code, in the Delaware Court of Chancery enjoining any such breach and enforcing specifically the terms and provisions hereof, or in the event (but only in the event) that such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction over such action or proceeding, in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or another court sitting in the state of Delaware. The foregoing is in addition to any other remedy to which any party is entitled at Law, in equity or otherwise.

(b) Each of the parties hereto irrevocably agrees that any legal action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement and the rights and obligations arising hereunder, or for recognition and enforcement of any judgment in respect of this Agreement and the rights and obligations arising hereunder brought by the other party hereto or its successors or assigns shall be brought and determined exclusively (i) if the Company has commenced a case under the Bankruptcy Code, in the Bankruptcy Court or (ii) if the Company has not commenced a case under the Bankruptcy Code, in the Delaware Court of Chancery, or in the event (but only in the event) that such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction over such action or proceeding, in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or another court sitting in the state of Delaware. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably submits with regard to any such action or proceeding for itself and in respect of its property, generally and unconditionally, to the personal jurisdiction of the aforesaid courts and agrees that it will not bring any action relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in any court other than the aforesaid courts. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably waives, and agrees not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense, counterclaim or otherwise, in any action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement, (i) any claim that it is not personally subject to the jurisdiction of the above-named courts for any reason other than the failure to serve in accordance with this Section 6.13, (ii) any claim that it or its property is exempt or immune from jurisdiction of any such court or from any legal process commenced in such courts (whether through service of notice, attachment prior to judgment, attachment in aid of execution of judgment, execution of judgment or otherwise) and (iii) to the fullest extent permitted by the applicable Law, any claim that (A) the suit, action or proceeding in such court is brought in an inconvenient forum, (B) the venue of such suit, action or proceeding is improper or (C) this Agreement, or the subject matter hereof, may not be enforced in or by such courts.

(c) Each of the parties hereto irrevocably consents to the service of any summons and complaint and any other process in any other action relating to this Agreement, on behalf of itself or its property, by the personal delivery of copies of such process to such party or by sending or delivering a copy of the process to the party to be served at the address and in the manner provided for the giving of notices in Section 6.1. Nothing in this Section 6.13 shall affect the right of any party hereto to serve legal process in any other manner permitted by Law.

Section 6.14 Waiver of Jury Trial. Each party hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, any right it may have to a trial by jury in respect of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of this Agreement or any transaction contemplated hereby. Each party (i) certifies and acknowledges that no representative, agent or attorney of any other party has represented, expressly or otherwise, that such other party would not, in the event of litigation, seek to enforce the foregoing waiver, and (ii) acknowledges that it understands and has considered the implications of this waiver and makes this waiver voluntarily, and that it and the other parties have been induced to enter into the Agreement by, among other things, the mutual waivers and certifications in this Section 6.14.

Section 6.15 No Waiver of Participation and Reservation of Rights. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, nothing herein is intended to, or does, in any manner waive, limit, impair, or restrict the ability of each of the Consenting Creditors to protect and preserve its rights, remedies and interests, including without limitation, its claims against the Company in respect of Loans and Notes or otherwise, or its full participation in the Cases as a party in interest. If the transactions contemplated by the Amended Investment Agreement are not consummated, or if this Agreement is terminated for any reason, the parties fully reserve any and all of their rights.

Section 6.16 Consenting Creditor Obligations Several and not Joint. The obligations of the Consenting Creditors hereunder shall be several and not joint, and no Consenting Creditor shall be liable for any breach of the terms of this Agreement by any other Consenting Creditor.

Section 6.17 Settlement Discussions. This Agreement is part of a proposed settlement of matters that could otherwise be the subject of litigation among the parties hereto. Nothing herein shall be deemed an admission of any kind. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 408 and any applicable state rules of evidence, this Agreement and all negotiations relating thereto shall not be admissible into evidence in any proceeding other than a proceeding to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

Section 6.18 Status of Consenting Creditors. Each Consenting Creditor acknowledges that its decision to enter into this Agreement has been made by such Consenting Creditor independently of any other Consenting Creditor and independently of any information, materials, statements or opinions as to the business, affairs, operations, assets, properties, liabilities, results of operations, condition (financial or otherwise) or prospects of the Company or of the Subsidiaries which may have made or given by any other Consenting Creditor or by any agent or employee of any other Consenting Creditor. Each Consenting Creditor acknowledges that nothing contained herein, or in any Transaction Documents entered into with respect to the Transactions (including the Investment Agreement and any amendments thereto), and no action taken by any Consenting Creditor pursuant hereto or thereto, including any renegotiation, amendment, early conversion, exercise or termination, or other modification to the Transactions or the Transaction Documents, shall be deemed to constitute the Consenting Creditors as a partnership, an association, a joint venture or any other kind of entity, or create a presumption that the Consenting Creditors are in any way acting in concert or as a group for purposes of Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act with respect to such obligations or the Transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents.

Section 6.19 No Impairment of Put Right. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the parties agree that nothing in this Agreement shall limit or impair the ability of a Consenting Creditor to exercise its put right with respect to the Notes under Section 3.06 of the Indenture, to deliver any notice with respect thereto or to take any other action required to consummate such put, in each case, in accordance with the terms of, and subject to the conditions set forth in, the Indenture; provided that the Consenting Creditors agree not to exercise such put right or deliver any notice with respect thereto prior to November 13, 2009.
