Peter B. Delaney Named Chairman and CEO of OGE Energy Corp.

OKLAHOMA CITY OGE Energy Corp. (NYSE: OGE) announced Sunday, Sept. 23, that its Board of Directors elected Peter B. Delaney as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. Delaney succeeds Steven E. Moore who passed away Saturday, Sept. 22.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I want to express our deepest sympathies to Steve's wife, Nancy, and their family, said Luke Corbett, Lead Director of OGE Energy's Board of Directors. Steve's strong leadership and numerous accomplishments as CEO of OGE Energy are well known. He also was a friend to many and a tireless worker for numerous civic and charitable causes in Oklahoma throughout his career. He will be missed by all of us.

Corbett added that Delaney's appointment as Chairman and CEO to replace Moore is part of a succession planning process begun more than 18 months ago by the company's Board with the assistance of its Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

As part of that process, Delaney has been in charge of the day-to-day operations of the company since his appointment in January 2007 as the company's President and Chief Operating Officer.

Pete has a proven track record since joining the company in 2002 and the Board of Directors has full confidence in his ability to lead OGE Energy in the years ahead, Corbett said.

Delaney, 53, joined OGE Energy in 2002 as Executive Vice President-Finance and Strategic Planning and as Chief Executive Officer of Enogex Inc., the company's natural gas subsidiary, following more than 15 years in the investment banking industry.

He was appointed Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer in 2004 and, in January 2007, was appointed President and Chief Operating Officer of the company and elected to the company's Board of Directors.
